Post-election Selling Of N.Y. Stocks Continue

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The stock market Saturday finished its most disastrous week in more than eight years. Not since the German army overran the lowlands have stock prices taken such a pounding. A slight rally Saturday, preceded by a more substantial one on Thursday, did little to wipe out the effects of the disappointment caused by the spectacular Democratic victory.

Wall Street had looked forward with confidence to seeing the Republican candidate, Governor Thomas E. Dewey, installed in the White House. Stock prices had advanced consistently most of October and financial observers termed the trend a pre-election market.

The market value of all stocks on the exchange declined by about $4,500,000,000. In four days of business more than 8,000,000 shares of stock changed hands in the exchange. Selling was based largely on a psychology of fear—fear of what the incoming Democratic administration would do about taxes, labor, farm support prices, controls, housing, about dozens of situations which would directly or indirectly affect the profits of business.

TORONTO, Nov. 7.—(CP)—Price of metals in moderately active trading on the short session on the Toronto Stock Exchange Saturday. Base metals recovered in late trading and western oils and golds were better.

Base metals had the best recovery as gains tripled losses. Smelters added 1 3/4 at 128 3/4 and International Nickel, Noranda, Quenont, and East Sullivan were ahead. Hudson Bay dipped a point and Falcon bridge was down 10 cents at $4.50. Western oils showed an almost solid list of advances. Home Oil was up 1-8 at 11 7/8 and Anglo-Canadian and Calgary and Edmonton rose 10 cents. Central Leduc.

Winnipeg Grain

WINNIPEG, Nov. 7.—(CP)—The United Kingdom was allocated 800,000 bushels of wheat under the Anglo-Canadian wheat agreement on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange Saturday.

In coarse grain futures, fair buying developed in oats in the last half of the session. This was attributed to demand from shippers and American interests. Offerings were fairly liberal in the early stages but dried up towards market close.

Rye rallied in the last half of the session on commission house demand. Offerings here also thinned out in the late stages. Prices of class two wheat remained unchanged from Friday.

Cash Prices:
Oats: No 2 CW 82; ex 3 CW 82, 3 CW 80 3-4; ex 1 feed 80; 1 feed 79 3-4; 2 feed 75; 3 feed 71 1-2, track 75.
Barley: 2CW 6-row 1.40 5-8; 1 CW 2-row 1.23 5-8; 2 CW 2-row 1.25 5-8; 3 CW 6-row 1.30 5-8; 1 feed 1.18 1-8; 2 feed 1.14 5-8; 3 feed 1.08 5-8; track 1.13 5-8; 2 CW Yellow 1.18 1-8; 3 CW yellow 1.18 1-8.

LOVE, EXCITEMENT ACCENT "THE WOMAN IN WHITE"

For sheer cinematic excitement, Warner Bros. film version of "The Woman in White," now at the Capitol Theatre, from the famous Wilkie Collins story, strikes a new high. This all-star film, topped by Eleanor Parker, Alexis Smith, Sydney Greenstreet and Gig Young, opened yesterday at the Strand Theatre, and proved one of the most thrilling entertainments which has come along in months.

Several stories are threaded through "The Woman in White," with the final scene dispelling the black cloud which has hung over Limeridge House for years. Miss Parker has a dual-role assignment, one as the unbalanced "Woman in White," and the other as the beautiful heiress, Laura Fairlie. Greenstreet, whose villainy is in a class by itself, turns in a compelling performance as the sinister, scheming Count Fosco. John Emery and Agnes Moorehead round out the important supporting roles. Miss Moorehead, especially, is impressive as the dominated wife of Fosco, who stabs him when he tries to run away with her jewels.

Exciting Suspense
Alexis Smith and Gig Young provide romantic interest in the mad proceedings. The gloom and fatal fascination of Limeridge House is well captured by the camera. Peter Godfrey's direction rates high, being distinguished for his skill in manipulating so many cross-currents of plot. "The Woman in White" lives up to its reputation as a thriller now in cinema form. It abounds in love and excitement.

THRILLING THEME IN VIVID DRAMA OF BERLIN TODAY
The desperate need for unity among the European peoples of today forms the theme of "Berlin Express", Radio's dramatic series offering at the Prince Edward today.

Dealing with Allied efforts to promote that unity despite the sinister operations of underground Nazis seeking to keep Germany in a state of chaos, the picture co-stars Marie Oberon, Robert Ryan, Charles Korvin and Paul Lukas. Miss Oberon portrays a French girl and Ryan an American food expert, with Korvin as a French business man and Lukas as a German statesman—all four of them passengers on a train from Paris to Berlin. Some of the passengers know that Allied leaders are endeavoring to settle Europe's problems with the aid of a famous anti-Nazi German who is aboard the train, but only a few realize that Nazi fanatics are out to stop him at all costs.

The ensuing and deadly struggle builds up the unusual drama of the

How television makes jobs for Canadians

The eye of the television camera is an image-orthicon tube. The heart of the receiving set is a cathode-ray tube. Most metal parts of these tubes are nickel or nickel alloys.

In television receivers there are also from 16 to 32 or more radio tubes of which the metal parts are nickel, nickel alloys or nickel coated. Nickel is also used in x-Ray tubes and in long distance telephone systems, including those using the new coaxial cable.

Television has been developed through long and exhaustive research by individuals and manufacturers of electrical equipment, and in this research the International Nickel research laboratories have co-operated to the fullest extent.

The development of television has given rise to an entirely new market for Canadian Nickel. New jobs are created for Canadians both in the Nickel industry and in industries which make equipment containing Nickel.

Thus does research develop better products, create more employment.
