Judging from the capacity crowd and the frantic cheering of supporters of the large number of competitors, the West Kent School Ice Sports were one of the most successful staged at the Forum.

Each event was run off with precision, keen rivalry existing in the closely contested races.

The hockey game between Summerside High School and West Kent ended in a 2-0 victory for the latter.

Deeked out in their new gold and blue uniforms, with a maple leaf crest, West Kent presented a formidable band of puck chasers.

From the opening whistle West Kent forced the play and Darrah marked the first counter early in the session on a neat pass from Cudmore. The second period went scoreless with both teams flashing good hockey. The visitors tried hard to even up in the third session, but Simpson tucked the game safely away for the local team on a lone effort midway through the period.

CAMPBELL WILL TRY TO BREAK RECORD TODAY

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 21.—(A.P.)—Sudden and decided improvement in beach conditions tonight gave promise that Sir Malcolm Campbell of England would be able to make a long delayed assault tomorrow upon his own world automobile speed record of 233 miles an hour.

The 12-mile racing strip, which has been too rough for a record attempt since the noted British driver arrived three weeks ago, smoothed out perceptibly today and preparations were made for him to make his trials at low tide about noon tomorrow if conditions then are still good.

In making his runs, Sir Malcolm plans to take a four-mile rolling start to get the car at top speed, flash across the officially measured mile wide open, and then take about four miles to bring the roaring machine to a stop.

SUMMERSIDE WINS OPENING PLAYDOWN

First Game Of Home And Home Series With Victoria Unions Won By 3 to 1 Count.

(Special To The Guardian)

Summerside Hockey Club met with a fast and clever hockey aggregation when they crossed sticks with the Victoria Unions for the first of a home and home series for western intermediate honors in Crystal rink last night. The MacLean Cup winners living up to their brilliant hockey record, pushed the play all through the game. The Hockey Club emerged from the struggle two goals to the good, the score being 3-1, and when the teams meet on Victoria ice next Friday a battle Royal may be expected, and Summerside's lead of two goals will be little enough margin.

Schurman's net minding was a feature of the game and Lea on defense (we don't know how he does it) handed out a lot of hard bumps to Union players. Victoria led the play through the first period and three minutes before the bell, Gordon Stewart realized on a pass from D. McLeod. Wheaton evened the score when he took Gauthier's pass from behind the nets seven minutes after the face off in the second session and four minutes before the bell D. Gallant notched up the second counter.

Half way through the last period, Montgomery scored the third Hockey Club goal on a brilliant solo play. The tempo of the game quickened considerably after this and the dying moments of the game saw the Unions peppering shots at Schurman with a four man offensive. The lineup follows:

Unions—Goal, W. McLeod; Defence, G. McLeod, J. McLeod; forwards, D. McLeod, L. McLeod, C. Logan, D. McLeod, G. Stewart, J. Miller.

Hockey Club—Goal, Schurman; defence, Lea, Gauthier, F. Woodside; forwards, Schurman, Montgomery, D. Gallant, Wheaton, Dickie, Gay.

Referees—Frank McFarlane and Charlie Cahill.

"Poor Bill Gill"

The Moncton Times still harping "on man's inhumanity to man," with regard to Bill Gill, the Hawk defenceman, has this to relate:

The referees still have the "Indian sign" on Big Bill Gill. Last night (Monday) the burly defense ace seemed to try mighty hard to escape penalties but was caught once for an infraction of the playing rules and probably deserved a penalty, although there might be some question of doubt about that. However, he was waved to the timers a second time for trying to prevent a Second Abbies took Montague into camp 6 to 3 in the opening home and home series play-off at Montague last night.

The final game of this series takes place at the Forum tonight.

A grave situation would arise if the assembly should adopt the report, the statement said, and the Japanese appealed to the assembly "to think twice before making this decision."

The Tokyo delegation suggested that the acceptance of the report might upset "friendly relations between the nations." They gave their reasons for rejecting the document the alleged chaotic conditions in China and the anti-foreign sentiment there, and they described their military actions as legitimate self defence, which the report denies.

The Japanese reasserted that the formation of the State of Manchukuo was the result of a movement by the native population, and they declared that the state must be maintained as essential to tranquility in the East. They denied that sovereignty over Manchuria belonged to China.

Regarding the report's recommendation that Japanese troops be withdrawn to the treaty zone, the delegation's statement said: "If Japanese troops were withdrawn the country would be overrun by bandits and by the troops of Chang Hsiao-Liang (North China military leader), resulting in anarchy."

Meeting after the assembly had adjourned, the committee of 19 which drafted the report, decided that only their President should speak at Friday's debate in addition to the representatives of the parties to the conflict. They decided also to recommend that the committee remain in existence as the assembly's executive organ for development after the assembly adopts the report and adjourns. In setting forth their opposition to the report the Japanese protested against the declaration for non-recognition of Manchukuo and for non-cooperation with that state.

"In so pronouncing judgement," the Japanese statement said, "the League would be embarking upon an adventure which certainly could not contribute to the peace and happiness and welfare of the 30,000,000 people in Manchukuo, and might prove to be an obstacle to good understanding and friendly relations between nations upon which peace depends."

"Japan implicitly believes in the simplicity of treaties, including the covenant of the League of Nations, the Pact of Paris and the Nine Power Treaty. Having regard to the exceptional conditions existing in China, a fundamental and conclusive solution of the dispute cannot be realized unless the principles of these treaties are applied in a way to harmonize with the realities."

Last summer show Henwood in full cowboy regalia, grasping a carbine in one hand and a revolver in the other.

No gun, however, was used to silence Mrs. Smith, when, according to the police, she recognized the youths as they entered her house. Their statements, police state, set forth that while Henwood held the crippled woman by the throat, his companion struck her with a baseball bat which he had carried into the house under his coat. Then, realizing that their identity was known to the victim, Henwood knelt by her side, placed the blade of a knife below her ear, closed his eyes and drew the knife towards himself.

A jack-knife found at Henwood's home on Sunday tends to substantiate the statement of how the aged lady met death. The police have found also a peculiar coin which the boys had hidden and which was mentioned in their statements. A part of the $128 taken from the home of the murdered woman was spent a few days later, police declare, in the pool room operated by her son, Wilson, who discovered his mother's body early on the morning after she was killed. It was this free spending on the part of Henwood which aroused suspicion and brought about his arrest Sunday, a few hours before Smith was placed in custody.

Henwood, it is claimed, investigated part of the loot in a handsome wrist watch, a present to his 16-year-old bride, Dorothy Goodwin. They had been wed little more than 24 hours when the police walked into the rooms which they had taken, to place Henwood under arrest.

Tonight, the young bride was prostrated at the tragic ending to the brief romance which culminated in their marriage. Stricken with grief and scarcely able to believe that her husband stood accused of the crime of murder, she remained in seclusion at her home, refusing to receive the many visitors who sought to give her comfort.

OTTAWA, Feb. 21.—John S. Ewart, lawyer-author and constitutional authority, died here today in his 85th year.

It is to be found some of the most promising of future professional material.

He said, however, that he might be back in the Maritimes before the championships are over.

Mr. Carroll has very definite ideas of sport. For instance when discussing the stalling he believed he saw here last week, he said that such actions were a decided shame and would kill hockey. He believed that there is too much emphasis stressed on "winning the league" for the fans to get the action that their admission calls for.

He went on to say that the only reason a father allows his son to enter athletics is because he thinks it will develop him into a better man than if he kept him out of it. His idea is that a real sport respects the chap who is good enough to beat him when they meet in an athletic contest when each is determined to win. So far as is known, not a player was approached by the Ranger scout.

Forum Prices Remain The Same

Hockey fans in Charlottetown and over the Island, will be glad to learn that the prices for the Abbie-Halifax games will not be raised, as was previously announced. The hockey executive informs us that they are under additional expenses in those games, owing to the fact that a referee has to be brought from the Upper Provinces, etc.

Despite this fact, however, the executive have decided to have the price scale remain unchanged, so that hockey fans can see the coming games at the usual price scale.

The Late F. J. D. Barnjum

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 20.—Frank J. D. Barnjum, who died in Paris on Saturday was Canada's foremost advocate of reforestation.

After retiring from active business about ten years ago, he set aside half his fortune for a one man campaign to check the depletion in the dominion's "fast vanishing forest resources."

Wherever he went whether to New York, London, Paris, the Hague, or Berlin, he talked trees. Sometimes he became disgusted with "the cold-blooded indifference of her forests" and in one of these moods he decided to sell his vast holdings and leave the country because he had "no desire to live in a treeless country, a condition which Canada is fast approaching."

New York Rangers Scout Looks Over "Big Three" Players

Frank Carroll Looks Over Maritime Hopes—Is Reticent About Players Prospects. Gives Views On Stalling Tactics.

MONCTON, Feb. 20.—The Maritime provinces are full of hockey scouts, according to Frank Carroll, of Toronto, former manager and coach of the Springfield Indians prior to the breaking up of the club due to difficulties encountered between owners and rink management. So the men of the Big Three clubs must be getting a fine going over in the minds of these keen-eyed representatives of the big league teams.

Carroll has been in the Maritimes for the last week following the play of the Big Three teams for Lester Patrick, the manager-coach of the New York Rangers and vice president of the Madison Square Garden. He watched the Hawks and Wolverines play in Moncton last week and then accompanied the Wolves on their final trip to the Island and saw the game the teams played in Charlottetown on Friday.

Having seen two games, neither of which was much of a hockey exhibition, Carroll seemed content to judge the players on practise sessions and was enthusiastic over the material to be found in the Maritimes. He knew the history of every player who appeared on the Big Three teams and in the little he saw of them seemed to have ferreted out their weaknesses and though he mentioned no names of players in the Big Three as prospective receivers of contracts it is believed he has his eye on several. He asked a lot of questions regarding Joe Beaton, Owen Lennon, Bill Miller and Bert Connolly.

The scout remarked that there had been reports of a favorable

Free Trade With States A Probability

(Canadian Press)

TORONTO, Feb. 21.—The Toronto Globe today carried the following special despatch from Ottawa: "Canada is one of the eve of important developments in respect to trade with the United States, it is learned from a high authority."

Through diplomatic channels, informal negotiations already have been set in motion, and there is more than a prospect that when President-elect Roosevelt has been installed at the White House on March 4th, a new policy will be inaugurated looking to free exchange of primary commodities between the Dominion and the United States.

"It is understood that Canada is prepared to trade more freely with the United States, provided the commodities to be included do not injuriously or prejudicially affect Canadian interests."

Confers With Roosevelt

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—(Canadian Press)—The Canadian Minister, Hon. W. D. Herridge, came from Washington today to confer with President-elect Roosevelt on "many matters of mutual interest to Canada and the United States."

The conversation which took place in Mr. Roosevelt's home in the fashionable east 69's, lasted an hour and a quarter.

Mr. Herridge said it was "general."

Mr. Roosevelt said: "I had a delightful meeting with Mr. Herridge, the Canadian Minister. This was the first time I had the privilege of meeting him and we discussed many matters of mutual interest to Canada and the United States." Neither would elaborate.

The conversation took place on the day following the debates in the Canadian House of Commons on reciprocity, but when he was asked whether it would be proper to assume this had been among the subjects discussed, the President-elect replied he could not go into that.

"Many matters of interest," observed M. Clauel.

Mr. Herridge came to "pay his respects" to the President-elect, leading naturally to the supposition the diplomatic gesture had been initiated in Washington.

Mr. Herridge's visit followed that of Ambassador Paul Claudel of France who stayed but three quarters of an hour.

Later Mr. Roosevelt told newspapermen, "after conferring with Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson in Washington on Monday the French Ambassador came to see me in New York today. We discussed unofficially all questions relating to collaboration between France and the United States. These included, of course the world economic conference and inter-government debts. These conversations will continue and the new Secretary of State, after his selection is announced, will doubtless see M. Clauel."
