The Army Will Be Pleased

(By British United Press)

PARIS, March 18.—To all outward appearances, Mlle Francine Clery de Poule, of Lyons, is within her right in claiming to be a girl of eighteen who wishes to marry the man she has been engaged to for some months, but the law steps in and says that she is a man and that she must report for military duty forthwith or suffer the usual penalties.

In support of the law's contention a birth certificate has been produced showing the registration of one Francois Clery de Poulet on the same date as the girl claims for her birthday, and the lawyers and military autorities say they cannot get behind this clear proof.

The would-be bride has been challenged to produce legal evidence of her existence, but so far she has been unable to do so, and can only suggest that a mistake was made by those who registered the birth.

The Mayor of Lyons was appealed to by the bride and her friends, but his reply was that until the courts declared her a girl he must treat her as a boy, and therefore the marriage cannot proceed, and she must report for military service at once.

To back up this view the military authorities have served the girl with papers demanded she should report forthwith for service, and if she fails to report by the specified time she will be seized by the military and forced to join up.

BOY PREMIER PHRASE STRONGLY SUPPORTED BY AGNES MACPHAIL

TORONTO, March 18th.—Declaring that she was pleased with the sanity displayed by the people of Canada on the Chinese question, Miss Agnes MacPail, M. P., expressed the opinion last night in the Labor Temple, while addressing an international peace movement meeting, that the "best thing for the powers to do is to get out of China as quickly and gracefully as they can." Miss MacPhail claimed that one of the causes of war was the exploitation of foreign people by great powers.

Advises withdrawal

"Then we have the nationals of one country appealing for aid and nations going to their subjects' aid to save the national honor," she said. "Sometimes the national honor is saved and sometimes it is lost. This, I think, covers the Chinese question. The best thing for the powers is to get out of China as quickly and gracefully as they can."

"We are such a superior race. We do not want the Chinese; the United States will not admit them nor will Australia. Yet we want China. Years ago China was anxious to get rid of the opium traffic, but we proceeded to go to war, and forced it on the people of China."

Miss MacPhail thought that the youth of the world would prove to be a barrier against future wars. She believed that the "boys and girls of today were not going to swallow holus-bolus lies that were being circulated about war and were inquiring into its causes.

"The Boy Premier of Ontario has coined an expression which I hope will ring down through the years," she said. "I hope we will make Canada familiar with the phrase, and I hope it is not as one boy said, a case of words being taken from their context by the press. It is easy enough for any one to follow a band, to run with the crowd, and to don a uniform and ribbons."

Topic for the Week

"CHRIST IS A SPIRIT"

Saturday

"It Means We Shall Be With Him"

SCRIPTURE: Read—John 14:1-24.

"I go to prepare a place for you And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself" (Jn. 14:2, 3.) "Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that when he shall appear, we shall be like him: for we shall see him as he is" (I Jn. 3:2.) "When Christ, who is our life, shall be manifested then shall ye also with him be manifested in glory" (Col. 3:4). "If we endure, we shall also reign with him" (II Tim. 2:12.)

See—Matthew 25:21; John 12:26; 14:28; Acts 1:11.

MEDITATION: God, Christ and man, all being spiritual, unite naturally in a common spiritual society. To be with them in a world that is not material will mean a vast change. We are accustomed for the most part to physical intercourse; we have little longing to give up this mode of conversation. When, however, the change comes from the largely physical to the wholly spiritual relation, we may expect the necessary adaption that will make us at home. How vivid will be our purely spiritual experience at first may depend upon our spiritual development here; but even those with feeble spiritual life can grow "from glory unto glory." This is the hope which in the "Fellowship of Prayer" we are nourishing.

"Thou canst not rise too high for the source; thou shalt go to God because thou hast come from God."

HYMN:

Immortal Love, forever full,
Forever flowing free,
Forever shared, forever whole,
A never ebbing sea!

We may not climb the heavenly steeps
To bring the Lord Christ down;
In vain we search the lowest deeps
For Him no depths can drown.

But warm, sweet, tender, even yet
A present help is He;
And faith has still its Olivet,
And love its Galilee.

—John G. Whittier, 1886.

PRAYER: Thanksgiving for health of body and soul.

Pray for—the spirit of holy adventure; the aged.

Collect—O Lord our God, Father of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, Thy love is unsullied, full and free. Thou art conquering the hearts of men by the surrender of Thyself. Thou art showing high trust in us, can we not trust Thee. We praise Thee for the life, death and resurrection of Thy Son in whom we see the Father. Give us to know the fellowship of His suffering and the power of His resurrection with its pledge of our ongoing life. We beseech Thee to be our ally in the conflict with evil. Give us the love that triumphs. Use us for the transformation of the world into the kingdom of Christ. Seal within us our purpose to live for eternity and to Thee be all the praise. Amen.

First Love Of Real Cinderella

(By British United Press)

BERLIN, March 18.—"I have known the time when I even contemplated suicide. Life seemed so cruel and hard. I lost faith in love itself. But I struggled along, hoping against hope that life would hold out some happier prospect for me."

So said Marie Draxdorf Meerane recently—the penniless kitchen-maid, who has just been left five million dollars by an uncle named Scheffelbauer, a Milwaukee land speculator.

Marie's romance rivals the story of Cinderella. In her brief life she has experienced all the changes that Fate deals out to heroines in fairy tales.

Born in Leipsig, she left school early and went into domestic service, but her beauty entangled her in an affair with a young man, who jilted her and left her with the responsibility of a child.

Later Cupid rapped at the door of her heart again, and she became affianced to Joseph Raff, a young bricklayer.

"I could not help weeping tears of joy," confessed the poor little rich girl, as she sat in the kitchen of the butcher's family who had helped her in her less fortunate days. "My mind is made up about what I shall do. I am going to stick to my poor sweetheart Joseph, who loved me when no thought of being rich was in our minds. My other sweetheart has tried to come back since he heard of my fortune—but I cannot forget."

Eighty begging letters a day have been received by the girl since her fortune became known. All have been put on the fire, along with the scores of offers of marriage she has received.

MRS KELLERMANN AND BELMONT MAN IN PRETTY WEDDING

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mrs. Marion Kellermann, 129 Hunnewell street, last Saturday evening when Mrs. Kellermann became the bride of Herbert L. Webster of Belmont, Mass., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Webster, Prince Edward Island, Canada. The Rev. John Mason, Needham Heights Method'st Church, officiated, using the double ring ceremony.

The bride was attractively attired in a dress of powder blue georgette trimmed with brocaded lace and wore silver slippers and stockings. She carried a boquet of Easter lilies. Miss Lillian M. Kellermann, daughter of the bride, was maid-of-honor, and was very becoming in a dress of brown georgette over pink silk. Miss Ruth Dinnis, bridesmaid, wore a dress of bois de rose crepe-de-chine. Both girls were gold slippers and stockings, and carried bouquets of sweet peas. Mr. Lemuel H. Webster, brother of the groom, and Joshua N. Robb were best men.

Before the ceremony Mr. James R. Houghton rendered two vocal solos, "At Dawning" by Cadman, and "I love You Truly" by Bond. The wedding march was then played on the violin by Harold Toone. During the ceremony, Miss Judith A. Lee sang "O Promise Me" by R De Koven.

Later in the evening refreshments of ice cream, cake, fancy cookies and punch were served under the direction of Mrs John Taylor, assisted by the Misses Muriel Gay, Elsie Scotton and Louise Gordon. The bride then cut the wedding cake, and a very happy evening of amusements was enjoyed by all.

The couple received many beautiful and useful gifts, including cut glass, lustre ware, silver, pictures and linen.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dinnis, Belmont, Mass.; Mr. Lemuel Webster, Boston; Mass.; Miss Susan Herret, Boston; Mr. Charles William, Boston Mr and Mrs. R. H. Cother, Wakefield; Mr. and Mrs. D. Callaghan, Brighton; and the Misses Elizabeth and Myrtle Stewart, P. E. Island, Canada.

There were about seventy-five people present at the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Webster have the best wishes of a large circle of friends for many happy and prosperous years together. They will reside at 129 Hunnewell street, Needham Heights.

Queen Mary Needlework Guild Assists Orphanage

The following interesting report of the work of the Queen Mary Needlework Guild was read before a meeting of The Protestant Orphanage Auxiliary and most favorably commented upon.

Madam President, Ladies I am here this afternoon to give you some idea of The Queen Mary's Needlework Guild, how it originated, and how its hundreds of branches have spread all over the World. Not alone in the British sles but in Japan, China, Russia, India, Australia, The Federated Malay States, Newfoundland, Bermuda, Barbados, South Africa and many branches in the United States of America.

But more particularly am I anxious to give you some idea of the very small part we Prince Edward Islanders take in the work which enables us to call ourselves The Queen Mary's Needlework Guild. I hope it will not only meet with your approval, but some of your members may offer to make one little garment a year. We contribute the material, and cut the work out. By making that one garment it will constitute membership in the Society.

The War was barely two days old when The Queen, prompt to foresee the call for comforts, and clothing, which it would bring in its train, issued her letter to The Women of The Empire on August 10th. Her Majesty followed this up by summoning a committee, over which she presided at Buckingham Palace. And so Queen Mary's Guild came into being. While still the Nation was numbed by the knowledge that the War with all its unimagined horrors was here.

To alleviate all distress occasioned by the war, such was the noble purpose of Queen Mary's Needlework Guild. And to that end was created 15,577,911 articles of clothing, and surgery, and many gifts of money and cigars, and a million eye pieces for gas masks. Think of it all in terms of pluck, and patience, remembering few have been spared sore hearts, among these women of all ranks, and ages. To sew and do useful things with their fingers is bred into women, yet I think they never dreamed they could make the mountains of comforts, before they accomplished this War Work.

At this time Miss Catherine Welland Merritt was in London, and asked permission to establish a branch of The Queen Mary's Needlework Guild in Canada, which she did at Montreal.

She then made a tour through Canada to establish sub-branches. The first ladies holding office in Montreal were The Hon. President, Lady Perley; 1President, Lady Williams Taylor, Vice-Presidents, Mrs. Herbert Drummond and Mrs. Forbes Angus.

And now I come to the reason of our existance among the hundreds of branches all over the world. I was approached by Mrs. Lorenzo Evans of Quebec to form a branch, a lady whose untiring zeal at The Valcarter. Huts must be known to all Canadian Soldiers.

You are all aware of the many Societies doing war work here and I hesitated for I thought it an impossibility to establish a new one. However followed a pleading letter from Mrs. Forbes Angus which made me consent, and I got together a number of ladies, not deeply interested in any society, but doing their bit in their homes. Our first thought was how to obtain money to begin the work, as The Queen Mary's Needlework Guild, does not approve of yearly fees, and does not wish members to give subscriptions in money. To meet our needs two Bridge parties were given by members. This was our start, and enabled us to send a most creditable box of clothing to headquarters in Montreal for sailors and soldiers children overseas. Mrs Angus listed and shipped these goods with their contribution.

After the war we were informed that we could take up any local charity, that we approved of each year, with the understanding that to enable us to be a Guild, that once a year, we should send a small contribution of money or clothing to The Queen, in lieu of subscriptions from members and by doing so, be in touch with the head branch in London. Just as the Daughters of The Empire or any Society have to contribute to their headquarters.

We then asked Montreal if we might send direct to Her Majesty our yearly contribution, to which they gave a favourable reply. So now from our Society a small box of 50 articles, only, is addressed to The Queen, for her Maternity Home at Hampstead for sailors and soldiers wives, which was built by money from many branches all over the world, excepting the Prince Edward Island Branch. Kindly understand our Society has no right to the name without we do so and it is our pleasure to do so.

The contents of these boxes, do not encroach upon our funds, to any extent, as the members, personally, donate nearly all the garments, that are sent to Her Majesty The Queen.

Two Rummage Sales with contributions from members only were necessary to keep up our work, for in 1921 we decided to work for the Protestant Orphanage.

In 1921 we sent to the Orphanage (which met with the approval of the President, Mrs. Wright), 33 garments for girls and boys.

In 1922, 145 garments, in 1923, 6 complete layettes for infants, and clothing for boys and girls to the number of 176.

In 1924, 7 layettes and other clothing, 197 in all.

In 1925, seventy five garments were sent and in 1926, 121 garments.

In all we have sent to The Protestant Orphanage 717, (seven hundred and seventeen) garments. These donations have all been received by your Presidents with letters of thanks and appreciation.

This year your Matron, has expressed a wish for a great many things. As we live mostly by faith, and our cruise of oil was running very low, we conceived the idea of a Recital by Paul Kollins, our first appeal to the public, which was necessary in order to attend—as far as we could—to the needs of the children in the Protestant Orphanage, for this year, if your trustees, and Auxiliary unanimously so desire.

When you realize we have willingly made seven hundred and seventeen, (717) beautifully made pieces of clothing for that Institution, you will agree with me that our work so far has been worth while. In thanking you Madam President for allowing me to speak before you this afternoon, I feel I have fully justified the existance of "The Queen Mary's Needlework Guild" in Prince Edward Island.

Frank Wilson Elected President For Season; Doyle Makes a Big Hit

Kentville, March 16.—The endorsing of a resolution approving of the stand President Sam Doyle and the executive of the M. P. B. A. U. of C. had taken in reinstatement of suspended athletics to the amateur fold, the refusal of the Association to award the Telegraph Journal Trophy, which was presented to the M. A. H. A. for interscholastic competition in New Brunswick, of which Dorchester captured the championship, unless the League would agree to come under the jurisdiction of the Association in 1928; the adoption of the same rules for the Maritime Provinces for interscholastic hockey as now govern in New Brunswick; and the election of Frank Wilson, of Truro, as President, were only a few of the features of the annual meeting of the Maritime Hockey Association which was held in the assembly room of the Town Wednesday morning and afternoon. The President, F. G. Kelly, of Charlottetown presided.

FIRST AND LAST.

It was the first time the Valley have been honored with the annual in all likelihood it will be the last meeting of this organization and—not because the visiting amateur moguls were dissatisfied with their visit, but it was felt that the meeting should be held at a more central place where a large number of clubs could be represented.

With this end in view a resolution was introduced and passed providing for the holding of the annual sessions in Moncton and Truro on alternate years, starting with the former city in 1928. In the event of Amherst winning the Maritime championship, the meeting will be held in that town.

The startling statements of President Sam Doyle created the greatest amount of interest and were the occasion of a good deal of favorable comment. These remarks by Mr. Doyle occurred during the discussion of the resolution which stated: "Resolved that this Association go on record as approving the action of the M. P. B. A. A. U. of C. Executive in granting cards to suspended hockey players and that we concur with and endorse their interpretation of the constitution of the Amateur Athletic Union to Canada."

ARMSTRONG OBJECTS.

C. D. Armstrong, of Thuro, said he did not favor the resolution inasmuch as the executive had waited until the season was three quarters over before reinstating these athletes; furthermore, he did not believe this was the time to bring the question up— it should come before the M. P. B.

W. B. Keiver, of Moncton, the newly elected ice-President, strongly supported the resolution. He said that the reinstatments had helped hockey tremendously in point of attendance, and had aroused greater interest in the different leagues. These men were never really professionals. They had always put more into the game than they had got out. He moved that the resolution be adopted.

F. Whynott, of Truro, representing the Stellarton Club, felt that the suspended athletes should have been given their cards earlier.

SAMMY SCORES

President Doyle then came to bat and hit straight from the shoulder. When the new executive took over control he said it was impossible to get any kind of data on the records of the suspended men and this was responsible for the holding up of the cards while the cases were being investigated. "There was absolutely nothing to show on the records left by the previous executives that many of the athletes supposed to be suspended were ever suspended and it appears, that the suspension and the continued holding up to amateur cards for from five to ten years was due almost wholly to the action of an individual instead of the executive, who, it appears, were hardly, if ever, consulted."

Continuing, President Doyle said that the interpretation of the new executive of the M. P. B. was that these athletes who had been barred from amateur sport for so long were never legally suspended, and that they should have their cards back. "The sole object," he said, "is to give every man a chance, placing the so-called pros on an equal status with the others, with a warning that any violations against the amateur code would result in their permanent debarrment."

HADN'T BEEN ASKED

President Doyle said that in previous years when Maritime representatives attended the annual C. A. A. U. meeting that no effort had been made to have these men reinstated. "If they had" he asked, "how is it that on the first effort of the new executive we have already had 40 athletes reinstated and we are a long way from through yet?" He concluded, amid applause.

Frank Wilson thought that the re-instatments had been a benefit to the sport. He cited the instance of Chester Gregory, who used to operate against them, but who was now working with them to build up hockey. The motion carried with only Mr. Armstrong opposing.
