LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY DEBATES THE ADDRESS

Speeches by McPhee, Warburton, Mathieson and the Premier. The Government Lauded and Criticised. Adjourned till Friday

Wednesday, March 8.

The House opened at 3.35.

Mr. McPHEE moved the House in to committee of the whole to consider the draft address in reply to the speech from the throne. He felt proud to be selected for this duty, sorry that it had not been entrusted to abler hands. The prosperity of the country was a cause of thankfulness. He spoke of the great Empire to which we belong, containing 400 millions of people, and the good sovereigns Victoria, Edward, and our present noble King. The speech had referred to our prosperous agriculture. He gave credit to the Government for fostering and encouraging it by farmers' institutes, dairy associations, seed fairs, cold storage, &c. Prosperity and contentment reigned throughout this Province and Canada. The value of our products in farm, dairy and fishing is 13 million dollars, $120 for each man, woman and child in the Province. He hoped in a short time to see a population of 200,000 in this Province.

Following the outline of the Governor's speech, he spoke of the educational value of exhibitions, of the value of our free educational system, and came to the matter of our federa, represcutation. He could not believe that the Province would finally be deprived of our due representation and closed with a peroration lauding this Island Province as the Garden of the Dominion and of the American continent.

Dr. WARBURTON in seconding the motion referred to the greatness and wisdom of King Edward, of his noble mother Queen Victoria, and the loss sustained by their removal. But under Providence, one good Soversibn succeeds another and King George, wisely trained under his good and great father, bade fair to keep the line of noble Kings unbroken. He hoped we could get back our lost representation but there are difficulties in the way. Some other Provinces are opposed and some indifferent. He spoke of the importance of agriculture and the value of what had been done by the Government in various ways to assist and develop that great industry. Last year had been a good one, with generally large crops and excellent prices. He praised the Experimental Farm and its very capable and energetic Superintendent, Mr. Clark. The Farm in what it is and what it teaches he declared to be invaluable to the farmers of the Province. The short course at Truro was of great value to our young farmers. Exhibitions are useful. He thought the judges should give their reasons why they awarded prizes, first, second or third. That would be educative. A good class of immigrants were now coming to the Province. We want more laborers for employment on the farms. He thought physical and military training in the schools would be a valuable addition to our educational system.

Mr. MATHIESON congratulated the mover and seconder of the address, and considering what was in and what was omitted from the speech, they had done remarkably wellf There is much in the speech about agriculture. Many other weighty matters were wholly omitted. It was well to recall the memory of the good King Edward, the greatest and wisest of the Kings of his time, a King among Kings. Why was there no reference to the coming coronation? As to our representation, it was well to have our losses in that respect restored. But for two years past the seat held by Senator Ferguson had remained unfilled in defiance of the constitution and our undoubted right. A seat so ably filled thus left vacant was a crime against the Province. Yet the Government had apparently made no protest. That was not the only vacancy—The Supreme Court was maimed and made practically useless as a Court of appeal. We are entitled to three Judges and we have but two. Important cases had been held up for more than a year, some of them involving laege amounts. Why this scandalous delay? What is our local Government for if not to guard such interests as these? Why labor to get more representatives in the Commons when owing to death and illness we have but one member attending and voting in the Senate instead of four? He charged that while this was so these vacancies kept two members of the House of Commons practically useless, while seeking appointment to office. Of the four members in the Commons only one had raised his voice in protest. The silence of the other three had laid a double obligation upon the Government of the Province to protest with all their force and enforce our right of representation.

Mr. Mathieson proceeded to speak of our prosperous agriculture, which had reached the high water mark. Our farmers are progressive and the Commissioner of Agriculture would have hard work to keep up with them. Are the farmers receiving the aid and guidance they are entitled to? As to the seed fairs the farmers had acted of themselves. He would like to know what had been done to enforce the Weeds Act, and why so little was done. Let the results at the Emperimental Farm be compared with those on the Provincial Farm. The latter is the better soil, and under charge of the Commissioner of Agriculture it produced but 30 bushels of oats per acre against 136 bushels per acre on the other. The Commissioner of Agriculture surely ought to visit the Experimental Farm and What had the Government done to assist and guide these people? How many had remained? He believed our Province better suited to old country people than is the Northwest. He (Mr. Mathieson) had repeatedly

THE AMERICAN DEMONSTRATION ON THE BORDER

Of Mexico Excites Interest in Europe and America. Is Partly Political

A DARK MYSTERY

Special to The Guardian.

WASHINGTON, March 8—Whether or not the concentration of one fourth of the standing army along the Mexican border is merely an extensive manoeuvre, many persons regard the action of United States as likely to have an important bearing on the events in Mexico.

Reports are current that a change in the Cabinet of President Diaz will soon be made and the State Department also has been informed unofficially.

In these changes the United States Government is keenly interested.

Apart from any moral effect on the treatment accorded to American interests in present disorders, it is suggested that the military demonstration of the United States, whether so intended or not, may have a potential influence on the political crisis in Mexico City.

MEXICO CITY, March 8—If United States soldiers had actually invaded Mexico and were now marching on the Capital, no greater excitement could be apparent than that shown today over the massing of the United States army upon the Mexican frontier.

LONDON, March 8—The mobilization of the American army on the Mexican frontier has excited great interest on the part of London politicians and commercial interests, but all are still in dark as to whether the movement is for political or purely military reasons.

PROVINCIAL SEED FAIR NOW ON IN SUMMERSIDE

The Proceedings on the Opening Day. A Good Attendance and Fine Weather Favors Western Capital's Show—Prize List.

Special from Guardian correspondent.

SUMMERSIDE, March 8—Pleasant weather favored the opening day of the Provincial Seed Fair today. The display of seeds which is being shown in the Andrew Building excels even that of last year both in quality and the number of entries. During the afternoon the building was closed while the judging was taking place. In the Domestic Science Department an immense display is to be found at St. Paul's Hall, the display far excels any of previous years.

The Dairymen's meeting in Market Hall last night, was attended by a large crowd of farmers. William McGregor, Lot 16, presided. The or speaker of the evening was Harvey Mitchell, Maritime representstive of the Dairy Department. Mrf Mitchell's address dealt with the raising of cattle for dairy purposes, the proper food for dairying cattle and other matter pertaining to the raising of good dairying herds. He also gave some interesting information illustrated with charts of the milk test of different cattle at the different experimental farms, and also some good advice on the preparing of diary produce for market. During the course of Mr. Mitchell's address a number of questions were asked from the audience and from the answers some interesting information was received.

SUMMERSIDE, March 8—The opening of the Seed Fair was a busy day in Summerside today, officers and officials being kept on the hustle from early morning. In the afternoon a well attended and representative meeting was held in the Market Hall. A. J. McLean, Lot. 16, presided. Prof. Ross, of the Department of Agriculture, delivered a very instructive address on the development of Agriculture. After first describing the great changes in Agricultural methods during the past few years, Prof. Ross, by means of charts, gave an illustrated account of the amount spent by the other provinces in Canada during the past ten years as compared with what the Department of Agriculture of P. E. I. has spent. He also gave in detail the amount spent per head of population of P. E. I. last year, which was 12 cents as compared with 14 cents by N. S. and 16 cents in N. B. Comparing this expenditure with the upper provinces he said it was very small. In Quebec they spend 22 cents and in Ontario 36 cents per head of population. He also gave a lengthy account of the large amount spent in different parts of the United States and also in Europe, all of which he claimed accounted in a large manner for the great improvement made along the lines of Agriculture in the different countries and hoped that the years to come would show much larger expenditure for agriculture in this province.

After Prof. Ross' address the meeting was thrown open to the farmers for discussion, the first speaker was Rev. P. C. Gauthier, who first congratulated Prof. Ross on his excellent address, especially on the great amount of figures presented. He said he was glad to see that they were awakening to the fact that, in order to be a successful farmer, agricultural education was required, and was glad to say that although perhaps not the best, the system of agricultural education here has been the means of good success among the farmers.

Robt. Agnew here read a telegram from the former secretary of the Seed Fair, L. U. Fowler, who is at present travelling through Alberta in the interests of the Department of Agriculture, organizing their Seed Fairs, in which he wished to have his best regards conveyed to the director and managers of the Provincial Seed Fair and hoping that the Fair would be a grand success. Upon motion of Mr. Agnew, seconded by J. P. Murphy, the thanks of the meeting was extended to Mr. Fowler for his remembrance of the Provincial Seed Fair.

The discussion was continued at considerable length by Thos. Moyse, Bedeque, J. P. Murphy, Augustine Cove, Walter Simpson, Bay View, and others. During the discussion several interesting and instructive points as to the different methods of developing Agriculture were brought out. It was decided after much discussion not to allow the exhibit to go to Charlottetown.

The meeting then resolved itself into a meeting of the Prince Co., Farmers' Institute and the questions of the Seed Fair and Exhibition were discussed at some length by Rev. P. C. Gauthier, Frank Glyden, J. P. Murphy, Walter Simpson, R. Agnew, Gavin Harding, I. Goughart, and others. During the discussion some pointed remarks were heard over the sectionalism, displayed in connection with the Seed Fair and several of the speakers were loud in their denounciation of the action of the Queen's County and Charlottetown farmers in their endeavor to have the Provincial Seed Fair held in Charlottetown instead of Summerside and when failing in that had arranged for a second Provincial Seed Fair to be held in Charlottetown next week. A resolution to the effect that if the Provincial Seed Fair Grant was divided then the grant for Provincial exhibition be equally divided between the three counties, was moved and seconded, but after being the subject of considerable discussion was withdrawn without being put to the meeting. Regarding the Prince County Farmers' Institute it seemed to be the unanimous decision of all the

WILD SCENE AT FIRE

CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 6—Six persons were fatally hurt and twenty others badly injured in a fire that destroyed a tenement house here early today. One man is missing and it is believed he lost his life. The flames spread so rapidly through the building, which was occupied by foreigners, that sixty leaped from windows to escape death in the fire. The six who were fatally injured, missed the life nets that the firemen were holding in the street beneath. The struggling mass of humanity, fighting upon the third floor to get near the windows, pushed those clinging to the sills from their perilous position. Men, women and children fought to get to the windows after exits by the stairways were cut off by the flames. Despite the shouted warnings of the police and firemen, the frienzied foreigners continued to fight and struggle. The firemen placed ladders against the walls and carried down some of the women and children.

MANY PHYSICIANS ARE USERS OF MORPHINE

BOSTON, Mar. 6—"Ten per cent. of the physicians of the United States are now users of morphine through the hypodermic syringe," said Dr. William F. Boos, an expert of the Massachusetts general hospital, speaking before the Watch and Ward Society at its annual meeting last night. He continued, "I know of one hospital where all the physicians, nurses and attaches, are users of the drog. There is smoking and eating of opium and a great number of young women are smoking opium in this city."

BOY TELLS OF MAKING $30,000

NEW YORK, March 6—W. J. Ronan, a telephone boy in the office of J. R. Keene, made $30,000 in Wall Street speculation, according to his testimony today at the hearing in the bankruptcy proceedings of Lathrop, Haskins & Co., one of three stock exchange firms caught in the collapse of the Hocking pool.

Creditors of the firm are endeavoring to show that Mr. Keene was responsible for the failure of the pool and that young Ronan, knowing that the collapse was imminent, turned his knowledge to good account.

Ronan testified that when the crash came, he had already sold 600 shares of Hocking Coal, at figures which prevailed during the upward movement. He had heard of the trouble over night and wanted to "get out" he said.

Mr. Keene knew nothing of the transaction, he testified, and he kept the stock in his own safety vault in the Produce Exchange. After the crash he bought back 200 shares of Hocking at 26, he declared.

He had $5,000 account with a trust company and owned 342 shares in different railroad companies, he said, but balked at stating his salary. Finally he wrote the amount on a slip of paper and handed it to the referee.

LET'S BE PATIENT

By M. T. Sheahan.

My Brothers and Sisters, living is not easy.

Many people are miserable and cross, and make others so too often.

We can do more work, we can get more joy out of every day, by being patient and forgiving.

Let us try from this time on to keep back the harsh answers and commands, to help people out of their mistakes, and to correct them patiently and kindly.

Let us show the careless and ignorant the right way to do things.

Perhaps this habit of life will correct our own faults and most of us have many.
