Barney, the junior partner, burst into the senior partner's room and banged angrily on the desk.

"Our showroom manager has gone raving mad," he cried. "We must dismiss him at once."

"Calm yourself," said the senior partner. "What's happened?"

"He has put on the showroom window a testimonial praising our typewriters, and it's written with a fountain pen," Barney explained.

Bac., organist and choirmaster will be in charge of the music of the day.

APPOINTED NATIONAL CONVENOR — Mrs. Frank Murray has received official notification of her appointment as National Convenor of Girl Guides for the Catholic Women's League of Canada. She was advised of this by Mrs. W. A. Walker, Honorary Secretary of the League, Toronto, who explained that the appointment was made by Mrs. P. J. McGarry, National President, Kitchener, Ont. Mrs. Murray has been an active member of the C. W. L. for many years and is a former Diocesan President. She was at one time National Convenor of Lay Retreats and has always taken a great interest in the organization. At present Mrs. Murray is a member of the executive of the Provincial Girl Guide Association.

FORMER BANKERS—The latest clerk from the Provincial Bank of Canada to enlist in the forces is Mr. L. G. Doyle, who has been attached to this office for over a year. It is interesting to note that Mr. D. L. O'Rourke is now in the Air Force and Mr. S. A. Stewart is Sergeant Instructor in the Air Force at Yarmouth. Mr. R. M. Montague is Sub.Lieutenant in the Royal Canadian Navy somewhere on the Atlantic coast. Mr. P. H. Plewelling and R. W. Lawton are in the Royal Canadian Air Force and Mr. G. W. Olscamp has recently joined the Canadian Navy. All these young men have enlisted from the Charlottetown office since the beginning of hostilities.

HICKS-STEVENSON—The following clipping is from the Montgomery County Journal and will be of interest especially to relatives in and near New Glasgow. P. E. I. Miss Mabel Stevenson of Fillmore was married to J. D. Hicks of Patoka on July 18, at St. Charles, Mo. The single ring ceremony was used. The bride was attired in a sand color crepe costume. Mrs. Hicks is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Stevenson, who moved to Fillmore five years ago from Palmyra. Mrs. Hicks lived there 18 years, graduating from the high school. She also attended school at Eureka and Illinois State University. She taught the Little Hickory school one term over in Fayette county and also taught the Oak Grove school three terms, west of Hilsboro Mr. Hicks is from Florida and is at present superintendent of the Adams Oil Field at Patoka and they have taken up their residence at Patoka.

BACK STRETCH

We had a visit on Thursday from Peter A. Nolan of Chepstow, near Souris. Peter is the proud possessor of a nine day old colt out of June Worthy 2.17 1-2, sired by King Spruce 2.08. The youngster is a chestnut with white star on forehead and a beautifully formed individual. He also has a yearling by King Spruce out of Marge Direct 2.11 1-2, owned by Jack McLean, M.L.A., Souris, that he is pasturing for Mr. MacLean, Ace MacDonald of St. Catherines, owner of King Spruce 2.08 has a yearling by King Spruce out of June Worthy 2.17 1-2 that is a really good individual. These few colts are just a slight indication of what is taking place in the breeding line in eastern King's County. Mr. Nolan believes that the advent of King Spruce to that section will result in the production of a great number of very useful horses good sturdy ones that can be used for driving and farm utility. He is a great admirer of King Spruce and a clever man on pedigree.

John K. Falconer, Grand View, is in Charlottetown for a check up with physicians. One could not help but feel that the results will be very favorable because Mr. Falconer has the buoyant disposition and appearance which goes with sound health. We are proud to call him one of our old friends and perhaps one of the keenest admirers of horse racing and good horses in our garden province.

Mr. Falconer brought back to memory's page the celebrated College Swift-Dick C. race held at Charlottetown Exhibition some twenty years ago. Every detail of that race was fresh as of yesterday in his mind and how his face did light up as he remembered the terrific burst of speed which Dick C. put on when pulled out on the back stretch in the held over heat which was to decide the race. "That whiz", said he, "took all the steam out of College Swift and driver Red Hanafin. They just seemed to quit; the gap opened up so quickly, who could blame them!" Mr. Falconer was very interested in the letter written by our mutual friend "Big Jim" Pendergast, and says he could just picture "Big Jim" in the judges stand inviting the good people of Valleyfield to Old Home Week.

The results of the Old Home Week races will be looked forward to with great interest by an inmate of the Nova Scotia Sanitorium at Kentville, N. S.—Ollie Rudderham. Ollie writes us as follows: "Here's hoping you have the best kind of race meet and exhibition, and who knows, I may be over to look at them next year. Give my best to all the boys next week, not forgetting George Hooper....Don't forget will be over with my filly Misty Morn in 1944." I am sure we all hope that Ollie will get a great deal of pleasure out of listening to the races next week.

Good harness race meets were held at Montague, P. E. I., and New Glasgow, N. S., the past week, with good attendances at both places and keen racing. Our friend J. L. Read of Truro, who sees every race meet nearby, writes us that the afternoon at New Glasgow was nice and quite warm with very little wind. The track was in good shape, no dust, and a good attendance witnessed very good racing with some finishes very close.

Heber Sweeney's H. M. Volo and William Cruickshanks Bonnie Budlong were exceptionally good, and Peter-at-Court, with a new owner and driver, won for the first time in several starts. Dudey Patch won the Free for All with apparent ease, although Victor Lee won the last heat and went a good race. Victor Lee is a good steady pacer but seems to be lacking a bit in brush. Joe Direct 2.07 has perked right up and should be rather good for Charlottetown. Rainey G. Henley was a bit hard to get away the first heat and the second heat he led to the half in quite fast time, but was not up to a real tough mile.

In the 2.17 the finishes between Hal Britton and Jean Henley were close and Harley Harrison drove Britton a good race, going the short mile and saving his brush for the finish. Mr. Read concluded with — "Hope you had good races at Montague." Thanks, Mr. Read, we appreciate your thoughtfulness very much.

Further particulars from the score card are as follows: 2.20 Trot and Pace—won by H. M. Volo, owned by Heber Sweeney, Bridgewater, with a summary of 1-1-4, Bonnie Budlong 3-2-1, Emily Grattan 2-5-5, Shirley L. 6-6-3, Fred Worthy 5-7-4, Beulah Grattan 8-3-dis, Model T. 4-4-dis. Miss Marjorie Hal, dis. Time, 2.18, 2.17 3-4, 2.18. The winning horse is owned by Lee Chappelle, Stanhope.

In a full page ad in this issue of the Guardian will be found the program for each day's racing of Old Home Week and Provincial Exhibition next week, August 11th to 14th. There is a possibility that the 2.17 and Free for All Trots which are slated for Wednesday and Friday, may be shifted—that is the 2.17 may be raced on Friday and the Free for All on Wednesday, otherwise the program is practically fixed.

Horses are coming in from all directions to the Charlottetown track and with tonight's arrivals most of the stalls will be filled. There are local horses that will be in on Monday morning and afternoon so that by Monday evening there won't be a stall you could put a horse in, and even the Heartz Barn will have to be occupied to take care of the big entry list.

One thing that was brought to our attention, and a fact which we had observed ourselves, is the large number of horses entered that are just commencing to win their spurs as it were. Some of these have been racing with more or less success locally and others on the mainland. There is no telling from where a winner may emerge, because it is a fact that tracks make a tremendous difference with certain gaited horses. Some, like low-going ones, find heavy footing very difficult to negotiate, and a fast, smooth track like Charlottetown will be just to their liking. You always have to take things like that into consideration when you start to pick a winner, because sure as shooting there will be surprises next week, surprises that will make somebody very happy who has a two-dollar ticket on the nose at the right time.

By the way things look we are in for a tremendous attendance, says Secretary J. W. Boulter. He was in conversation with B. Graham Rogers yesterday morning and both are confident that indications point to a tremendous influx from the mainland. "Both ferries will be jammed to capacity," says Mr. Rogers, "but we are making arrangements to have busses take care as well as we possibly can, of the Caribboo-Wood Islands ferry route. They will pick up passengers at Pictou and bring them to Cariboo and then from Wood Islands to Charlottetown.

Then there has been arrangements made to hold trains from the west and east during Exhibition and race days, with one way fares as added help. These we can be quite sure will be well filled, and once again our memories will go back—that is those of us who are old enough—to Exhibition days prior to the Great War, when the trains would arrive and thousands of visitors would emerge.

Best of luck and good wishes to our readers who follow the horses next week. They will see one of the fastest and best kept tracks in America on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Pte. George R. McDonald, son of our esteemed citizen, James McDonald writes us from Fort Dix, N. J.: "I am here and like it well, lots of work and good food but I had hoped to get down for Old Home Week. I haven't missed seeing an exhibition for many years—in fact this will be only the second time in 18 years. My heart will be with you and all the crowd. At 2 o'clock each day I will fee I should hear the bell ring. Colonel I hope you have good weather and a large crowd. Please remember me to all horsemen friends. Sincerely George."

Plans To Match Angott, Stolz

NEW YORK, Aug. 7—(AP)—Promoter Mike Jacobs said today he is planning to put on the return lightweight title match between champion Sammy Angott and challenger Allie Stolz in Madison Square Garden Nov. 13.

The bout had been tentatively slated for Oct. 2, but Jacobs pointed out that Angott's six-month period between title defences won't be up until Nov. 15. His last defence was on May 15, when he came through with a disputed, split decision over Stolz, who whipped featherweight champion Chalky Wright easily in a 10-rounder last night.

2.04 1-4 (half mile track)

Will stand for the season of 1942 at O'Brien stables, Alberton.

Fee $20.00.

Mares taken care of on pasture $1.00 per week.

TIMELY NOTES

When sickness and deaths occur in a fox ranch they usually start among the growing pups. This is true, whether the cause of the condition results from bad feed, in the form of a food poisoning a deficiency in the diet, an infectious disease caused by a filterable virus or a pathogenic bacterial organism.

Our first aim when such conditions arise, is to ascertain whether or not the sickness is confined to one portion of the ranch and is spreading among the foxes in the same pen and to the foxes in adjacent pens to the one affected. If this is found to be the case we should be on guard against an infective disease. However, if the sickness and deaths occur very suddenly and are wide spread throughout the ranch, the probability is that the condition is more likely to be one of food poisoning.

Some of the disease conditions found among foxes, other than parasitic diseases (which have been discussed in detail in a previous article) are genito-urinary infections, paratyphoid infection, distemper, encephalitis and feline enteritis.

The differential diagnosis and treatment of these disease are difficult and when a fox rancher has reason to suspect the presence of such a diseased condition among his foxes he would be well advised to seek the assistance of his Provincial Fieldman and the services of a competent Veterinary Surgeon.

Fate Of National Hockey League Hangs In Balance

OTTAWA, Aug. 7 — (CP) — The wartime fate of the National Hockey League hangs tonight on the case President Frank Calder puts across in a brief he is preparing for Canada's manpower Czar, Elliott M. Little.

Apparently the battle for continuance of the league, for another season at least, is half won.

Yesterday Calder attended a conference with Little to find out what the future holds. Today the director of national selective service came out with this pronouncement:—

"It may be necessary to give some consideration to maintaining the N.H.L. in some form, or on some basis, or else we would face the problem of replacing what is at present means to hundreds of thousands of Canadians in entertainment and maintenance of morale"

Little said that there has been "definitely no decision yet" on how Canada's requirements will cut into the manpower available for the National League — not only for the Canadian teams but also for United States teams so far as their Canadian players are concerned.

Spokesmen at the selective service office intimated strongly that their chief is inclined to believe the N.H.L. should be continued, at least for the 1942-43 season.

Just the same, they said, decision is being delayed until Calder summits his brief on just what the league's manpower situation is.

If the number is large, Little may figure the needs of the forces and war industry are paramount; if it is not so large the entertainment and morale factor of the N.H.L. is likely to swing the case.

So far the National Hockey League, is the only professional outfit to present a case to selective service, and it is the only one whose case has been considered. Whether other approaches would be made was not known immediately.

There is no indication when Calder's brief will be submitted, or when the selective service decision is made public.

7 Cars Of Race Horses Arrived Last Night

Seven car loads of race horses from the mainland arived at Charlottetown last night and for a few hours the stables at the Exhibition Grounds were a lively place. Another big shipment from the mainland is expected today together with horses from this province. Last night 70 horses were at the race track stables.

Mainland horsemen were being warmly welcomed in Charlotetown last night and they expressed pleasure at being here again for the big old home week meet.

Caretaker Bill McAusland has the track in wonderful order, probably as fast if not faster than ever in its history.

All the buildings at the track and exhibition grounds have been freshly decorated and present a very attractive appearance. The whole 26-acre plant is in top condition for the big four-day show next week.

The Bill Lynch shows are scheduled to arrive here early Monday morning and will be set up during the day. The Vaudeville acts are expected to get here not later than Monday. Some of them are playing in the United States tonight and others in Toronto but are leaving late tonight for Charlottetown.

'Y' Trounces Army 33 - 6

The Y.M.C.A. softball team ran amuck last night on the park diamond as they hung a 33-6 pasting on a hopelessly outclassed Army nine. Y reached their peak of run-making in the lucky 7th when they sent 11 men scurrying safely home.

In comparison the Army could do nothing right as they committed 13 errors to help in their own downfall.

Ray Stull was in great form on the mound for the "Y" as he sent a total of 10 Army batters back to the bench via the strikeout route, and allowed only 12 hits. Y in racking up their convincing score combed the Army hurler, MacInnis, for 27 safe blows, 5 of which were home runs. The five circuit clouts registered by the Y were blasted by Hennessey B. Whitlock, Whalen, T. Whitlock and Carmichael. MacInnis hung up 3 strikeouts.

Stull issued three walks while MacInnis gave up only one free pass.

Buck Whitlock was the hitting star of the ragged contest, garnering six singles in seven trips to the plate for Y. Nearing and Corbett shared batting honors for the Army, each with three hits in five appearances at the plate.

Sharing the rather inglorious honour of committing errors were Corbett, Cuthbertson and Doane of the Army, each making three miscues, amounting to nine of their team's total. The Y played heads up ball and were charged with only two bobbles.

Following are the lineups—

Army: Nearing, MacInnis, Richard, MacNamara, Corbett, Cuthbertson, Doane, Ward, O'Neill.

Y. M. C. A.: Stull, P. Whtilock, Carmichael, Whalen, Cudmore, B. Whitlock, Hennessey, Murphy, Trainor, T. Whitlock.

Alsab May Be In Race Today

CHICAGO, Aug. 7—(AP)—Alsab, 1941, juvenile champion, out of action for two months because of a leg injury, may return to the races at Washington Park tomorrow in an ordinary sprint instead of testing his legs in a stake event.

Albert Sabbath, Chicago attorney, owner of the celebrated bargain colt, had figured on racing Alsab in the $7,500 added Sheridan Handicap for three-year-olds and upward at 1 1-8 miles. However, Alsab's name was missing from the entry list today. Instead, he was entered in a $2,500 added handicap at six furlongs.

Remember When

(By The Canadian Press)

Bill Kerr, Toronto Hunt Club professional and Slammin' Sam Snead, Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa., star, tied for the lead in the first round of the Ontario open golf tournament at Fort Erie two years ago today. Snead won the title with a 36-hole score of 139. Kerr finished in seventh place.

Craig Wood Takes Lead In Canadian Open Golf Tourney

(By Scott Young, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

MISSISSAUGA GOLF CLUB, Port Credit, Ont., Aug. 7—(CP)—The man the sporting world knows as Mr. Golf—Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa.—couldn't find the range often enough today to hold his leadership in the 72-hole Canadian open golf championship.

Hogan shot a 71 in the second round of the annual classic to fall one stroke behind Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N. Y., and Ralph Guldahl of Sante Fe, Cal., each of whom shot a 69 for 36-hole totals of 135.

Hogan's 71 was one stroke under par for this 6,543-yard championship layout, but he was far off the form that gave him a 66 yesterday for a new course record and a 24-hour leadership in the event.

While Hogan ran into trouble on the early holes, Wood and Guldahl really put on the heat. The tall shambling Guldahl had an aching hip picked up during his first round yesterday when he shot a 66. He favored the hip and although it didn't hurt his driving he was missing putts. He had his putting weight perfectly but was pulling them off line. On at least 12 of the 18 holes his first putt, had it dropped, would have been a birdie.

He bogeyed the short third with a four but got it back with a birdie on the par five fourth. He birdied the fifth also and then he really started to roll.

He had pars on the next five holes, birdied the 11th, then shot par golf until the 15th. There he shot a birdie, then shot pars for his 69.

Wood had to play recovery golf in the second nine for his 69 after shooting even par figures, 36, on the first nine. He birdied the 12th, 13th and 16th for a 33 coming in. His putting was better than yesterday when he had a 66, but his long game wasn't quite as good.

The hottest round of the day was shot by Frank Stranahan, the chesty, powerful golfer from Toledo, Ohio, who was low amateur in the Tam O'Shanter open in Chicago. Stranahan looked bad on the first hole he played yesterday but he has been good since. Today he was the hottest man on the course, with towering woods and crisp irons backing up some of the most deadly putting an amateur has shown in the Canadian open.

He had a 33 on the first nine and a 34 on the second. Added to his 71 of yesterday it gave him a total of 138 that was good enough for fourth place in the tournament and best among the amateurs.

Then came Canada's hope in the open—Gordon Brydson, the home professional. His 69 today was good enough to rate him a possibility when the field swings into the gruelling 36-hole finals tomorrow.

Brydson was par for the first nine but recovered well on the second for a 33. He had 71 yesterday, giving him a 36-hole total of 140.

In sixth place with 141's were Skee Riegel of Miami, Fla., who was tied with Stranahan for low amateur after the first round yesterday, and Clay Heafner of Durham, N. C. Heafner drifted down from his 68 yesterday to a 73 today.

Gene Kunes of Philadelphia and Tony Penna of Dayton, Ohio, were tied for eighth place with 142. Three Canadians were bunched with two big-name professionals for 10th place—Bob Burns, Weston, Ont., Bobby Reith, Windsor, Ont., Jerry Proulx, Montreal, Horton Smith, Pinehurst, N. C., and Paul Runyan, White Plains, N.Y.

Rockford Square Quoit Tournament

The Rochford Quoit Tournament for the Crockett Trophy got under way Thursday night and opened with a bang.

Many interesting games were played and a number of up-sets occurred during the evening.

Robin and McInnis are leading the pack with three wins and no losses.

A new player this season for the Rochford Club in the person of Ed Nicholson, who as a golfer has proven himself hot competition for other contestants followed his hand in quoits, playing the most number of games and only meeting with two losses.

The games will continue nightly until a holder of the trophy is declosed for 1942-43.

Following is a summary of the first night's play:—

	Played	Won	Lost
H. McNeill	1	1	1
H. McInnis	3	3	0
