Utilities

The impressive upswing now present in the use of household appliances, coupled with further gains in industrial activity, should, in 1937, help in the establishment of new all-time highs in the production of electricity. There are appreciable advances in earnings indicated, despite prospects of higher operating expenses and additional rate reductions.

This firm maintains a full information service for the benefit of investors and complete facilities for prompt purchase or sale of securities. Enquiries are invited.

MARKET BULLETIN

(Received over Woods- Reade and Company Special Wire)

MORNING MARKET LETTER

Holiday influences were noticeable in Saturday's market but a mild improvement in prices and firmness prevailing throughout the session indicated rising optimism with regard to the probable course this week.

The steel stocks were among the strongest but the oils were also prominent at better prices. Some of the improved sentiment was based on indications that not only would the Chrysler strike be settled soon, but also on the possibility that the general wave of sitdown strikes, which has plagued industry recently may soon be brought to an end voluntarily by labor.

Laidlaw & Company.

NOON COMMENT

The market is steady but extremely dull and apparently the mood is to await developments with respect to the Wagner Labor Relations Act and the strike situation.

Further delay may induce some tendency to take profits and stand by but we would expect the relatively good current business situation to have a strong sustaining influence on the market.

Laidlaw and Company.

IN MEMORIAM

MR. ANGUS MACAULAY

A wide circle of friends joins with the family of Mr. Angus MacAulay in mourning his death, which took place at his home in Tracadie on Wednesday, March 17th. Though in his ninety-first year he had suffered little from the infirmities of old age, and had even taken his accustomed walk out of doors the day before he died.

With Mr. MacAulay's death there passed a patriarchal figure, one of those truly admirable Christian fathers who have made the country homes of this fair Island shrines of virtue and religion. His wife, Anastasia MacAulay, who predeceased her husband by twenty-two years was in every way worthy of him. Both strove to make their home a shining example of what an ideal Catholic home should be. Borrowing the words of the poet we may say:

"From homes like this our Island grandeur springs
That makes it loved at home, revered abroad."

Such a home is often the nursery of religious vocations and we are not surprised that God called to the Holy Priesthood one of the sons, Francis, who is at present Pastor of St. Ann's Parish in the city of Winnipeg. Two daughters dedicated their lives to God in the Congregation of Notre Dame. The eldest daughter, Sadie known in religion as Sister St. Mary Anastasia, died a saintly death seven years ago. Her memory is held in veneration by hundreds of former pupils in Charlottetown and Tignish where she labored for twenty-three years. Her younger sister, Annie, Sister St. Angela, is teaching in St. Joseph's Convent, C. N. D., Charlottetown. Three other children survive their father—one daughter, Mrs. Leo Reid of Hope River and two sons, Angus, who in his younger days was attached to the staff of the Examiner in Charlottetown and who is now conducting a thriving mercantile business in Rossland, B. C., and Bruce who resides at the old homestead in Tracadie. James B. MacAulay of Charlottetown and Alexander MacAulay of Mount Ryan are brothers of the deceased. His sister, Mrs. Mary Connick, has resided with her brother since her husband's death some years ago.

The death in 1904 of their dearly beloved daughter Emma was a great grief to her devoted parents, a grief which was renewed ten years later, when death claimed their son, Ronald who died in British Columbia from injuries received in an accident.

The large number of friends and neighbors that filled St. Bonaventure's Church, on Friday morning, March nineteenth, to assist at the solemn rites with which Holy Mother Church bids farewell to the mortal remains of her faithful children bore testimony to the respect and esteem in which Mr. MacAulay was held. Holy Mass was celebrated by the Pastor, Right Reverend Maurice McDonald. There were present in the sanctuary, Reverend James Murphy, D. D., Rector of St. Dunstan's University and Reverend Francis McQuaid. Monsignor McDonald also conducted the service at the grave. The following friends of the deceased acted as pall bearers: Messrs. John Lacey, Charles Rowe, James McDonald, William McDonald, Fred Mullin and Basil McDonald.

On the morning of March 20th, a solemen Requiem High Mass was sung in St. Ann's Church, Winnipeg, by Father MacAulay for the repose of the soul of his venerated father, at whose funeral he was unable to assist owing to the pressure of parish duties. His Excellency Archbishop Sinnott was present at the Mass and pronounced the final absolution.

Mr. MacAulay was laid to rest beside his wife in the family plot in the parish cemetery. May the memory of their edifying lives be an inspiration to their family and to others in those days when the very foundation of society is being threatened! May their example encourage all to hold fast to the lofty ideals of family life which have been our glory in the past and are still our hope for the future!
