DEFECTIVE BEING KILLED BY DOCTOR

CHICAGO, Nov. 16—Painless death by means of "God-given" drugs, are being applied to Paul Modxima, a child with a microcephalus head, by Dr. Harry J. Haiselden, of the German-American Hospital, according to the physician's admission.

"The boy's head is malformed and he suffers from a stricture of the trachea, which causes labored breathing. He would always remain a helpless idiot," said Dr. Haiselden.

Opiates being administered for the primary purpose of relieving pain will cause the death of the child in several months, it is admitted.

Regardless of the fact that the treatment can have no other result than the child's death, it was defended by the physician, who, however, disclaimed the right to administed a lethal dose that would cause immediate death. Mental and physical defectives' lives should not be prolonged, the physician said.

Several cases were cited in support of the theory of painless death, one being the case of a 10-year old girl who is only a living organism and can utter only two words.

"Where such lives are shortened," the physician concluded, "the parents lives are prolonged."

THE MAGAZINE METHOD

From Life

It is with regret that the Emperor of Germany is obliged to return the enclosed peace terms. In doing so he desires to thank the author for submitting them, and to express his hope that other propositions may hereafter be forthcoming from the same pen. The Emperor feels sure that the author will understand, where so many propositions are constantly being received, and where the demands of Germany are necessarily so arbitrary, that only that proposal can be retained which is peculiarly suited to Germany's needs.

N. Y. FUR PRICES HOLD HIGH LEVIL

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.— While the new price levels established on many kinds of furs at the public auction here last month, several of which are higher than in many years past. has retarded the sale of some of the more extreme priced skins, the latest report of the New York Fur Auction Sales Corporation says that Beaver, Lynx American Oppossum and Civet Cat are selling strong at figures higher than those reached at the sale. Red Fox and Wolf are not moving so well because of the very high prices at which they are held. Cross and Blue Fox are being last sale price and the same is true of Marten and Muskrat. A special demand for Northwestern Skunk and for "Coat Stock" Raccoon is inevidence as well as for fresh dark Mink, Ermine, fisher and the heavier qualities of Wildcat are also selling well, but sales of Grey Fox and Otter are lagging.

Prices for the coming season the report continues, will to a great extent depend upon the size of the catch that is now coming in and also upon the influence of war conditions n the market. It is expected that the prevailing high prices will result in increased trapping in practically all stations. This will tend to counteract the decrease inthe number of trappers, many of whom have entered the army or have been attracted to better paying employment. It is only reasonable to expect that the large sums being expended by the Government will eventually find their way into the hands of the buying public. Because of this the corporation anticipates the maintenance or prices on substantially all articles and looks forward with confidence to a successful January sale.

VINOL MAKES GOOD BLOOD

Positive—Convincing Proof

Many so-called remedies for anaemia are only so in name. Their makers are afraid to prove their claims by telling what their medicines contain. The only way to be honest with the people is to let them know what they are paying for. Here is the Vinol formula. When the doctor knows what a medicine contains, it ceases to be a "patent" medicine.

Cod Liver and Beef Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates, Iron and Ammonium Citrate, Lime and Soda Glycerophosphates, Cascarin.

Any doctor will tell you that the ingredients of Vinol, as named above, will enrich the blood and banish anaemia and create strength. When the blood is pure and rich and red, the body is strong and robust.

You can prove this at our expense because your money will be returned if Vinol does not improve your health.

E. A. Foster, druggist, Charlotte town. Vinol is sold in Montague by H. J. Mabon, also at the best druggists in all Prince Edward Island towns.

INTENTION OF THE LAURIER MANIFESTO

BY H. F. GADSBY.

OTTAWA, November 17.—Sir Wilfrid takes up the gage. The issue is conscription. He makes the issue conscription by his stubborn attitude against it. Neither now nor for six months to come would Sir Wilfrid do anything to help the boys in the trenches. That is what Sir Wilfrid's proposal to wait until he takes a referendum means.

Wait and see, says Sir Wilfrid. But meanwhile death does not wait. The German shells do not stop in mid-career while Sir Wilfrid works out his policy of procrastination. Our best and bravest go on dying over there in Flanders quite regardless of the fact that Sir Wilfrid Laurier spins phrases to catch the vote of those who think that Canada has done enough and ought to quit now.

Every sensible man knows that Canada can't quit now. We have this German wolf by the ears and we can't let go. In sporting parlance Canada must come through. We are bound to "carry on" because our heart is in the great fight for freedom and our honor is pledged to see it to a finish. As Ben Tilett put it, if Germany wins then nothing else on God's earth matters. Canada has found her soul in the mud and blood in Flanders and she must never lose it again.

Canada has found her soul because she has found what she lives for. The only way to find what one lives for is to find what one is willing to die for. This great treasure which has commanded the supreme sacrifice from so many Canadians is democracy. That is the great ideal, the precious heritage for which Canadians fight and bleed and die on Flanders fields. Democracy gives the individual as much liberty as he can enjoy without trenching on the liberty of others. Accustomed as Canadians are to the fullest measure of personal freedom have they ever thought what a figure they would cut as tribute-payers in a German colony which was run on the "verboten" principle? Yet that is what Canada would become if Germany won.

Sir Wilfrid threatens to cease effort or at least to suspend it until the referendum votes are counted. That means he would cease effort altogether for there is undoubtedly enough slackness in this country to defeat conscription if put to the touch. To lie down, to back out of the fight—these are the shameful things Canada must never do. These are the shameful things Union Government says Canada shall not do. Union Government, as I have said before, is a partnership of thrift and fortitude whose function is to keep Canada up to her best previous endeavors. It would be cheaper to quit says some faint heart. The duty of Union Government is to point out that it is not cheaper to quit. Even to save money it would be a poor bargain to quit now. What does it profit a nation if it gain a stranglehold on the national debt and lose its own soul? Besides Canada does not save money by quitting—neither money, nor lives, nor honor. If Germany won, our lands would be the spoil of the Teuton. There would be no cheap homesteads for the poor men of the Anglo-Saxon race. The best acres would belong to the conqueror. And the well-to-do would suffer too for a conquering Germany would hardly let a tributary state go on paying interest on war loans undertaken for Germany's defeat. In short rich and poor will find it to their interest to hold up Canada's end in this war and support a Union Government which considers conscription the first duty of the hour.

Much has been said as to why Conservatives and Liberals joined hands in a Union Government. Some say that the Conservatives did it to wash their stains away and that the Liberals did it to put themselves right with the soldier vote and that both did it to share the benefits of the War Time Election Act—all of which may be true but is beside the question nevertheless. The real reason for joining hands was that they had to do it. Nothing but united effort for the next five years to come at the very least, will pull Canada out of the pit this war has flung her into. Canada did not dig this put for herself any more than the United States dug a pit for herself. It wasn't England dug the pit, or France, or Russia or Italy. It was Germany that dug the pit which threw the whole world in.

Germany must be driven into a position where she can dig no more pits and to do that Canada must stand by the Mother Country to the end. The whelps of the lion must not scurry for cover just as the old lion is beginning to get his second wind. It is worth remembering that England has carried most of this war on her shoulders—in men she does her full share, in money she keeps half a dozen of the allies going. Now that Russia has crumpled and Italy sags like a stick of her justly celebrated macaroni, it looks as if England and her overseas states, France and the United States might have to finish the war. This means that Canada must go on doing her bit. No Conservative can afford to be too conservative in the reinforcements he sends to our boys in the trenches and no Liberal can afford to be illeberal when it comes to giving a full measure of help to the brave fellows in Flanders who make their breasts the bulwark of our liberties.

Canada is in this war for several reasons. Iput them down here in the order of their importance. To prevent democracy perishing from the earth, to help England, to save her own skin. The first and third reasons have already been touched. The second reason—helping England—that is to say doing our duty as part of the British Empire—needs this comment. Some love the old flag because it is a sentiment, others because it is the worldwide symbol of a prosperous business institution. From either angle it commands the respect and support of intelligent Canadians. For a long time to come we must remain a part of the British Empire because it is our interest and safety to do so. Our safety? Yes. With Pan-Gesman and Pan-Asiatic and Pan one kind and othed movements all around us, our security against these threatening solidarities is to be Pan-British or Pan-Anglo-Saxon.

The conscription returns show that only seven per cent. of those found physically fit are willing to fight. This gives a fairly good hint as to what would happen if Sir Wilfrid went back to voluntary recruiting. Of the ninety-three per cent. claiming exemption it will probably be found that they are not suffering from anything but dandruff. Conscription bucks these timid fellows up. Conscription is the only fair way of getting the men Canada needs at the front. It should have been the method from the start—but there is no use of crying over spilt milk now. Conscription means even handed justice. It does not mean taking four sons from one family simply because they are willing and no sons at all from the family next door because they are willing to lie down on the job. It does not mean letting our own native-born and British-born march bravely off to war and leaving our foreign-born to enjoy the fruits of this good brown Canadian earth.

NEW FLOATING MINE WRECKS ONLY ENEMY VESSELS.

Our government has under consideration a marine contact mine of an unusually interesting type, says the December Popular Mechanics Magazine in an illustrated article. It may, or may not, prove to be suitable for general adoption, but at any rate it has the merit of ingenuity and therefore is worth notice. Unlike ordinary mines, this one operates on a selective principle. In other words, it is designed to destroy enemy vessels without endangering the friendly ones—for which a simple protective device has been provided—that collide with it. Technical details of the invention cannot, of course, be divulged, but a general description is permissible. The outer shell of the mine is built of pressed stell and equipped with a group of magnetic disks, which are employed in place of the firing pins customarily used. The instant the steel, iron, or any similar metal becomes in contact with one of the disks, a clock motor, housed within the buoy, is set in motion. It in turn operates a trigger and causes the discharge of a fulminate cap that detonates the explosive. Thus any unprotected steel vessel would explode the mine on contact.

Disproved.

Gentleman—Why don't you get out and hustle. Hard work never killed anybody

Rastus—You're mistooken there, boss. I'se lost four wives dat way.

A CHILD'S TONGUE SHOWS IF LIVER OR BOWELS ARE ACTIVE

If cross, feverish, sick, bilious, give fruit laxative at once

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomachache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."
