The Halifax Races Yesterday—Miss Wrigley And Acquiri Boy Unplaced—Red Wing Broke In Second Heat And Lost Two Last

(Special to The Guardian) HALIFAX, Sept. 12—The Exhibition opened Wednesday, but, on account of the condition of the track, the races were carried over until Thursday. The two classes run off were 2.40 Trot and 2.17 pace. It was a day fraught with accidents. In one of them the handsome horse Allie W. was killed. This horse cost originally $2,500. His career has been an unlucky one, always meeting with accidents. The driver of Allie W., the popular Frank Adams, was seriously injured, Boutillier, who drove Minnie, was twice thrown from his sulky, but fortunately escaped injury. Rockford was held responsible for the accident and was suspended. The 2.40 Trot has seven starters, including three Island varieties. Red Wing, owned by the MacKinnon Drug Co., Miss Wrigley, Spearminn Stables, and Acquiri Boy, by J. C. Sims. The two latter were the favorites, the others being held cheap. To the surprise of all Red Wing captured the first heat, being forced to within fifty yards from the wire by Acquiri Boy, who broke and got only sixth place. He showed lameness in the next heat and was drawn. Miss Wrigley made bad breaks which resulted in her being unplaced. Red Wing made a break in the second heat and lost it. She won the third, then lost the next two. The last heat was a great race between Montrose and Red Wing, the latter being nosed out. The races this year are to a finish, which accounts for the number of heats. SUMMARY 2.40 TROT Purse $400. Montrose Jr. 3 1 2 2 1 1 Red Wing 1 2 1 3 3 2 Signor 2 3 3 1 2 3 Miss Neta 5 4 4 4 4 4 Buttercup, Miss Wrigley, Acquiri Boy also started. LETHBRIDGE, Alberta, Sept. 11—Beaten until senseless and bleeding from several wounds on his face and body, Acting Chief Brown was found last night about 10.30 in the house of Helen Howard, where he had evidently been set upon by thugs with the purpose of putting the police officer out of business. Brown was almost unconscious when found by Sergeant Goughgan, who hurried to the house on a call from the mistress of the place, who was in hysterics when the sergeant reached the scene. Brown was unable either to give a clear account of the affair or a description of the man who is supposed to have done the trick. He had a terrible gash under his right eye, which had been made by a drinking glass and the floor was littered with broken glasses and wrecked furniture, showing that there had been a regular battle before the acting chief was put hors de combat. The Howard woman was in a complete state of collapse and even this morning was so confused that she could give no connected account of the trouble. The police are investigating.
