"LUCKY DEVILS" REPLETE WITH THRILLS AT CAPITOL

We went behind the scenes of Hollywood last night to see its unsung heroes, the stunt men who risk their lives so that we may have thrills served with our films. And the 480-a-day dare-devils have their inning at the Capitol Theatre, taking our breath away in every foot of "Lucky Devils."

Thrill is a by-word to Hollywood stunt men. Courageously, they brave every conceivable hazard, risking life and limb to crash automobiles into plate glass; light on foot-wide prison walls; swing across buildings; fight on burning roofs; and tumble fifty feet to earth through a skylight. Here is the dramatic low-down on how they do it.

"Do they really do it?"

Bill Boyd employs his virile physique and personality with realism in a sincere, convincing portrayal. As Skipper, head stunt man, he saves an "extra" girl from suicide. Upsetting his theory that stuntsmanship and romance do not mix, he marries her. He acquires a fear of death and loses his nerve. He works as a day laborer, and eventually becomes despondent when his wife anticipates a baby; he is penniless.

A stunning job is available. He undertakes the execution of a death ride in a canoe across tumultuous rapids in a tense dramatic climax which kept an audience glued to the edge of the seats.

Dorothy Wilson, gives an able dramatic portrayal as Skipper's wife. Wm. Gargan, stage star added to his laurels, is well cast as a member of the "Lucky Devils" club. Roscoe Ates is conventionally hilarious with his stuttering humor; William Bakewell, Creighton Chaney, Bruce Cabot, Julie Hayden and Phyllis Fraser complete an adequate featured cast.

"IT'S GREAT TO BE ALIVE" BRIGHT CLEAN COMEDY AT PRINCE EDWARD

In "It's Great To Be Alive" the new musical comedy which opened at the Prince Edward yesterday, you have a full season of hilarity. In story, acting, music and dancing, it is as satisfying a piece of entertainment as has been seen hereabouts in a long-long time.

Telling the story of a man who finds himself literally the last man on earth, the film depicts a world populated entirely by women, each of whom has one end in view—to get that solitary male. It is a dread disease that wipes the globe clean of the masculine sex. The women are unprepared for such a contingency, and what goes on toward a solution of this emergency forms the extremely funny basis for the picture.

Raul Roulien, the South American star, plays the highly enviable role of being the last man. The fact that he is a castaway on a desert island when the scourge of men occurs, adds to his own amazement when he finds in himself a complete sex. In the story he is an aviator, popular with the women even in a world of men, but devastating as the only man in the world. Roulien's performance is excellent. He is a finished actor, and a man who knows how to sing songs. In this his first effort at American stardom, he is wholly successful.

With the comedy in the expert hands of Edna May Oliver and Herbert Mundin, "It's Great To Be Alive" has a generous supply of schiller moments. Gloria Stuart is lovely in the leading feminine role, and the actors, in support of the principals, are each splendid in the individual portrayals. Among these are Joan Marsh, Dorothy Burgess, Emma Dunn, Edward Van Sloan and Robert Greig.

Inman Re-Union

"Birchwood" the beautiful ancestral home of Mr. A. D. Inman, Hampton, was the scene of a happy gathering on the afternoon of Aug 11th when the Inmans from all parts of the Province and many from abroad met to celebrate the one hundred and fourteenth anniversary of the landing of their forefathers on the shores of Hampton. The hours were pleasantly wiled away in getting acquainted and in pleasant conversation, while some of the more daring wandered to the splendid beach near by which is much frequented by summer tourists and enjoyed a dip in the briny waves. During the afternoon, stirring addresses were given by Judge Inman, Rev. Mr. Bridgewater, J. T. Inman, J. P. Proffitt, J. M. Inman and Miss Elma Inman. The speakers reviewed the early life of pioneer John Inman and his wife Rebecca Duke, who emigrated from Yorkshire, Eng. in July 1819, and settled on a shore farm at Hampton, bringing with them their five sons, John, Thomas, Robert, Mark, William and daughter Mary. These sons all became prosperous farmers and settled on farms along the Hampton shores. Today their descendants are many and noted for their integrity and good citizenship.

A hearty welcome was extended to Mr. and Mrs. John M. Inman, Concord, N. H., and Mr. and Mrs. Bacchus and mother, Ms. Hannah Inman, New Wales, Florida, this being the first celebration of the kind they had attended since the original gathering twenty-five years ago. Following this the clan was organized and Mr. J. T. Inman, Bedeque, was appointed President and Mrs. Warren Inman, Hampton, Sec'y-Treas. It was unanimously agreed to hold celebrations regularly every two years and plans were made for various sports and amusements at further gatherings.

Among the oldest present were four members of the John Inman family whose ages range from eighty-five to ninety-one, all quite active for their years. A huge

Makes Final Plea For Freedom

SALEM, MASS., Aug. 17—(A.P.)—Jessie Burnett Costello, on trial for the slaying of her husband, tonight made one last, brief plea for life and freedom.

The arguments of the defense and the prosecution concluded, the dark-eyed widow stood before an Essex County Jury late in the day, insisted that she loved her husband that she did not kill him and asked that she be sent back to her three children.

District Attorney Hugh A. Gregg had just concluded an afternoon's argument in which he contended that "if the spirit of Bill Costello came back to this world it would say: 'She murdered me, give her no more chances'."

chart, in the form of a wheel has been compiled containing the names of the various families down to the sixth generation. This has continued to increase at each gathering so rapidly that a new and larger one is now necessary.

Lunch was served on the lawn after which a hearty vote of thanks was extended to Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Inman for their kind hospitality and invitation to meet at "Birchwood" from time to time.

CHICAGO GRAIN FENCEBUSTERS PRICES TUMBLE IN FROM WESTVILLE 4-1

(Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Aug 16—Mob psychology received the chief blame from traders today for a new maximum allowable tumble of grain prices, including 5 cents a bushel collapse in wheat.

Something like a flood of selling orders which had accumulated during stagnation of dealings the last three days poured into the grain pits at the opening, and forced the markets down to the furthest point that emergency regulations of the board of trade would tolerate for a 24 hour period. No recovery ensued.

Since the season's peaks were reached about a month ago, wheat has dropped 84 cents, corn 27 cents, oats 15 cents, rye 43 cents, and barley 50 cents.

Wheat closed nominal, 5 cents down from the average of yesterday's finish, corn 4 cents off, oats showing 3 cents decline and provisions at a setback of 50 cents.

SPRINGHILL, N. S., Aug. 16—Springhill Fencebusters today advanced towards the finals of the Nova Scotia baseball playoffs by handing out a 4-1 defeat to Westville in the opening game of their playdown series.

Cople LeBlanc, Springhill's pitcher, struck out 13 batters as he held Westville to six scattered hits, and broke up the game in the sixth inning by crossing the plate after he had smashed out a triple that scored Wilson.

His big battery mate, Hank O'Rourke, had a hand in the other two Springhill runs. O'Rourke scored the opener after drawing a walk, and then sent Brown home with a scizzling three-bagger.

Winners of the Springhill-Westville series will play off with either Truro or Kentville for the right to meet the Cape Breton champions in the semi-finals.
