NEWSY FARM NOTES

A SUCCESSFUL ORCHARD.

Mr. Frank F. Reeves, of Southport, (or Cross Roads as it is somewhat awkwardly called) is making a success in his own particular line of small fruit growing and "orcharding." I found his pickers at work on the Viking Raspberries which are in long rows as fillers, on a four and a half acre patch which will ultimately be an orchard comprising such new varieties of apples as Melbo, Lobo, and Courtland. There are of course some of the older varieties but none but the best are allowed in Mr. Reeves's orchard. I examined the Viking Raspberry attentively and was gratified to find it an outstanding variety with thick upright canes, even when loaded with fruit; this keeps the fruit clean and enables it to be picked with ease. The cultivation is easier too, because of the upright habit. The canes are thornless. The fruit is very large, of a bright red, and parts from the receptacle easily so that there is no "stemming" afterwards. Altogether a desirable acquisition, the Viking originated at Vineland, Ontario, in 1914, the result of a cross between the Outburst and the Marlboro raspberries and its performance under all conditions has been uniformly good.

Its yield, as compared with another standard variety the Herbert, is just about three times as great from the same number of canes. Raspberry plantations do not give a full crop until the third year, but an acre of Viking grown at Vineland produced 3000 pints the second year, and the berries sell readily at 20c. per pint.

Fall planting gives 99% of living canes, says Mr. Reeves, while of those planted in spring only 85% survive. From the middle of October to the middle of November is the best time for planting.

Mr. Reeves believes in feeding his apple trees with chemical fertilizers, one result of which is to break the biennial habit. He has an acre and a half of Senator Dunlop strawberries which also receive a similar fertilizing.

Mr. Reeves's raspberries are certified free from Mosaic and Spurbright; Mr. R. R. Hurst, plant pathologist, having had them under inspection for at least four years. This planting is well worth a visit by those who desire to see a model commercial orchard.

A DRY SPELL

This note is a retrospect of the year 1921, which in many respects resembled the present year. It was a very hot dry summer, rain slight in amount occurring on 8 days in June and 5 in July. The amounts of rainfall registered at the Experimental Farm were 1.14 inches in June and 1.80 in July; in the Mount Herbert district it was somewhat lower. There was drought in Britain, just as there is now; on July 4th, it had lasted six weeks. Rain fell very sporadically that year, as for instance heavy rain at Summerside on the 26th, July, while there was none at Hillsboro. The earth was supposed to have passed through the tail of a comet on Aug. 8th, and whatever was the cause it rained on that date and followed it up so well that August had 3.15 inches to its credit in the Hillsboro district. It was noticeable at a nearby factory that the butter fat percentage in the milk was lower than it had been for some years, viz 3.34%. Following the clew and going over the records it was found that the tests were higher in the moister years. To make up for this long dry period, the ground was hard frozen on Oct. 17, and on the 25th, there were snow and hail storms. Then when the winter did set in it was severe with gales and much barometric disturbance, and some cold spells, Kensington reporting 35 below on Feb. 17th, 1922. That winter the Murray Harbor train was in difficulties most of the time. On Feb. 7th, it got to Bunbury at 10 p. m. on its way to town, and if I remember rightly it did not hit the city again till the 12th.

Mr. Peter Brodie says that the present scarcity of water in the wells is without parallel since 1911 but to my regret I find that my notes do not go back to that date, being two years short.

The Best Start for a Hot Day

Better and much more enduring in effect than a cold bath is the daily glass of ENO'S "Fruit Salt." Its sparkling purity, cools and cleanses by gently removing the clogging waste and poisons from your system.

It isn't only the work you do that tires you. A system poisoned with impurities will make you feel tired. Try ENO as a thirst quencher and reviver. Let it be your safeguard against the oppressive heat of long summer days. You'll find it much more effective than so-called cold drinks and it has positively no injurious after-effects. ENO is cooling to look at... cooling to drink... cooling in what it does.

ENO'S "Fruit Salt" insures inner cleanliness. But remember there is only one ENO. Resolutely refuse substitutes.

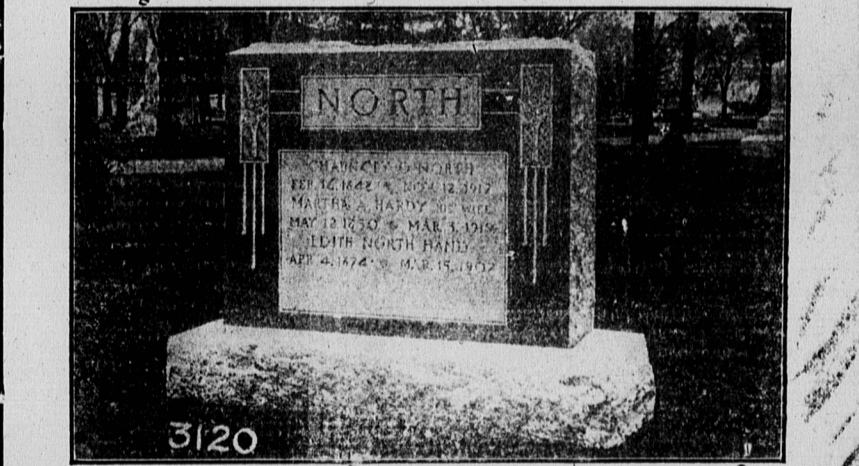

Mrs. John MacCormack, New Acadia, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Guy Mallard, New Zealand.

NEW ACCESSORY

The apparently respectable man was brought into a court for a petty theft. The judge interrogated him, and it appeared he had been caught running off with a sign from a construction job.

"What did the sign say?" the Judge asked. "No Help Wanted." "Well, what in the world did you want with it?"

Hank Todd tells the story of the Scotsman and his wife who went into a restaurant and ordered a sandwich. Sandy cut it in two and proceeded to polish off his section while his better half looked on. The head waiter wandered over and asked the frau if there was anything wrong with her half of the sandwich. She said no, she was waiting until her husband got through with the teeth.

WHY?

Why are we able to supply our discriminating customers with monuments of superior quality and workmanship at prices below those demanded for monuments of inferior quality and workmanship?

BECAUSE

Ours is the only plant on Prince Edward Island equipped with Polishing Machine and Pneumatic Tools of the most modern type for cutting and carving. One qualified tradesman, with the aid of this equipment, can turn out more finished work than three men using the old hand tools—hammer and chisel.

This modern equipment enables us to buy our stock direct from the quarries by car load lots, and we are thus afforded a large saving in duty, freight, etc. The rough stock is placed in the hands of tradesmen qualified to take their place in any American shop and we might add the only tradesmen in the Province capable of creating from the rough stone a beautiful, finished memorial.

Our large turnover has reduced our selling cost to a minimum. We have salesmen. It is true, what up-to-date business has not?

If you desire a Monument that will stand the inspection of experts we are ready to serve you. The customer wishing a small simple memorial receives the same first class material and workmanship as those desiring one of the most elaborate and costly.

Visit our showrooms before you buy, or view our work in the cemeteries and make your own comparisons.
