THE HALLOWED PATH

They tell us that in some trackless lands when one friend passes through the pathless forest, he breaks a twig ever and anon as he goes that those who come after may see the traces of his having been there, and may know that they are not off the road. Oh, when we are journeying through the murky night, and the dark woods of affliction and sorrow, it is something to find here and there a spray broken, or a leafy stem bent down with the tread of His foot, and the brush of His hand as He passed; and to remember the path He trod. He has hallowed, and that there are fragrances and hidden strength in the remembrance "in all points, tempted as we are," bearing grief for us, bearing grief with us, bearing grief like us.

In this connection these words of Jesus are comforting.

"Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me. 2. In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. 3. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also."

IN MEMORIAM

LAURA JANE MUTTART.

Laura Jane, aged 14 years, daughter of Mr. Freeman Muttart, of Kingsboro, Lot 47, passed peacefully away on January 2, 1915, in the P. E. Island Hospital, Charlottetown, after a painful illness of three weeks. Laura had been for several years a quiet and consistent member of the Kingsboro Baptist Church, as well as a scholar in the Sunday School. Her loss is mourned by her father, her brother, Edward, and her sisters, Elsie and Frances, as well as by a large circle of more distant relations and friends. Her mother predeceased her by four years. She was interred in the graveyard belonging to the aforesaid church, on Jan. 4th, the service being conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. E. Piper, B. A., and the office of pall-bearer being filled by six young men, Walter Robertson, Olden McDonald, Basil Mossey, W. J. McCormack, Ernest Ching and Percy Ford.

MRS. GEORGE W. KING.

At Boughton Island on Dec. 25th, 1914, the death of Mrs. George W. King cast a sudden gloom over the home, and surrounding neighbors of that vicinity. As deceased had been a resident of that place for the last twelve years, and had endeared herself to all who became acquainted with her, by her kind and generous nature, she became a favorite with all, and will be greatly missed by the whole community. Deceased was born at Lyndale seventy years ago and was a daughter of Archibald and Margaret Mathewson. At about 25 years of age she was married to Mr. King and lived at Milltown, Cross up till 12 years ago from which place they moved to Boughton Island, there to spend the last of her remaining years. She had been afflicted with asthma for a number of years but had always been able to attend to her household duties until within 24 hours of her death. On Sunday she was in her usual health and by all appearance would live for a number of years, but alas how true, "In the midst of life we are in death," for on Monday she was suddenly stricken down and expired in a short time, even before her nearest relatives could be summoned. Her remains were taken to the home of her son Murdoch in Sturgeon from where the funeral took place on the 31st inst, conducted by the Rev. Hugh Miller to the Baptist church, who gave a very full and feeling sermon in honor of deceased, after which her mortal remains were laid to rest in the Methodist Cemetery of Sturgeon close by the Baptist church where she was mourned by a large body of relatives and friends. She leaves to mourn a loving husband, four sons and three daughters, names and residences as follows: Mrs. Edward Praught of Waltham, Mass., and Mrs. Hugh McCormack of Chatham, N.B.; also Harry of the same place; Mrs. Nathaniel McKinnon of Milltown Cross, P. E. I. John A. of Gaspereaux Murdoch of Sturgeon, and Daniel at home with his father, all to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother. She also left forty-seven grandchildren. All of the relatives have the sympathy of the entire community in their sudden and bereavement here on earth hoping to meet in the great beyond where there shall be no more parting and all sorrow shall be turned to joy.—Com.

"THE LOST PARADISE"

Every man, woman and child should not fail to witness the production of "The Lost Paradise," to be presented in the People's Theatre on Monday and Tuesday evening next. The play is full of strong situations, and will appeal to everyone. Don't fail to see the spectacular scene in the second act. See the men at work in the forge, see the working men go out on strike; if you see this scene, you will be convinced that this is as represented. The entire cast is now ready to deliver to the patrons of this production, a play worthy of its representation. 8192
