OVER NINE THOUSAND MEN ON THE STUMP

LONDON, Dec 29.—The editor of the Manchester Guardian refuses to accept an unnamed Canadian minister's repudiation of his alleged attack on Lansdowne and the Unionist policy, and says its article is a perfectly correct statement of the views held and expressed by the Canadian minister. The Morning Post says nothing could be more fatal to the harmony and unity between the nations of the empire than the growth of a habit of interference in each other's affairs. It refuses to accept the assurances of the Guardian that the interview is genuine, and quotes Laurier's former utterances in favor of preference. It says that if a Canadian minister had expressed any opinions at the present time on the merits of the policies of the two English parties, Laurier would, of course, insist on his immediate resignation.

Contestants in each party still show a reluctance to end the Christmas truce. Balfour is almost convalescent and able to be about again, but will exercise great care in not contracting a fresh cold, in view of his New Year's campaign which includes Hanley January 4, Ipswich, January 6, Aberdeen January 10, York January 12, Bradford January 15, Trowbridge January 18, Lansdowne winds up the campaign of the peers at Liverpool on January 5, Salisbury, January 7. Surveying the field as a whole, 9106 speakers will be at work continuously during the next twenty days, the total number of speeches being 384,000, and the words spoken 1,756,000,000. The seven million voters will receive at least 16,000,000 election addresses and 16,000,000 personal calls.

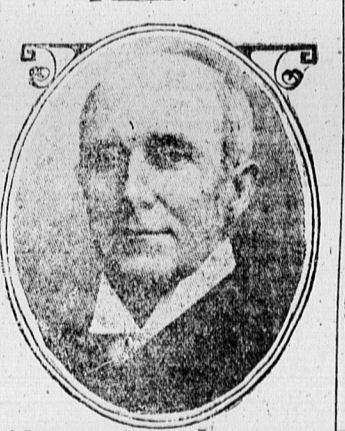

DENMAN THOMPSON AT KEITH'S, BOSTON.

The most important vaudeville engagement announced in years is that of veteran actor, Denman Thompson, who will appear at Keith's, January 3rd. For more than 20 years Mr. Thompson has not appeared in any thing except his famous play "The Old Homestead," which is still on the boards with another actor in his part. He has been anxious, however, for a long time to return to the stage in the short comedy "The Old Homestead" which he first attained fame, and from which "The Old Homestead" originated. It is called "Jesus Whiteomb" and the leading character of which still appears in "The Old Homestead." Mr. Thompson, nearly 50, is as vigorous and active as ever, but hardly equal to the requirements of a long play. He is confident, however, of his ability to play his old part as well as ever in the original sketch and the thousands who enjoyed his getting for years, will have a rare treat at Keith's.

With such a headline feature the bill must necessarily be a strong one and it will be bright with comedy. One of the strongest features in this line will be Will Murphy and Blanch Nichols in a new version of their famous sketch called "The Rehearsal," without question one of the greatest laughing vehicles vaudeville has ever had. On the same bill will be the great Lester, American's premier ventriloquist, who after his performance walks through the audience with a dummy singing a popular song. Other features will be Smith and Campbell in the new sketch called "Camping Out," Cowboy Williams in a novel exhibition, Trovato, the famous violinist, the Clever Trio, and a number of others.

As to the Lungs. The lungs are the life. When a man can breathe lustily no ordinary malady can kill him. I know an old chap who was given up three years ago by seven "able" physicians and one "able" surgeon. Their verdict was: "He can't last over three weeks." He is still in the ring, while three of the doctors have cashed in their checks. A man can live 40 days without food, a few days without water, and a few minutes without air. The lungs are the soul. A man can live without stomach, bowels, heart, liver, kidneys, spleen or brain—but he can't live without air! The air cleans the blood. Drink air by the million cubic feet and you will never die. Don't wait for the tank of oxygen to come along. Drink deeply of the common ether. Have it pure and plug yourself full every hour.

Very domestic is the life of the Bell and the children enter into every sort of interest of the parents they would not think of going to the stannum for summer garden without their children, and their own pleasure is often but the reflected ones of their boys and girls. The father goes to the droms with his little troupe of young folks about him and enjoy their days. The happiness of the people is centered in their homes, anything that will interfere with the good of the child is not tolerated by the self-respecting Bellmans.
