Elegance In Stationery

You are careful about your writing paper of course—nothing shows good breeding more clearly than correct correspondence, but your little notes to the butcher, the baker and the grocer do not need to be on such fine quality paper as your epistles to friends. You can save money there by using our cheaper grades of paper and envelopes. The best is here—the next best, both correct in every way.

The Scriptures Say

That we are to be moulded and fashioned, so the sand we use for our castings needs to be moulded and fashioned. That's what our moulders are doing every day, moulding and fashioning the sand like unto the patterns, it is therefore very important that the patterns be first-class in every respect, for as the patterns are so will the castings be. We have first-class pattern-makers employed and are able to meet the required need. Give us a trial when in need of Castings.

THE MORNING GUARDIAN

MONDAY JUNE 25, 1900.

The death of Lieut. Col. Tyrwhitt, M. P. for South Simcoe is announced. He came into public life as a member of the Commons in 1882 and has been regularly re-elected since. From the first he was held in high regard in the councils of the Conservative party to whom his death will be a great loss. As a militia officer he served in the Fenian troubles on the Niagara frontier in 1866, and during the Northwest Rebellion of 1885. In 1886 he commanded the Wimbledon team, and he was attached to the Canadian Contingent at the Queen's Jubilee in 1897. He was 56 years of age.

Mr. James Bain Jr. Librarian of the public library Toronto, recently read a paper before the American Library Association in course of which he gave some statistics of the public libraries of Canada. It is greatly to be regretted that our own Province was found to stand so low in the scale as was shown by the figures, which we subjoin:

PROVINCE	LIBRARIES	VOLUMES
Ontario	439	1,287,067
Quebec	40	670,025
Nova Scotia	9	90,020
New Brunswick	6	50,530
Manitoba	4	46,435
British Columbia	5	16,900
P. E. Island	2	7,500
The Territories	1	3,500
Total	506	2,172,577
Gov't Libraries	5	250,000
Grand total	511	2,422,577

Each of the Canadian Contingents has received a full meed of praise for their services in South Africa. How Lord Roberts praised the First Contingent and the Mounted Rifles we all know, and now General Buller has issued a special order eulogising Strathcona's Horse. And there was the famous "record march" of the Canadian Artillery for the relief of Mafeking. Surely all Canadians must be proud of what our boys have accomplished in South Africa.

At length they are beginning to think about the prorogation of Parliament at Ottawa. The session is now expected to close within a week or two.

We are not trying to convince you but we want you to call and convince yourself that the McCormack Binders, Mowers and Rakes, are away ahead of any other Machine ever offered the people of P. E. I. For convenience and labor saving devices you can always depend on the Yankees being ahead. We invite comparison and if you buy without seeing the McCormack you mke a mistake. THE FREAKS OF LIGHTNING

Loss of Life Was Very Heavy in the United States Last Year.

The facts collected by the Weather Bureau show that the loss of life by lightning in the United States last year was greater than in any year since statistics began to be collected. Five hundred and sixty-two persons were killed instantly or suffered injuries from which death soon resulted, and 820 persons were injured, many of them suffering from physical shock, others from painful burns and others from temporary paralysis of some part of the body. The most common form of injury resulting from lightning seems to be the paralysis of arms or legs. In Professor Henry's report on the casualties of the year he says there were some remarkable escapes from death. In some cases the clothing of the person struck was set on fire and the body was seared or burned; however, complete recovery followed.

It is not easy to explain how these persons escaped death, and there is still much uncertainty as to the maximum voltage that can be applied to the human body without fatal result. In some cases of death the body of the person struck showed no external marks of the discharge and death seems to have resulted from complete collapse of the cellular tissues. In many cases, however, the cause of death was made apparent by the discoloration and burning of various parts of the body. One singular case was that of two brothers who were killed while driving together in a dog-cart.

They were found lying side by side on the road, just as they had fallen out of the back of the vehicle. The elder brother had no external sign of injury. The skin of the younger brother was burned in a number of small circular holes over the chest and abdomen and the back was burned from the neck to the hips. The metallic collar stud was fused and the skin beneath it was deeply burned. The waistcoat and shirt were charred, but the coat was uninjured. No signs of disturbance of the ground could be seen.

It is usually supposed that the damage is done by a single bolt, but it is often difficult to explain the casualties on this theory. This in one case last year a span of horses attached to a wagon and a man in the rear of the wagon were killed, while the driver, who was sitting between the horses and the man, was not seriously hurt. This case and others of a similar

Weak, Sickly Children

Are Restored to Health and Vigour by Using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Many children are pale, weak, and bloodless from their birth. Many others have their blood and nerves exhausted, and their systems broken down by the ravages of disease, or as the result of over-study at school. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the ideal treatment for children. It supplies the very elements which are lacking in the pale, weak, and nervous. It restores the colour and richness to the blood, invigorates the nerves, and builds up the system. As a restorative after the exhausting and debilitating effects of measles, scarlet fever, and such ailments, it is of incalculable worth. Mrs. Stephen Dempsey, Albury, P. E. county, Ont., writes:—"My little granddaughter, nine years old, was very pale and weak, and had no appetite. She had a tired, worn-out appearance, and was delicate and sickly. I got some of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for her, and it has helped her very much. She is gaining considerably in weight and looks real healthy."

JOHN NEWSON,

nature seems to confirm the belief that not one but a number of discharges may reach the earth within a comparatively small radius inside which there may be small areas of safety. Photographs of the so-called ribbon flashes show that at time the discharge is from thirty to forty feet wide at the surface of the earth. There appear to be narrow lanes within these broad paths that are free from violent disturbances. A person standing in one of these lanes might escape serious injury while others nearby might be killed. The greatest number of fatalities, or forty per cent, occurred in the open; the next greatest number, thirty-four per cent, occurred in houses; eleven per cent, occurred under trees, and the least of all, nine per cent, in barns.

A dozen persons, mostly women, were killed either while taking clothes from wire lines or while near the lines during a thunderstorm. It is well known that in the cities many wire clothes-lines are extended between the dwellings and trees or the back fence. Professor Henry says that this is a source of danger and that wires should never connect a house with a neighboring tree. If wire is used at all, it should not be stretched within fifty feet of a dwelling-house.

Here are some precautions that are recommended during thunderstorms. Persons in a house should avoid chimneys and open windows. The safest place is probably the middle of the room. In the open, persons should never seek the shelter of trees. Wire fences and live stock should be avoided. If on horseback, it is wise to dismount and wait until the storm passes away. In one case last year five persons were killed by a single stroke of lightning. There was also one case of four deaths from a single stroke, two cases of three deaths and several cases of two deaths.

The greatest number of fatalities occurred in Pennsylvania, where there were fifty six deaths; and there were forty-one in Illinois. In both these States there was an exceptionally large number of fatalities in the month of May. In the whole country however, the largest number of casualties occurred in June July and August. December was the only month without a casualty, though two persons were killed in October, four in November, three in January and one in February. The statistics of 1898 and 1899 show that the number of fatalities by lightning in any region is by no means in proportion to the number of thunderstorm days. In Pennsylvania, for example, where the increase in deaths in 1899 over 1898 was about 140 per cent, there were fewer thunderstorm days in 1899 than in 1898.
