MAY BE GENERAL SUSPENSION APRIL 1.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 24.—Whether there will be a general suspension of coal mining on April 1, when the present wage agreement expires, depends upon the success of the joint conference of operators and miners which went into session behind closed doors at the Hotel Claypool this afternoon. The miners are represented in the conference by the special committee appointed by the United Mine Workers. Nearly all of the mine owners of Indiana, Illinois, and Ohio, are represented, together with some of the independent owners of the western Pennsylvania and West Virginia fields. The demands to be presented by the miners concerning wages and working conditions for the coming year were agreed upon by the convention of the miners' organization which has been in session here the past two weeks. Some of the demands are regarded as radical, and there is little possibility of an agreement being reached unless the demands are substantially modified. Some of the prominent Pennsylvania and Ohio operators have declined to join in the conference, and this makes it possible that the joint conference may adjourn without doing anything, and that negotiations may then be carried on for a later meeting of operators and miners for that purpose. There is a firm belief on the part of many persons well acquainted with the situation that the operators who are now holding aloof finally will be brought into the joint conference, and that if the wage scale is negotiated it will cover the five States of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

RARE STAMPS AT AUCTION.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The sale of one of the finest stamp collections dispersed in a long time in this city attracted a large gathering of dealers and collectors to a Broadway auction room today. Among the rare varieties included in the sale were a St. Louis postmaster's stamp, of 5-cent denomination, 1845, valued at $150, and an unused, specially-printed 12-cent blackish purple government issue of 1880, valued at $100. Among other rarities were a number of early issues of revenue stamps.

Death has once more visited the home of James and Mrs. Kelly, city, and for the second time removed from the family a little child. This time James G., aged three years and nine months, has been called away. A bright little child just beginning to find his place in the family circle and winning his way into the hearts of his people has departed and the loss of the little one—the second within three weeks—has a severe blow to the bereaved parents who will have the sympathy of the community. The funeral took place yesterday.

J. J. and Mrs. Davies entertained a number of their guests of years gone by and some other friends at the Hotel Davies Thursday evening. The affair was exceptionally enjoyable. Those who sat down at the table with Mr. Davies, presiding, and Charles Lyons, acting as toastmaster, were as follows:—Otto Crabbe, W. S. Stewart, K. C. M.L.A., C.H.B. Longworth, R. B. Rossborough, Horace Hazzard, ex-M.P.; J. A. Mathieson, Fishery Inspector, Captain T. G. Taylor, Walter Mathieson, Dr. Conroy, D. O'M. Reddin and F. J. Nash. The table was a thing of beauty and art, with its snowy napery, its glistening cutlery, cut glass, and matchless china and floral decorations. It may be mentioned that the china used on this occasion was hand-painted, being the work of the late Miss Chisholm. At the conclusion at the first part of the dinner, toastmaster Lyons proposed in felicitous terms, the health of the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Davies.

This week a report appeared in a Halifax paper, and was copied in the Province press that fifteen members of the Madame Sherry Company had been left stranded in Halifax. The report turns out to be incorrect, and is emphatically denied by Mr. Lorraine, the business representative, and other officials and members of the company. They declare that all the people who left Sunday night held contracts to be returned then, and that the people remained over until the other people returned over until Wednesday of their own accord, to leave on the P. A. R. boat. Full salaries were paid by the manager, and the different people all have money, and do not require shows or on the part of the company. The usual two weeks notice had been posted up and every one in the company knew that the show closed in Halifax. The story at first published in the Chronicle arose out of the fact that Arthur Lambert, who was violinist with the Madame Sherry Company, accompanied by a young woman called at the Chronicle Office and told a hard luck story of how fifteen members of the company were left stranded in Halifax as a result of the company closing their engagement there on Saturday. Their story was published in good faith, but it now turns out that there is another side to it.

LOVE'S COMPARISON.

Betwixt the blue of summer skies And that within my lady's eyes, Indeed a glorious difference lies.

The blue that tints the dome of June Pales with the coming of the moon, Grows grey with winter, oh, so soon.

It stirs the poet's fancy strong, It tempts the dreamer's steps along,

Then dies away like some sweet song.

But in my lady's eyes the blue Is lasting as her love is true; No winter hides it from my view.

It turns the darkest night to day, The hardest task to sweetest play, The roughest road to flowery way.

It braves my heart through storm or sun To see the nobler deeds are done, And sets a blessing on each one.

It never can to me grow old; 'Tis brighter with each hour that's told, And far more precious, too, than gold.

But, ah, if death with cold affright Should veil my lady's eyes from sight, Methinks I bid the world "Good night!"

—J. Donald.

OBITUARY.

At Fredericton, Lot 22, on January 19th, 1912, Margaret Nisbett Stevenson, beloved wife of James Hill, passed to her eternal reward after a lingering illness borne with Christian fortitude and resigning to her Heavenly Father's will leaving a sorrowing husband, one son, Robt. I. C., and one daughter Euphemia Jane, and a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn the loss of one who was beloved and respected by all who knew her. Deceased, who was a daughter of the late William Stevenson, Sr., was in her seventy-second year. Early in life she became a Christian and until the end remained an earnest and consistent member of the New Glasgow Christian Church. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. H. B. Bell. The remains, which were followed by a large number of people, were laid to rest in the Fredericton Cemetery there to await the resurrection morn.

Dear mother from this earth below We thy departure mourn But by thy life while here we know That thou wert heavenward borne.

With patience were thy sufferings borne For meekness did thy life adorn But grief and suffering all are past And God has called thee home at last.

The God of earth and heaven and sky Pray grant us in the bye and bye Mother and loved ones there to meet And walk with them the golden street.
