

I Have Seen 2,000 Motion Pictures!

...and for the very first time in my life I am recommending and urging you to see the 2,001st picture that held me practically spell-bound.

When my Boss personally endorsed "One Foot in Heaven" last week as a great family picture I knew there must be something special about the film. Last night I sat with hundreds of movie fans watching this panorama of the every day trials and tribulations of a small town minister and his family unfold across the screen. Believe me, it was one of the most delightful human dramas ever produced by Hollywood.

Yes, friends, you must meet the Spence family! First, there is Father. There's one in every family but not another like him. What a man is Father! He's always got one foot in heaven—and the other one in hot water! Then, there is Mother—the most adorable wife a man ever had. And Brother! Girls, girls—that is all he ever talked about. Sister, too. She didn't chase the fellows. . . Father did! He was the town's champion Chaperon!

You just can't imagine how much you'll enjoy "One Foot in Heaven". We'll be seeing you tonight.

Sincerely,
G. A. WALTERS,
Manager, Prince Edward Theatre.

MARITIME BUSINESS

According to the Bank of Montreal wholesale and retail trade in the Maritime provinces showing improvement over a year ago. Replacements in certain lines are difficult to obtain. Collections are good. Lumber continues in strong demand and shipments have been made recently to the United Kingdom. Production of fish is a reduced scale owing to a shortage of labour. Demand for dried fish remains strong. Vessels on the frozen bait trade have landed large catches, but export shipments are held up owing to lack of shipping space; old stocks are selling at a low price. There is a good demand for fresh fish and prices are firm; recent landings have been heavy. Lobster catches are satisfactory. Paper mills, textile and clothing plants continue very active. The steel industry is maintaining production at maximum level. Production in Nova Scotia shows a slight increase over last year.

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH

"When God made man He made him with two feet. He made him to stand on his two feet, to walk on his two feet, and with head erect, he was made, not to crawl and apologize, but to glorify his Creator and enjoy him forever." So declared the Rev. Neil Herman, Sunday night, as he preached on the subject—'Two Feet in Heaven.' Proceeding, the preacher said: "When God Almighty made this world He made it for man. He made a perfect earth for a perfect man."

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

In his morning sermon the Rev. I. Judson Levy considered 'The growth of the Kingdom' as described in Mark 4:26-29. Saint Mark brings us parables of Jesus setting forth in allusion to the simple things of every day definite teaching regarding the Kingdom. Saint Mark here gives us this parable of the slow growth and the certainty of harvest. So slowly, so tediously is the Kingdom developed in one life so slowly in the world. Jesus must have felt the slowness of human response, the slower seeds, he watches other interests, but he sees seeds on growing. Man must put forth his whole effort if results material or spiritual are expected. God brings the Kingdom through human effort. Growth of plant or fruit depends on forces and work of God. Some things there are of which man can do, his to plant, some things man cannot do, they are in the hands of God. The growth is slow, the child in the seed in the soil, the child in the world, the truth in the human heart. We see it day by day, God
