The many friends of Mr. Alexander Weatherbie, Pownal, are sorry to learn of his recent illness.

While I was visiting a cousin of mine recently, who is a farmer, and whom I knew to be very fond of birds, I noticed an old tin can nailed under the eave of his stable, in which a pair of eave-swallows were nesting. The can was about half covered with mud, the open end being closed except the usual bottle-necked slope opening. When my friend noticed me looking at the nest he said, "Yes, four years ago, while I was white-washing my building I accidentally knocked down one of my eave swallow nests. I was very sorry for what I had done, particularly because the nest at the time held a brood of newly hatched birds. So I found an empty can about the right size, and nailed it in place just where the nest had been. I carried the little fellows up and put them carefully in the tin nest. The old birds at once began feeding them. Then they proceeded to fix up the old tin can the way they wanted it. The brood was successfully raised, and each season since the old pair have nested in the can." My cousin is a busy man, with little time for pleasure, but I know he gets a lot of pleasure out of the companionship of his birds.

When the hour arrived for the opening of the presents, Miss Hazel was seated in an arm chair, which was nicely decorated with white. The Wedding March was played by Mrs. Geo. L. Jenkins and Misses Helen and Lavinia Smith carried in the numerous baskets of gifts. Names of donors and comical verses (which added much merriment) were read by Miss Christine Bruce. No Livestock Moving To U.S.

For the first time in many months a movement of store cattle to Great Britain appears, the total for the

IN MEMORIAM

MISS REGINA MALONE

The death of Regina Malone, dearly beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Malone, Greeny Bay, which occurred October 13th has elicited to the bereaved family the heartfelt sympathy of the relatives and numerous friends of the community. Death is sad enough at any time but when we are called upon to part with one in the full bloom of girlhood then it is hard to bear.

Deceased, who was only sixteen years of age, had been suffering from a lingering disease and notwithstanding all that medical skill and motherly care could do God's infinite wisdom choose her for His own. Therefore on the above mentioned date her gentle spirit passed to Him who gave it. It was most consoling to those who were around her death-bed to see her bear her sufferings with such true Christian patience and resignation to the Divine Will.

During her sickness she was frequently visited and comforted by her beloved pastor Rev. Father, Herrell who fortified her by the last rites of the Holy Catholic Church. The funeral which was largely attended, took place on Tuesday morning October 14th to St. Ann's Church, Lot 65, where a Mass of Requiem was sung by Rev. Father Herrell after which the body was laid to rest in its last resting place to await the glorious resurrection.

Besides the sorrowing parents there are left to cherish the memory of a loving sister five brothers and sisters all of whom are at home.

The pall bearers were: Emmett MacCloskey, Amos Costello, James Cudmore, Thomas McQuaid, Willie Egan and Joseph McQuaid. (May her soul rest in peace)

MR. ROBERT SIMMONS

A deep shadow of sorrow was cast over Crapaud, and vicinity, on the morning of Oct. 9th, when it was learned that Robert Simmons, a highly respected citizen of that community, had passed away at the age of 74 years. Feeling in his usual health he started to go to the store near by, but ere he had gone very far, death from heart failure overtook him. He was a life long member of the United Church, and will ever be missed as a faithful worker, and attendant. A man of sterling integrity, honest, and upright in all things, a great loss not only to the family but to the whole community, as he proved himself a general favorite with old and young. The great concourse of people who attended the funeral on Oct. 11th testified to the high esteem in which he was held. During the short service at the house his favorite hymn, "When the Roll is Called up Yonder I'll be There," was sung by the choir. The remains were then conveyed to the United Church, where he had worshipped so faithfully. Rev. Mr. Lund conducted the service and spoke very tenderly and sympathetically from the words "Let me die the death of the Righteous." Assisting the pastor, were the Rev. Mr. Somers of Kensington, and Rev. Mr. Erinton of Tryon. The hymns sung by the choir were all favorites of the deceased. "Shall we gather at the river," "In the sweet bye and bye," and "Forever with the Lord." Interment took place at Westmorland Cemetery.

There are left to mourn their irreparable loss, a grief stricken widow also four sons and three daughters, Mrs. Fred Oakes, Mrs. Park Francis, Tryon, and Mrs. Urville Large, Albany, George and Alfred in Lloydminster, Sask., and John and Arthur, Crapaud; also two brothers and two sisters, Mrs. Fred Simmons and Mrs. Eliza Ives, Wilmet, and Joseph and Edward, Lot 16. The pall bearers were Messrs. Joe and Robert McDonald, Thomas Cobb, William Arnett, Geo. Wood, and Warren Newsome. The following beautiful flowers are silent tributes of the love and esteem in which the deceased was held: Pillow, the family; Wreaths, United Church Sunday School, True Bro. Lodge, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Francis; Sprays, Mr. and Mrs. Seaman, Howard, Nettie and Margaret Calbeck and Mrs. Thomas Simmons.

Bending can't distort your blade... if it's a PROBAK

Probak blades are for Probak razor and other razors of this type. Special Introductory Offer PROBAK RAZOR and 8 BLADES for $1. To introduce the new Probak razor we offer a matched shaving set consisting of one Probak razor and 8 Probak blades for $1. If your dealer cannot supply you, order direct.

The Probak shock-absorbing blade is built to prevent edge-distortion—to keep its shaving edges as straight, true and keen in the razor as in the package. It does this by means of two patented features—butterfly channeling and duo-tempered steel—which absorb all bending shock and strain.

The scientifically-shaped perforations in the Probak blade are carefully designed to disperse the bending pressure—to provide channels for its escape. Special steel in the middle of the blade absorbs what little strain is left. No distortion ever reaches the highly tempered shaving edges.

Buy a package of guaranteed Probaks today. Use two in your double-edge razor (old or new model). Shave with a butterfly touch. Probak glides over your face—wipes off every wiry hair. If you don't get quicker, cooler, smoother shaves—return the package and your dealer will refund every cent—$1 for 10, 50c for 5.
