AMONG THE HORSES

The free-for-all on the closing day of the Bangor Fair was won by Wendall Wood in 2.14½, after four gruelling heats.

* * *

At Cleveland on the closing day of the big meeting, Ben White drove Lee Axworthy an exhibition mile, but only equalled his record of 2.00¼.

* * *

At Cleveland the other day, in the first heat of the 2.16 trot, Charlie Valentine went the route in 2.05¾, the fastest mile recorded by any four-year-old this season.

* * *

The champion stallion race, the feature event of the big meeting at Cleveland last Thursday, was won by Volga, the fast little mare of the Pastime stable, in 2.07¾, and she did not have to exert herself to do it. Expressive Lou raced second and Bingen Silk third.

* * *

The closing day of the Grand Circuit meeting at Cleveland furnished a surprise in the winning of the 2.06 trot by Esperanaza, a rank outsider. Director Todd, which won second money, made the best time of the race, when he won the second heat in 2.07¾. In the other events the favorites had fairly easy going. "Pop" Geers rode his first winning race of the meeting when, with Napoleon Direct, he took the free-for-all pacing feature. The best time was 2.00½. Single G. raced second and Hal Boy third.

* * *

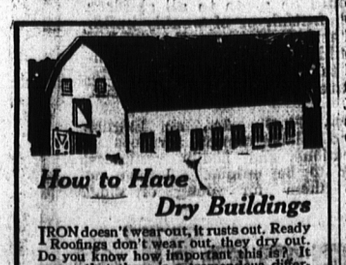
Mabel Trask and St. Francisco had a battle royal in the 2.08 trot at Cleveland on Thursday of last week. With the wind blowing a gale the mare, piloted by Cox, and the stallion driven by Geers, raced neck and neck through the entire course in all three heats, the Trask mare getting the first two heats and the race, and the Geers horse nosing out the winner in the third heat. It was a great race and stirred the big crowd to wild enthusiasm. The best time was 2.04¼, made in the second heat.

Pale, Weak, Girls

Grow Into Weak Despondent Women—How to Overcome the Trouble.

Healthy Girlhood is the only path to healthy womanhood. The passing from girlhood to womanhood lays a new tax upon the blood. It is the overtaxing of the blood that makes growing girls suffer from headaches and backaches, from paleness and weakness and weariness, from languor, despondency and constant ill health. Unhealthy girlhood is bound to lead to unhealthy womanhood and a life of misery. Nothing but the blood building qualities of Dr. Williams Pink Pills can save a girl when she undertakes the trials and tasks of womanhood. That is the time when nature makes new demands upon the blood supply. Dr. Williams Pink Pills actually make new, rich blood to meet these new demands. In this simple, scientific way Dr. Williams Pink Pills give growing girls new health, and makes their dawning womanhood bright and attractive. Miss A. Sternberg, Haileybury Road, New Liskeard, Ont., says: "I have much reason to be grateful to Dr. Williams Pink Pills as they restored me to health, if, indeed, they did not save my life. In 1914 I began to feel run down, and the doctor who was called in said that mine was a bad case of anaemia. I lost flesh, always felt tired and I got so nervous that I could scarcely hold a cup to take a take a drink. My heart would flutter alarmingly. The doctor did not seem to be able to help me at all and my family and friends all thought that I was in a decline and could not recover. I was in bed for some weeks when an aunt came to see me and urged that I try Dr. Williams Pink Pills. My father got a supply, and by the time I had taken three boxes there was a noticeable improvement, and from that on I steadily progressed toward recovery. I continued using the pills for some time longer, and they restored me to my old time health and strength. I shall never cease to praise this medicine, and to urge all weak run down girls to give it a fair trial, as I have proved in my own case their great merit."

You can get these pills from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.



How to Have Dry Buildings

IRON doesn't wear out, it rusts out. Ready Roofings don't wear out, they dry out. Do you know how important this is? It means that there is a tremendous difference between ready roofings, even though all have felt and a waterproofing compound in them. It's the quality of that compound, plus the skill used in saturating the felt, that counts. It is the skill used in the saturation, plus the chemical composition of the saturating compound that makes Panamoid a wonderful roofing.

PANAMOID ROOFING

Panamoid is made of the best felt that can be obtained. It is tough, fibrous, strong. This felt is uniformly saturated with a non-volatile compound that stays there. Being thick, the felt holds this saturation indefinitely. If you want dry roofs at low cost, come in and get some Panamoid Roofing. Very easily laid.

Billy the Kid won from Victor in a match race at St. John last week. The race went four heats. After the first heat there was nothing to it but Victor. The best time was 1.11, made in the second heat.

In his attempt to break the world's record to wagon with an amteur driver at Cleveland the other day, Directum I., driven by H. K. Devereaux, fell short of William's mark of 1.59½, negotiating the mile in 2.02½.

* * *

At the Grand Circuit meet in Cleveland last week, Lee Axworthy trotted an exhibition mile in 2.00¼, breaking the world's record for stallions, by three-quarters of a second. The record, 2.01, was made by The Harvester.

* * *

Hal Chafin, holder of the world's pacing record for three half-mile heats, died at the Storman Farm at Milwaukee on Wednesday of old age. The record of 1.02¼, 1.02¼, 1.02½ was made at the State Fair track in Milwaukee.

* * *

Sister Ella was declared winner of the 2.24 trot at Muncie, Ind., after five heats, without having won a heat and placed over three heat winners, none of which were distanced, drawn or ruled out. The point system governed the race.

* * *

The profits of the three days' meeting at Goshen, N. Y., last week amounted to more than $10,000. The amount paid in purses during the three days was $20,000. The average value of the purses was larger than at some of the Grand Circuit meetings.

* * *

Uhlan, 1.58; tipped the scale beam at 1,160 pounds, when he trotted under saddle at Goshen the other day. As he is only about 15.2 hands high this weight shows the champion trotter to be a remarkably substantial horse. He is a gelding, yet few trotting stallions of his inches weigh as much.

* * *

Frank Power is to start the races at Halifax this year as usual. The judges will be independent of the starter. So far as we know they have not yet been decided upon, but it is understood that the position of presiding judge has been offered to Mr. Foster, one of the officials of the city.

* * *

Emma Magonan, a fleet young trotter from Brook Farm established a new record for two-year-olds at the Goshen meeting the other day. Starting for the first time in public, she won her race in 2.13½ and 2.15¼, each heat being faster than any other two-year-old ever trotted in a race on a half-mile track.

* * *

Al Mack's performance at Goshen indicated a difference of about five seconds between the old-fashioned high-wheel sulky and the modern pneumatic. On Tuesday of last week, in a large field of horses he ripped off a mile in 2.08¾ with a break in it, and on Thursday he pulled the high wheel sulky in 2.14, with the track all to himself. Harry J. S. trotted in about 2.10 in a losing race last year, and two days later made a record of 2.15 to the high wheels.

* * *

The growing prominence of the family of Axworthy, 2.15½, was in evidence at Goshen, where five of the eleven starters in the race for two-year-old trotters were by him or his sons, Guy Axworthy, Morgan Axworthy, Dillon Axworthy and General Watts. Descendants of Bingen, 2.06¼, were equally prominent in this race, and four of them, including the winner, were by J. Malcolm Forbes, 2.08, son of Bingen and Santos, the dam of Peter the Great, 2.07¼.

* * *

Lee Axworthy's new stallion record of 2.00¼ at Cleveland, was made under favorable conditions as to weather and track, but the horse had been slightly ill on Sunday, and on Monday was so lacking in spirit that his engagement to go against the record was cancelled. Few horsemen expected him to accomplish the task set for him, though he appeared to be in fine condition when Ben White brought him out for the effort. Taking the word at the first score, and prompted by a runner driven by Thomas W. Murphy, he trotted the first quarter, around th turn, in a 30½ gait, and the half in 1.01¼. Near the half-mile post another runner hooked in, and with one on either side the game little trotter raced with them to the finish, moving the last half in 59 a 1.58 gait and beating the record of The Harvester by three-quarters of a second. That he will beat 2.00 before the end of the season seems to be the concensus of opinion among circuit followers. He may try on Friday, and he will certainly make the effort at Lexington on Oct. 2, the opening day of the meeting.

L. R. Ackers' trotter Bud Moore won third money in $1,000, 2.24 stake at Three Rivers, P.Q. last week.

GREAT RECORD, SURELY.

Dan Patch, the pacing stallion, owned by H.M. Savage of Minneapolis, who died of athletic heart at the owner's farm at Savage, Minn., recently, had a remarkable record. In 1906 he paced a mile over the Hamline track in 1.65, the world's sulky record. Dan Patch was bought by Savage for $60,000. He was withdrawn from the track several years ago.

Dan Patch was 20 years old, and for the last four years had been kept in retirement for breeding purposes only.

He was foaled April 29, 1896, on an Indian farm. As a 3-year-old he began to show his speed to his trainer, and the next year paced his maiden race over the half-mile track at Boswell, Ind. In all his long career on the turf Dan Patch never lost a race, and he raced against all the high class pacers of his day.

Dan Patch held many records, the more sensational performances being as follows One mile in 1.55, one mile in 1.55¼, two miles in 1.56¼, three miles in 1.56, two miles in 1.56@3t$5 miles in 1.56, 14 miles averaging 1.56¼, 30 miles averaging 1.57½, 45 miles averaginig 1.58, 7 miles averaginig 1.59¼, 120 miles, averaing 2.02½, 132 miles averaging 2.04¾. Lowered world's record 14 times; mile record, 1906, 1.55; mile wagon record, 1.57¼; two mile record 4.17; mile to high weel sulky, 2.04¾; half mile record .56; half mile to wagon, .58½; half mile on half mile track .58¼; half mile track record, 2.01.

Dan Patch never went behind a wind shield and was never hitched double. His record mile of 1.55 was made on September 8th, 1906, over the Hamline (Mo.) track. A correspondent thus describes the race:

"Saturday will go down in history as a red-letter day in the annals of racing, for Dan Patch, the peerless, the nonpareil of all harness horses, and the most marvellous one which ever lived, smashed his own world's record of 1.55¾, made last fall at Lexington, Ky., by pacing today in 1.55. The Hamline track was at its best, as was also the weather, but still Hamline is not Readville, Lexington, or Memphis.

"However, the son of Old Joe had been pacing so well and improving so fast that an air of expectancy pervaded the immense crowd, which filled the spacious grand stand and thronged about the track, seeking in vain a p\ce of vantage from which the assault upon the record could be viewed. Each time the champion appeared upon the course cheer upon cheer greeted him.

"In his warming up miles the great pacer moved with precision. It was late in the afternoon when he appeared for the word. He was accompanied by two pace-makers, the one in front driven by Charlie Lean and one by his side, while the third pace maker was stationed at half to carry him home.

"Before the mile, Mr. Savage had given positive instructions to drive Dan the first half near his limit, as he was confident the brown horse could come home as fast as he went away, no matter how fast the clip. In accordance with this plan, when the word was given by Dr. F. E. Stone, the champion stepped off at a terrific rate. Lean kept the front pace-maker out of his way, and Dan was over to the quarter in 28½ seconds, on to the half he flew, reaching it in 57 seconds, a 1.54 clip. Here the third pace-maker joined him and he began his journey on the third quarter, which is a little upgrade and where the wind retarded him the most.

"As a consequence, this quarter was paced in somewhat slower time, 29 seconds. As he swept past the three-quarters Dan began to gather himself for the final effort. And right well did he respond, finishing strong and true, and the loud applause of the assembled multitude.

"When the time was announced, the crowd simply went wild. It was with difficulty that Dan could be taken off the track. His driver was carried to the judges' stand on the shoulders of several enthusiastic admirers. The crowd continued to cheer as Mr. Savage was introduced. It was an occasion which will live long in the minds of those who were fortunaet enough to witness it."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

THE ARREST OF PAUL.

September 3
Acts 21:27-40.

After leaving Miletus, where he had met the elders of the Church at Ephesus, Paul and his companions journeyed as rapidly as they could to Tyre, the chief ship-owning city of the ancient world. It is said to have almost monopolized the shipping business. From Tyre they sailed south to Ptolemais, now called Acre, and from there travelled by land to Caesarea, the place from which Paul had first started his missionary journeys.

Both at Tyre and at Caesarea Paul received new prophetic warnings that he would be persecuted in Jerusalem, but he still felt it his duty to press on. One reason for this, perhaps, was that he and his companions were taking to Jerusalem a considerable sum of money which he had collected from the churches in Greece for the relief of the poor Christians in Jerusalem. (Acts 24:17.)

We read that at Tyre the disciples said to Paul, through the Spirit, that he should not set foot in Jerusalem. That seems to have been a command rather than a warning, and it may be that Paul allowed his strong desire to go there to deceive him as to what the will of the Spirit for him was, but he does not seem to have entertained any doubt that he was in the path of duty. He believed that he was getting himself into trouble by going on, but that it was his duty to go on and face the trouble. "I am ready," he said, "not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus."

Whether Paul made a mistake in going to Jerusalem or not, he surely made a mistake when he got there. He allowed himself to be persuaded by the other apostles to give an exhibition of his loyalty to Judaism. There was nothing inconsistent with tthis act, for St. Paul was himself a Jew of the Jews at heart, and only dissented from Judaism where it antagoniezd Christianity. In chapter 18:18 we read that Paul had "shorn his head in Cenchraea, for he had a vow." It is evident therefore that he considered the taking of vows quite proper, and he could therefore quite properly assist and encourage others in carrying out a vow.

And the motive which was urged upon Paul was a good one. It was to avoid a dispute which might have brought much bad feeling into the church. Jesus had never broken loose from Judaism altogether, and had not commanded his disciples to do so, and it was many years before they were able to understand the force of His teaching that new wine must be put into new bottles. (Matt. 9;16, 17.) They only discovered by degrees that the new religion could not be simply grafted onto the old religion; it must create for itself new forms of worship, new rules of action, and new methods of service.

But while the course recommended to Paul and adopted by him, was not directly inconsistent with his own beliefs, and while the motive for adopting that course was good, the action itself was an effort to dodge a very important question which needed to be faced and settled; even though that could not be done without stirring up a very sharp dispute in the Church. It is always better to face questions in which principals are involved frankly, and Paul always does so in his letters to the Churches, and always did so in his own conduct, except in this instance when he allowed his judgment to be overruled by the men who had known Christ longer than he had.

Yet he had not hesitated to charge Peter, the formost of the apostles, inconsistency on this same subject. (See Gal. 2:11-18.)

But God overruled Paul's mistake for good. Nowhere in Paul's speeches or writings is there one word of regret or complaint or self-approach over the consequences of this action, but on the contrary, he wrote to the Philippians that the thing which had 'fallen out rather unto the progress of the Gospel." Instead of going to Rome as he had hoped to go, as a poor itinerant missionary, he went there as a prisoner under the protection of the emperor, but a prisoner against whom there was no serious charge, and who had won the respect and confidence of the centurion who had charge of him, so that he was allowed to live by himself in a hire house with a soldier to guard him and to communicate freely with all who would come to him. The result was that he was able to preach the Gospel even to members of the emperor's bodyguard, and that there were some Christians even in the palace. (See Phil. 1:12-14; 4:22.)

If YOUR family were living in Belgium NOW

You'd Look on the Belgian Relief Fund As the Finest Thing in the World.

King Albert's war-worn soldiers, holding the line at the British left, certainly look on it in that light. It gives them courage for the fight, and hope for the future, for it is saving the lives of their loved ones.

The work which the Belgian Relief Commission is doing for humanity has never been equalled. For nearly two years now, from two to three million destitute Belgians have been fed, and horrible wholesale starvation averted. While the Relief Fund has only been sufficient to provide the barest necessities, these people, who have absolutely nothing else, have been saved by the three slices of bread and the pint of soup dealt out to each one daily.

Can it be kept up, on a steadily growing scale, till Belgium is free again?

That depends largely on Canada, and partly on YOU.

The demands on the Fund are steadily growing, as more and more Belgian families reach the end of their resources. More money must be given to keep up even the slender rations now possible. But the end of the war does not seem so far off now, and if we can keep up and even increase our givings for a little while longer, we shall be able to save the heroic Belgian people for a new and regenerated Belgium.

Will you do your part? Will you undertake to feed one—or several—Belgian families till the war is over, by contributing $2.50 per family per month?

Whatever you feel you can give, send your subscription weekly, monthly, or in one lump sum to Local or Provincial Committees or
