Business Man's Advice

Don't waste a circular on the person you know, when you can see him personally.

Get after the one you don't know and wish to cultivate: he is your prospect, your hope of development.

The only economical, safe and sure way to reach the unknown Customer and to get the known one back, is to use the newspaper.

Proved By The Years

Newspaper advertising, tested through many years and for every conceivable purpose, has been proved to do these things:

(1) Extend the store's radius of friendship;
(2) Put customers in a buying mood;
(3) Make fixed overhead yield bigger profits through quicker selling;
(4) Stimulate salespeople to better efforts;
(5) Make new policies to fit new conditions instantly effective.

Do not these five points cover most business needs?

CRISIS NEAR AT LAUSANNE OWING TO TURK DEMANDS

British Squadron is Being Rushed to Constantinople to Influence Turks Towards Peace.

(Special to The Guardian.)

LAUZANNE, Dec 28. —The Near East conference was faced with a serious crisis today as the snarp and apparently irreconsiliable conflict between British and Turks over the Mosul Oil Fields reached a dangerous stage.

LONDON, Dec 28.—Britain rushed a fleet to Constantinople today "to influence the Turks towards peace.

The Admiralty announced that Admiral Brock's squadron was steaming from Malta, the British naval base in the Mediterranean, full speed for Constantinople.

This action was taken while the Turks at the Lauzanne Conference were defying the British and demanding that the rich Mosul Oil Basin be surrendered.

LAUSANNE, Dec 28— Great uneasiness is spreading throughout Near East conference circles as the time approaches when there must be a final reckoning on all important questions, which have been passed by with only partial agreement or no agreement at all between the Turks and the Allied powers.

Lord Curzon's positive announcement today that Great Britain will not cede Mosul to Turkey and does not propose to discuss that question further was the forerunner of less positive statements from the other delegations in various questions, which indicates that the conference is reaching a climax and that preparations are under way for a final showing of strength.

The sub-commission are making little progress. Riza Nur Bey, was less positive today in the sub-commission on minorities, but the Christmas rest apparently did not improve the temper of the Turks materially, and the Allied delegations are clearly becoming less tractable in preparations for a final and complete statement of the maximum they will yield.

The indications are that this final round up will come early next week, and the contending parties are so far apart on capitulations, control of the Straits and the rights of minorities, that the outcome is uncertain. It is clear that further meetings of the commissions and sub-commissions will be of little use.

The Allied delegates returned this evening plainly discouraged after several hours discussion with the Turks on economic capitulations.

The Turks made it clear that they wanted the right to give preferential treatment to their own manufacturies in the matter of taxation and justified their attitude by saying that it was necessary to protect. Turkish industries. In other words foreigners would not only lose their preferential economic position which they are ready to lose in the interest of equity but must meet Turkish competition, which would be strengthened by exemption from certain taxes imposed on foreigners.

A complete deadlock exists on the customs tariff question. The Turks desire to postpone all action on this subject for two years, during which time they would undertake to negotiate separate commercial treaties with the various powers. The Allies are ready to accept this, but in return want Turkey to accept a minimum tariff scale, which would be arranged by negotiations at Lausanne and operate both during and after the two year period. The Turks have refused this compromise suggestion.

No Trace Found Of Missing Man At Indian River

Despite the continued efforts of search parties to find Mr. Jos. G. McLellan who disappeared from his home at Indian River on Friday night during the heavy snow storm, no trace of the missing man has been found, was the report received by phone by The Guardian last night.

It is now regarded as almost certain that the unfortunate man perished in the storm, probably in the icy waters of Richmond Bay, which lies a mile and a quarter from his home, and in which direction he may have gone to meet his brother returning from Summerside.

Sarah Bernhardt Again Improving

(Special to The Guardian.)

PARIS, Dec. 28. —The condition of Madame Sarah Bernhardt again took a turn for the better today. The actress had a good night's rest, sleep being disturbed to a less degree than any time since her collopse and this morning she showed marked improvement.

Turks To Exclude Warships From Smryna Harbor

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec 28— Dr. Adnan Bey, representative of the Nationalist government in Constantinople, today handed to the Allied Commissioners two notes from his government. The first of the communications stated that no warships or submarines exceeding 1,000 tons shall be permitted to remain in Smyrna harbor, that no second warship shall be admitted to the harbor until its predecessor has gone and that no men shall be allowed to land in Smyrna without permission of the Turks.

The second note provides that the Turkish authorities must previously be advised of the intention of any warship to visit any Turkish port; that full prospects as to the sea armament and purpose and length of the visit shall be admitted simultaneously and that none shall be admitted between sunset and sunrise. This note added that navigation of war ships in Turkish waters during foggy weather is "prejudicial."

Consul At N. Y. Gives Up Post On Threat

NEW YORK, Dec 28.— Daniel J. McGrath, acting consul here for the Irish Free State, who was threatened by anonymous letter-writers with death unless he gave up his post by December 26th, was at his desk today, but announced that he expected to be relieved of further duties within 24 hours. He declined to say who the new consul would be, asserting that was for the new incumbent himself to announce. He said, however, that the man had "been in this country and Canada for some time.

No Peace In Ireland Under Present Government

TORONTO, Dec. 28.—Peter MacSwiney, brother of the late Lord Mayor Terrence MacSwiney of Cork, Ireland, in an interview here today, declaed:

"There is absolutely no prospect of peace in Ireland under the present government, Ireland can have peace only by the people being allowed to vote on a plebiscite to determine their form of government. The people of Irl land never had an opportunity of voicing their opinion on the treaty with England regarding the Free State."

Further Mr. MacSwiney said: "It is only a waste of bullets to go on shooting Irishmen. Ireland will never give in until she is absolutely independent, as there must be no dividend Ireland." Emphasizing a statement that religious differences did not figure in the present conflict, Mr. MacSwiney said: "Cardinal Logue is in favor of the Free State government and he refused Miss MacSwiney the last sacrament when she was on a hunger strike." Mr. MacSwiney asserted that the Free State government was going from bad to worse and that every execution is a nail in their own coffin."

Presentation To Rev Maurice McDonald

Rosary Hall was the scene of a very pleasing event on Wednesday evening when the Little Flower League of Catholic Girls, presented their Spiritual Director, Rev. Maurice McDonald with a very suitable gift, accompanied by the following address which was read by Miss Mary McEachern, while the presentation was made by Miss Clare McCormack.

Reverend and Dear Father,

We, the girls of the "Little Flower Club" have assembled here this evening, at the close of the year to express to you, Reverend Father, our gratitude for the kindly inerest you have taken in our club during this year.

About two years ago when we first came to you, to speak of our plans for organization you did not turn us away, but like the kind and indulent pastor you are, you encouraged and advised us, and thus made possible the formation of this club, which though small now, will be in future years, we all hope a credit to Catholic society in Charlottetown.

You have given us wise women to guide us, and under their direction and vigilant care may we prove, in later years to be the noble Catholic women you expect us to be.

Accept then, Reverend Father our deep gratitude with which we beg you to accept this small gift as a slight token of our affection and esteem.

May the Blessed Babe of Bethlehem pour out upon you, Reverend Father His choicest blessing and may 1923 be for you a year of happiness and consolation.

Father Maurice replied in a very happy speech, after which the following program was admirably rendered:

Piano duet— Vivian McGuigan and Evelyn Mahar.
Vocal solo—Mary Maddigan.
Sailor's Hornpipe— Claire McCormack.
Recitation—Olive Doucette and Dorothy Connors.
Vocal duett—Olive Johnson and Audrey Birch.
Recitation—Alice Garrett and Elizabeth Connors.
Piano solo—Mary Hogan.
Vocal scto—Katherine Campbell.
Recitation—Mary Sexton.
Presentation address— Mary McEachern.
Chorus— "Little Flower League of Catholic Girls."
Accompanists— Rose Lonergan, Mary Claire Hughes, Mary Maddigan.

The Rev Jos Rooney of Morrell, Rev James Rooney and Rev R St. John, made speeches suitable to the occasion, after which a most enjoyable evening was brought to a close with a chorus by the girls of the League.

Intimates That "General" Riley Met His Waterloo

TORONTO, Dec. 28.—"General" Frank Riley, who led an unemployed army which marched on Ottawa some time ago, was charged in the police court today with assaulting his wife. The charge was withdrawn when the wife declared that the defendant was drunk and "had learned his lesson."

To Follow Up Decision Of Reparation Commission

PARIS, Dec. 28— Premier Poincare plans to follow up the repartitions commissicn's decision, declaring Germany in default of her deliveries, by presenting to the Allied Premiers meeting here next week a scheme for taking over the German state forests as a guarantee. If the other premiers will not agree to this step it is understood France is prepared to act alone.

Sir John Bradbury went to London today to confer with Prime Minister Bonar Law and other members of the government on the effect of the reparations commission's action on the question of the general British policy toward the premier's meeting.

Sir John's reasons for refusing to support the default vote which reasons, it is thought, may be taken as a reflection of the position of Mr Bonar Law, were that certain extenuating circumstances prompted Germany to more efficient consideration and that further more, the allies had previously agreed on a course less radical in the event of Germany's failure to make the deliveries.

France's victory in the reparations commission vote is ascribed to the personal efforts of Premier Poincare who is said to have carefully planned the coup.

Although the United States has no vote in the commission the views of its observers have always had weight, especially when a vital issue was before the commission as was the case yesterday.

It is declared in reparations circles that the position of the American observers has approximately been that of the British.

The sudden decision of the Commission took French as well as foreign political circles by surprise, since it was generally understood that the commissioners would take no decision until after the premier's meeting.

Delighted Kiddies At Xmas Concert At Zion Church

A very enjoyable evening was spent in Zion Church school room last night when the annual Christmas Tree and concert was given. There was a very large attendance of both young and older folks and the entertainment was voted by all to be one of the most pleasing of its kind ever held in the school room, which has seen many splendid entertainments.

The pupils taking part in the programme, which appears below, did excellently and much credit for their efficiency is due to the capable concert committee, consisting of Miss Jean Allen, Miss Lilian McKenzie, Mrs Affleck and Mrs. Fraser.

The superintendent of the Sunday School, Mr. W. B. Robertson presided. Santa Claus was of course present and a very welcome visitor. He did not forget to bring with him and to distribute quantities of candies, nuts, raisins etc. It was further evident last night that Santa Claus, despite the contending claims of other nationalities, is a genuine Scotchman, as was proven by his accent.

Following was the programme:

1. Opening Chorus—5 girls.
2. Recitation—Sadie Worth.
3. Chorus "Silent Night."—Children of School.
4. Solo—Verna MacKenzie.
5. Recitation—Laura MacLean

MANY MADE HAPPY WITH XMAS CHEER

Santa Claus Did Not Forget to Visit the Poor Children of the City and Good Work is Being Continued.

During the festivities of the Christmas season the splendid work done by churches and other organizations in the past towards the relief of the poorer people of the city has been freely recognized and it is pleasing to report that this year the good work has been continued, and will be continued throughout the cold winter months, when quite a number of decent families, through sickness or lack of work, find it hard to get along and will welcome a little assistance if kindly and tact fully given.

In addition to the usual Christmas Trees held by the various churches, attention is being given to those children who from lack of proper clothing or for some other reason cannot attend. Many of these people have been relieved by individual gifts but in the majority of cases the help comes through organizations which are better able to reach the cases requiring most urgent attention.

Public Dispensary.

The very successful Christmas tree at the Public Dispensary on the Saturday afternoon before Christmas is a case in point. About two hundred poor children of the city were made happy with presents by the Rotary Santa Claus (Mr Jas. McMillan). For days previous the competent District Visitor, Miss Earle had been occupied in preparation of the event and with the donations received from various sources no pains were spared to make the Christmas Tree one worthy of the season. Attractive varied colored paper bags and parcels were made up. The handsome donation of $100 by the Rotary Club went towards the purchase of mits, stockings and caps. A donation of $25 from the Knights of Columbus and many other private donations, a list of which will be published, helped in the purchase of the other presents, which included Christmas stockings, fruit and candy, staple articles of food and clothing, etc. Donations through the Dispensary to the Tuberculosis Society were not forgotten and the visiting nurse was able to relieve many distressing cases.

Already Miss Earle, who has only been here a few weeks, has come in contact with some very sad cases of poverty and sickness. The conditions under which these families, deprived through death or illness of the breadwinner, are living, are hard to realize and only those actively engaged in charitable work can form any idea of them.

Mrs. R. L. Cotton, who in other years so competently discharged her duties as Dispensary Nurse, rendered valuable assistance to Miss Earle ever since her appointment and on Saturday, with Mrs. W. W. Clark and Mrs. W. E. Bentley, remained until the distribution was completed and the pleased children had dispersed to their homes.

Santa Claus Club.

Messrs Beer & Weeks are pleased to report that the Santa Claus Club inaugurated by them during the Xmas season of 1921 again received a geenrous measure of support from the people of Charlottetown and vicinity. The firm was enabled to send parcels of Christmas toys to a large number of homes where circumstances were such as to forbid the purchase of play things for the children.

Each member of the Club will shortly receive a detailed report of the work done in connection with the Santa Claus Club and the firm wishes to extend hearty thanks to all those who by their generous support made the Club such a grand success again this year. They wish to add that much of the success of the Club was due to the kindly support given by the editors of the Guardian and Patriot newspapers who placed the facts before the public and to those of the firm employees who cheerfully worked overtime in order to ensure the parcels getting to the children on Xmas Eve.

The Santa Claus Club has now become a recognized institution and it is hoped next year to carry on the good work on an even larger scale.

Salvation Army

As usual the Salvation Army is doing lots of good work and this is being carried on unostentatiously but very effectively. Comdt. and Mrs. Higdon are newcomers to the city but they have had much experience in larger centers. Individual calls are being made with presents and on Christmas Eve a free distribution from the Army Hall was made to the poorer people, the presents including meat, fruit, clothing and boots. A very enjoyable Christmas Tree was held on Christmas night at which there was a large attendance and a fund raised for further charitable purposes. The programme included a delightful concert which it is the intention to repeat on New Year's night.
