Frozen Desserts That Are Delicious

The automatic refrigerator is one of the greatest conveniences in the modern home. Yet many women demand little more service of it than they did of the old-fashioned ice box, and fall to make use of its most wonderful feature, the freezing unit.

Special Strawberry Ice Cream

- 1 cup Eagle Brand Condensed Milk. 1-4 cup water. 2 cups strawberries, crushed. 1-2 cup whipping cream. Mix Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk and water thoroughly. Add crushed strawberries. Chill. Whip cream to custard-like consistency and fold into chilled mixture. Pour into freezing pan. Place in freezing unit. After mixture has frozen to a stiff mush (about one hour) remove from refrigerator. Scrape mixture from sides and bottom of pan. Beat two minutes. Smooth out and replace in freezing unit for one hour or until frozen for serving. (Two to four hours, total freezing time.) Serves six.

Chocolate Ice Cream

Sweetened condensed milk is such a perfect ingredient because it is a blend of whole milk and pure sugar cooked down until it is smooth and thick. Because of this smooth texture the crystals formed in freezing the ice cream are smaller, finer and rounder than when other ingredients are used as a base. To get the most satisfactory results from your automatic refrigerator one should observe some of these points in preparing the ice cream:

- 1-2 squares unsweetened chocolate. 1 cup Eagle Brand Condensed Milk. 1 cup water. 1-4 teaspoon vanilla. 1-2 cup whipping cream. Melt chocolate in the top of a double boiler. Add Eagle Brand Condensed Milk and stir over boiling water for five minutes until mixture thickens. Add water and mix well. Chill thoroughly. Add vanilla. Whip cream to a custard-like consistency and fold into chilled mixture. Pour into freezing pan. Place in freezing unit. After mixture has frozen to a stiff mush (one to two hours) remove from refrigerator and scrape from sides and bottom of pan. Beat for two minutes. Smooth out and replace in freezing unit for one hour or until frozen for serving. (Two to four hours, total freezing time.) Serves six.

Chocolate Mint Ice Cream

1 recipe of Chocolate Ice Cream. 3 drops of peppermint oil. Prepare Chocolate Ice Cream. Just before folding in whipped cream, add three drops of oil of peppermint.

Coffee Ice Cream

2-3 cup Eagle Brand Condensed Milk. 1-2 cup strong black coffee. 1-2 teaspoon vanilla. 1 cup whipping cream. Mix Eagle Brand Condensed Milk, strong black coffee and vanilla thoroughly. Chill. Whip cream to custard-like consistency and fold into chilled mixture. Pour into freezing pan. Place in freezing unit. After mixture has frozen to a stiff mush (one to two hours) remove from refrigerator. Scrape mixture from sides and bottom of pan. Beat two minutes. Smooth out and replace in freezing unit for one hour, or until frozen for serving. (Two to four hours, total freezing time.) Serves six.

Vanilla Ice Cream

2-3 cup Eagle Brand Condensed Milk. 1-2 cup water. 1-2 teaspoon vanilla. 1 cup whipping cream. Mix Eagle Brand Condensed Milk, water and vanilla thoroughly. Chill. Whip cream to custard-like consistency and fold into chilled mixture. Pour into freezing pan. Place in freezing unit. After mixture has frozen to a stiff mush (one to two hours) remove from refrigerator. Scrape mixture from sides and bottom of pan. Beat two minutes. Smooth out and replace in freezing unit for one hour or until frozen for serving. (Two to four hours, total freezing time.) Serves six.

WHOOPING COUGH CURE WINNIPEG, July 20—The purifying room at the plant of a local gas company was crowded with guests today. But they weren't just sight-seeing. Parents had accepted the children's invitation to take their children there to cure their whooping cough. The fumes in the purifying room are claimed by many to be a sure remedy.

ST. CATHERINES SCHOOL CLOSING

The semi-annual examination of St. Catherine's School was held on June 29th. with two trustees and twenty-seven parents and visitors in attendance. The school room was decorated for the occasion with roses, snowballs and maple leaves. The pupils were examined in the various subjects by their teacher, assisted by Miss Mildred Auld, teacher of Long Creek School, Mrs. Nell MacKenzie and Mr. Malcolm MacNeill, former teachers of this school now residing in the district.

YORK DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

The annual Sunday School Convention for the York District was held in Marshfield-Dunstaffnage United Church on Tuesday, June 13th at two-thirty o'clock. The worship period was in charge of Brackley School and included a very worth-while paper on "How can we make our Sunday School programmes more interesting?" by Mrs. Clark.

The program took the form of a Junior Red Cross meeting at which ten members answered roll call by telling a joke and during which the following programme was pleasingly rendered:

Exercise, Wishes, by 5 pupils; Recitation, Watch Your Cold, Lester Lowry; Solo, Moonlight and Skies, Elliott MacNeill; Recitation, The Girl who hadnt time, Irene MacEachern; Exercise, Health, six pupils; Solo, Rub Scrub, Lester Lowry; Recitation, My Sweetheart, Vivian MacEachern; Dialogue, A Cruel Hoax, four pupils; Recitation, Gingerbread Land, Elliott MacNeill; Solo, My Kitty, Magdie Lowry; Recitation, The Golden Rule, Ruth Morrow; Recitation, Oné by one, Florence MacNevin.

After the close of the meeting, Gladys MacNeill on behalf of the pupils read to the teacher the following address and Florence MacNevin presented her with a beautiful pendant.

Dear Teacher,—Our exercises today remind us that another year is numbered with the past. This school year contrasts with previous years in that there has been much cause for sorrow. Death has robbed our school of one of our dear companions. Sickness, too, has removed from our school another of our dear friends.

Our school closing gives us an opportunity to address you with a few words by way of compliment and encouragement. We have been thoroughly satisfied with you as our teacher and we feel very happy to realize that you intend to stay with us another year.

We thank you for your kind and diligent efforts in helping us along with our lessons. We also may note that your work was not confined to your special duties of teaching, but you have taken a prominent part in community welfare, being a member of the Sons of Temperance, and also of the Women's Institute. Bidding you farewell for awhile, we hope you will enjoy a pleasant vacation. Please accept this small gift as a token of friendship. From The Pupils of St. Catherine's School.

The teacher then thanked the pupils for their thoughtfulness in remembering her at this time, with a gift and their words of appreciation. She also thanked the parents and rate-payers for their co-operation in the school work during the past two years. Prizes were then awarded to the pupils of each grade by the teacher. The prize for attendance was won by Irene MacEachern.

The Women's Institute treated the pupils and visitors to delicious home made ice cream and cake. Vivian MacEachern, a Grade IV pupil, on behalf of the teacher and pupils, thanked the Women's Institute for their delectable treat.

The meeting was closed by singing the National Anthem. "People who are direct opposites make the best life partners." "That's why I'm looking for a girl with money." "Even a multi-millionaire should learn how to cook."—Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink. "Money loaned at the top means nothing. Money spent at the bottom starts everything."—Henry Ford.

He came to Halifax some forty years ago, established his studio here in partnership with Adolph Gentzell, the two buying out the business of Kelly and Sibiisky. This is the same shop now run on Spring Garden Road by Mr. Gauvin's son, George A. Gauvin, Jr. The business flourished and was extended to Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, where the branch was later bought out by the late Mr. J. A. S. CHICAGO, July 20—Mrs. Geline Macdonald Bowman, of Richmond, Va., president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs of the United States, says she believes women will do much in helping to solve present economic problems. She expressed herself prior to the opening today of the four-day convention of the organization she heads. Women's gradual entrance into business, she said, was bringing about a change in the world's "business attitude," which ultimately would result in a solution of economic questions. "Men," she said, "have thought along the same lines for hundreds of years and have been interested only in bettering themselves. But women, with their maternal instinct and their love of humanity, are interested in running business for the benefit of all. There will be no excessive profits or underpaid employes when they finally have their proper place in business."

A Scotsman, upon entering a saddler's, asked for a single spur. "What use is one spur?" asked the man. "Well," replied Sandy, "if I can get one side of the horse to go, the other will have to come w' it."

CARE OF THE STRAWBERRY

(Experimental Farms Note) What to do with a strawberry plantation after it has over fruited is a question frequently asked. It is not possible to answer this question in any rule of thumb way; a great deal depends upon the condition of the plantation. If the plantation is full of weeds, like couch grass, or if it is very patchy it is better to plough it up. If, on the other hand, it is a well vined plantation, reasonably free of weeds, it may pay to practice renovation.

Renovation is accomplished in different ways but it should be remembered that the strawberry plant is not really a true perennial and must be permitted to renew itself by the formation of a new runner or the formation of a new crown with a new root system. If the old plantation is left without attention the plants are liable to be so crowded that such a renewal will be difficult. It is generally advisable therefore to cut down the rows to a narrow width and in doing this the best way is to split the row in the centre leaving one outside edge to form new runners. The outside edges contain the young plants and these generally form new runners very rapidly. This renovating should be done as soon as the crop has been removed. After splitting the rows in two, remove the plants that have been ploughed up and cultivate between the rows thoroughly, hand weed the narrow strip of plants that are left and unless the land is in excellent tilth apply a dressing of about fifty pounds of nitrate of soda per acre between the rows. If cultivation is continued throughout the balance of the season a full stand of plants should be obtained by autumn and a good crop of fruit the following season.—M. B. Davis, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, Ont.

MEN INTERESTED IN BETTERING THEMSELVES ONLY—MATERNAL INSTINCT TO FORE. Scout News and Notices

Congratulations are in order to Scout Harold Stewart of the Kirk Group who was voted the best Junior Camper of the "Y" Camp and also the best athlete. Harold, too, is the best scholar in his grade at West Kent School, so he may be considered a good all-round Scout, a credit to his troop and a blessing to his mother.

At the Gilwell Camp at Sussex, N. B., which breaks up today there were senior scouts and scout-masters from all over the Maritimes, including this Province. It was visited by Chief Commissioner John A. Stiles, Ottawa, who spent several days under canvas and entered whole-heartedly into the work of Gilwell. The second in command was Spoutmaster Foran of St. John's, Newfoundland, who was taking his second course in scouting, and who is enthusiastic over the spread of the scout movement in his Dominion.

In an eloquent address at Rotary in Saint John, N. B. fully reported in the Telegraph-Journal, Chief Commissioner Stiles asked the question: "What makes a country great?" Not population, or China or India would be the greatest nations in the world, not natural resources or Russia would be the greatest nation in the world, and surely not money or the nation holding the greatest amount of gold temporarily would be the greatest nation. Not population, not natural resources, not wealth, but integrity, the character of the people makes the country great. The word honor had meant a great deal to the British people. They had even made money out of it since the goods sold by them were usually superior to the catalogue description.

The speaker described the youth movement in Russia, Czechoslovakia, Germany and Italy, all of which were militaristic. There was need for a youth movement in Canada or a revival of interest in the existing movements and they should all aim at training the boys to be loyal to the religion of their fathers and loyal to the King. The Scout movement required all its members to promise these two things and then definitely that they would not be militaristic in their attitude but would help other people at all times. The key activity of scouting he explained was wood craft and scouts were not thinking of drill for that was not their job but of cooking in the open, pioneering, etc.

The boys of today will be the men of tomorrow and deserve our serious consideration. That little boy shining your shoes may have in his veins the blood of Caesars. Nature is very wasteful of things of the spirit. Shakespeare was the son of a wool peddler and Napoleon the son of a farmer. The blood of kings would out. Who could tell when dealing with a boy but that he might some day be the saviour of his country.

If he only had a few minutes with a group of boys, said Commissioner Stiles, he would tell them two things. First that death loves a crowd. They should hesitate before doing what the gods call on them to do. And second, that no one should form a habit to please the other fellows.
