Map Reading Wins Converts The Hard Way
 By "Lance-Bombardier"

Loss a trained Canadian soldier in any given forest, swamp or department store basement and one of two things will happen in 1.5 time than it takes to holler for the sergeant-major. Either the soldier will find his way back to his base or he'll make an urgent resolution to stay awake during the next map-reading period. In either case, credit may be given to Practical Map Reading, a branch of military science once reserved for officers, but now a large percentage of map-reading land forces, including the Colonel's batman and the kind assistant cook.

CUTWORM CONTROL
 (Science Service No's)

Cutworms are usually active and feeding before most crops are in the ground, consequently, it is important to be prepared for their attack at the very first of the season, states Alan C. Dunstan, who is in charge of Vegetable Insect Investigations, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. Poisoned bran bait has given effective control for many years. Molasses used to be one of the ingredients, but owing to the war cannot now be obtained for the purpose, so the bait is made up of bran, 25 parts Paris green, 1 pound and water, about 2-2 gallons. Mix the bran and Paris green thoroughly and add the water in sufficient quantity to make the material the consistency of wet sawdust. Do not make it stony but so that it will crumble and slip through the fingers easily.

Land that was heavily infested in 1941 should be treated before the plants are set out by broadcasting the bait at the rate of 15-20 pounds per acre a few nights before sowing. One application should be made in three days time. Spread the bait in the evening just before dusk, and choose a warm still night.

If the attack is unexpected and spread the bait around the base of each plant, using about a teaspoon per plant. If necessary a large percentage of the soil should be treated in three nights later.

EXECUTIVE MEETING OF SOUKS C. W. L. — The President, Mrs. Clara Paquet, presided at a meeting of the newly elected executive of the senior subdivision of the Souks C. W. L. This meeting was held on May 5th at the home of Mrs. Allan McCormac, one of the different phases of C. W. L. work under field conditions. A very large number of members were present and the meeting was a most successful one. SECOND THOUGHTS

Recruits who enter the service with a vague idea that there's nothing more to combat training than drawing a rifle on Tuesday and putting in a few gate-laws weeks from Friday, often approach Army map-reading with outraged murmurs. "Boy scout stuff!" they are prone to sniff at first, and "How are you going to break up a barrage with a protractor?" But as field exercises awaken an appreciation of map-reading's practical importance, even the cynic skeptics usually admit that, for once, the instructors were right. Even the most uninitiated Army trainee, armed with a map, can find his bearings in a particularly primitive segment of Northern Ontario's bush country, had a map on the ground before the training and announced where he was going to do it then and by what occult means.

VISIBILITY? QUITE SO!

Explaining the mysteries of magnetic variation, hill features, invisibility back bearings and kindred by-products of map-reading, it went along, the expert N.C.O. struck off bravely into the thicket. Every half hour he called a halt to make sure everyone in the squad understood exactly what was going on.

Expect Flow Of Messages & Flowers On Mothers' Day

MONCTON, N. B., May 6 — With the approach of Mother's Day, Canadian National Telegrams and Express officials are looking forward to greatly augmented telegraph and express business particularly in view of the large number of members of the Canadian armed forces now in training camps in Canada. It is expected that there will also be a considerable flow of cable traffic from overseas with Mother's Day greetings from members of the Canadian forces over there. The express business has already felt the impact of the various centres, to be augmented by air express shipments of flowers carried by Trans-Canada Air Lines planes from Victoria and Vancouver.

The new T. C. A. service between Canada and Newfoundland is also carrying parcels from service men who have been reminded that next Sunday is Mother's Day.

In addition to flowers is a large traffic in candles and other gifts which have not only been applied for in Canada but across the border.

IN MEMORIAM
MRS. GEORGE T. MacLURE

The death of Mrs. George T. MacLure, whose maiden name was Emma Jane Dalziel, occurred at her home at Murray Harbor North on April 29th after a few weeks illness, on the farm where she was born sixty-two years ago and spent her entire life. She was a member of the Murray Harbor North Presbyterian Church and Women's Missionary Society and always took an active part in any church work that was for the betterment not only of her home community, but of the Province. She was at all times anxious to lend assistance wherever her kindly, capable hands or sound judgment and wise counsel might aid a fellow traveller. Besides her husband three sons and one daughter are left to mourn and also to cherish the beautiful memories of her life of devotion and self-sacrifice. They are Preston, a Boach Grove Training Centre; James, in England and Charles, in Gaspeaux, P.E.I. There are also two sisters, Mrs. Ernest A. Reid who lives near the old homestead and Mrs. Ernest A. Reid who lives near the old homestead.

On Friday afternoon the funeral took place when a private service was held at the home followed by a service at the Church, both of which were conducted by Rev. A. C. MacPhail. At the home a service "Crossing the Bar" was sympathetically rendered by Mrs. Wendall Graham. The Church service was conducted by Rev. A. C. MacPhail and Mrs. Laurier MacLure. The Church brothers sang "My Hope is Built on Nothing Less." The choir also sang "Lead, Kindly Light." All of these hymns were favorites of the deceased and were rendered at her request. The pall bearers were five brothers-in-law, Adam, Charles Cameron, Benjamin and William MacLure and son-in-law, William Graham. Interment was in the North.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH — Services Sunday will be conducted by the Minister Rev. Hugh Miller, M.A., D. D., and Rev. Donald C. MacPhail, D. D. M. Appropriate music will be rendered by the choir under the direction of Mr. A. H. Kendall, L. R. M. A. C. O. who will preside at the organ for peace and the Latin announcement in another column.

M. with sermon by Mr. Levy "The Shepherd's Song of Faith." Jacob's "Brother James" will be the choir music. The Organist and choirmaster, John Inch, Mus. Bac. will be director of the music of the day.

NEW SECRETARY OF WATER COMMISSIONERS — Mr. George M. Chandler, who completed the position of Secretary with the Commissioners of Sewers and Water a year ago, is resigning his position to enlist with the armed forces. Mr. Chandler's services in this department have been most satisfactory and it is with considerable regret that the Commissioners are obliged to accept his resignation. His kindly courtesy and fair dealing is being recognized and appreciated by all citizens dealing with the Department. Lieutenant Stuart G. Ives, recently returned from overseas service, will succeed Mr. Chandler and will begin work about May 15th, and will take over the duties of Board Secretary June 1st. The German-occupied Channel Islands School was given a very special mention and is well qualified to fill this position. The Commissioners are congratulated on this appointment.

TO LUCY MAUD MONTGOMERY

You are gone, our Island Author, and have said goodbye to loved ones; You have crossed the swelling tide. When the news came over the wires It was heard with sad regret; And many a heart was heavy And many an eye was weepy.

You will never be forgotten Though your form no more will be seen. But the work you have accomplished Will keep your memory green.

They have brought you home to sleep In the Isle you have loved so well; Where the waves will sing lullaby And sweet will be your rest.

On the lovely shores of Cavendish Which your pen has so described Where in your sweet young girlhood You would stand and watched the tide.

Your earthly toils are over The once busy hands are still. But they have left sad hearts behind you. But they know it is God's will.

May your sleep be peaceful, Our lovely Lucy Maud; Though your spirit lingers with us Your spirit is with God.

—Mrs. Edgar Gillespie, Charlottetown.

THEY SMASHED HITLER

LONDON (CP) — At the end of the last school term every pupil of the German-occupied Channel Islands school was given a toy which was painted a picture of Hitler. Next day compulsory street cleaning was ordered to get rid of the litter of smashed toys.

QUESTIONS: Do the price ceiling regulations apply to professional men, such as dentists and doctors?

ANSWER: No. The Wartime Prices and Trade Board has exempted such persons who render professional services from the ceiling laws. The list of these professions includes those of doctors, dentists, lawyers, architects, engineers and such.

Optometrists and opticians which were formerly exempted from ceiling prices have been put back under the ceiling. An Order of the Board effective February 9, re-established the control and at the same time emphasized that all glasses, lenses, frames and other articles sold by optometrists or opticians were to be subject to the price ceiling regulations.

In addition to exemption from the ceiling regulations members of these professions are not required to obtain the license which other businesses had to obtain before March 31. Dealers in securities, stock brokers, insurance companies and their agents, real estate agents, and other agencies engaged solely in rendering a service which is not subject to the ceiling are also exempt from the licensing requirements.

WANTS NEW WORD

LONDON (CP) — Lord Porter of the Economic Warfare Ministry suggested for an alternative word to "blockade." Technically he said there is no "blockade." "Control" and "economic warfare" are too long to describe the process, he said.

ESCAPEES BROUGHT FRUIT

LONDON (CP) — Two English women who escaped from a Nazi internment camp in Occupied France brought home to Britain bags of pineapples and other scarce fruit they bought in Lisbon.

wife establish what the price ceiling should be for various items when she has no sales slips of her own. She paid for these items during the basic period September 15-October 11?

ANSWER: In a case such as this it is recommended that the housewife should keep all her present bills and sales slips. Today's prices are generally the same as they were during the basic period, but have been fixed by the price control laws at that level. Receipts for purchases made today will then give a reasonable picture of what the fixed prices are in different stores in a certain store. It should be remembered that such seasonal commodities as fresh fruits, vegetables and greenhouse products are not under the ceiling at the present time. To make it easier for the housewife to keep track of her "ceilings" the Wartime Prices and Trade Board has issued a special handy little booklet. It provides an excellent record of keeping a permanent record of what the various fixed prices are in different stores. This booklet is available, free, by writing to the Regional Office, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Chappell Building, Charlottetown.

Help the Young People To Health - Happiness

What a common sight to see a young person whose bloodless face and feeble frame are evidences of poor circulation and weakness where bounding health and rosy cheeks should reign.

Young people in such a condition are generally deficient in iron and require a preparation containing iron to improve the blood content.

Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills meet this requirement, as they contain three concentrated forms of iron of an easily assimilated nature together with other valuable ingredients indicated for building up the system and helping to improve the blood content.
