IRELAND'S DAY WAS CELEBRATED

Enthusiastically and Appropriately by the Sons of Erin yesterday—Eloquent Orations Delivered by Rev. Father Reardon, Father Burke, P. J. Trainor, Edward Hackett and other Speakers. Athletic Games Held.

Ireland's Day was duly observed yesterday in Summerside, by the Sons of Erin with all the enthusiasm that is characteristic of the Celtic race. The day which in the morning had threatened to be a very clear day, during the forenoon and but for the fact that it was too hot for the greatest enjoyment, no more fitting occasion could have been chosen for a demonstration in honor of the land of Old Erin. Large numbers arrived by train from the west and the special from Charlottetown brought many more. The special reached Summerside at 11 o'clock, and the Benevolent Irish Society and the Ancient Order of Hibernians, headed by the 82nd and the 4th Regt. Bands at once formed procession on Water Street and proceeded to the Driving Park, when some partook of lunch and others returned to the town to spend an hour or two of the afternoon. In the afternoon the procession reformed and proceeded again to the grounds.

The sports resulted as follows:—100 yards dash—1, Phil Duffy; 2, Rob Silliphant; 3, Jas S. Smith.
Half Mile—1, Phil Duffy; 2, James Smith; 3, Rob Silliphant.
Rev. A. E. Burke the presiding officer in opening the proceedings happily referred to the celebration which he felt sure would redound to the honor of the nationality which the majority of those present espouse and to which they belong. He eulogized the Irish race and in eloquent words vindicated the claim of the nationality to a prime place among the people of Canada and of the Empire. In closing he referred to the promise Mr Hackett had received from the Premier of Canada for a monument to Thos D'Arcy McGee, and expressed the hope that a similar monument for Edward Whelan for which the funds of the day would be devoted, might soon be erected.

Mayor McNeill of Summerside extended a hearty welcome to the visitors. Mayor Kelly of Charlottetown spoke of the honor many of the Home Comers had won in their adopted homes and hoped they would live up to the principles that they had been taught in their native land.
Rev. J. M. Reardon of St. Paul, Minn. was the orator of the occasion. He was introduced as one of the most distinguished sons abroad who would convey a few words from the Home Comers. Father Reardon is a young man of fine presence, and a perfect distinctness across the track on the Driving Park though he was speaking against the wind, and an eloquence which has been rarely equalled if ever excelled in the memory of most of his audience. His speech was a model of beautiful diction and chaste expression. The Guardian hopes in the course of a day or two to publish the oration in full. Edward Hackett, M.P. congratulated all interested in the success of the day's celebration. He welcomed all the returning Islanders and spoke of the Irish who have earned success in the tilling of the soil as well as in learned professions. He closed with an eloquent appeal for definite action in the erection of a monument to Hon. Edward Whelan.
P. J. Trainor, Sec'y of the Whelan Monument Committee in an eloquent speech expressed the gratifications of the committee at the magnificent celebration which was being held. The object for which the present gathering was held was not similar to that upon which our forefathers had met on their native land. We have met to extend a hearty welcome to our visitors from abroad. While we loudly extol our native land we must remember much is due to our forefathers and the names of Geo. Coles and Edward Whelan must stand pre-eminent. It is the duty of the present generation to erect a monumental shaft to those great men who were united in a great work on behalf of Prince Edward Island.
This ended the speeches of the day. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in dancing, games and at seven o'clock the special left on return to the city, all satisfied that the celebration of Ireland's Day had done no discredit to the race.
