PROTEST AGAINST PRICE.

NEW YORK, June 17—The trade organization recently formed by 6,000 Kosher butchers in greater New York to combat the increased wholesale prices of meats, has ordered all its members to close their shops tomorrow as a spectacular protest against the wholesalers' actions. In this way it is expected that the meats supply of more than 300,000 persons will be cut off and the wholesale dealers left with an immense quantity of meat on their hands. More than 2,000 Kosher butchers will be driven out of business by the end of June, it is declared, unless the price of meat is lowered.

CHOOSING OLDER BRIDES.

LONDON, June 17.—Lillian Russell's fourth matrimonial venture has led a newspaper to make inquiries at London churches to discover if a woman of fifty has a better chance of marrying than formerly, if the age at which women are now marrying is advancing, and if a woman nearing middle age has more attractive now than she used to have for a marrying man. It would seem that these questions can be answered in the affirmative. The marriage registers of the present day provide emphatic proof of the changes taking place.

The marriage register at St. Hary-lebone church, which is a representative one for marriages of all classes, shows that since the beginning of the year twenty-two women aged thirty-four and over, were married; one forty-three, one forty-six, two forty-eight, one fifty, one fifty-one, and one fifty-three. Some of them were widows, but the majority were spinsters. One of the officials of the church said: "I have not the slightest doubt that brides are much older now than they were in the last five years. Up to then youth had it nearly all its own way. Now it is the sensible woman who is past her first youth who is coming in to her own."

CIVIL WAR RELICS.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 17—Minnie balls and peanuts are the two leading products of the farms that surround Petersburg, Va., where federal troops were under weight for ten months during the civil war. Dr. F. M. Gibson, whose offices are in Pillsbury building, has just returned from a visit to Petersburg and other battlefields in Virginia and Maryland, bringing with him federal soldiers' home soon, together with stered to the inmates of the state soldiers' home soon, together with stereopticon views reproducing present day photographs of civil war battlefields. From a ploughed field made ready for peanut planting, Dr. Gibson gathered up a quantity of bullets during his visit to Petersburg, and the supply of relics showed no signs of being exhausted soon. Tons of lead lie imbedded in the ground and each successive ploughing brings specimens to the surface.

ABEGWEITS WIN EIGHTH VICTORY

The Abegweits added another to their splendid line of victories last evening in the ball game at Victoria Park by defeating the Y. M. C. A. by the score of seven to none in a well played game. F. The Abegweits got two men to first on being hit by the pitcher. Saunders of the Abegweits secured two of the runs and made three hits. Haasard hit out a double in the first inning and Vandenberg drove out a pretty little fly which was gathered in by Whitlock the Y. shortstop. The Y. M. C. A. boys took too

Minister of Justice and Premier Will Ask Leave For Argument

(Canadian Press.) OTTAWA, June 18—An appeal to the Privy Council on the Supreme Court decision in the marriage law reference case will, in all probability, be heard at the end of the Canadian list in July. The Minister of Justice goes to England with Premier Borden and will at once ask for the necessary leave to argue the appeal. Most of the counsel engaged on the case will be in England on other Canadian cases at the same time. Hon. Mr. Doherty said today that he was pleased with the rapidity with which the Supreme court here disposed of the cases and that the decision had coincided with his own expressed opinion as to the constitutional aspect of the question. With regard to that section of the reference relating to the Quebec marriage law that did not concern the Dominion but was a matter for the province to deal with if the law was deemed unsatisfactory.

VALUABLE PATENT.

TACOMA, Wash., June 17—As the result of the tireless industry of living in the mountains with his family in an old box car and of scrupulously saving to get money necessary to obtain a patent H. A. McKiddy, a telegraph operator for the Northern Pacific Railroad, will soon become wealthy. Three years ago he was stationed at Lemko. During the winter months he had hard experiences in delivering orders to passenger trains. When snow was flying he had to pass the telegrams to the engine drivers, and if the train was a freight, often would stand in the storm thirty minutes before the cabooses would appear, so he could give the clearances to the conductor. He had to deliver an order, instead of putting it in a hoop and waiting for the train to pass he placed the order in two slots in the wooden arms of the invention, and when the train appeared it was an easy matter for engine driver and conductor to reach out and grab messages. When the messages were taken from the arms the latter automatically dropped.

GRADUATED.

MONTREAL, June 17—Twenty-nine trips to the Montreal jail since 1894 as Leonard when he appeared before Judge Lanctot this morning for sentence on a charge of stealing silk dresses and neck wear valued at $22, from the John Murphy Company. Leonard pleaded for another chance. He said that he had managed to keep out of jail all winter and that it was a shame to send him down now that the fine weather was here. "Have you ever been to the penitentiary?" inquired the Court. "No," replied the prisoner. "Then I think you are about ripe for there now and I will sentence you to two years," concluded the Judge.

AEROPLANES AT ANGERS.

ANGERS, France, June 17—At the resumption of the aviation meet today sixteen airmen started in a contest arranged by the committee of the Aero Club. The distance to be covered being about 292 1/2 miles, during which the contestants must fly three times around the circuit from Angers to Cholet; Cholet to Saumur, and Saumur to Angers. The prizes are two equal amounts of $5,000 each. Twelve passengers were carried by the airmen, Allard alone taking four on his machine. Shortly after the start Allard's aeroplane broke down and fell to the ground from a low altitude. His mechanic sustained a broken leg, but the airmen and the other passengers were unhurt. DeBussy another French airman, while flying from Chartres with a passenger named Goslings to enter the contests also came to grief. His machine was hurled to the ground and DeBussy was severely injured internally, while his passenger was picked up with both legs broken.

MRS ASTOR TO MOURN IN WHITE NOT BLACK.

NEW YORK—Instead of swathing herself in sombre black as an outward mark of respect and devotion to a husband recently departed, the mod era widow has elected to wear pure white. White, according to fashion's new decree, is to be worn by widows for the first six months after bereavement. Men and women who reside in the fashionable Fifth avenue shops said yesterday that the demand for white morning, and especially white crepe, is so great that the supply is not equal to it. Mrs. John Jacob Astor will wear all white instead of black. Mrs. Astor had ordered several deep mourning dresses, but hardly had these been sent home when they were returned to the store by the wish of Mrs. Astor's mother, Mrs. William H. Force, who does not like to see her daughter dressed in black, and an elaborate order was substituted which called for everything in pure white. Mrs. Astor's dresses are made of soft materials, and some are trimmed with rich heavy crepe in purest white. Her gowns are simply in the extreme and the materials are graceful and clinging. "We are sending out several mourning outfits of pure white," said the head of a large Fifth avenue shop which makes a specialty of imported dresses and hats. The material used are armure, Alaska, which is a soft satin with a dull finish; cashmere de soie, crepe de Chine, white, chiffon, bengaline, armure and taffeta. Taffeta is not so well liked for white mourning because of its lustre, but it is used now and then to give some variety to the wardrobe. Charmeuse, marquis ette and moire are also sometimes chosen. Regarding the hat, what is ordinarily known as white straw is not considered mourning. Mourning straw is white as snow. Limp hats of this style may be trimmed with white grosgrain ribbon, with moire folds or bands or draped with chiffon. A "white" widow wears a white net veil having a deep border of heavy white crepe. Her shoes, stockings, gloves, parasol and every detail of her costume for each period of the day should be of the purest white and no jewellery should be worn.

ANOTHER ALLAN HAS BEEN CAUGHT.

LEXINGTON, Ky., June 15—Wesley Edwards, who, with his uncle, Sidna Allen, has been a fugitive since March 14, when the Allen outlaws shot up the court house at Hillsville, Va., killing five, was captured at Clay City, Powell County, yesterday afternoon. ASQUITH STRUCK A SUFFRAGETTE.

LONDON, June 17—The Woman's Social and Political union gave out the version of the suffragette assaults on Premier Asquith at the reception at the India office last night as told by the assailants themselves. According to this story the first woman grasped Mr. Asquith's hand and shoulder and said loudly: "Until you give votes to women we cannot allow you to hold these public functions without interruption," whereupon Mrs. Asquith seized the woman and bundled her out. Meanwhile the woman had been ejected that a young man who tightly clutched Mr. Asquith's hand and uniform cried out: "We must have a government measure for women at this session!" and proceeded to emphasize the point when Mrs. Asquith called out "Oh, there's a man too," and pounced on him. The young man was hustled out.

Meanwhile the woman had been conducted to the cloak room, where she met Lloyd George, whom she interrogated on the woman suffrage question. She was dragged off. Next she met Mr. and Mrs. Asquith as they were leaving and again attempted to address the premier. Mr. Asquith struck her a hard blow on the arm with his cocked hat, which doubled up considerably while Mrs. Asquith boxed her ears.

CHURCH WORKER DEAD.

TORONTO, June 17—Miss Julia Tilley, who held a foremost place in the work of the church in Toronto, died Sunday at St. John's hospital, where she was taken only on Friday last. Miss Tilley, who had been in failing health for a year, was a daughter of the late Sir Leonard Tilley, of St. John. She was one of the first to take up the life of a deaconess for the Church of England, and afterwards became a successful graduate in presenting the needs of the Church of England deaconesses and missionary training houses. For a long time she was identified with the Church of the Ascension, and labored in the down-town district. She was the leader of the Women's Bible class and also of the branch of the Women's Auxiliary rendering every assistance to Rev. G. A. Kuhring, then rector, and now of St. John. N. B. Her executive ability was later recognized by the diocesan woman's auxiliary when she was made president upon the death of Mrs. Williamson, a sister of Sir Edmund Osler. Interment will take place at London, Ont., on Wednesday, Miss Tilley, small in stature, and wearing the deaconess uniform, presiding over hundreds of women of the church, made an outstanding figure.
