MONTAGUE SCHOOL CLOSING

The closing exercises of the Montague High School took place in the Principal's Department Monday afternoon, June 30th. The different grades were examined in the first part of the day, and were found to be advancing in their different studies, and in a very satisfactory condition. Inspector Adams who was present acted as chairman, while the following program was well rendered. Solo, Vivian Armstrong; Class Prophecy, Harry Vickers; Class Poem, Marlon Campbell; Solo, Cora Grant; Class History, Julia Lannan; Valedictory, Harold Mellish.

VALEDICTORY

Mr. Chairman, Teacher, fellow students, ladies and gentlemen:—Today, we, the members of the graduating class of Montague High School come together for the closing exercises, saddened by the knowledge that this may be the last time we will meet in the old building, where we were given ample education in by-gone days. Today we must say good bye for we may never all meet again.

enjoyable. We think of the use it will be in the future. Twice during the year the school was closed on account of the prevalence of influenza in the district, and we therefore lost twelve valuable weeks work. This loss of time was made up to some extent by making the Xmas holidays of shorter duration and by the untiring efforts of our teacher in mustering the class on Saturdays for special study.

To Miss Luella Bearsto Principal of Montague High School Dear Teacher:—The pleasant duty has been assigned us by our school mates of presenting you this token, as an evidence of our esteem, friendship and love. We could not allow the present occasion to pass without leaving in your hand some memento of our gratitude for your unceasing efforts to instruct us. When in future days you look upon this memento, let it be a pleasant token of our deepest love and reverence of our young hearts.

HARRY VICKERSON BILLIE MCINTYRE

The other teachers were all remembered with gifts by their pupils, after which speeches were made by those present. Inspector Adams presented the successful students who took the recent public examinations with diplomas from the Department of Education, and after making a short address of encouragement to the entrance class asked all to rise and sing the National Anthem and this closed the 1919 closing exercise of Montague High School.—T.

Willie: "Father, didn't you tell me the other day that it was wrong to strike any one smaller than yourself?"

Father: "Yes, Willie, that's what I said."

Willie: "Well, I wish you'd write and tell my teacher. I don't think she knows about it."

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.

Dear Sirs:—This fall I got thrown on a fence and hurt my chest very bad, so I could not work and it hurt me to breathe. I tried all kinds of treatments and they did me no good.

One bottle of MINARD'S LINIMENT, warmed on flannels and applied on my breast, cured me completely.

The pall-bearers were Lister McLellan, Preston Murray, Ralph Noonan, Frank McDonald, T. Morrison and J. McNally. L.

—ISLAND LADY DEAD.—Mrs. Alex Douglas, of Kensington, arrived home Tuesday evening from Forest, Maine, where she had been called by the illness and death of her sister, Mrs. Robert McKinnon, formerly Jessie Nicholson, daughter of the late Donald and Christie Nicholson of Junction Road, now known as Glen Valley. She is survived by her husband and four children—Archie, Katherine, John D. and Essie P. McKinnon, all of whom were with her when she died.

—HELPING ALONG.—The teachers and pupils of Kensington High School held an ice cream social in the King George Hall on Saturday night to raise funds to build a sidewalk on School Street. It was liberally patronized and the sum of $80 was realized. The promoters wish to return thanks for the liberal response of their many considerate friends. This amount added to the school concert fund will finance this project which is intended to commemorate the glory of the brave Montague High School who gave their lives in the recent war that liberty might live. A tablet will be erected in the names of the fallen heroes.—Y.

—SCHOOL EXAMINATION.—The matriculation examination of Spring Hill School was held on Thursday evening, June 27. The schoolhouse was crowded. The pupils were examined in the different subjects by Miss McDougall and Miss Dymont, and showed by their ready answers that they had made considerable progress and been carefully trained by their teacher, Miss Flossie Gaudet. A pleasing little program had been prepared, and each one performed his part exceptionally well. At the close of the examination the pupils presented their teacher with a lovely umbrella. The teacher then thanked her pupils with a few chosen words. Home-made candy was passed around, which proved a relief, and after singing the National Anthem the crowd was dispersed.

—SUITABLE MEMORIAL.—Considerable interest is being aroused in Kensington in connection with the movement to erect some suitable monument to perpetuate the memory of the brave lads who fought and the heroic ones who fell in defense of world's liberty in the recent war. The committee chosen will do their utmost to carry out the will of the meeting, and the adjacent districts will co-operate to achieve some results worthy of the laudable object. No greater occasion has arisen within human memory to command our support and it is confidently assured that the patriotic people of this loyal portion of the Empire will respond most liberally to the appeal. Let all, then who can, attend the meeting in the Temperance Hall there Friday night and show where Kensington stands.—Y.

SCHOOL EXAMINATION

The closing examination of the Grand Tracadie school was held on Friday the 27th June in the presence of a large number of ratepayers and visitors, the examination was conducted by Miss Estella Morris, teacher of the school and Miss Katie B. McCabe, teacher of Stanhope, Miss Mae Morris, teacher of Donaldson and others. The pupils acquitted themselves exceptionally well and showed by their prompt and correct answers that they were thoroughly at home in the branches taught. After the examination the pupils took part in a very pleasing entertainment in which they displayed considerable musical and dramatic ability. After the examination short speeches were made by Messrs. W.A. McDonald, J. A. McDonald, J. A. Martin, J. Frank McDonald, complimenting the teacher and pupils on the creditable showing made and encouraging them to persevere in the future after which two of the pupils read the following address.

TO MR. A. CORRIGAN AND MISS G. DRISCOLL

Dear Friends,—Some few weeks ago, we, the people of Village Green, heard the rumor that you were about to leave us, but at the time we gave it no serious consideration, and, like all painful thoughts or disagreeable stories, it was quickly dismissed from our minds with ready willingness.

However, time has proven that we were but hoping against hope, and now we are brought to a full and sad realization of the fact that you are about to depart from our midst.

For us who have been favored with your close friendship your departure will mean a regrettable loss, and, although you will be far away, we shall ever remember you and cherish the memories of the pleasant times we passed together.

The community shall suffer the loss of two of its most popular and esteemed members, who have always taken an active part in everything that tended toward the improvement of our settlement, and the promotion of better social conditions.

In every community endeavor you have ever shown yourselves to be of the greatest value and assistance, and your way may lead, you will be attending to our best wishes.

say farewell, and, as you journey down life's rugged and uncertain highway, we hope that fortune may smile upon you, and shower you with a generous share of the good things of this world.

Before wishing you a last goodbye we ask you to accept these small gifts as tokens of our esteem, and we hope they shall always remind you of the many loyal friends and acquaintances you formed in Village Green.

Signed on behalf of the residents of Village Green.

our sentiment towards you hoping that you will first consider the thoughts of the donors, rather than the value of the gift.

Signed most respectfully on behalf of the pupils. After the close of the address the teacher briefly replied, thanking the pupils for their kind address and gift and hoping that the pleasant relations that existed between them in the past year would continue in the future. After singing God Save the King the examination was brought to a close.
