

The "Flu" LEFT HER WITH A VERY WEAK HEART

Mrs. Beulah Demore, Pleasant River, N.B., writes: "Having suffered with the 'flu' a few years ago, I was left with a very weak heart. I was unable to go about, and could not do my housework. I would get dizzy spells and would have to go and lie down. I could not sleep at night as the least little noise would wake me up. I tried different kinds of medicine, but they seemed to do me no good. A friend recommended

I have used five boxes and am much better; do not get those dizzy spells, and can do my own work as well as ever."

NEW INDUSTRIES FOR THE MARITIMES

SACKVILLE, N. B. Feb. 20.—It is understood that a group of Maritime Province men in conjunction with a Montreal Banker have secured control of The Charlottetown, Limited, of Sackville, New Brunswick, and The Amherst Foundry Company, Limited, of Amherst, Nova Scotia. It is understood that they contemplate re-organizing these Companies and promoting a new company to take over these long established concerns with a view to stimulating industrial growth in the Atlantic Provinces. The people of the East will undoubtedly be glad to hear that these industries, which do business from Sackville to Vancouver, are to be developed and expanded, for their successful operation directly benefits the towns of Sackville, and Amherst and indirectly, exerts a beneficial business influence upon the whole Maritime Provinces. The effort to consolidate, enlarge and develop named goods and stove manufacturing in the Maritimes undoubtedly deserves the loyal and wholehearted support and co-operation of our Maritime Province people.

IMMIGRATION AND PUBLICITY.

Ancient Document Advertising the "Colony" of Prince Edward Island in Great Britain In The Year 1843 as "The Granary of British America."

Very keen interest has been developed in the need of an Immigration and Publicity Department for Prince Edward Island since the late Mr. W. Douce was recently by Mr. J. O. Hyndman and Mr. Samuel Machin, an English Immigrant, and has brought to light the following ancient document which shows how very enterprising and enthusiastic Island citizens were 85 years ago, as regards the resources of our Province and the possibilities and attractions for Settlers. The Mr. W. Douce name is subscribed to the document was the grand-father of Mr. Victor W. Purdie of this City. It should serve as an urge to progressive action in these modern times.

INFORMATION TO EMIGRANTS

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND "The Granary of British America" The subject of Emigration appears to attract the particular attention of thousands in the Mother Country, and the Advertiser, who has resided in Prince Edward Island for twenty-one years, solicits the attention of those persons who have determined on Emigrating to the Island, to the fact that the Island is a most fertile and convenient British Colony, so justly styled by writers "The Granary of British America." Prince Edward Island is situated in the Gulf of St. Lawrence near the Shores of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, and is only a two days' travel by coach and steam-boat from Halifax, and within a thirteen days' travel by Cunard's Line of Atlantic steamers, or about a month's travel by sailing vessels from England. This Colony with its fertile soil, excellent water supply, and abundance of all kinds of grain, hay and vegetables, and cattle as in England; and agricultural implements suitable to the colony can be obtained there at very moderate prices. There are twelve agricultural societies established within the last few years, actively employed in introducing from different countries the most improved breed of live stock, and approved patterns of agricultural implements. To the emigrant, even though but a small capitalist, Prince Edward offers many advantages. First: its general prosperity, which is sufficiently proved by the increase of its exports, and its steadily improving revenue. Second: A healthy climate. Third: A plentiful supply of good water through the whole colony. Fourth: The fertility of the soil, and its freedom from all taxes burthensome to the settler. Fifth: The convenience of settlement, whereby the emigrant readily meets with employment, and receives liberal wages. To the British Emigrant it offers the desirable enjoyment of the benefits to be derived from the laws, language, customs, and manners of his native land; and he preserves in himself an identity of interest with that of the parent state. Eighth: The British capitalist may there profit by the investment of capital in the improvement of property; the limited in spending his income, or the agricultural labourer, by his industry, may soon provide a competency for himself and family. To the farmer, few places offers more real, less expensive, pleasurable, enjoyable, or to the latter a better remuneration for his labor. The honest, industrious, and sober agricultural labourer can in a few years enjoy the fruits of his industry with that independence, which, with limited means, is rarely obtained in the Mother Country. If punishable by common law, by fines and imprisonment or other infamous corporal punishment." By the same authority we are informed that, "Somewhat allied to this is the offence of profane and common cursing and swearing. According to later English statutes, every labourer, sailor or soldier, profanely cursing or swearing shall forfeit one shilling, every other person under the degree of gentlemen, two shillings, and every person of superior rank, five shillings, to the poor of the parish; and for every second conviction, double and every subsequent offense, treble the first sum forfeited." (Blackstone Book 4, p. 5.)

PROFANE WORDS

In addition to the graver faults forbidden by the second commandment and which we have just discussed are the lesser faults of profane words. This is of speaking in a light or loose way of God or Holy things, making free and careless use of words that are unbecoming in the mouths of Christians, such as: hell, devil, damnation, etc., or using words of Holy Scripture irreverently. Usually such expressions are thoughtlessly used and no great irreverence is intended in which case they are to be classed as venial sins, but should a greater irreverence of desecration creep in, the sin would become greater in proportion. Ever remember that every word that is uttered in offense to an Almighty and Infinite God and therefore as such is greater than any temporal evil that would ever befall us, we should ever strive, dearly beloved, to avoid committing it and should therefore diligently correct ourselves of any habits, thoughtlessly or otherwise, that we may have contracted of using words profanely.

In consideration of all the reasons given why we should obey the injunctions of the Second Commandment, we have every hope, dearly beloved, that each and every one of you will do all possible to avoid contracting habits of cursing, swearing, or using profane words, or of correcting faithfully any such habits if already contracted. We cannot think that any of you will ever be guilty of the terrible sin of blasphemy. The reverence due from us to God's Holy Name requires more of us, however, and we should not only strive to honour it in our own thoughts, words and acts, but should do our utmost to see that it is ever so honoured by others. St. Jerome on one occasion rebuked an ungodly man for his impious words. When asked why he presumed to do so, he said: "A dog may bark in his master's defence, and am I to stand by silent when God's Holy Name is blasphemed? I would sooner die than forbear to speak!"

How often indeed might not a tactful word of reproach or merely the exhibition of our disapproval prove a salutary lesson to another. Human respect, that makes us fear to dispense a friend, frequently leads us to submit to seeing God displeased and dishonoured rather than expose ourselves to a sharp word or a sneer on the part of that same God's creature.

By example also, we may help others to show due reverence to God and to the things of God, or at least to prevent others from showing Him irreverence in our presence. Finally, dearly beloved, we should do our share to repair, to God the injury done to Him by thoughtless or malicious dishonouring of His Holy Name. Hence should we strive with care and devotion the "Divine Praises" ordered to be said in reparation for blaspheming and we would very much like to see the Holy Name Society, instituted for the purpose of aiding, each other to avoid cursing, swearing, or profanation of Holy Names and things, as also the use of obscene language,—established in Our Diocese wherever feasible. It requires no more of its members than the ordinary duty of any earnest Christian and has proved itself in many instances a very efficient means of overcoming the frequent sins of the tongue.

By virtue of faculties received from the Holy See, we grant the same dispensation in the Lenten Fast and Abstinence as last year, and extend the time for Easter Duty from Ash Wednesday to Trinity Sunday. This Pastoral shall be read in every church in the Diocese on the first Sunday after its reception that the Pastor shall officiate therein.

SOLDIERS' PENSIONS COMMITTEE NAMED BY MINISTER OF HEALTH

OTTAWA, Feb. 20.—On the motion of Hon. Dr. King, Minister of Health, whose department includes Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, was secured the appointment of a special committee today, to consider pensions and other problems affecting returned soldiers. The personnel of the committee named is Messrs. Adhead, Calgary East; Arthur, Parry Sound; Black, Yukon; Sir Eugene Piset, Rimouski; Clark Burrard; Gershaw, Medicine Hat; Hepburn, Elgin; Hsiey, Kings-Hants; McLean, Melfort; McMillan, Muskoka; McPherson, Portage La Prairie; McLaren, St. John; Bird, Nelson; Ross, Kingston; Sanderson, South Perth; Speakman, Red Deer; Thorson, South Centre Winnipeg.

DR. A. W. CHASE'S K&L MIDWAY AND LIVER PILLS

Re-organization of the soldiers' department and the dismissal or resignation of many officials will make the proceedings of this committee of great interest. Last Summer a commissioner, a former Liberal candidate, was appointed to investigate the political activities of the officials in this department. The proceedings were private. Officials brought before the commissioner were not permitted counsel, nor were they allowed present when witnesses were testifying against them. No charge was proven, but in the evidence, which the Government sought to suppress, it was brought out that all appointments were, under Dr. King, made by Liberal members and Liberal patronage committees. It was sworn that no appointment could be made to the Christie Street Hospital, Toronto, without the approval of the then President of the Toronto Liberal Association. It was expected in the re-organization of the department and its inclusion in the work of the Minister of Health, there would be a decrease in the officials. The compulsory retirement of officials has not decreased the staff, as nearly every one has been replaced by an appointee approved by the Liberal Patronage Committee.
