—PLEASANT OUTING—Mr. W. E. Grimes of the C. G. R. staff and party passed through Kensington a few days ago and invited a Guardian scribe to accompany them and point out the beauty spots. They wended their way through fertile districts and comfortable farms on the Malpeque Road, stopping off to visit St. Mary's lovely church at Indian River, then on through this old and historic settlement to Richmond Bay, through Hamilton, Malpeque, Darnley, Sea View, on to Irishtown. Along the North Shore Road they were enraptured with the greenly undulating country. A call on Mr. John A. Cousins' most modern dairy plant was an added pleasure and the party reached home, having had a delightful outing.

—SAD BEREAVEMENT — Much sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Philip O. Yeo of Harmony in the death of their little son, Orville, who succumbed to scalds, which he received when he fell into a tub of boiling water. The little fellow was brought to the hospital two weeks ago, but little hope was entertained for his recovery as the greater part of his body was scalded. The little fellow passed away on Monday night. The remains were taken to Compton's Funeral Parlours and conveyed later to the home for burial. Two other children are left, a little girl, Olive, 3 years old, and an infant baby. The funeral is taking place today from the Church of God, Harmony.—S.

GERMAN HOUSE FRAU NOT USED TO SEEING "PAINTED WOMEN

Five days in New York were spent by German tourists recently. One of the women in the party, a Bremen housewife, who knew some English and had visited every European nation, was asked for her impressions of New York.

"We find it very funny," she said. "you have little buildings and then 50-storey buildings next. In Germany the churches are outstanding and here they are between shops and, O-o-h! And the cemeteries, too, squeezed in here. They look very unholy.

"New York women, they look very nice. But we are not used to seeing painted women. With me, I use powder and some people boycott me because I use a little powder and lipstick but some like it. But the ladies look here as if they were without any . . ." Here she used a German word and her interpreter, after solicitously asking her to repeat it, cleared his throat and said: "Well, er well—say that she thinks they look too artificial."

"The people here," she went on, "have no idea of decorating the windows of their stores. Ja, I have been to Fifth Avenue. They are very ugly. We are all so beautiful. Our small shops—how do you call it?—on the outside of town are better than Fifth Avenue, But the chauffeurs—they are the artists here. They go by right side and by left side of autos when they find the space."

"I go to find some very thin stockings," she concluded. "These we have not."

CANADIANS AND YANKS SEEKING WAY TO IMPROVE RELATIONS

Political differences which might lead to disturbance of relations between United States and Canada and to strife along the longest undefended frontier in the world, are being discussed frankly by representatives of the two countries in conference at Canton, N Y Four important figures in the conference are shown: LEFT to.. RIGHT—Owen D.. Young, financier; Sir Robert Borden, wartime premier of the Dominion; Dr. Richard E Sykes, retiring president of St. Lawrence University; Dr. W. Hamilton Fyfe, of Queen's University, Kingson, Ont.

of the town station of the R. C. M. P., shots were fired. There was no doubt but firearms were used by the strikers, said Col. Wood.

STILL IN CUSTODY

REGINA, July 2—Magistrate W. B. Scott in Royal Canadian Mounted Police Court late today refused to permit release of Arthur H. Evans and George Black, strike leaders, on bail.

Both Evans, commander of the trek, and Black, a lieutenant, face two charges under section 98 of the criminal code. One charges them with being members of an unlawful association, the relief camp workers union, and the other charges them with being officers of the union.

No plea was entered by either Evans or Black and they were remanded until July 9.

HEARS OF FATHER'S DEATH

REGINA, July 2.—Eight-year-old Margaret Millar came home from a Dominion Day picnic last night laughing and happy.

She stepped out of the station to hear newsboys shouting "extra — Detective Millar killed in riot."

"That is my daddy," cried the girl.

Inspector Fred Toop today told how the only daughter of Detective Millar heard of her father's death in the rioting between relief camp strikers, citizens and police. Her mother died when Margaret was born.

Detective Millar, on the city police force for 15 years, was killed when clubbed over the head during a melee in the Market Square. He had gone to assist a comrade who was being attacked by a group of men with clubs and sticks.

An inquest into Detective Millar's death is pending.

Kronstadt as its base.

Another militant anti-Japanese note was sounded by the organ of the War Department, the "Red Star," which demanded that an end be put "once and for all" to incursions into Russia's Far Eastern territory.

"We suggest that the Japanese militarists keep this in mind—if anyone with an imperialistic lust attempts to push back our frontiers, he will receive a blow that will make them reluctant to repeat the adventure for a long time."

Pravda said responsibility for invasion of Soviet territory and "murder" of Soviet frontier guards "results exclusively on the Japanese government," and the strongly-worded note delivered at Tokyo expressed the same contention.

C.Y.M.L. WIN FROM LEAGUE LEADERS 7-1

C. Y. M. L. unleashed a 10 hit attack on the Red Wings last night and left them on the short end of a 7-1 score. The consistent slugging of the C. Y. M. L. nine coupled with the seven errors committed by the Wings paved the way for the victory. The Red Wings were without the services of their stellar first baseman, Crossman who will be out of the game for two weeks due to a knee injury received in Monday night's game with Charlottetown. Warren was also absent from the Wing roster and with these two heavy hitters and consistent fielders gone the rest of the team seemed to fold up.

The game was very close up to the end of the fourth with C. Y. M. L. leading by a 2-1 margin on runs by Bob Clow and Dick Steele as against the solitary Wing run scored by Ward in the third. The C. Y. M. L. won the game in the fifth when Bernard, Ralph Clow, Harold Clow and Herman Durant singled in succession to drive in four runs. Harold Clow scored again for the C. Y. M. L. in the sixth. Darkness halted the game in the first of the seventh with the C. Y. M. L. bats still ringing as they had scored 5 runs on 4 singles and a double with two out.

Herman Durant, ace hurler of the C. Y. M. L., struck out seven of the opposing batsmen and allowed only seven hits which were well scattered. Sheen, young schoolboy pitcher for the Wings, was hit hard and often but was afforded poor support which contributed to his downfall. He struck out five men in six innings. Tonight's game makes it possible for the C. Y. M. L. to make a three cornered tie out of the second section if they can defeat the Pioneers Thursday night. Pioneers on the other hand can win the section by turning back the determined C. Y. M. L. nine Thursday night.
