Detroit Jammed To The Rafters With World Series Fans For Opener Today

By GAYLE TALBOT
DETROIT, Oct. 2—This baseball-frenzied city was jammed to the rafters with World Series fans today as Detroit Tigers and Chicago Cubs went through their final limbering-up for tomorrow's opening round of the seven-game championship set.

Not a hotel room was to be found by late arrivals and two lake steamers being used as floating hostels were similarly packed by the crowd that had flooded in to see the first peacetime series since 1914. Briggs Stadium, with its more than 55,000 seats, including some 14,000 bleachers, was certain to be a sell-out at game time, 1:30 p.m. E.S.T. (2:30 p.m. A.S.T.).

The rival managers, Steve O'Neill and Charlie Grimm of the Cubs, stood pat on their pitching choices for the opener. Bill Newhouse, Detroit's 25-game winner, was to face Hank Borowy, who was to be a sell-out at game time, 1:30 p.m. E.S.T. (2:30 p.m. A.S.T.).

The rival managers, Steve O'Neill and Charlie Grimm of the Cubs, stood pat on their pitching choices for the opener. Bill Newhouse, Detroit's 25-game winner, was to face Hank Borowy, who was to be a sell-out at game time, 1:30 p.m. E.S.T. (2:30 p.m. A.S.T.).

Don Johnson, in the opener, Johnson's neck, injured in a collision with umpire Babe Pinelli in Cincinnati last Thursday, was just about mended. Otherwise the Cubs reported in top shape for the battle, and the Tigers were getting around fairly spryly, too, except that Greenberg still limped on an injured right ankle and perhaps will not cover a great deal of territory in the field.

Richards, the veteran player, coach and minor league manager, was slated to catch the opener for the Tigers, and possibly every game of the series. Mickey Livingston, a right-handed batter, was to wear the mask for the Cubs in each game that a southpaw pitched for Detroit, with Paul Gillespie doing the honors against Tiger right-handers.

On the record, the Cubs enter the series with a heavier hitting outfit than the Tigers, and perhaps a better-rounded infield and outfield. The Tigers appeared to have the greater pitching staff, with a man like Newhouse standing an excellent chance of shutting out any team he faces.

Three Remain Favorites
With Newhouse, a slim southpaw prepared to bar down on the Cubs' left-handed hitting array of Phil Cavarretta, Stan Hack and Bill Nicholson, the Tigers remained firm 3-to-7 favorites to win the opener, and 10-13 choice of the bookmakers to capture the series. The first three games will be played here, after which the clubs will jump overnight to Chicago to finish the set.

Borowy will have the important advantage of being pitched against the American League champions for a number of years while the Cubs have never wavered in his belief that the youthful-looking, multi-talented right-hander will get the Cubs off on the winning side. The Tigers, speaking privately, have expressed a lot of respect for Borowy's skill.

While O'Neill predicted flatly that his Tigers, who had to fight right to the final day to sew up their flag, would capture the series by four games to two, Grimm preferred to let the Cubs state speak for themselves.

Manager Grimm arrived at the park early today, swathed in an overcoat, and watched the Tigers go through a lengthy hitting and fielding drill. He and O'Neill congratulated each other on winning the pennants and posed for a battery of cameras.

Grimm thought he would be able to start his crack second baseman,

H. R. All Stars Claim Island Title

Henry Gauthier hurled both games for the winners. Following is the lineup of the Charlottetown team: Gus McLeod, Henry Gauthier, Jack Hennessey, Ivan Monaghan, Dan Larter, Bernie Trainor, Mike Connolly, Earl Smith and Frank Larter.

If present plans succeed this team will play an exhibition game with Truro in the near future.

Maritime Senior Baseball Finals Cut To 5 Games

(By The Canadian Press)
SAINT JOHN, N. B., Oct. 2—Shortening of the Maritime senior baseball finals from a best-in-five to a best-in-three series was announced today owing to a second postponement and lateness of the season.

After a washout Saturday and yesterday's 8-4 victory by Saint John St. Peter's over Springhill Fence Busters in the opener, the second game was rained out today.

Johnny Harvey of Lefty Cunningham will be Saint John's pitching choice tomorrow while Len Bois, ace righthander, is expected to do the hurling for Springhill.

SOVIET DEMAND—

Mr. Molotov was said to have argued that when a group of powers reached an agreement and then one or more of them realized their mistake they should reconsider and repeat it.

To this Mr. Bevin is understood to have said he had never heard of anything more like Hitlerian methods. As Russian as this was translated into Russian, the irrefutable fact was that the Soviet Union would not be drawn into a conference.

"Unless that remark is withdrawn I am leaving the room and there will be a few seconds of silence," then it was reported that Bevin said that he withdrew his remarks.

Tonight at the end of the meeting there was "perfect harmony" according to an official who attended. He said Mr. Molotov and Mr. Bevin shook hands and stood around a smorgasbord in Lancaster House chatting and smiling.

"Ladies and Gentlemen— In greeting you, gallant officers and men of the Second and Eighth Medium Batteries, and in bidding you welcome home on this memorable occasion, I wish to congratulate each and every one of you on your splendid service record on behalf of this, your native province. living in the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence basin.

The bill proposed today asks the President to work out a plan for making the project self-liquidating through toll charges on shipping. It also asks that the Government cover perpetual navigation rights on the lakes and river and control of water diversion from Niagara Falls.

Sen. Aiken said the President and most senators were "enthusiastic in favor" of immediate approval of the project.

When the latest agreement was reached in 1941, the Canadian Government announced it would ratify a similar agreement in treaty form, but it was rejected in 1942 by the United States Senate.

Patriarch of Jerusalem Shot

CAIRO, Oct. 1 (AP)—Archbishop Anan, Theophilus, patriarch of Jerusalem, was shot to death today while walking in the grain fields of Ban I Seuf Monastery in Upper Egypt.

His black-robed body, pierced through the chest by two bullet wounds, was found in a ditch near the grain fields between Ban I Seuf and Fayoum.

Associates said the Archbishop had been negotiating for the hire of two trucks to haul foodstuffs produced by the Monastery, and they believed previous handlers of the grain fields were under arrest.

The Archbishop, in addition to administering the entire wealth of the Coptic Church in Palestine, was trustee of the Monastery property.

with a Conservative Government. The Government could exercise no power that was not delegated to it by the House of Commons. It thought it wise to pass that act. It provided that the powers should start when a proclamation was issued declaring a state of war and end when proclamation declared the state of war had ended.

"Actual hostilities have ceased but a state of war still exists at the present time," he said.

If any member of Parliament wished to end the powers exercised by the Government he could introduce a bill to repeal the War Measures Act. The Government could not end the powers exercised by a majority of the Commons.

Mr. St. Laurent said there were a total of 94,731 formal acts of Government since the outbreak of war to last month. They included 56,200 orders-in-council and 38,529 minutes of treasury board approved by council.

Large numbers of these related to contracts for war supplies, buildings and land, appointments to an resignations from the Government service, purely administrative in character. Of those which concerned actual legislation a great number related to the application of price and wage control. This probably accounted for the larger number of orders in the Second Great War, compared with the First Great War.

They have been three adventurous years for the young "W.I.s." They have been under the fire of Nazi bombs, flying bombs and rockets; have grieved up and gone without, like the people of Britain; have seen Queen Elizabeth and the Duchess of Gloucester; and won the admiration and respect of ordinary folk.

Here are the survivors of that 1942 contingent, all of whom arrived as "lowly airmen":

Mr. and Mrs. John Ellsworth had guests from Watertown, Mass., in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kelly, while Miss Thankful Newson had the pleasure of entertaining Mrs. Ackland of Shelburne Nova Scotia.

Another welcome visitor was Gunner Parker McAasik of Charlottetown, who lately arrived from overseas with the 2nd Battery.

We are proud to recall that two of our boys, Sgt. Andrew Gas and Sgt. Elton Dooker, members of the 2nd Med. Battery, These men and their comrades went overseas early in the war and did their full measure of duty in the greatest war ever waged in the history of mankind. A gala reception was tendered them in Charlottetown, but let us hope that when the shouting and the tumult dies, they and all the other men who played such a gallant part in freeing democracy from its threatened chains and slavery, may not be left to neglect as so many were after the war of 1914-1918.

Visiting Kingston and the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Newson, are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Aldridge, Boston.

Residents of Kingston have donated the money for a suitable memorial to honor the soldiers who fought or gave their lives in the war just ended. The exact site where the monument will stand has not been definitely decided upon, but it will be located within the village limits.

On Saturday, Sept. 30th, Mr. and Mrs. Whitfield Joy celebrated the 25th anniversary of their marriage at their home here. The event was attended by neighbors as well as near relatives from Lorne Valley, Rustico and Dundas. Appropriate gifts, together with a tidy purse, were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Joy, along with hearty good wishes for their future happiness. The anniversary lunch, followed by dancing, brought to a close a most enjoyable evening.
