VALUABLE PRESENTATION

On the evening of June 8th the friends and relations of Private Damon Ross of the 105th Battalion waited on him at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. John A. Ross, Flat River and presented him with an ensignette no. 2 camera, a ten dollar toilet set and the sum of fifteen dollars. The following address was also read by Miss Earla Gillis and the presentation made by Mr. David Balderson, Mr. Ross, though taken by surprise replied in a few well chosen remarks. Among the guests present was Mr. W. A. McQueen D. C. M. who has returned from the front and who is now convalescing at his home, Mount Vernon. Tea was served and the remainder of the evening was spent pleasantly with music and singing.

After thanking the host and hostess for their hospitality and kindness extended the company dispersed with the singing of "God Save the King."

Dear Damon:—We your neighbours and friends hearing of your departure with the 105th Battalion consider it our duty to express our admiration of the decision you have made and which certainly entails the sacrifice of those privileges which we all enjoy in a land of freedom and of peace. It is evident that our country needs a supreme effort put forth by loyal subjects and we trust that you will be spared to return and have the satisfaction of looking back and realizing that you have done your part in laying the proud head of tyranny in the dust. Perhaps it is not amiss to remind you of Oliver Cromwell's admonition to his men "Fear God and Keep Your Powder Dry."

Please accept this small gift as a token of our good will towards you. The home fires will be kept burning and we shall look for the silver lining. Rest assured that whether in camps or on the battlefield the good wishes of your friends will follow you; and we pray that our Heavenly Father will be your shield in the day of battle and that he may restore you safe to your friends who will be watching and waiting with open arms to receive you.

There will be a game of baseball this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock between the old rivals the Abbies and Vics. As it is the first game it no doubt will prove quite interesting.

In the Line of Fire

THE mortality table shows that nine out of each 1,000 die every year, says The Life Underwriters' News.

Put a thousand of them side by side in a straight line faced by a like number of soldiers, each with a rifle in his hand; 991 of these rifles are loaded with blank cartridges and nine contain real bullets.

All of these men are 35 years of age and they know that nine of their number will fall when the command to fire is given, but of course they are unaware who these nine will be.

At this moment there appears a life assurance agent, offering to each man the opportunity of protecting himself against the certainty of death in the ratio of nine to 1,000.

What happens? Every sensible man of that thousand immediately steps forward and takes out life insurance. You are in the line of fire! Have you a Mutual policy?

Corporal Campbell made a fitting reply, warmly thanking those who had so kindly remembered him. A speech followed from Captain A. McLeod of "B" Co., who referred to the war and the splendid manner in which so many young men of this province have answered the call of duty. Mr. Nell Campbell of Charlottetown in a well-voiced speech spoke of the good conduct of the men of the 105th and the high estimation in which they are held by the citizens of Charlottetown, and said that although they would miss them, they felt assured that they would nobly uphold the cause of the Empire. Mr. Malcolm McLean also spoke along the same lines. The balance of the evening was spent in dancing, violin music being furnished by Mr. Amos Monaghan, while Mr. N. McDonald supplied stirring pipe music.

Following is a copy of the address: Corporal Norman G. Campbell, Darlington, P. E. I. On behalf of your numerous friends, admirers, and well-wishers, we feel that we cannot allow you to depart from your native land without giving expression to our feelings of regret at parting, and of pride in you for the step that you have taken.

In joining the 105th Regiment you have given the greatest evidence of your patriotism, your courage, and your loyalty. No man can do more, and both you, and your brave comrades in the splendid Regiment with which you are connected have signified their determination to uphold the integrity of the Empire, and to fight for the freedom of mankind.

At the residence of Mr. Angus Campbell, Darlington, on June 2, there assembled a large number of the friends and acquaintances of Corp. Norman Campbell of the 105th Battalion to bid him farewell. After a sumptuous repast provided by Mr. and Mrs. Campbell a well-voiced address was presented to the gallant young soldier together with a valuable wristlet watch, also a well filled purse of money.

All who know you as an acquaintance, and those who are more intimately associated with you as companions, feel convinced that you and your brave comrades will do your duty faithfully, and with that heroism, fortitude, and endurance for which the Celtic races are renowned. You will be greatly missed when you leave us, and you will carry with you on your long voyage across the ocean, and to the battlefields of France, our heartfelt wishes for your safety and our fervent hope for your return after the war.

Assuring you that we will watch with eagerness for all news of the 105th Regiment, and asking you to accept the accompanying gift, made possible by the encouragement of your uncle, Mr. John Campbell, we beg to remain, Yours sincerely,

BODIES FROM HAMPSHIRE.
THURSO, Scotland, June 8.—Via London—Several bodies from the cruiser Hampshire, on which Field Marshall Earl Kitchener and members of his staff were lost, are being brought here. Among them is that of Lieut. Col. O. A. Fitzgerald, private military secretary to Earl Kitchener. There is no confirmation of rumors that some survivors of the sunken Hampshire have been found, and these rumors are believed to be unauthentic.
