—A DOUBLE BARRELED COMPLIMENT—A good story was told yesterday by a man who happened in Moncton as the 105th B. E. L. Overseas Regiment Troop Trains arrived in that city. As customary, the men were lined up and marched around the city for exercise. The quickness and precision with which each Company, as well as the band, found its place, evoked much favorable comment. Although numerous Troop Trains pass through, it was said that the Island Battalion made the best showing of any. A traveller who heard eulogistic comments remarked: "That's nothing—they're all R. T. His many friends in this Province will unite in the hope that his life and work in the Church may be blessed.

Red Letter Day At O'Leary

This will be a red letter day in the history of O'Leary and the surrounding country, when the old and familiar store of Mr. H. W. Turner will be opened up by its new owners, the Messrs. Sinclair & Stewart, Limited, of Summerside. Mr. Turner's business has been a feature and a landmark in O'Leary for many years and there is no doubt that under its new management, and as part of a much larger commercial concern it will continue to be the centre and the attraction of this thriving village and its progressive neighborhood. The Messrs. Sinclair & Stewart, Limited are to be congratulated on securing this business, situated as it is in one of the most progressive sections of the province. It will be considered as part of the main store at Summerside, one of the largest in the province, stocked with the same class of goods and sold at the same prices as at Summerside. That the additional purchasing power consequent upon the increased output will be of great advantage not only to the firm but to their customers goes without saying. O'Leary and vicinity will have all the advantages, both of quality and price of a city store, admittedly one of the most progressive in the Maritime Provinces, while the firm will have the privilege of catering to a class of customers whose ability to purchase and to discriminate as to quality is not surpassed anywhere in the province. The Guardian heartily congratulates the people of O'Leary on the forward step made possible for them by the enterprise and progressiveness of the Messrs. Sinclair and Stewart, Limited.

A well-known resident of Cornwall, Mr. Henry Drake, died very suddenly getting up in the morning he went out to his stables to look after his stock. As he did not come in to breakfast as soon as his wife expected she went out to see him. Just as she got to the stable he fell while coming out the door. Death was instantaneous due to heart failure. Deceased, though able to be around much the same as usual had been in failing health for some time. He was in the city on Tuesday and his friends noticed that he did not seem to be so robust as formerly. Thursday afternoon he drove two and a half miles. He was 71 years of age and a very highly respected gentleman. Besides his widow the following brothers survive: Robert, the eldest, John in Charlottetown, William in Boston, James in W. River, and Samuel on the homestead; and one sister, Mrs. George A. Boyle in British Columbia; also six sons, three at home and two in the west, and one in Brandon, Man., and one at home. The funeral takes place Sunday afternoon.

Roumanian Queen is Strongly Pro-Ally

(Canadian Press Despatch.) NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 29.—An officer of the medical corps of the British army, who has been in Russia and Roumania, as a member of the British Red Cross commission, in those countries, and who left Roumania only a few weeks ago, told last night of the part that the Roumanian Queen has played in swinging her country in line as an ally of the Entente powers.

Owing to his official position, this officer asked that his name be not used.

"If a woman," he said "has had a powerful influence with respect to the position of Greece in the war, it may also be said that a woman has exercised not a little influence as regards the Roumanian position.

"The Queen of Roumania is enthusiastically pro-Ally," in her sympathies which she has been at no pains to conceal, for she is of a very outspoken disposition. While her husband is a Hohenzollern Prince, he is far from sharing the strongly militaristic tendencies of the head of his family, and the Queen is the daughter of an English Prince, by a Russian Princess. Her father was the late Duke of Edinburgh, brother of King Edward, the uncle of the present King George, and her mother was the daughter of the Czar Nicholas.

"The Queen of Roumania is a beautiful and brilliant woman, to whom her husband, himself a man of marked ability, is devotedly attached.

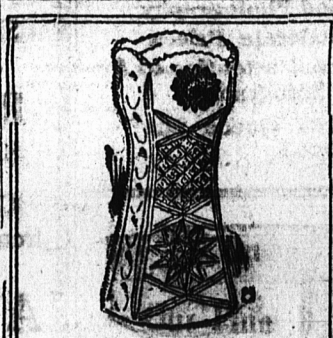

"She is somewhat impulsive and unconventional, and is greatly beloved by the people, interesting herself in a number of philanthropic movements.

"Since the outbreak of the war, she has kept herself in touch with her English and Russian relations, and has been able to enlighten her husband with respect to certain facts, which might not possibly have been otherwise duly impressed upon him."

Box cars were blown off the track, wire poles uprooted, and hundreeds of windows broken. At Bana, Sask., a school was demolished, burying the teacher and twenty-one pupils in the debris. One girl is dead, and others were injured severely. The town of Bromhead, Sask., caught fire during the storm, and was practically wiped out.
