

WEAK AND NERVOUS BRILLIANT ISLAND LADY

Magistrate Dauphine's Deplorable Condition.

Despite Medical Treatment, He Became Weaker and Weaker Until He Could Scarcely Sign His Name.

Mr. James Dauphine, of East Bridge-water, or as he is better known as ex-Councilor Dauphine, has been a sick man for the past three years. His health gradually grew weaker, until by degrees he was forced to give up doing all kinds of work. He consulted a physician and took a large quantity of medicine, but it did him no good and he gradually grew weaker and weaker. His duties as a magistrate necessitated his doing much writing, and being an excellent penman in his days of good health it came very hard to him when his hand shook so much he could scarcely keep it steady enough to sign his name. His daughter, seeing his deplorable condition, advised him to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after a bit of coaxing he was induced to try them. There was no noticeable change in his condition until he had started taking the third box. From that on the improvement was rapid. He grew stronger every day, his appetite increased, the weariness and lassitude departed from his limbs, some of the lustre of his youth returned to his eye, and by the time five boxes were used, Mr. Dauphine felt a new man. The weight of years and the burden of sickness have rolled from his shoulders, his hands are now steady and his pen can run as rapidly as ever. He attributes his cure to the ministrations of a good wife and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mr. Dauphine is 73 years of age, but feels as young and vigorous as he did years ago, and is ever ready to praise in the warmest terms the health-giving qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the friend of the weak and ailing. They surpass all other medicines in their tonic, strengthening qualities, and make weak and dependent people bright, active and healthy. These pills are sold by all dealers in medicine, or can be had by mail, post paid, at 50 cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

How Mrs. Evangeline Hartz, a Member of the Colorado House of Representatives Succeeded as a Public Woman.

The following extract will be read with interest. The Mrs. Evangeline Hartz referred to is the eldest daughter of Chas. Clay, Esq., Bridgetown, Dundas.

Miss Clay was married while quite a young woman to John Hartz, and they made their home in Charlottetown for three years. Then John Hartz and his brother decided to come to Colorado and see if they could accomplish the magic feat known as "striking it." That was in '78. The next spring Mrs. Hartz joined her husband, bringing with her a four months' old baby.

The years passed on, and Mrs. Hartz continued to read politics and consider the trend of the times, while she kept house and brought up her two boys. One morning, just as her bread was ready to go into the oven, she read a stirring appeal in The News for every taxpayer and public minded citizen to be at the city hall at 9 o'clock to enter a protest against the City park steal. She kneaded down the bread, put it in a cool place, and started for the city hall. It was crowded, and the council adopted the tactics of trying to tire out those who were gathered to hear its discussion on the park matter. They did routine business for three hours then adjourned. Frank Leary demanded the use of the hall for a public meeting which was refused. Mrs. Hartz stood at one door and Miss Elizabeth Eddy and Mrs. Rand at the other expostulating with the crowd and assuring them it was a ruse, until such an amount of feeling was stirred up that it would have been very dangerous for the council to have convened to pass the measure. Then the Republican went for these ladies, The News told what they had done, and they started out to collect money to hire the Broadway. They had a meeting which was broken up by persons who shall be nameless. That was Mrs. Hartz's advent into public life. No one knows what became of the bread.

In 1896 mainly through the efforts of Mrs. Rand, she was nominated for the Eleventh General Assembly, and elected. In that body she made an enviable record. Everyone always knew where to find her on important measures. The leading bill introduced by her was that establishing a state board of arbitration. She had twenty-two other bills, but this one, and the bill providing that meetings of the school boards should be public were the only ones that passed.

It elected this fall she desires to stand first for the measures advocated by women. She hopes also to get an amendment to her arbitration law making it compulsory. It was first tried in the great Northern coal strike, and failed to accomplish what she had desired because the mine owners refused to abide by the decision of the board. Among other measures which may hope for her hearty assistance are the Community Property bill, introduced in the last legislature, and bill providing that voters at school elections must be registered, and that all philanthropic institutions must be under the supervision of the state board of charities and corrections.

She is a very earnest, conscientious woman, and will do her very best always. The labor people expect her to mother many of their bills. Four years ago they gave her the vote of thanks of 5,000 railway employes for assisting in the passage of what was known as the "Frog-blocking" bill. In the last national campaign, Mr. Hartz accompanied the late John D. Vaughn in a tour of the doubtful states, speaking for Bryan, more especially before organizations of working men. Mrs. Hartz will prove an invaluable member of the next house, and women are to be especially congratulated upon her presence there.

Mrs. Evangeline Hartz, member of the Colorado House of Representatives, was made chairman of the committee on enrollment and a member of the committees on appropriations and expenditures, education, state institutions, temperance and public health. She introduced a bill providing for the submission of a constitutional amendment, under which the next legislature would be able to establish compulsory arbitration of labour disputes. Mrs. Hartz also acted as speaker of the House for an entire day.

CHEAPER TO RETIRE THE OLD EMPLOYEES.

Said That Commercial Success of the United States is Due to Confidence in Young Men.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—The question of how to deal with old men is agitating British employers. The feeling is growing that the commercial success of the United States is due to its confidence in young men and to its willingness to promote them to responsible positions.

Seymour Bell, the British commercial agent in Chicago, yesterday afternoon attended a meeting of the London Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of advising its members how to increase English trade in America. One of the first questions was asked by Mr. H. L. Symonds, managing director of Mordani & Co., the largest manufacturers of novelties in Great Britain, who wished to know what the United States does with its old men.

RETARDING OF PROGRESS. "This is the most crucial question confronting our manufacturers," he said. "Everywhere we are loaded with employees from 50 to 60 years of age, who retard progress at every step. In my opinion it would be cheaper to retire them on half pay and substitute youthful energies and ideas."

Mr. Symonds declared that Americans in similar cases did not employ men over 45 years of age, and that such men were frequently compelled to take menial positions.

He said that he knew of an instance where a young man who had been receiving $15,000 a year was now glad to work for $15 a week.

Charles S. Drummond, doctor of the British Electric Traction Company, said: "I am convinced that England is on the brink of a commercial revolution. Young men, long repressed and discouraged, are revolting. Inspired by the many examples of success among the youth of America and the colonies, they demand that they be given the same opportunities at home."

"They attribute England's apparent inability to cope with the Yankees to the fossilized methods of the elders. The elder men will be surely forced to the wall unless they speedily awake to the necessity of proceeding on modern lines."

Mr. Drummond went on to state that the only way England could meet America on equal terms was the prompt introduction of labour-saving machinery and the specializing of work by individual factories. A member of the chamber pointed out that such a reform would meet with an initial difficulty in the opposition of trades unions to the introduction of labour-saving devices. He foresaw trouble ahead for employers and workmen.

Night Coughs

Don't you dread to have night come? The children cough so hard. And how many things have you tried? A great many, certainly. They don't seem to reach just the place. But you can reach it exactly by using Vapo-Cresolene.

You put a little Cresolene in the vaporizer cup, light the lamp beneath, and let the children breathe-in the vapor. The throat is soothed, all inflammation is allayed, congestion is relieved, and sleep is not disturbed. Continue this each night until a cure is effected, which will be in a surprisingly short time. Remember it's harmless to the youngest child. There isn't any trouble of the throat or lungs that cannot be relieved with Vapo-Cresolene. It always does good. And for whooping-cough it is the one great specific. Doctors everywhere endorse it.

S. H. MURPHY, M.D., Glendale, N.Y.—"I have used the Vapo-Cresolene in six cases of whooping-cough of long standing, with marked relief in twenty-four hours, and entire cure in from three to five days. I have also used it in nasal catarrh, bronchitis and pharyngitis, catarrhal and diphtheritic, with great benefit. It is of great value in diphtheria."

CURES WHILE YOU SLEEP.

Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists everywhere, or will be forwarded, express and customs duty paid, upon receipt of regular price. A Vapo-Cresolene outfit, including the Vaporizer and Lamp, which should last a life-time, and a bottle of Cresolene, complete, $1.50; extra supplies of Cresolene, 25 cents and 50 cents. Illustrated booklet containing physicians' testimonials free upon request. VAPOR-CRESOLENE CO., 180 Fulton St., New York, U.S.A.—118.
