Mr. Newson Sings Again
 Under this heading the Edmonton Journal publishes the following review of Mr. D. V. Newson's latest book of poems:
 For a long period in the history of English literature it was the settled belief of writers and readers alike that solitude was an absolute necessity to a poet. Not mere occasions of retirement—a few days or weeks at the outside—but a constant living alone, separate even from friends, meeting no strangers and devoting oneself solely to the "cultivation of the muse."
 Modern thought has strayed from this idea of the hermit poet and has come to the belief that the true poet is he who can, amid whatever stress of business his living demands withdraw his thoughts from that which is merely material or mechanical, indulge himself in fantasy, and create his own solitude. We have such a poet who is a citizen of Edmonton and who has demonstrated that in the occupation of compiling statistics about doctors and cents, certainly a most prosaic undertaking, has not prevented him giving expression to the undoubted gift of poetry that he possesses.
 In the series of chap-books published by the Ryerson Press, there are few authors whose names appear more than once. Of these few, W. V. Newson is one. His latest collection is entitled "Waifs of the Mind," and the introduction is written by Emily P. Murphy. This little book of thirty-one poems contains many lines that readers will gladly tuck away in their memories as things of beauty.
 Were any apology needed for the publication of these poems, it would be found in the author's own address to his verses as he sends them out:
 "But, I hope, my children, that you will find
 A few that will love you, because you're you
 And because you always tried to be true
 To whatever thoughts you were meant to tell
 Of the many moods of the mind—
 farewell!"
 Here we have the thought that dominates all the poet's writing, the desire to express truth and beauty whether found in the outer world or in the world of imagination. It is not difficult to find stanzas that readily appeal to one's sense of music and of beautiful form. It is more difficult, however, to say, after such a culling, which one is the first in favor. In "Saba by the Lake" we read:
 "The God of ages a chalice made
 And gently placed it within a glass,
 And then he filled it with molten
 blue—
 'Twas thus, O Saba, that God
 made you."
 He who has been brought up far from the great lakes or the ocean will readily recognize his own thought on seeing either of these when he reads:
 "And fleets of boats that seemed to sail too high
 Until we saw the sea-line in the sky."
 But with all the love of the great outdoors we find mingled the searching questions of the poet's mind, the longing for knowledge of the infinite, and at the same time the trustfulness that the safe harbor will be reached at last.
 "But he wins at the close of the day;
 His face is glad; he has found
 the way.
 How cool and calm is the lengthening
 shade!
 The communing hour and time of lamps!
 A lantern hangs in the gypsy camps!
 Beams on the hill-tops! stars in the skies!
 And a light in each old person's eyes."
 Perhaps the strongest impression that this little book will make on the reader is this: "This poet knows and writes of things that have come to my own mind; that have sympathy with everybody; people like myself. While he communes with the world of imagination, he is able to convey its message clearly to ordinary simple folk."
 Brilliant Description for Child of Eleven
 That the poetic fancy runs in the Newson family is evident from the following graphic description of a picture hanging on the school room wall written by Patricia Newson when eleven years old and for which she carried off first prize:
 "At Dusk"
 "Dusk was gradually creeping over the earth. Two children waited eagerly while their mother picked for them some of the brightly colored autumn leaves which clung loosely around a small withered tree. Nearby stood a huge oak, very different to the one the children

PLAYER BARRED IN A. H. L.
 ST. PAUL, Dec. 29.—"Spunk" Sparrow, forward on the Minneapolis hockey team, has been permanently barred from play in the American Hockey Association for his part in the free-for-all fight in the game between St. Paul and Minneapolis last night.
 This action was announced today by President Al Warren.
 No action was taken against "Moose" Goheen and Babe Donnelly who staged a first fight when Goheen collided with Donnelly. They were separated when Sparrow attacked Goheen with his hockey stick. Other players were drawn into the fight and a few spectators took a hand before police restored order.
 MONTREAL, Dec. 29.—Asked as to the effect of the banishment of "Spunk" Sparrow of the Minneapolis hockey team from play in the American Hockey Association, the headquarters of the National Hockey League today said that, under existing agreements, the action of the American Association automatically put Sparrow outside the pale of the various leagues affiliated with the National Hockey League, as well as the National Hockey League itself.
 Frank Calder, president of the league, was not in his office.

Bobby Jones Holes Out In Law Cases
 ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 29.—Bobby Jones, the golfer, "holed out" in law. The young amateur is posted today as one of seven candidates who passed examination or admission to his junior year in the law school of Emory University. His father has long been a practicing attorney here.
 Bobby has been taking his studies seriously for some time and only recently announced he would not return to England next spring to defend his British open title because of his class work. He said that his decision was final, adding that "it simply can't be done because school will not be out at the time the tournament is held."

Harrington Sees Self As Free Man
 NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 29.—Leland "Hazy" Harrington has no contract with the Boston Bruins team of the National Hockey League and therefore is not subject to recall or suspension by the Bruins, he announced here today.
 Harrington declared that he signed a contract with the New Haven Eagles team of the Canadian-American Hockey League after he joined the team, on the advice of Art Ross of the Bruins, and now intends to stick to it.
 According to the rules of the National Hockey League, Harrington declared, a player can a player himself a free agent if a contract is not offered him before Nov. 5. Not having received such an offer, he signed with New Haven.

Kremer Leads All Nat. League Hurlers
 NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—National League pitching averages, released today, show that Renny Kremer, Pittsburgh, was the leading pitcher with the lowest average of 2.47 runs earned per game.
 Kremer also led in respect to 1926. Lawrence J. Benton, Boston, leads the league on the basis of games won and lost, with 17 victories and 7 defeats for a percentage of 708.
 Charles H. Root, Chicago, and John W. Scott, Philadelphia, took part in the most games, 48. Arthur C. Vance, Brooklyn; James L. Haines, St. Louis, and Leo Meadows, Pittsburgh, pitched the most complete games, 25 each. William C. Erhardt, Brooklyn, finished the most games, 26.
 Root pitched the most innings, 209; won the most games, 25; and allowed the most bases on balls, 117. Haines pitched the most shutouts, 6. Scott lost the most games, 21; allowed the most sacrifice hits, 49; the most runs, 154; and the most earned runs, 132. Meadows allowed the most hits, 315. Peter J. Donohue, Cincinnati, pitched the smallest number of bases on balls, 32.
 Vance led the league in strikeouts, for the sixth consecutive year, with 18 to his credit. During this period Vance has fanned a total of 1,137 batsmen. Frank S. May, Cincinnati, hit the most batters, 14, and made the most wild pitches, 8.

Delaney Issues Terms
 BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Dec. 29.—Jack Delaney, former light-heavyweight champion, will not appear in a New York ring unless he meets for the winner of the Jack Sharkey-Tom Heeney battle or replaces Sharkey against Heeney next month. Joe Jacobs, Delaney's manager, announced here today.
 Those old enemies, gas, acidity, pain and discomfort are soon knocked for a fare-thee-well by Seigel's Syrup. Any drug store.

RICKARD FORE CASTS CHIEF FEATURES OF 1928
 NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Forecasting what he believes will be the chief features of the 1928 boxing season, Tex Rickard today predicted five new ring champions will be crowned and that Jack Dempsey's second comeback will offer a prelude to one heavyweight championship match for Gene Tunney.
 These predictions were contained in an article under Rickard's signature in the New York Evening World. The promoter, in a similar article a year ago, forecast the passing of Charlie (Pud) Rosenberg as bantamweight champion and Pete Latzo as welterweight.
 Rickard's heavyweight program shapes up much like that of 1927. The promoter dispels talk of Dempsey being matched with Tunney, minus any preliminary engagement, by asserting that the champion first must prove his right to another title bout.
 Dempsey, Jack Sharkey, and Tom Heeney are regarded by Rickard as the "first line" of heavyweight challengers. He expects one of them to be Tunney's opponent in a 15-round championship match in September at the Yankee Stadium, where $100,000 will be spent improving the seating arrangements so as to accommodate 100,000 spectators.
 Paulino Uzcudun, Jack Delaney and Johnny Risko, Rickard's favorites, at least temporarily, form the first line of contenders. Un-

Would Like To Stay Longer, He Says
 (Special to the Guardian)
GAUJEMALA CITY, Guatemala, Dec. 29.—This city kept holiday today to honor Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, United States flier who arrived here yesterday from Mexico City on the first lap of a tour of Central America. The first event on the visitor's program was a reception by President Lazaro Chacon at 9:30 a. m. At 11 a. m. the Chamber of Commerce was to tender him a reception. From 4 to 6 this afternoon the aviator was to be at the United States legation with the minister of foreign affairs who was favorably impressed with the wonderful reception I received upon my arrival in the first Central America country I visited." Lindbergh told the United Press. "I would like to stay here for two weeks at least, but I have other engagements to meet, so I will have to leave for Salvador Friday."

The Markets
 MONTREAL, Dec. 29.—Extra dullness again marked the export trade in Canadian grain here today, there being practically no demand from any source. The domestic trade in coarse grains was also slow but the demand for spring and winter wheat grades of flour was of a limited character but prices were firm. A moderate amount of business was worked in all lines of millfeed and the tone was steady. The market for standard grades of rolled oats was quiet and prices were unchanged. Owing to the liberal supplies of hay coming forward for the season of the year and the limited demand a weaker feeling developed here and prices were reduced fifty cents per ton. No. 2 timothy was quoted at $13.00 to $13.50 per ton. An active business was done in all grades of fresh and storage eggs and values were noted firm. The receipts were 407 cases. The poultry trade continued quiet and prices were unchanged. Car lots of Prince Edward Island Green Mountains were quoted at $115 per bag of 90 lbs.; Prince Edward Island Whites at $105 per bag of 90 lbs.; New Brunswick Green Mountains at $100 per bag of 90 lbs. in bulk, and New Brunswick Whites at 95 cents per bag of 90 lbs. in bulk extra. There was little demand for butter but the undertone remained steady. The receipts were 228 boxes.
 OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 29.—(Eggs)—There is no change of any consequence reported from Canadian egg markets today. The mild weather in Ontario and Western Quebec is having a depressing effect on markets.
 TORONTO, Ont.—The egg market here is unchanged but is easy and unsettled. Dealers are quoting country shippers for ungraded eggs delivered, extras 55-58, firsts 45, seconds 30-32. The poultry market is steady and the stocks on hand appears sufficient to meet the New Year demand.
 WINNIPEG—Receipts of eggs here for the week ending Dec. 24th, were 262 cases compared to 187 cases for the previous week. Prices are unchanged with the following country shipped, extras 52-60, firsts 45-55, seconds 35-40.

Senators Approve Calles Bill
 (Special to the Guardian)
MEXICO CITY, Dec. 29.—The Senate tonight unanimously passed in principle the Calles bill reforming articles 14 and 15 of the oil laws, which have been the source of friction between the United States and Mexico. The Senate will discuss the bill Thursday when it is expected to be definitely passed, the Senators generally expressing their intention to approve the amendment. The chamber of deputies passed the bill last night.

Maroons Defeat Black Hawks, 4-3
 COLISEUM, Chicago, Dec. 29.—A scoring spurge in the third period that netted three goals gave the Montreal Maroons a victory of 4-3 over the Chicago Black Hawks in their National League hockey match here tonight. The play was rough and speedy throughout, and was watched by a crowd of 6,500 spectators, the second largest crowd that ever saw a hockey game in Chicago.
 The Chicago team went to pieces after they lost the services of Captain Dick Irvia who sustained a fractured skull in the second period as a result of a crash into the side-boards, during a lively scrimmage with Dutton, the big Montreal defence player. Dutton landed on top of Irvia as they smashed into the boards. Dutton arose and skated away but Irvia was knocked out and had to be assisted from the ice.
 For two periods it appeared that the revamped Chicago team, strengthened by Ty Arbour and Duke Keats, might win the game decisively, but they lost the advantage after Irvia's injury.
 Stewart gave the Maroons the edge in the first period, scoring eight minutes after the face-off. Chicago came right back and overtook the lead on goals in rapid succession by MacKay, Irvin and Keats.
 Chicago played defensively in the second period and that session was scoreless.
 The winning rally started when Phillips tallied after the third period had gone a little more than five minutes. W. Tonhey then counted twice on unassisted plays for the tying and winning goals.
