

DELEGATION OF ACADIANS TO LOUISIANA

(Special to the Guardian) MONCTON, N. B., March 19.—A delegation of Acadians from New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, headed by His Honor A. T. LeBlanc, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick and Monsgr. Trudel of Lameque, N. B., representing the Societe Lassompion Nationale will leave Moncton on Sunday, April 12th, for Louisiana. This party has been organized as a result of the visit of the Acadians of Louisiana, headed by the Hon. Judge J. LeBlanc, public commissioner of Louisiana and candidate for the Governor of that State, to the land of Acadia last year. En route the party will visit Boston where they will be received by a committee representing the Acadians of New England under the presidency of Clarence F. Cormier. They will visit some of the old historic buildings in Boston and will be received at the State House by the Governor of Massachusetts. They will also visit the home of Longfellow who wrote the famous poem, "Evangeline," where they will be received by Mrs. J. G. Thomp, who was before her marriage Miss Annie Longfellow, a relative of the famous poet. The party will also visit Waltham, Mass., where a considerable number of Acadians have located. Leaving Boston they will visit New York, leaving there April 14th and arriving in New Orleans, Louisiana, April 16th.

While in Louisiana they will be present at the unveiling of a statue to Evangeline, at St. Martinville, where Evangeline, who was Emmeline Labrche, is buried. The party will visit the various Acadian centres in Louisiana and will leave New Orleans on April 20th on the return journey, which will be via Chicago, Toronto and Montreal. They will arrive in Toronto on Saturday afternoon April 25th, and leave the same evening for Montreal, arriving the following day, Sunday, which they will spend in that city, leaving the same night for Moncton.

Included in the party will be twenty-five comely Acadian girls dressed in the costume of Evangeline. The party from Moncton has been organized by the newspaper "Leveganline" of Moncton. There will also be a party from Quebec which has been organized by the newspaper "Le Devoir" of Montreal.

The tragic story of the Acadians is familiar to all, through Longfellow's poem, "Evangeline" and each year sees increasing numbers visiting the Acadian country in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. At Grand Pre a memorial chapel which also contains a museum has been erected on the site of the village, which has been made a park. Along the south shore district of Nova Scotia, centering around Pictou, may still be witnessed many of the ancient customs of the Acadians and there are numerous mementoes in this district of their early settlement of Nova Scotia. After the forcible removal of 1755, a band of six hundred strong, marched through the woods of northern Maine to their beloved Acadia and settled in the vicinity of Moncton, which is the largest Acadian centre in the Maritimes.

AMHERST VS. ABBIES TONIGHT FRIDAY

(Special to the Guardian) MONCTON, N. B., March 19.—The regular weekly meeting of the Y's Men's Club was held last evening in the Y. M. C. A. Parlors with Mr. Wilfred Livingston in the chair. The speaker was Judge W. S. Stewart who discussed the advance of civilization since the fifteenth century tracing the course of British and World history up to the present since that period. He showed that civilization has advanced remarkably during the time mentioned. Notwithstanding the fact of the Great War, people are now thinking of peace and world brotherhood more than at any other time in history. The speaker told a number of interesting stories concerning Sir John A. McDonald, and the leaders in Island political circles in pre-Confederation days.

PIRING ROBBERY.—On Monday evening the residence of Mrs. L. E. Prowse, Richmond Street was entered and ransacked by thieves who stole a large amount of valuable jewelry, including watches, rings and various other articles of great intrinsic value, also about $80 in cash from a box. The parties, still unknown, gained access to the house through the front door which had been left unlocked. The robbery took place between the hours of 7 and 11 p. m. when the family was absent from the house. The loss was discovered when Mrs. Prowse returned home about 11 o'clock, and was reported to the police who are working on the case.

EXPLAINS SITUATION.—With regard to the resolution passed by the City Council protesting the discharge by the Maritime Electric Co. of a number of local employees, The Guardian is informed that the services of no less than nine men have been dispensed with. One of these is a man who has been employed for seventeen years. There are several others who were discharged who are recent appointees of the company. Mr. L. W. Bryant, an official of the company, who is at present in the City, commenting on the rumour that the discharge of a number of prominent local men was pending states that the idea is ridiculous as the men in question are the most valued employees of the company. "It is the policy of the company," he said, "to never let any old employees go, except in cases of extreme necessity, due to extraordinary business conditions. I have never known of any old employee being let out without compensation."

"It is a policy of the company to use local people, but in this case it is impossible to take in an inexperienced man to a complicated accounting system," Mr. Bryant states by way of explanation. Mr. Bryant states that one employee demanded higher wages than the company could pay without transferring him. As the man in question refused to be transferred his services were dispensed with and a man from the mainland was appointed to fill his place.

(Special to the Guardian) SUMMERSIDE, Mar. 19.—An interesting game of hockey was staged in the Crystal rink last night between the Crystals and an All Star Prince County team composed of members of the intermediate league. This game has been postponed several times and on account of the inclemency of the weather and uncertainty of the trains the attendance was mostly local. The All Stars put up a fairly good brand of hockey and held the Crystals to a 5-3 score. Larkin, Alberton left winger, scored all three goals for the All-Stars on heavy individual plays. The first period was battled almost to a finish before Silliphant, teaming with Reg Phillips, broke the goose egg.

Half way through the second period, Larkin eluded the Crystal defensemen and evened the score with a tricky shot, and two minutes before the bell, he again realized just after a faceoff in front of Crystals' net.

Third period started with a scoring bee. Montgomery evened the count about a minute after the faceoff and immediately after Schurman and Silliphant combined to put the Crystals one ahead. Larkin evened the score again with a shot which Hazen stopped with his chest, but dropped inside the net. Silliphant scored again immediately after and Jamieson some minutes later realized on his own rebound, leaving the score 5-3.

TORONTO, Ont., March 19. (By the Canadian Press)—Describing Toronto's maternal death rate as "appalling," Dr. Margaret McAlpine, of the Department of Public Health, outlined preventive care of mothers before 100 men and women of Toronto's Negro population. "We have made great strides in some things," said Dr. McAlpine, referring to the fact that 20 years ago babies had a hard time getting through the summer. "Mothers have been taught how to feed their babies and look after them, so that the death rate among babies has been greatly lowered," continued the speaker, "but we have a very sad tale to relate about maternal mortality. I question whether there has been much improvement in the last 50 years."

Get Supplies

While an impenetrable ice barrier kept rescue ships four or five miles from Horse Island today, doctors and crews, chancing hazards of the ice field, brought sadly needed supplies to shore as many of the Viking crew were moving out toward the ships. Those reaching the sealing steamer Imogene and Beothic were cared for and later transferred to the coastal steamer Sagona. It was believed here tonight that all of the survivors in condition to travel were aboard the Sagona, which may be back in St. John's with the rescue tug Foundation Franklin by Saturday.

NO FATALITIES OCCURRED

No fatalities have occurred in the ranks of the rescued and no further casualties are anticipated. The first doctor reached Horse Island at 9:30 this morning from the sealer Imogene, one of whose propeller blades was broken by ice, and the first survivor to reach the Sagona across the ice arrived at noon. Other doctors and men from the Imogene, Beothic and Sagona made the trip from ship to island and back. The tug Foundation Franklin and the sealer Eagle, Neptune and Ungava are also contributing to the work of assisting survivors and searching for the missing Harry Sargent, one of the United States moving picture party, was reported "doing well."

The Rambling Ramblers Are Still Rambling

Team Expected To Reach Borden Today—Great Interest In Big Game Tonight.

BY TEC

The Amherst Ramblers are still rambling. Somewhere at an early hour this morning—the exact location is not known—the "wonder team of the Maritimes" are looking Prince Edward Islandwards with the hope that in the very near future, in fact perhaps tonight, they will get a chance to keep their last Tuesday night appointment with Abegweits at the Forum.

The bye-word in the city the past few days is—how are the Ramblers doing? Will they make it, and last but not least—can they beat the Abegweits? This question will be decided tonight—if they reach the Island in time to play. Judging by the talk about town, everybody seems to be pulling for the Amherstians to be break clear of "King Winter's" icy tentacles which have dealt severely with the Nova Scotians once before this season. However, with an even break favoring the ferry the "muck wanted bluenoses" will, in all likelihood, get here this evening in good time to get on the ice, but on this occasion, a surface much more home-like than that which they have been experiencing the past few days.

Malnutrition Worries Doctors

EDMONTON, Alta., March 19. (By the Canadian Press)—Parents in this city are undergoing deep searching of heart owing to health conditions in the public schools, as shown in the annual report of the Medical Inspector. It is not at all reassuring and shows no improvement over that presented a year ago. In fact, it is even more disturbing than the report covering 1929 and that issued last summer and covering the first six months of 1930. One year ago Dr. Dunn reported that out of 6,496 children examined, 316 were suffering from malnutrition; last August, he stated that out of 8,487 examined 974 were in this class; now, in figures covering the whole year, he informs the people of Edmonton that the malnutrition cases numbered 1,738.

WOULD SAY IT WITH FLOWERS

NIPIGON, Ont., March 19. (By the Canadian Press)—An Indian woman determined to send a flowering geranium in what was once a lard pail presented a problem to a telegraph agent in a wilderness railway station north of Lake Superior. She wanted the agent to take the plant and send it by telegraph to Toronto, where her sick daughter was in a hospital. It had been told her that white people have a way of saying it with flowers by telegraph, and she proposed to take advantage of the system in behalf of her ailing girl. She was not looking for free service, and in token of her willingness to pay the going rates she produced a small roll of dollar bills and asked the agent how many of them he wanted. At that point explanations became necessary. The agent endeavored to show her what the flowers-by-wire service means and how impossible it would be to send an order to Toronto in her own way. At last he gave it up. He told her that while identical geranium could not be sent—presumably because of the danger of freezing on the way—a similar one would be delivered to her daughter in hospital; and with that she was satisfied.
