PERRY ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

The Truro Jury Visit Scene of Tragedy Case Will go to Jury Today.

Special to The Guardian.

TRURO, Nov. 30—Court opened this morning on the trial of Edward Perry, charged with murder of Mrs. Maud Wright.

The jury and court officials were taken to the house on Douglas St. where the deed was committed and there they viewed the gruesome room.

The witnesses examined were: Mrs Roy Wright, sidter-in-law of deceased, and Percy Wright, twelve year old son of the dead woman; also George Higgins with whom Mrs. Wright was the Saturday night of the murder, and a couple of witnesses on minor points.

Then followed Perry, the accused. He related the story of debauch, but his memory appeared poor, for he was unable to remember happenings of the night and morning on which he gave himself up.

He did not even remember seeing the murdered woman's body lying in the room.

While giving his evidence Perry appeared cool and collected. He showed cuts on his wrists, which he said Mrs. Wright inflicted.

The case will likely to to the jury tomorrow.

TRURO, Nov. 59—A special session of the supreme criminal court was held here today, Mr. Justice Drysdale presiding, for the trial of E. J. Perry, charged with the murder of Mrs. Maud Wright on Septemqer 18th, last. It took two hours and forty minutes to select a jury. J. J. Power, K. C., of Halifax, and H. O. McLatchy, of this town, appeared for the crown, and G. H. Vernon held the prisoner's brief.

Counsel for the crown, at the opening of the court, tendered the Royal Gazette containing the order-in-council convening the court, after which Mr. McLatchy outlined in detail the case of the crown.

John F. Ellis and John Gordon, town policemen, were the first witnesses called, and proved that on Monday morning, September 19th, at five o'clock, the accused reported himself with blood on his clothing and hands at the east end rest room and said that the woman attacked him with a razor and then committed suicide by cutting her own throat.

Albert Lewis, a photographer, proved by photographs the condition of the Perry-Wright house. Dr Patton, the coroner, Dr Eaton, Detective Hanrahan and Undertaker Olive described the condition of the accused when he came to the rest room, the condition of the room and belongings where the murder is alleged to have been committed, the position of the cuts and bruises on the dead woman's body, the finding of a lock of hair clutched in the dead woman's hand, with a detailed description of the bloody condition of the clothing.

There was quite a passage between the prisoner's counsel and Detective Hanrahan, who proved among other things a statement made by the prisoner as to how the deceased suicided, the prisoner's lawyer endeavoring to elicit from the detective that the statement was procured after the detective flourished a revolver at the prisoner, but he was unsuccessful.

Bessie Frazer and her father, John R. Fraser, swore to the borrowing by the accused of two razors owned by Fraser on the 18th of September, and these razors were produced in court covered with blood and were sworn to have been found in the room near the dead woman's body.

J. J. Power, K.C., for the crown, moved for and obtained an order for the jury to have a view of the room where the crime is alleged to have been committed, and after the order was made the court adjourned till to-morrow morning, when the jurors, under the guidance of the sheriff, will take a view of the premises on Douglas street.

The prisoner is little changed since his arrest and imprisonment, and he watched today's proceedings with interest.

A TRAVELLER CHARGED WITH ARSON.

ST JOHN, N.B. Nov 30—Duncan Ferguson, of Amherst, representing Gault Bros, one of the best known travellers in Eastern Canada, was arrested here late last night charged with arson. Information was laid following an investigation by the company's men into the recent fire which gutted his premises in Amherst. It is alleged that the fire was lighted by another person during Ferguson's absence in Halifax, with his knowledge, Ferguson denies this.

BETTING ON THE BRITISH ELECTIONS

Special to The Guardian.

LONDON, Nov 30—Speculators are betting on the possibility of Lloyd-George becoming prime minister in place of Asquith.

The premium of five guineas per cent is quoted against his holding office within six months.

LONDON, Nov 30—Asquith, speaking at Reading, said that there were all sorts of sinister theories put forward to account for the conduct of the government.

"They tell you that dissolution has been dictated by Redmond. You may take it from me that Redmond has no more to do with dissolution than the man in the moon. It is due to the deliberate judgment of the government to take the final decision on protracted controversy."

LONDON, Nov 30—There is great fervor among the Liberals.

An interesting factional cleavage has occurred in Mr Balfour Party over tariff reform. The spectator, which is the spokesman of the Unionists Free Traders, provoked it. The Tariff Reformers have pledged themselves to submit the question to a Referendum if party wins—it not being a leading issue of the campaign.

LONDON, November 29—The politicians of all parties are straining every nerve to crowd into a few days the work which in ordinary elections is spread over weeks or months. Nearly all the heavy guns were in action tonight. Arthur J. Balfour, leader of the opposition in the house of commons, spoke before a big meeting in Albert hall, where he warmly supported the referendum, describing the government as puppets dancing to the tune of John Redmond and his American paymasters. The prime minister, Mr Asquith, spoke at Reading, Chancellor Lloyd-George at Cardiff, John E. Redmond, leader of the nationalists, at Dublin, Winston Spencer Churchill, home secretary, at Colchester, Augustine Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, at Bristol, John Burns, president of the

JUST FOR TO-DAY

Lord for tomorrow and its needs
I do not pray,
Keep me from stain of sin and wrong
Just for today.
Let me both diligently work
And duly pray;
Let me be kind in word and deed
Just for today.
Let me be swift to do Thy will,
Prompt to obey;
Help me to sacrifice myself
Just for today.
Let me no wrong or idle word
Unthinking say,
Set Thou a seal upon my lips
Just for today.
So for tomorrow and its needs
I do not pray,
But keep me, guide me, hold me Lord,
Just for today.

SAINT ANDREWS DAY FESTIVAL

The members of the Caledonian Club, their wives, daughters and guests enjoyed a happy reunion at the fine rooms of the Club last evening. The feast was spread at tables which seated over one hundred persons, presided over by Chief and ex-Mayor Paton. The large room was decorated with flags, bannerets and plants and presented a handsome appearance. Piper John Mackenzie led the procession of the haggis and Charles Webster addressed it in orthodox fashion. After all had feasted to the full, the chairman proposed The King, which was loyally honored by singing the National Anthem.

Mr Paton then spoke briefly of the work of the Caledonian Club during the past year, which had been a most successful one, and paid a touching tribute to the late Peter Ferguson, piper of the club for a long term, who had died during the year.

The toast list followed, Rev T. F. Fullerton speaking happily and eloquently for the Day and All Who Honor It. A stirring song by Ronald Kaye was honored with an encore, and Mr Kaye gave a humorous song in response.

The Provincial Legislature was felicitously responded to by Dr Warburton M.L.A. and the City of Charlottetown was spoken to very pleasantly by Councillor S. A. McDonald and ex-Councillor D.O.M. Reddin, the latter, as usual making lots of fun by his humorous remarks.

Miss Breminer evoked very hearty applause in a song and was equally happy in a second vocal contribution she was virtually compelled to make.

The Land of the Heather was coupon, M.L.A who responded in very led with the name of J. A. Mathies-pleasant vein and Our Own Canadian Home afforded a pleasing theme for ex-Governor McKinnon.

The toast of The Ladies fell to the capable hands of the junior lawyers, Messrs W. A. Scott and D. Edgar Shaw, who paid gallant tribute to the charms and virtues of the fair. The singing of Auld Lang Syne with joined hands arround the table brought this part of the excellent entertainment to a close. Dancing followed and was engaged in with great zest after The Guardian representative had been called away by other duties.

PROF WRIGHT HAS RECITAL

A musical recital of more than the usual order of merit was that of the Orchestra and Pupils of the Charlottetown Scnool of Music under the direction of Prof. C. M. Wright, held Thursday evening.

The excellence of the performance was a featnre which spoke volumes for the painstaking efforts of the Musical director. The Orchestra excelled itself and the pupils, irrespective of age, conducted themselves in a manner which not only reflected the greatest of credit on their own ability but also gave evidence of the careful and efficient training they had received.

The preparation for the recital entailed a great deal of work on the part of the Director and he must feel fully compensated in the excellent showing of his pupils.

A Number of Cases Disposed of Yesterday No Bill Found in Two Criminal Cases

CUNNINGHAM CASE TODAY

(Special from Guardian's correspondent by phone.)

SUMMERSIDE, Nov. 30.—In the Supreme Court in Summerside today the Grand Jury reported early in the day on the case of King vs. M. J. Cameron, charged with rape, that owing to the absence of two material witnesses in this case they would have to report "no bill." The prisoner was therefore discharged.

In referring to the missing witnesses in this case His Lordship intimated to the Attorney General that they should be prosecuted to the full extent of the law for their non-attendance in court.

At 12.30 the Grand Jury again reported on the cases of the King vs. Hugh Turner, charged with arson. the King vs John McDonald, charged with assault with intent to do bodily harm and on the first case of the King vs McFadden, charged with breaking into the railway station at Tignish. In the two latter cases true bills were found. In the Turner case they reported that the only evidence before them was that of the prisoner's wife and his eight year old daughter, which was not sufficient to warrant finding a true bill, the material witness in this case being away. In this case the Attorney General suggested that the case be dropped for the present and that the prisoner be allowed his liberty on his own recognizance.

The prisoners McDonald and McFadden were then arraigned and both pleaded "not guilty."

About 3.30 the Grand Jury again reported that they had found a true bill in the case of King vs. McFadden, on the second charge of breaking into Tignish station, to which the prisoner pleaded "not guilty."

In the report of the Grand Jury, which was read by the foreman, they reported as having inspected the jail which they found in good condition, all parts being clean and tidy and in good repair, and also recommended that a small enclosure be constructed at the rear of the jail in order that prisoners might have a place for outdoor exercise.

They expressed their approval of the action of the Western Tuberculosis Association in their endeavor to secure a proper inspection of all meat and milk offered for food. In their report they dealt with the enforcement of the prohibition law expressing the opinion that the laxity with which the law was enforced was not wholly the fault of the prosecuters but in a great part due to the people themselves and also to the inability of the prosecutors to secure bailiffs to serve the papers in the cases and recommended that two bailiffs be appointed to serve all papers in prohibition cases.

Before discharging the Grand Jury His Lordship informed them that he would refer their recommendations to the proper authorities for their action, after which they were discharged.

The case of Neil McLeod vs. J. H. Arsenault commenced yesterday afternoon, occupying the attention of the court for the most of the day and was finished about four, p. m. Judgment being reserved. McQuarrie K. C., for plaintiff, Gaudet and Johnston, K. C., for defendant.

Samuel Kennedy vs. M. G. McKenzie, an action on a promissory note. Judgment for plaintiff for $174.13. McQuarrie, K. C., for plaintiff. This being the last of the non-jury civil cases, the criminal case of the King vs. John McDonald was commenced before the Chief Justice and jury, composed as follows:—Ambrose Monaghan, (foreman), Peter Gavin, Fred Clark, Freeman Clark, Edward Sharkey, Howard Adams, Angus J. McLellan, Arnold O'Halloran, Ewen Cameron, Thomas Gorrill, Stephen Saunders and Frederick Yeo.

The evidence in this case, which was very short, was given by John Palmer, John Profit and Dr. McBride for the prosecution and the prisoner, on his own behalf. The jury retired about 5.30 and returned again in less than ten minutes with a verdict of guilty. The prisoner was remanded for sentence. Attorney General Haszard for prosecution, Wilfrid Tanton, (upon suggestion of His Lordship), for the prisoner.

On the conclusion of this case the court adjourned until ten o'clock tomorrow morning, when it is expected the first case will be that of King vs Cunningham, charged with murder.

CAPE BRETONER BEATS LEWIS

Last night's wrestling match in the People's Theatre resulted in a victory for Dan McDonald of Glace Bay over Henry Lewis of Binland in two straight falls, the first in 51 minutes and the second in 24 minutes, the deadly toehold being responsible for the fall in each case. W. Y. Robertson was referee while B. J. L. Garnhum acted as timekeeper.

The attendance approached the thousand mark and the keenest of interest was evidenced at all stages in the close contest prevailing. No more orderly or better conducted audience ever assembled to witness a wrestling bout here, the capable management having made such complete preparations for handling a big crowd that no hitch or unpleasant circumstance in the auditory was ever visible.

The match was on a par with the recent McLeod-Lewis bout. It was fast and exciting; the two combatants put up a fight which certainly pleased the assemblage and gave them full value for their money.

McDonald was somewhat lighter than Lewis but what he lacked in this respect he made up in agility and the knack of slipping out of a tight corner when hard pressed. He was Lewis' superior in this regard yet in strength the two were about as evenly matched as could be desired. Dan was rather inclined to slightly "rough it" at times but did not over step the bounds of self-control.

Throughout the match Lewis fought

FAREWELL TO REV. A. D. STIRLING

On Monday evening of this week a very hearty and enthusiastic meeting was held in Kensington Presbyterian Church to tender a public farewell to Rev. A. D. Sterling, B. A., who shortly removes to Scotsburn, Nova Scotia. Wm. Brown, elder, presided.

After devotional exercises led by Mr. Rattee, Mr. Stirling was called to the front and a happily worded address, appreciative of the pastor's labors, was read by John Anderson, to which one hundred and twenty signatures were appended from Kensington section alone. At its close, Alfred Delancy came forward and presented a purse of gold.

Mrs. Stirling was also very kindly remembered by the ladies with an address and a life membership certificate in the W. F. M. S. The replies of Mr. and Mrs. Stirling were most fitting and gave expression to their deep sense of gratitude for the kindness of a truly loyal people.

Rev. J. B. Gough, who had come from Elliott's for the occasion, spoke very heartily of the kindly relations existing between pastors and peoples in Kensington during his four years' ministry. He was followed by Rev. Mr. Watson, and Rev. Mr. Johnston, who conveyed sincere congratulations to Mr. Stirling for his splendid work in the past, and best wishes for the future.

IMPORTANT WITNESS IN GLOVER TRIAL

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov 29 — The question of what constitutes "a dying declaration" overlaid all others at the second day of the trial of Miss Hattie LeBlanc, the little Cape Breton girl, charged with the murder of her employer, Clarence F. Glover, a Waltham laundry man. As a matter of fact there was not a trial at all today, for the jury filed in and filed out, with the witnesses after them, so that the district-attorney and the defendant's counsel might substantiate or disprove to the satisfaction of Judge Bond that Glover was in "extremis mortis" when he declared that Hattie LeBlanc shot him.

A legal combat over the question was intimated yesterday, and today

DENOUNCES TSCHERTKOFF

ST. PETERSBURG, November 29.—Count Leo Tolstoi publishes a bitter denunciation of Count Tschertkoff, the intimate friend and literary agent of the late Count Tolstoi. The son declares that Tschertkoff was the worst enemy that his father had in all Russia and the civilized world and that he was directly guilty of the tragedy of Yashnaya Poliana.

"The malign influence of Tschertkoff," writes Count Leo, "caused the premature death of my father, his superhuman sufferings and desperation of his family."

But for his literary agent, the son adds, his father would have lived for many years peacefully at Yasnaya Poliana with the family who loved him and whom he loved so devotedly. The arrival of Tschertkoff was the beginning of the end.

Portuguese Dependency of Macao Being Forced to Submit to Changes

Special to The Guardian.

MACCO, China, Nov 30—Portuguese troops of the local garrison and sailors of the gunboat Patria revolted last night and taking possession of the city, proceeded to enforce changes in the administration of this dependency of Portugal.

The rebels continued in control today.

The governor and military officers are powerless.

The sailors of the Patria marched to the public square where they fired three volleys as a signal to the troops, who at once forced an entrance to the armory, and arming themselves joined the seamen.

The rebels then proceeded to Santa Clara convent from which place they drove out the nuns, ordering them to leave the island.

The nuns fled to Hong Kong.

The rebels then marched to the government house before which they mounted cannons.

An interview with the governor was requested and when the officers at the government house objected they were silenced at the point of the bayonet.

The governor was compelled to hear the demands, which were the expulsion of religious orders, increased pay for army and navy, suppression of the newspaper Vida Nova, and the righting of alleged wrongs suffered by soldiers and sailors.

Under threat the government granted every demand.

EDMONTON WANTS WATERWAYS

EDMONTON, Alta., Nov 29—A meeting of 2,000 citizens was held last night as a protest against the intention of Premier Sifton to use the money from the bonds of the Great Waterways railway for the needs of the province. The principal speaker was ex-Attorney-General Cross, who said he was the victim of the biggest political intrigue Canada ever saw.

J. K. Carswall, member for Peace River, and J. D. Hyndman and A. F. Ewing, Conservative candidates in the late elections, were the other speakers. All emphasized the need of a railway to the north, and endorsed the attitude taken by Mr. Cross.

The resolution of the board of trade, passed last week, was endorsed. It called on the premier to take immediate steps to build a railway to Fort McMurray.

MIRRELESS FOR SUFFRAGE

LONDON, November 29—The first independent woman suffrage candidate is announced in the person of a prominent advocate, William Mirreless, who will contest a division of Glasgow. The socialist party has decided to run a third candidate in Battersea, thus seriously endangering John Burns' chance of re-election.

Suffragettes created serious disturbances at a meeting at Lambeth last night, at which Winston Spencer Churchill was speaking. After several men had thrown them out, Mr. Churchill strongly denounced the suffragists tactics and said: "I am told that individuals are to be singled out for violence. If that is their lay, there is only one answer and that is to come on."

J. A. HENDERSON HAS REMOVED

J. A. Henderson, the well known city horse shoer, has removed from 120 Euston Street to 180 Queen Street to the building lately occupied by Fred Cameron, trainer. His new stand is situated between the tailoring establishment of John T. McKenzie and James Callaghan's and is most convenient to everybody. The building has undergone repairs, and by the addition of several new windows, and the use of the paint brush, the place is most inviting as a blacksmith's shop. In connection with the new premises, are eight suitable stalls where horses can be tied in perfect safety. In a few days Mr. Henderson will install some new machinery in connection with horse shoeing, and before long expects to have the largest and best equipped forge in Lower Canada. At the present time three expert horse shoers are engaged and no doubt, Mr. Henderson's business will continue to grow by leaps and bounds as nothing but guaranteed work is turned out.
