A Provincialist who attended Keith's Theatre, Boston, last week, writes to The Guardian in the details to be seen and heard in that centre of attraction. As is well known Keith's Vaudeville is the standard of the world and nothing but the best, it matters not the cost, is secured by the management. The program was charmingly arranged and opened with a splendid overture, and followed by short acts, clever acrobats, comical clowns and genuine exponents of fun. An exhilarating monologist kept things moving while the Grecian Worship Dance, a dance dating from Greece, 300 B. C., was exquisitely given. The shows suit young and old and the theatre is delightfully cool. The moving pictures were remarkably good and the program was thoroughly pleasing throughout.
