POPE SYMPATHISES WAR VICTIMS

(Special to the Guardian.)
BERLIN, Aug. 9.—Pope Benedict has addressed a letter to Catholics in East Prussia, according to an Overseas News Agency, expressing his fatherly sympathy for the terrible war horrors brought upon them by the Russian invasion. The letter, the News Agency says, was accompanied by a large sum of money for the relief of the victims.

LETTER OF CONDOLENCE.

The following letter of condolence has been forwarded to Messrs. Duncan and Melvin Buchanan, New Dominion, by their fellow members of Derry L. O. L. No. 1169, Long Creek: To Mr. Duncan and Melvin Buchanan, New Dominion.

Respected Bros.—Whereas it has pleased God in His infinite wisdom to remove from the stage of her earthly being, your beloved daughter, Gertrude, by the solemn and impressive providence of death

We, the officers and members of Derry L. O. L. No. 1169, Long Creek, of which you are both members, mindful of the deep loss which you have sustained, hereby desire to convey to you and your family our sincere and heartfelt sympathy in your sad bereavement, but we realize how poor a thing is human sympathy in such a sorrow, and we point you to Him, Who is so full of sympathy and comfort and who, "doeth all things well."

Although it may seem hard to part with those near and dear to us, let us remember that all things work together for good to those who love Him, and while we thus sorrow it becomes us to bow in humble submission to that sovereign hand that has made this break in the family circle, to acknowledge our frailty and dependence, and to entreat for ourselves timely preparation for death and eternity.

Any consolation which might be afforded you in so heavy an affliction must come from a higher power than ours, but let us have faith and trust in our Heavenly Father, who will never forsake us, and in obedience to that divine principle which bids us "weep with those that weep," we would mingle our tears with yours in your hour of mourning.

Signed on behalf of Derry L. O. L. Wm. S. McNeill, W. M. Com.—JOHN L. MCKINNON. LAUCHLIN MCKINNON.

required. Several thousand shells fired during a few hours on a restricted space announce an attack for which this preparation is being made.

"But no matter how numerous the heavy guns or how well directed their fire, it often happens that the preparation has been insufficient. One or two rapid-fire guns, however, which troops who climb from the trenches ready for the charge, and after suffering heavy sacrifices the attacking party arrives at the first line of the trenches of the enemy.

"The opposing artillery, with a literal wall of fire, effectively prevents any reinforcements from advancing to their support.

"They must fortify the captured trenches, being subjected the while to a much more accurate bombardment, as the enemy know the exact range of the trenches, and they involve, "Such offensive movements could not be multiplied, nor prolonged indefinitely, as much on account of the moral and physical effort which they demand of the men as on account of the losses which they involve. Neither can such offensives be improvised. Before beginning an attack large quantities of material and projectiles must be gathered in one place previously appointed by the commander, advanced fortifications dug and the ground minutely studied.

WHAT FRENCH ARMY HAS DONE.

"If, despite these difficulties, the French Army renews an offensive at the price of a bloody sacrifice, it is with the conviction of the possibility of holding large forces on the western front.

"By the Marne victory it stopped the invasion and ruined the first German plan, which was, first, to shatter France and return then against Russia.

By the victory of the Yser, with the aid of the Allied Armies closing the line of defence, it effectively prevented the enemy from getting a foothold in Pas de Calais.

"By the famous offensive actions from February to July in Champagne, the Argonne and Artois, it demoralized approximately 2,000,000 men and captured an enormous amount of material. Without allowing the enemy an instant's respite, it forced the German General Staff to utilize on the western front reserves in barracks and arsenals.

"It would be a serious mistake to measure our efforts by the ground conquered. The demoralization and wearing down of the German Army is the real goal.

"We have attained this goal since it has been proved that during these six months the enemy has suffered heavy losses, and, taking everything into consideration, he can only remove from our front 8 per cent of his total effectives.

SUCCESS IN THE WEST.

"The great battles on the western front were fought in Champagne during February and March; between the Meuse and the Moselle during April and in the Artois during May and June.

"In Champagne we have taken the enemy's defenses for a depth of from two to seven kilometers (from 1.3 to 4.3 miles) which repeated and heavy counter attacks have had been able to recapture. Between four and five German Army corps have suffered heavy losses, two regiments of the Guard being almost destroyed. On the captured ground nearly 2,000 German dead were counted. We took 2,000 prisoners, rapid-fire guns and a large number of trench guns.

"Between the Meuse and the Moselle we now occupy the Eparges crater, which was very strongly fortified. These two Bavarian divisions, having received orders to hold out at all costs, left heaps of bodies.

BITTER STRUGGLE IN ARTOLS.

"In Artois more than 8,000 prisoners, cannon of all calibres, 100 quick-firers and bomb-throwers fell into our hands. Along a front of 10 kilometers (more than six miles) we have advanced from two to four kilometers.

TWO WOMEN SAVED FROM OPERATIONS

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Their Own Stories Here Told.

Edmonton, Alberta, Can.—"I think it is no more than right for me to thank you for what your kind advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have done for me.

"When I wrote to you some time ago I was a very sick woman suffering from female troubles. I had organic inflammation and could not stand or walk any distance. At last I was confined to my bed, and the doctor said I would have to go through an operation, but this I refused to do. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now, after using three bottles of it, I feel like a new woman. I most heartily recommend your medicine to all women who suffer with female troubles. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills, and think they are fine. I will never be without the medicine in the house."—Mrs. FRANK EMSLEY, 903 Columbia Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta.

The Other Case.

Beatrice, Neb.—"Just after my marriage my left side began to pain me and the pain got so severe at times that I suffered terribly with it. I visited three doctors and each one wanted to operate on me but I would not consent to an operation. I heard of the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing for others and I used several bottles of it with the result that I haven't been bothered with my side since then. I am in good health and I have two little girls."—Mrs. R. B. CHILL, Beatrice, Neb.

IN CONSTANT PRESENCE OF DEATH.

ometers and captured villages of Albain St. Nazaire, Carency and Neubain St. Vaast, transformed into fortresses by our adversaries, who brought up to stem our victorious offensive 16 veteran divisions, one company being reduced to four men.

"Besides these three principal actions operations of less importance permitted us to take at Toulnet 1200 metres of trenches and at Quennevies 2,500 metres.

"The capture of Vauquois in the Argonne and Metzler and Hartmans-Weller in the Fichtel Valley in Alsace constituted brilliant victories for our troops.

"But even when no engagements take place the life of the troops in the trenches is a continual battle. The first line of infantry, only a few metres distant from the enemy, enjoys not a single minute of quietude; it is under the constant menace of grenades, bursting shrapnels, bombs from mine throwers, and there is continual fear of subterranean mines.

"The French Army has gained from its long sojourn in the trenches magnificent endurance; it has lost nothing in the eagerness and confidence. Its faith in the offensive remains in act, its morals is the admiration of those who command it. The morals is the best gage of final victory, by which our territory will be liberated, Europe freed and peace re-established."
