"Victoria The Great"
At Prince Edward

Epic in its sweep as a historical drama, "Victoria The Great," is revealed more intimately as a love story, more appealing because of its royal setting. This spectacular motion picture charmed a spell bound audience at its premiere yesterday at the Prince Edward Theatre.

Character of the tender side of Victoria's character the general public is now made aware in the picture—authentic in every detail, since it was filmed under official auspices—shows that she loved play. The romance of Victoria and Prince Albert of Saxony is depicted in a most beautiful and touching manner. The scenes of heart-ache and ecstasy in the bosoms of the old, and tints in rose-color the dreams of the young. Considered merely as a beautiful and impressive spectacle, "Victoria The Great" ranks high as entertainment. But the crux of the story lies in its heart-magnetism.

The Queen is brilliantly played by Anna Neagle. When the slim figure of the girl in white descends the grand staircase of Kensington Palace to hear that the King is dead, and she remains over Great Britain in his stead, the spectators thrill with sympathy for the inexperienced maiden upon whose frail shoulders such a mighty trust and burden have been placed.

There follows the idyl of Victoria and Prince Albert, during which the Queen exercises a royal disdain for the present by proposing to him their marriage; the magnificent Coronation ceremonies; and the happy wedding life, which culminates in one of the most affecting, tear-producing episodes ever filmed—the death of the Prince, as his grief-stricken wife crouches beside him to hear his last words.

There are many momentous occasions reproduced in the feature, which winds up in a blaze of one thousand feet of Technicolor, describing in vivid detail the glories of the Queen's Diamond Jubilee. Herbert Wilcox's skilled production has resulted in a screen offering of exceptional power.

Besides Anna Neagle, as Victoria, and her co-star Walter Brook, distinguished Continental actor, in the part of Prince Albert, such names as H. B. Warner, Walter Billis and Mary Morris, Broadway favorite head a large and talented cast.

SEVENTH CHTOWN PACK
On Wednesday evening, Feb. 16, the Brownies were delighted to be the guests of the Seventh Charlottetown Company of Girl Guides at a Valentine Supper. The Brownies heartily enjoyed the splendid program of games under the direction of the patrol leaders, also the story and sing-song around the campfire. The Guides party was much appreciated by the Brownies.

At the regular meeting on Feb. 23, Mrs. Reay, Provincial Commissioner, enrolled three twentines, Emily Lou Douglas, Marjorie West and Phyllis Collins.

The pack is looking forward to a busy week. It is hoped that every Brownie can come.

Seek Higher-ups
In Espionage Ring
(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)
NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Extra editions were posted today at important United States military and naval positions in the metropolitan area as agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation secretly sought higher-ups in the spy ring accused of selling American military information to an unnamed European power.

The number of persons sought in addition to the three already under arrest was a matter of speculation. Some reports said three, some said six or more. The Federal agents themselves were silent.

SUDDEN DEATH—The sudden and unexpected death of John N. MacDonald, aged 77, a prominent and respected farmer on the Road East, occurred on Sunday, Feb. 27th. His sudden passing came as a shock to his many friends and relatives. The funeral will be held from his late residence on Tuesday at 2 o'clock. Interment Lower Montague Cemetery.

INVESTIGATE THEFT—City police are investigating the theft of approximately $25—all in American bills—from the residence of Arthur McKay, retired Canadian National Railways section foreman. The theft, which took place a few nights ago, was discovered by a servant for whom the front door had been left unlocked by Mr. and Mrs. McKay when they retired.

FUNERAL SERVICES—The funeral of Mrs. Robert H. Nicholson which was largely attended was held from her late residence, 411 Fitzroy Street yesterday afternoon, at the home of the deceased being conducted by Rev. H. L. Denton. The pall bearers were Prof. J. Brown, Messrs. J. Hillion, I. McDonald, James Ritchie, C. Currie and Clair Hodgson. Interment was in the People's Cemetery. Rev. Canon Malone also assisted at the service at the house.

POLICE COURT—At the police court yesterday morning a drunk and incapable was fined $3.00 and costs of five days in jail, while another was fined $10.00 and costs of twenty days. A third who failed to appear had his bail bond of $5.00 exonerated. Three cases against the accused for obstructing police in the discharge of their duty and one for an infraction of the Prohibition Act were adjourned. An adjourned case of criminal breach of trust was again adjourned for a week.

JUNIORS HOLD CANDY SALE—Two energetic groups of Junior Red Cross members of Prince Street School, "The Merry Makers" of Grade 5 (Miss Waller's department) and "The Seven Wonders" of Grade 6 (Mrs. Jamieson's room) held a very successful candy sale at S. A. MacDonald's store on Saturday afternoon last. Three of the members, arrayed in Red Cross caps and arm-bands, presided over the candy and by the end of the afternoon they had disposed of all their confection and had realized the splendid sum of $13.00 for the Junior Red Cross fund for crippled children.

ICE DELAYS FERRY—The Borden train was an hour and twenty minutes late last night arriving in Charlottetown. Part of the delay was caused by late mail train connections and part by ice conditions in Northumberland Strait delaying the S. S. Charlottetown thirty-five minutes on the evening crossing. Very heavy ice was encountered on the Borden-Tormentine crossing in the morning the powerful looker taking more than three hours longer than regular time to smash a path through closely packed ice.

EAST BOUND FLIGHT CANCELLED—The east bound flight of the Canadian Airways Charlottetown-Moncton service was cancelled yesterday afternoon because of freezing rain, air officials announced. Despite poor visibility because of falling snow the west bound flight was made only slightly behind schedule, the plane taking off when the weather showed signs of clearing shortly after one o'clock. If conditions permit regular service will be resumed early today.

Married In London

ISHBEL MACDONALD

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)
SPRING, England, Feb. 28.—Isabel MacDonald, hostess of 10 Downing Street when her father was prime minister, was married today to Norman Ridgley, house decorator and handyman who is captain of the dart team at her "Ye Olde Plow Inn."

Visitors tonight toasted—until the 10 p. m. closing time—the new master and his wife. The bar taps gurgled rhythmically after "Miss Isabel" telephoned from Hampstead townhouse where they were quietly married in London and said:

"Well, we've done it!" By that time she was Mrs. Norman Ridgley, who accompanied the late Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald to Canada and the United States on his various official and private journeys.

Her brother is a cabinet minister; she has dined occasionally at Buckingham Palace with the King and Queen. But today she married the man who beats the drum in the village band, two weeks after the announcement of her engagement surprised England. Both are 34 years old.

Mrs. Ridgley smiled after the London ceremony and said "I'm not going to tell you about the honeymoon. I shall say whether we are going to the Plow Inn."

The hatless bridegroom described on the marriage register as a "house decorator" blushed above his navy blue suit and said nothing at all. The wedding was quiet because of the recent death of Isabel's father. Her sister Sheila represented the family.

Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan gave a most interesting and timely address on the Control of Cancer at the regular weekly meeting of the Gyro Club held last evening in the Canadian National Hotel. The speaker explained the various methods of treatment of the disease, stressing the importance of early diagnosis. He described the story of the discovery of the glandular origin of the disease, the operation of the King George V Silver Jubilee Cancer Fund and how the Canadian Medical Association and the Provincial Associations are co-operating in an effort to exercise a measure of control over the disease.

The appreciation of the Club members was expressed by Mr. W. Earle Reardon and conveyed to the speaker by the chairman Dr. A. J. Murchison, Mr. Chas. J. Mitchell and Mr. J. Gordon MacDonald.

The final round of the Bridge Tournament was played in the hotel after the meeting. The prize winners were: Highest aggregate, Mr. J. Gordon MacDonald; second highest, Mr. J. Gordon MacDonald; third, Dr. B. C. Keeping; highest score for one round, Dr. P. A. Creelman; lowest, Mr. W. Earle Reardon.

Blames Government For Business Lull
(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The present depression in the United States can be ended by a change of the Government's attitude toward business and a "wise adjustment" of the taxation structure, Bernard Baruch told Senate investigators today.

The 68-year-old Wall Street financier testified before the Senate Unemployment Committee that he was in full accord with the belief of his personal friend, President Roosevelt, that the national income could reach $100,000,000,000 a year, as compared with about $67,500,000,000 at present.

This, he said, is the thing that prevents business upsurge is a feeling of insecurity—the fear that reasonable profits will be confiscated by "meritless taxation" or that a tax will be subjected to some great arbitrary change in the value of money.

The minor parts of maid and butler were capably taken by Miss A. McKenize and Mr. A. P. C. Ross, professional skill and technique. In each case their parts were performed with ease and a nonchalant composure worthy of the professional actor.

Entente Members
(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)
ANKARA, Turkey, Feb. 28.—The four Balkan Entente countries decided today to recognize Italy's conquest of Ethiopia and to send commercial agents to General Franco, leader of insurgent Spain.

The Entente members—Greece, Yugoslavia, Rumania and Turkey—agreed, however, that they would continue the policy of non-interference in the Spanish civil war.

They reaffirmed their loyalty to the League of Nations, but proclaimed the independence of the Entente and the equality of the individual state.

ing secretary of education for Prince Edward Island said in her report. The Bursaries were part of the I. O. D. E. War Memorial work since 1918. Overseas post-graduate scholarships and the placing of some 800 sets of historical pictures in the schools of the Dominion were other branches of the work of the War Memorial Committee. The final Bursaries, value $1200 each held by sons and daughters of men killed or permanently disabled in the Great War, were awarded in September 1937 and as there was no eligible candidate in this Province the money was awarded to worthy candidates elsewhere. Provision had been made for present Bursary holders to complete their four years at college.

"Richard MacQuarrie, son of the late Heath MacQuarrie of Victoria is now attending Dalhousie University and Keith Kennedy of Southport is a sophomore at Acadia. Allison Rogers, Charlottetown, who was awarded our Bursary in 1933 is continuing his course in medicine at McGill University," Mrs. Macmillan reported.

The overseas scholarship was a permanent memorial, the report continued. The name of the candidate was forwarded to the Prince Edward Island Committee of Selection for approval. Announcement of the award was awaited.

Distribution of War Memorial pictures and I. O. D. E. calendars in the schools of the Province was completed in the report. Last year the Royal Edward Chapter placed 100 calendars and the Abegweit Chapter at Summerside 40 calendars.

The Sarah Maxwell essay contest was carried on as usual in the capital cities of each province. The subject was "The Life of King George VI." No national prizes were won by Island students but the Royal Edward Chapter was donating prizes for the best local essays, it was announced.

Chapter Educational Secretary
Two families were supplied with school books during the year, Mrs. H. L. Bethune, chapter educational secretary announced in her report.

Winner of the Sarah Maxwell Memorial essay prize was first, Mrs. Mary MacKay, West Kent School; second, Miriam Hughes, Prince Street School; third, Ida McCarron, St. Charles School. Mr. John Gordon, Jr., placed the essays.

The year's program of study had been completed. The report had been completed and Africa had been completed and Canada was now being studied. A worthy and most interesting paper was read by Mrs. Leona describing her trip to Hungary.

The usual prizes for the encouragement in the study of history were awarded in Prince Street and West Kent Schools.

Empire Work In India
The grant towards the Susie Sorabji memorial fund was sent to National headquarters this past year from this chapter. Mrs. Howland, chapter secretary, is a member of the committee for Empire Work in India announced in her annual report.

We are glad to know that this fund is being completed and we feel we have had an opportunity to do our bit in this worthwhile work in India," Mrs. Smith continued.

While we as a chapter have not had any special program regarding India during this past year many of our members have read the report of Mrs. Sorabji, the book "India Recalled," "India Calling" and have been fully repaid for the time spent in so doing.

A letter received from the National Convener for Empire Work in India, Mrs. Burke, Vancouver, B. C., was read, and an extract from one from Miss Cornelia Sorabji.

Child and Family Welfare
The needs of ex-service men and their dependents, when made known to the members, receive ready response in keeping with our means. It is not possible to estimate the value of the contributions in dollars and cents, and of course the work is so varied as to be almost impossible to catalogue. The special Christmas work included the packing of some 33 boxes for soldiers' families. Each box contained, as usual, a generous plum pudding, nuts, candies, toys, and at least one Christmas present for each child. This opportunity is taken to thank Miss Mair of the P. E. Hospital, who saved carefully the names of our ex-servicemen, and the gentlemen, who assumed the strenuous work of fastening the parcels and delivering at the Post Office—Messrs. G. E. Ritchie, James Robinson, Vernon Larter, G. Rowley, Robert Craig and Mr. John Morris. Our sincere thanks are also tendered to Mr. H. G. Rogers, who regularly contributes to the good magazines for distribution.

"Projects of National Interest, which need our continued support during these hard times, are the National Endowment Fund, The Endowment Fund is our responsibility; the more we have in this fund, the greater will be our security for the future and our opportunity for National Service. If every chapter cared enough to devote one-tenth of its earnings towards the support of this fund, this organization would be not only the most important, but the largest women's organization in the fund date in $58,814.

Included in our local contributions were a gift of a Union Jack to a Girl Guide Troop of Trinity Church, and a donation of $25.00 to the Deep Therapy X-ray machine for the P. E. Hospital.

"A film committee was appointed this year—as this work is of a propagandist nature, it progresses slowly. It is evidence that motion pictures are being regarded as more than a casual pastime as, in fact, a vital force affecting the trend of social progress, and as such a force to be reckoned with for good or evil.

"The desirability of keeping the public informed, through the press, of the ideals and accomplishments of the Order, has been very well demonstrated this past year. Our very deepest gratitude is extended to Dr. Stewart, who paid a wonderful tribute in his radio broadcast on the occasion of the 37th anniversary of the founding of the Order, on Sunday, February 13th.

To all Daughters who were fortunate enough to be attending, it must have brought pride that they belong to the I.O.D.E. It was a pride day, too, for those Daughters who were in London this summer, and were privileged to attend the service at St. Lawrence in the Jewry when the I.O.D.E. pew was dedicated by the Lord Bishop of New Westminster, B. C.

"Our hearts and our minds have been deeply stirred this year by all that the Coronation has meant. Each of us was able through the magic of science, not only to see the ceremony with the mind's eye but actually to hear the glad voices acclaiming the King; each of us in very truth had a part on that day so full of meaning to the whole Empire, and we also took part in the special patriotic gesture made by Charlottetown to celebrate this event.

"During the past year, many of our members have suffered severe illness, Mrs. Legate, Mrs. Prosser and Mrs. Bagnall being regrettably absent from our meetings at present time. Many have suffered the loss of loved ones, and the latter have been Mrs. Grady, Mrs. McLaren, Miss Longworth, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. MacCreedy, Mrs. MacLean, Mrs. Bentley, Mrs. W. Stewart, Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Wilkins. To all of these our deep and loving sympathy is extended in their hour of sorrow.

"We have with pleasure welcomed as new members, Mrs. A. G. Putnam, Miss Ina Gillan and Mrs. Lloyd Murray.

"On December 7th, the members of the Chapter were delightfully entertained at Government House by the Hon. Vice Pres., Mrs. DeBlois. The colors belonging to the Chapter had been presented many years ago by Mrs. D. A. Mackinnon, who was at that time the Hon. Vice Pres., and as these colors are now shown by the wear and tear of years of service, Mrs. DeBlois kindly donated a new silk Union Jack. The opportunity was taken to surprise the Regent, Mrs. Mathieson with an address and gift wishing her a happy holiday.

"With my resignation may I offer my thanks to the officers and members for their co-operation of the past year, and bespeak for my successor their continued support. I would also like to express my sincere appreciation for the assistance of Mrs. Peters. She cannot attend our afternoon meetings, but cheerfully types long dry reports."

REVIEW OF YEAR'S ACTIVITIES
Following was the report of the secretary, Mrs. William Brehaut.

"Today it is my privilege to present to you my report of the thirty-sixth annual report of Royal Edward Chapter Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, a privilege which I accept with the responsibility of giving you an accurate review of the work done during the year in which there have been 7 regular meetings, 2 special meetings and two executive meetings.

"The Empire Study Committee arrangements planned for the study of the history of the Empire and of current Imperial questions. This past year has seen a marked advance in the study of our history, these meetings and indications suggest an upward trend in the interest being shown in the programme for this year, when immigration is being discussed. Immigration is recognized as one of the greatest problems facing Canada today. It is of great importance to study the problems involved in our immigration conclusion as to whether our British characteristics are in danger of being stamped and lost unless more newcomers are admitted to the heart of the Empire, and whether the over-population of some of the under-population of others.

"The annual meeting of the National Chapter was held in Quebec on May 28th, at the Chateau Frontenac, because of the unusual interest this year because of the deepened feeling of loyalty to King George VI, occasioned by the Coronation, because Her Excellency the Lady Tweedsmuir, hon. president of the Order took part in the coronation ceremonies, and perhaps because the meeting was held in Quebec, in which province the Order was founded 37 years ago. That one of the scattered Daughters, the National annual meeting did not live up to the common accusation that such gatherings are always the same with their endless readings of reports and resolutions; for many of the summaries of the year's work were indeed interesting. Royal Edward Chapter was represented by four members—Mrs. J. A. Mathieson, Mrs. J. A. Macmillan, Mrs. E. W. Sterns, and the secretary. One of the social functions of the annual meeting is the dinner given by the Municipal Chapter to the assembled delegates. This popular lunch took place in the ball room of the Chateau, where the decorations were beautifully carried out in Coronation colors. Short and witty remarks were made by the delegates. Mrs. Hillson, Credit should be given to these ladies for the fact that their team work resulted in nearly half the total sum realized, which this year was slightly in excess of last year.

"The year recorded the completion of important educational undertakings:— (1) The first of these, and by far the greater, was that part of the War Memorial relating to bursaries. By the expenditure of over

GIVES BIRTH TO CHILD ON SOURIS TRAIN

Mrs. Francis Ryan of Moreh East, P. E. I., was "doing nicely" in hospital in Charlottetown last night after giving birth to her 13th child, stillborn, in a railway coach yesterday when en route to the Charlottetown Hospital.

Mrs. Ryan, who boarded the Souris, P. E. I., to Charlottetown train at Moreh, P. E. I., with her husband, was suddenly stricken after the train had proceeded only a short distance.

Miss Gladys Aitken, student nurse at the Prince Edward Island Hospital here, and her friend, Mrs. Daniel McPadyen, were on the train and immediately took charge of the woman while passengers quickly responded to their request to move to another coach.

Word was sent ahead and Dr. T. Leona's Farmer and his wife, a trained nurse, boarded the train at Mount Stewart, P. E. I., shortly after the child, a boy, was born.

Mrs. Ryan was taken to hospital when the train reached here.

Trinity United Church
TUESDAY, MARCH 1st
3.30 P. M.—Social Hall. Young People's sleigh drive to Cornwall to accept the invitation to the party there at a Social Evening with skating.

Planning to go, please King Edward Hotel.

$250,000 in the past 18 years, 240 sons and daughters of deceased and permanently and seriously disabled soldiers have each had the privilege of a four-year course in a Canadian University. Soldiers' sons and daughters all over Canada have been helped to go to college and their pride in their father's service to the Empire has been strengthened. We can well be proud of their attitude towards Canada and the Empire is different by far from that it would have been if the war service of their fathers had gone unrecognized, and they, themselves, had not received these opportunities.

(2) The other educational undertaking was also a Memorial—the building of a "Canada" wing to St. Helena's School in Poona, in memory of Miss Susie Sambl, Principal of that school, and Regent of the Kaiser—Hind Chapter of the Order. The completion of these two special enterprises should mean the closing of our interest in them. The most graduate scholarships are a permanent part of the I. O. D. E. War Memorial fund. The field is large for educational work in India.

In connection with the distribution of War Memorial pictures, the educational secretary reports that these have been placed on display at the office of the Women's Institutes.

The I.O.D.E. calendar is now a regular institution. It has not only made its way, but paid the way, making money for the educational needs of men and women. This money is used for other educational work.

"League of Nations Society—There seems to be no lessening of the interest in the work of the League and considerable increase in the membership in the League of Nations Society. To quote the latest report of the League of Nations cannot be the guarantee of peace, which its founders tried to provide for the world until the efforts of men are changed. It is one Power, which can change the hearts of men. That Power has not been called to the Councils of the League.

"The League of Nations Society in Canada asked us to co-operate in bringing Peace Action Week, which took place in May, to the largest number of people possible. This we tried to do by writing Dr. H. L. Stewart of Dalhousie University, to give a public talk on topics of Imperial and international importance.

The Victoria League
"References are constantly being made to the kindness of the Victoria League of Lady Frances Ryder, our Committee and of the Royal Edith Society to the post-graduate scholars, who are given opportunities in London of meeting interesting people, seeing interesting things, reading in special libraries, and making holiday visits in various parts of the country. A most interested visitor at the National Chapter meeting was the Hon. Mrs. Gerald Lane. She brought a special message from the Central Executive of the League, expressing its good wishes and the pleasure of its members, that in this Coronation year they were able to emphasize the close bonds of friendship between these two organizations by having one of their representatives attend the Order's annual meeting at Quebec. Mrs. Lane stated that the League was eager to have every possible use made of its resources by Canadians and that it welcomed most cordially those who brought introductions through such affiliated societies as I.O.D.E.
