A POWERFUL SPEECH

Hon. Dr. MacMillan yesterday delivered one of the most brilliant and powerful speeches ever heard in the local legislature. The Doctor wears gloves only on special occasions, and he certainly did not wear them this time. He gave a trenchant exposure of the manner and the means by which the Saunders candidates and Mr. Saunders himself secured their election. So graphically did he picture this that Mr. Saunders left the chamber, being unable to stand the doctor's home thrusts. Dr. MacMillan began his speech three hours previous night, and continued during the evening session. His speech was a revelation to both sides of the House and is the subject of discussion and compliment in the city. A verbatim report of the speech will appear in The Guardian shortly.

THE VICTORIANS

The Victoria hockey team fresh from another successful invasion of New Brunswick, arrived home last night in high spirits and well satisfied with their trip, and if it may be added, confident, if such comes to pass, that they will give the Nova Scotia champions the game of their lives in the final play-down for the intermediate hockey championship of the Maritime Provinces. This clash will in all likelihood come off at the conclusion of the Nova Scotia series which is now underway. However, should the Islanders be called upon to defend the N. B. — P. E. I. title they will need more than confidence, determination and hockey ability. They will need funds with which to finance a trip to Halifax; therefore, judging by the above, the all important question is not whether the Vics will make the trip or not, but will they be able to finance it? It would be very much regretted if the Victorians, after having gone through such strenuous but glorious campaign, to be now forced to give up, due to lack of funds when another Maritime hockey title was within their grasp.

MR. ALBERT E. NEWSOME

The death occurred at his residence 206 Dorchester Street, Monday morning of Albert E. Newsome, a retired C. N. R. employee, after a protracted illness. Although his condition did not seem to improve, still his death was unexpected and came as a shock to his family and friends.

Last January he visited Toronto in the hope that the change would benefit his condition, but en route home he contracted a severe cold which brought on complications.

Deceased who was born in Charlottetown about fifty two years ago was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Newsome. He entered the service of the C. N. R., in the machine shop in 1897 and was a faithful and painstaking employee. He retired under the Provident Fund June 1st, 1927.

His wife pre-deceased him six years ago—today being the sixth anniversary of her death.

The late Mr. Newsome leaves to mourn three daughters: Velda of Toronto and Marie and Margaret at home, also one son Albert at home. A daughter Pearl pre-deceased him five years ago.

Miss Velda will arrive this evening for the funeral, which will be held Thursday afternoon.

PROCEEDINGS

The difficulty largely arises from the fact that where one man will put a good pack on the market, another puts on a poor pack. The poorer grades spoil the reputation of our lobsters and lower the price. Mr. MacLean went on to deal with the possibilities of the Herring Fishery. Surely a way could be found to can them, or otherwise prepare them for export. He also mentioned the Dog Fish nuisance.

With regard to the lobster industry something might be done by way of amalgamation of the factories to save the industry for the fishermen, and the capital for the investors. He again alluded to Japanese methods—both with regard to the way in which their canning companies amalgamated and the rigid system of inspection they maintained. Japanese crabs are 3 to 4 feet long and the meat from one arm will fill two one pound tins.

Roads—We have heard some criticism of the roads under the late government—about holes and ruts. It was ever thus, and it will ever so. Reduction in Freight Rates—The last speaker seems to think that we are getting $800,000.00 there, and that it is better than the increased subsidy. Let us hope this does not reach Ottawa, or they'll think we are so satisfied that we don't require any further grant. The fact is, this reduction, be it of $800,000.00 or $500,000.00, is simply a measure of justice to put our rates on a par with those of other parts of Canada.

Hon. J. P. MacIntyre after the customary congratulations went on to touch on some of the criticisms of the Speech from the Throne which had been made.

He justified the expenditure in renovating and clearing the building. When they took it over in August, it was in a disgraceful state. Sixty loads of rubbish, the accumulation of the last twenty-five years, was removed from the basement. The Chamber reminded Mr. MacIntyre of a house occupied by an old bachelor for many years, who had burned an oil lamp with no fuel on it. He contrasted the grimy appearance of the Chamber as it had been with that at Ottawa. No one should criticize the expenditure made.

Returned Soldiers—We didn't turn out any soldiers in the middle of winter. Any we have still to turn out we will not dispense with until the weather is fine and they can get a position. The same could not be said of the late government. They dismissed every one in this building who ever had liberal tendencies. The present government has not gone to these lengths and dismissed girls who never had a vote.

Public Health—Hon. Mr. MacIntyre in alluding briefly to this matter, touched on the useless expenditure of the Dominion Government in enlarging the Dalton Sanatorium and the MacLean Convalescent home.

Duncan Commission—The speaker went on to review the attitude of Liberal and Conservative members of the House of Commons on the appointment of the Duncan Commission, quoting from a speech of Mr. Black of Halifax, in which the idea was opposed, also from a speech of Col. Cantley, who advocated that a committee of the house deal with the matter of Maritime rights rather than a royal commission.

Liquor in Campaigns—Mr. MacIntyre asserted that the Bell Government kept the roads in much better shape than did the Stewart Government, stating specifically that the latter government by the use of the road drag had filled up the drains at the sides of the road, which drains the present government intended to clean out.

Liquor in Campaigns—Mr. MacIntyre asserted that, insofar as the district which Mr. Cox and he represented, positively no liquor had been used in this year. Mr. MacIntyre with reference to the poor liquor got from the vendors by Dr. MacDonald costing $3.75 might perhaps be some of the old stock seized at Summerside in the Eddies James in 1925.

The speaker enumerated the cases which were taken out of the bonded warehouse and put in the liquor stores, making 864 issued to the commission. This left 191 cases still in the warehouse and perhaps my hon. friend has got a bottle of that.

During the late campaign especially in my district, propaganda was carried on about the evil effects of poison liquor. We find the prohibition commission buying 864 cases of that vile poison and selling it to the Prohibition Commission to be used for medicinal purposes.

all departments and particularly of labor and external affairs, every effort, educational as well as in practice, the utmost efforts were put forward in the direction in which Miss McPhail's motion aimed. Likewise internationally Canada had participated in every movement including a prominent place in the League of Nations, having its object permanent and perfect peace in the world sense.

Miss McPhail asked if the Prime Minister thought so much of the efforts of departments and co-operation in international organization for the purpose, why he didn't disband the department of defence and let the Government as a whole do its work. She stated that a nation's work was done in compartments by departments which represented all the distinct activities of Government, each specializing in its own line.

The speaker, the Hon. H. H. Stevens, reached the time limit of eleven o'clock, and an adjournment was made without the question being put "pursuant to standing order."

The committee of colonization and immigration met again this morning, the whole session being devoted to the examination of Mr. McAlister, of the C. P. E. colonization branch of the Railway Service. He explained the workings of the Empire scheme of assistance in many details although much of the questioning seemed rather useless and long drawn out, owing to so much duplication in the questions asked.

This afternoon the committee of industrial and international relations, through Chairman McIntosh, reported recommending the establishment of civil service councils, which it is understood is favored by the Government in civil service circles, and by the civil service commission, and the dropping of the Woodworth bill.

A bill to increase the capital stock of the Sun Life Assurance Co. to $5,000,000 was before the banking and commerce committee this morning. The object is to prevent foreign financial interests getting control recently attempted. The business of this Canadian company, Mr. Robb stated, the committee was a large and prosperous one and he favored the increase for the purpose in question.

There was a legal difference of opinion as to whether the capital stands at $2,000,000 or $4,000,000 and the company wants it declared at $4,000,000, the unissued capital to be issued subject to restriction by law.

This afternoon a message from the Governor-General enclosed C. N. R. estimates, which contemplate important additions and betterments to the Canadian National Railway System amounting to approximately $25,000,000 to be carried out in 1928.

The net financial and capital requirements of the railway for the year 1928 are placed at $39,000,000, exclusive of the eastern lines separated for purposes of the Maritime Freight Rates Act. These requirements, however, include provision for sinking funds, principal payments on the debt, and interest on the increase over last fiscal year is $16,500,000, but this is due to some extent to the fact that the present estimates are for full twelve months while the comparison is with nine months of last year. There will be 1065 miles of new rails laid, 297 more than last. The items of expenditure include improvements of engine terminals at Charlottetown.

Notable additions are provided in these estimates to the hotel system of the national railways. A sum of $2,000,000 is to be expended on the completion of the new wing of the Chateau Laurier, Ottawa, which will give the hotel two hundred and fifty additional rooms, new ballroom, convention hall, dining room and other public apartments.

To meet the cost of new hotel and station at Halifax $1,250,000 is included in the railway budget. Under an agreement with the city of Vancouver the Canadian National Railway are obligated to build construction on their new hotel at Vancouver by November of this year, and $100,000 is provided to meet the cost of the foundation work this year.

For the session of 1928 the accommodation of Jasper Park Lodge, Jasper National Park, is being increased to take care of four hundred and sixty-eight guests. Other improvements are also contemplated.

Four government resolutions were passed, one providing for amalgamation of the departments of health and soldiers civil re-establishment, with a deputy-minister. Another asked for the confirmation of an agreement among the Dominion and the Provinces of Manitoba and Ontario for the construction of a dam at the outlet of Lac Seul in Ontario.

Another for the amendment of the Yukon quartz mining act providing for the payment of annual royalty on profits of mines exceeding $10,000, in place of the royalty at present imposed.

And another ratifying the scheme of arrangement with holders of the five percent income charge convertible debenture stock of the old Canadian Northern Railway, for the payment by issuance and guarantee of new securities of $22,689,575, an aftermath being taken over by the government.

It having been stated that the government intended cancelling the radio broadcasting privileges of the International Bible Students, Mr. Speakman wanted to know what

Island Champions Defeat Dalhousie In Gruelling Game

The Moncton Times in its report of the Victoria-Dalhousie game played Monday night, has this to say:

The Charlottetown Victorians, 1927 Maritime Intermediate Champions advanced into the finals again this year with the Nova Scotia champions by blanking Dalhousie, New Brunswick contenders for the title in a sudden death game played here in the Arena last night 3-0. The Vics, after battling through a scoreless first period, notched up one goal in the second frame, and when the New Brunswickers were playing five men up in a vain attempt to penetrate the Islanders' defence, broke through for two more tallies in the final session, the last one coming just before the final gong. McDonald scored the first two for the winners, while Gillis tallied in the last counter, just in time to make it count before the game ended.

Small Crowd Witnessed Game

Only a small crowd of fans wended their way to the Arena last evening when the temperature was more suitable for baseball, to watch the rival contenders for the N. B. and P. E. I. Intermediate hockey crown perform. Where hard ice once was earlier in the season, a soft slushy substance remained, which made good hockey an impossibility and taxed the players to the utmost to maintain the fast pace set early in the game. However, in spite of the adverse conditions the fans were treated to several real thrills during the sixty minutes of slashing, splashing hockey.

The New Brunswickers had the edge over their opponents in territory play throughout the three periods, but they were confronted by a defence chiefly in the form of Morgan, former Abegweit star, who guarded the nets for the Vics, and who simply would not be beaten.

Riding High

The great Vics' goalie encountered to ride high in his seat among the mighty goal tenders of the Maritimes, and duplicated his feat when he brought his team through a 1-1 draw with the Moncton aspirants here some time ago, which was sufficient to give the Vics the series by one goal. Last night Morgan stopped twice the number of shots directed at his opponent in the other end of the rink, but these he handled in faultless style, although several stops bore marks of the well known horseshoe.

After splashing through the first period without a score, it became evident that a break would decide the game, and the teams seemed so evenly matched, it was felt that one break would be sufficient to settle the question. The inevitable break came about midway through the second session, when McDonald, husky Vic defence ace, started down centre ice with F. Doucette with him. The pair evaded the second line of defence and although they were forced into a corner they recovered and batted the disc past Roy, when he came out to stop. From then on it was a five man defence between the attacking Dalhousians and probable chance at the Maritime title.

The intentions of the government were the reply was "under consideration."

Mr. Cantley asked as to what arrangements had been made for the movement of Nova Scotia coal. The minister of railways replied that he knew the management of the C. N. R. was very anxious to assist that in every way possible. N. S. coal was being used in engines as far west as Brockville, and he had as a minister conveyed recommendations to the government for an arrangement similar to that made in respect of Alberta.

Interim estimates for $39,000,000 were presented this afternoon, when, after orders of the day were disposed of, the house settled down as a committee of ways and means to consider the supplementary estimates for 1927-28, and was still at it at six o'clock.

VICTORIA WEST. The members met at the schoolhouse, Holl call was answered by a "valentine verse". A letter was read in regard to the proposed institute paper five members were in favour to have it published quarterly. The school committee reported having visited the school one day the inspector was there. Cocoa sugar and soap were obtained for the school. Two new members were welcomed. The roll call to be answered at the next meeting with a "joke". It was decided to have a social evening next month.

AT YOUR DRUGGISTS

The New Brunswickers never gave up trying, and their efforts chiefly of the individual variety, were turned aside with regularity.

The Third Period.

The second Vic score came early in the third period when McDonald skated down centre ice and took a long shot at the net from well outside the defence. Roy didn't even see the rubber until it came to rest behind him. From the face of the entire crew of Dalhousians rushed to the attack and although Morgan was the busiest man on the ice he kept the nets clean. Play roughened up a bit and the Vics led the parade to the hoosegow, but they successfully defended their two goal margin while one player at a time was serving sentence and the other ceased trying for an extra counter. The New Brunswickers were defeated but they were not outclassed, and with the breaks against them, they went down like real champions, fighting to the last ditch.

It would be unfair to name any outstanding player for either team as every man worked hard and never ceased trying for an extra counter. The New Brunswickers were defeated but they were not outclassed, and with the breaks against them, they went down like real champions, fighting to the last ditch.

The teams will depart for their homes today.

Vics	Line-up	Dalhousie

Second period—1 MacDonald. Penalties, Nicholson.
Third period—2, McDonald, 3, Gillis, Nicholson, F. Doucette, Barbie, Campbell, Nicholson, Williams, Esigar.

NOTE—The above report seems to be contradictory all the way through; giving the champions credit between the lines and then again taking it away from them by way of lucky breaks. When a goalie fails to see a puck until it lands behind him, is this a lucky break? I think not. The Vics have proved their superiority over all N. B. Intermediate teams, and of course the losers have to be pacified some way, even if one has to say the breaks were against them.—Oh, Hum. "Tec."
