SYDNEY, New South Wales, Nov. 16—(British United Press)—Strange uses for his Moth plane are claimed by Arthur Cunningham, a Canberra grazier, who was among the big prize winners in the 3,000-mile air race across Australia.
Dingos (wild dogs) have caused Cunningham a lot of trouble on his station property, and on occasions when he has wished to give special protection to his sheep, he has flown his machine to a certain spot, camped under its wing, and set the engine going at full revolution at hourly intervals. Echoing through the still bush at night, the terrific roar of the motor frightened away every wild dog for miles.

than his life but managed to retain both when he encountered a huge python.
The snake was asleep and coiled up with his head stretched out. Brown crept forward noiselessly and drove his light prospecting pick through the monster's head into the ground—then jumped clear.
The python, with its head pinned, spun round and round and eventually worked the pick loose. Then it made for a rocky outcrop nearby, with the pick still fast in its head. Afraid of losing his instrument, Brown grabbed the snake by the tail and held on grimly. Twice he fell and was dragged sixty yards before the struggle ended with the sudden death of the reptile.
The snake measured 17 feet, 9 inches. Brown is 6 feet, 2 inches and weighs more than 200 pounds.

LIQUOR CASES IN SUMMERIDE—The Prohibition Magistrate held his usual weekly court at the courthouse, Summerside, on Saturday forenoon. Four cases against Summerside parties for selling liquor illegally, in which a number of witnesses had previously been examined in the cases adjourned for an absent witness were dismissed, as the tress could not be located and was ported to have left the province. Other witnesses denied having made any purchases from the defendants. Mr. Heath Strong, K. C., is counsel for all the defendants. Three Summerside parties were fined $15 and costs, each for the illegal consumption of liquor. A Summerside party charged with having liquor unlawfully in his possession, the liquor being found in a Spring Street livery stable, and whose case was adjourned for judgment from last week, was dismissed. The magistrate held that the lease proved that the defendant was not in possession of the stable when the liquor was found, although he was in the stable when the officers made the raid and, as the defendant denied the liquor was his, he gave him the benefit of the doubt. He stated however, that if parties were found near liquor in this stable in future, he would regard it as a strong presumption of guilt. Mr. C. D. MacCallum defended the accused. A party who had been brought before the court by an officer and was charged with the illegal possession of liquor had his case adjourned for a week to give him an opportunity to make his defence. Chief Inspector Haywood conducted all the cases.

HAMPTON AND VICINITY
A very successful bean supper and sale of homemade candy was held in the Lodge Rooms, DeSable, under the auspices of the Ladies Lodge on Friday evening, Nov. 8th. The tables were well laden with good things to eat as the ladies of this district are skilled in the culinary art, and presented a very pleasing appearance with decorations of lighted candles, bowls of fruit and autumn flowers. After supper had been served Mr. Chester Shaw was appointed chairman and a very interesting programme consisting of instrumental music, solos, recitations, speeches and step-dancing was carried out. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered all those who helped in any way in making the affair the success it was and it would be leaving out a very important item if mention was not made of the Gypsy fortune teller who appeared on the scene and caused much merriment amongst the younger folks, many who are anxiously awaiting to see what fate holds in store for them. A snug sum was realized which goes to help the ladies of DeSable Lodge to carry on their good work.
Mrs. Fred C. Inman and Miss Fannie Rogerson, Victoria, were recent visitors to Hampton.

Many of the fox breeders round and about here were visitors to the Fox Show recently held in Charlottetown, and since returning show greater enthusiasm than ever in this very profitable line of work, many starting out in search of better stock so as to help along in keeping up the popularity of Prince Edward Island's high grade furs. Congratulations are extended to Mr. Keith Boswell, Victoria, on receiving a number of prizes at the show. We understand Mr. Boswell has in his ranch a number of very fine animals.

Thanksgiving Day was fittingly observed in all the churches in these vicinities by appropriate sermons and music, also on Monday evening a delightful supper was served in the Hall at Victoria by the ladies of the W. M. S. from 5 o'clock until 8. Although Armistice and Thanksgiving Days are celebrated together and our hearts are full of thanks and praise for blessings of the past year, we could not forget the dear ones who gave their lives in the Great World War. They are not dead but sleep in Flanders Fields.
The many friends of Mr. Ernest Cameron, Hampton, are pleased to see him around again and steadily regaining his usual health and strength after his recent illness.

The large steamship Minna, left Victoria Wharf Thursday morning partly loaded with Green Mountain potatoes by Mr. M. J. McIvor, Kinross. Michael's many friends in Hampton, his old home town, wish him every success. She will finish loading in Summerside.

DAMAGES FOR DISAPPOINTED HOSTS
PARIS, Nov. 16—(British United Press)—It has just been ruled by a judge at Courbevoie that acceptance of an invitation to dinner constitutes a social contract in the same way as does a promise of marriage, and that in certain circumstances a guest who fails to keep an engagement becomes liable for any material damages which may result.
In the case in question, a Mr. Smith, of Sierra Leone, was sued for damages by a Mr. Williams, a compatriot. Williams had invited Smith and his family to dinner, and the invitation had been accepted, but on the appointed night when the feast was all prepared, the Smiths failed to put in an appearance. Williams therefore claimed that Smith should compensate him for the cost of chicken, rice, fruit and so forth, which were wasted.
The judge stated that while failure to fulfill a dinner engagement did not in itself constitute grounds for a claim for damages, a person who broke his engagement without taking the precautions demanded by social usage, caused damages which it was his duty to repair.
Smith was thereupon ordered to pay for the cost of the dinner.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH
Dr. A. C. Vincent in his morning sermon "Nothing But Leaves" made a most eloquent appeal to his hearers for a vivid, vital fruitful Christian life. Fittingly, eminently was Miss Barbara McNeill's expressively rendered solo.
In the evening sermon based on the words "And if I be lifted up I shall draw all men unto me," Dr. Vincent expressed his conviction on the way towards success for the whole church today. Only through the gospel of the crucified Christ, proclaimed with sincerity, may the Church expect success and living advancement. Notable was the male quartette "Now the day is over" by Messrs. Quingley, Calder, Dingwell and Stiers. Large congregations were in attendance morning and evening.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH
Anniversary Day is always looked forward to with much anticipation. It brings to mind memorable events in the Church's history and is an especial occasion when these are passed in review. Year after year the wonderful vision and faith of those who planned and brought into being this beautiful Church edifice are held in reverence. Sixty five years of endeavor, achievement and progress. What a heritage? "Hitherto hath the Lord helped us," and so it was but natural that in the morning service the anthem should be "Te Deum Laudamus," sung by a choir of 39 voices. The selection, "The Lord is my Shepherd," was also appropriate.

SUITOR SUES FATHER-IN-LAW
MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 16—(By The Canadian Press)—A claim for $18,000 damages, instituted by a youth against a man who promised him the hand of his minor daughter and then revoked that promise when he discovered that his prospective son-in-law was suffering from an ailment of epileptic form, was dismissed in Superior Court by Mr. Justice Denis, who held the youth's failure to tell his fiancée's father that he was subject to nervous attacks invalidated the verbal contract entered into between the two men. The case was that of Marius Couture vs. Louis Philippe Robitaille.
Couture contended that the girl would have married him very willingly, knowing of his disability, but for her father's insistence that the match be broken off.
