The hockey game between the second Abbies and Souris team on Wednesday evening resulted in favor of the Abbies, the score being 5-2. Ham Bethune made a most efficient referee and the game throughout was most interesting.

There is fair sleighing on the roads in the vicinity of Charlottetown, enabling people near the City to come in without much trouble. The river ice is good in many places but is distrusted on account of bad places here and there, and there are not many travelling upon it.

In the course of the day's events it will not do any harm to any reader of The Guardian to ponder over these two definitions of optimism and pessimism. An optimist has recently been defined as "a man who will make lemonade out of all the lemons that are handed out to him." On the other hand the pessimist is described as "one who, when you give him a doughnut, sees only the hole in it."

The number of New Glasgow Literary Society paid a visit to Cavendish last week and favored the people of that place with one of the best entertainments ever given in the hall there. The hall was filled to overflowing, standing room being at a premium. Both the musical and literary parts of the program were well rendered and were received with continued applause by the well pleased assembly, and, although all came expecting something good, expectations were satisfied to the limit. At the close of the entertainment the visitors were invited to a feast of good things provided by the young ladies of Cavendish in their usual tasty and beautiful style and returned home well pleased with their reception.—Com.

There many friends in this City will be pleased to learn that Ewen and Mrs. McDougall, who have been residing in the West for the past few years are now en route to this City, where it is their intention to permanently reside in the future. On their way they passed through Revelstoke, B. C., and were most agreeably surprised on reaching the station in the early morning to find their old Charlottetown friend Mrs. D. McKinnon of McGill Avenue, accompanied by her little grandson Donald Kilpatrick, waiting to welcome them. Mrs. McKinnon is visiting her daughter Mrs. Kilpatrick in Revelstoke and is enjoying herself very much and does not intend returning home for some time. It will be some days yet before Mr. and Mrs. McDougall will arrive in this City as they are visiting friends en route.

Jenkins was appointed chairman, and briefly explained the educational advantages of the farmers organizing. A unanimous motion was taken in favor of an Institute being organized under the name of King Edward Farmers' Institute. The next meeting is on Friday evening 13th inst.

The Political Platform of the Christian Man was the subject recently of a thoughtful, earnest sermon preached by Rev. H. B. Thomas, in the First Methodist Church of this City. The preacher fairly, but none the less scathingly, arraigned the modern methods of politicians showing how inconsistent is their practice with Christian belief. The sermon will appear in this paper tomorrow and readers are advised not to miss it.

A despatch from London says that the emigration season is opening fairly well, though, inevitably the winter conditions in Canada have put some damper on the outward movement. Expectations are that emigration will be about three quarters of that of 1907. Athol McLaughlin, Government delegate from P.E. Island, is still here working up emigration, especially from the agricultural districts of small farmers with some capital. The chief feature of the year's movement will be apparently Salvation Army settlement in British Columbia.

A correspondent sends to The Guardian the following interesting list of the names of old residents of Pownal and vicinity, which would indicate that that section of this fine Province is entitled to consideration as the home of long-lived people. The list of those who have attained to a venerable old age is as follows: William Jones, 77 years; Mrs. John Praught, 70; Miss Mary Carver, 85; James Senater, 87; all of Pownal. Mrs. John Haley, 84; Mrs. McGregor, 84; Mrs. Stewart, 84; all of Waterside. Timothy Weatherby, 88; Mrs. John Acorn, 88; Mt. Albion. James Chandler, 87, and Mrs. John Wood, 87, Hazelbrook. Mr. McKinnis, 87, Herbert, 87. This splendid showing should boost Pownal and therabouts as a health resort. Any other sections of the Province with similar records to show should send same to The Guardian.
