

Woman's Realm -- Social and Personal -- Fashions -- Literature

What the Fashionable are Wearing Illustrated Dressmaking Lesson Furnished With Every Pattern By Anabelle Worthington

For hardy wear, there are few materials better than covert coating. In this the collar and cuffs can be of velveteen or self material, stitched several times for decoration.

Pattern price 15 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred). Be sure to fill in size of pattern. Address Pattern Department. Send 10c to save $10.

COATED WITH SMARTNESS

All Tangey models are created and sketched in Paris and the patterns are made in New York.

If the young daughter of the house needs re-coating, consider this model. It is a style with numberless possibilities, decided chic not being the least of its qualities.

Catarrhal Deafness May Be Overcome

If you have catarrhal deafness or head noises go to your druggist and get a bottle of Parment's (clogable strength) and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and 1/2 pint of sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

A Morning Smile

He had never struck such a stuffy hotel in his life. In vain did he try to sleep. It was useless. He had endeavored to open the windows before going to bed, but found them all sealed.

Stop Suffering from Asthma and Hay Fever

Your druggist, or any druggist, sells Asthmador and Asthmador Cigarettes on the positive guarantee that they will give almost instant relief—that they are reliable, trustworthy remedies for bronchial asthma, difficult breathing and the asthmatic symptoms accompanying hay fever—

For Asthma Asthmador For Hay Fever SOLD ON A GUARANTEE

For The Cook

Make a pouch for stuffing, commencing at the thick end of the calf's liver. Fill with a bread dressing, in which parsley is used instead of summer savory. Skewer the opening and lard the upper side of the liver.

The Pen Won Famous Stakes

NEWMARKET, Eng., Oct. 29.—Mrs. Martin Hartigan's colt, The Pen, won the famous Cambridgeshire stakes today, starting at odds of 50 to 1.

If You Had Your Married Life To Live Over Again Dorothy Dix

Aren't There Some Things About Your Married Life That You Would Change if You Could Begin Over Again? — Here is What Five Women Have to Say on the Subject

"If you had your married life to live over again, how would you do it?" asked a woman of a group of other married women. "I'd lie down and kick and scream and howl and cry for what I wanted until I got it," replied one woman.

"Ever since my wedding day I have been working my fingers to the bone trying to help my husband get along. I have been pinching pennies and nursing dimes and doing without the things I wanted and smoothing down his ruffled feathers when he was peevish and gumshoeing around every subject that would rile him, and what is the result?"

"He has it finely fixed in his mind that I prefer the kitchen to the parlor, and that I would rather cook dinner than go to a party. So he never thinks of doing anything for my amusement because he believes I am having a perfectly hilarious time doing the housework."

"And he thinks there is something peculiar about me, different from other women, that keeps me from desiring pretty, frilly clothes, or jewelry, so he almost has heart failure every time I spend any money that isn't for a new vacuum cleaner or a patent washer."

"If I had to live my married life over again," said the second woman, "I would make it a comedy instead of a tragedy. I would laugh off about ninety per cent of the things over which I broke my heart."

"As a result, I made the poor dear so afraid of me that he spent most of his time making up alibi's to hide behind, and we were both miserable, and our home was a place of wretchedness and strife."

"I would make a funny story about the time he came home lit from a celebration instead of lecturing him about it, and I would tease him about being a sheik among the ladies and having a roving eye and that would keep him from ever getting serious about any of them because it has been my observation that it is a jealous wife's nagging that, in the end sends a man to some other woman to be comforted."

"It is queer that we women who know so well that we can't drag a man to see a problem play, or induce him to read a sad book, or go to see anybody who is in affliction and who will weep at his shoulder, haven't had enough intelligence to take the tip and realize that if we wanted our husbands to be fireside companions we would have to make evenings at home full of pep and fun, instead of a reformatory where they have to listen to the litany of their sins."

"If I had to live my married life over again," said the third woman, "I would prepare myself for the profession of wifehood as thoroughly as I would for the profession of medicine, or law, or to be an opera singer."

"Naturally, no such miracle occurred, and my memory of my first year of married life is a nightmare of meals over which I tolled for hours and that turned out culinary atrocities that would have killed an ostrich, and of the caustic remarks that my husband made over dinners of watery soup and burned meat and soggy bread and half-done potatoes."

"So if I were going to live my married life over again I would go into it knowing as much about my job as my husband did about his, and I would save the honeymoon from being drowned in bad coffee, and his illusions from being wrecked on adamantite biscuit, and I would keep him eating out of my hand because there would be angel's food in it."

"If I had to live my married life over again," said the fourth woman, "there would be no in-laws cluttering up the scene, and I would gag the first well-meaning relative who undertook to run our affairs for us. Believe me, it is our dear, interfering families who with the best intentions in the world, have nearly wrecked our marriage."

"If I had to live my marriage over again," said the fifth woman, "I would be more a wife and less a mother. I realize now that I sacrificed my husband to my children, and that I gave them so much of my time and thought that I had none left for him, with the result that we became estranged. Now the children are gone and I have lost him, too, and I have nothing."

So said these women. What would you do, madam if you had to live your married life over again? DOROTHY DIX.

NO FURTHER TRACE OF MISSING BALLOON ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Oct. 29.—The large balloon reported to have been seen passing over Cornerbrook on Saturday afternoon remains a mystery.

"Difficulties exist to be overcome." —Philip Snowden. "There is no such thing as old age; it is a personal and individual matter." —Edna Wallace Hopper.

Etiquette By Roberta Lee

Q. In what case is an introduction obligatory? A. When two persons express a desire to meet each other. Q. Should a guest ever reprove the children of her hostess? A. No, not even in the mildest, gentlest way. Q. How may the hostess's personality be read at the dinner table? A. By the silver, linen, and crystal. If she has excellent taste, her table tells it.

Schooners Will Not Meet this Year

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 29.—Plans for the international racing series to settle North Atlantic fishing schooner supremacy which have been on and off and on during the past few days, tonight were off again. This was announced hereby the board of trustees of the Dennis Cup, following receipt of a telegram from W. W. Lufkin, chairman of the American Fishermen's race committee.

Baby's Colds Best treated without dosing — just rub on VICKS VAPORUB FOR COLDS OF ALL THE FAMILY

Dr. Wood's Terrible, Tickling Cough Could Not Sleep For It

Mrs. Gordon J. Roy, S. W. Port Mouton, N.S., writes:—"I had a terrible, tickling cough, and at night could not get to sleep for hours for it. I read about Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and decided to get a bottle of it, and I can truly say it did me a wonderful lot of good."

that this decision of Monday was "absolutely sound." It was apparent tonight that Bluenose of Lunenburg, present holder of the international title, and Gertrude L. Thebaud of Gloucester, victor in the Lipton Exhibition series, would not meet again this year.

Will Protest

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Oct. 29.—Following a quietly executed raid on Bay Street buildings in which police secured a quantity of papers and literature said to be property of Communist agents, the Canadian Labor Defence League today announced a protest meeting would be held.

NINE MONTH TERM FOR PRESIDENT OF NATIONAL CONGRESS WAR COUNCIL

BOMBAY, India, Oct. 29.—The president of the All-India National Congress War Council, Mrs. Aventikabai Gokhale, was sentenced today to nine months quick trial following her arrest yesterday.

Invasion of White Whales

NANTES France, Oct. 29.—A new terror to deep-sea fishermen of Brittany has appeared in the form of an invasion of belugas, or white whales, 12 to 18 feet long, which tear the nets to pieces. The national equipment bill provides for speed boats suitably armed to hunt them down, but these craft exist only on paper.

Advertisement for Philco Baby Grand Radio. Features: A real, big performing complete radio set with genuine dynamic speaker built in, at this amazing price. Price $69.50. Includes tubes extra. Dealer: R. T. Holman, Ltd. Dealer for Charlottetown: J. Milton Wheatley.

FROM ONE HOME BAKER TO OTHERS WHO BAKE AT HOME

"Every time I have succeeded in making lovely bread" writes Mrs. BEN. WAGNER

She finds the New Quaker Method of Bread Baking is surprisingly Easy and Simple. IF your family is fond of delicious hot bread and rolls, you can have them now in half the time, and with half the effort.

THOUSANDS OF OTHERS THINK THE SAME "This is to acknowledge your booklet 'The Quaker Method of Easy Bread Baking.' I just wish to tell you that my bread baking has become a real pleasure as only recently, since getting your book, have I started to make my own bread and may say that every time I have succeeded in making lovely bread with your flour."

Form for requesting Quaker Oats Company booklet. Includes fields for Name, Street or R.R., P.O., and Dealer's Name.

Quaker Flour Always the Same Always the Best

Perfect dyeing so easily done! DIAMOND DYES contain the highest quality anilines money can buy! That's why they give such true, bright, new colors to dresses, drapes, lingerie. The anilines in Diamond Dyes make them so easy to use. No spotting or streaking. Just clear, even colors, that hold through wear and washing.