HOTEL WORK PROGRESSING - The work of excavation on the Canadian National Hotel is progressing rapidly. Yesterday in the digging of the furnace room it was found necessary owing to the nature of the rock encountered to carry on blasting operations with dynamite on a small scale. The front forms are now being put in place and it is expected that the cement will be poured into the forms immediately after Christmas.

WEDS IN SPOKANE - A marriage of much interest to friends throughout the Province took place in Spokane, Wash., on Wednesday evening, Dec. 11th, at 8.30 o'clock, when Miss Priscilla Alexandra MacKinnon, R. N., second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John MacKinnon, North River, P. E. I., was united in marriage with Mr. Carl Eker of Spokane, Wash., at the home of Mrs. MacClue, 2801 Summit Ave., by the Rev. Dr. Kaechler, pastor of the first Presbyterian Church. The happy young couple left immediately after on a wedding trip to Prince Edward Island, travelling by way of Boston.

RUNAWAY HORSE - Yesterday afternoon a horse yoked in a sleigh, was being broken single at the foot of Queen St. When it became unmanageable and dashed madly up Queen Street, which happened to be crowded with vehicular traffic at the time. It luckily missed by a narrow margin, many sleighs and cars, but at length fell foul of one being driven towards Water Street. The runaway threw the oncoming horse round, and then both started to run up the street, causing the greatest consternation. The runaway was without a driver and the other speedily threw his driver, leaving only a lady and child to the tender mercies of the now badly frightened and spooked animal. The lady, who is accustomed to handling horses, fortunately succeeded in getting hold of the reins and gradually with the help of some passers, brought the horse to a standstill. The original runaway made no halt, and when last seen was making towards the country with the remnants of its sleigh in its rear. The driver who was thrown, luckily escaped without injury. The onlookers expressed the highest admiration for the manner in which the lady handled a difficult situation. P. W. C. IMPRESSED (Continued from page 1) lines in action swept through the building. Efficient guests stood ready to convey the guests through the mill and in groups of ten, parties started away. Every feature of the plant and power system was inspected, the visit occupying the greater part of the day. The mammoth plant, erected at a cost of $14,000,000, will turn out with the present machinery 250 tons of paper a day. It is planned to install an additional machine which will double this output. Over 300 men are being employed receiving annually wages approximating $800,000, not to speak of the many hundreds employed in the woods either directly by the company or by pulp-wood contractors. Two billion bricks and about 4,500 tons of structural steel have gone into the construction of the several units. The driving force behind the mill is the river near the outlet of which it stands. Electrical energy is supplied by the three developments of the Nova Scotia Power Commission in the Mersey.

Actual work on the Mersey plant began in June, 1928. Today its machines have a daily capacity of 250 tons of newsprint, representing the refining of 375 cords of wood, and a production value that places the newsprint industry in the province second only to coal and steel in manufacturing.

Built on solid rock at tidewater, the mill stands at the mouth of the largest river in the province. Thirteen million gallons of fresh water daily, available nearby are required for its processes. Water will be the chief means of transport utilized by the plant, both in bringing wood to the machines and carrying away newsprint to the presses. The company's steamer, the "Markland" specially constructed for the freight line of paper, has a capacity of 4,100 tons. The harnessed river picks up the wood and sends it through the bark-er room, the chipper, where four-foot lengths are reduced to chips, puts it through the digester acid of Library and Robert Harris Memorial Gallery. The late Mr. Watson, whose great interest in the plant life, geology and history of Prince Edward Island, is well remembered by those of the older generations, was for many years secretary of the Prince Edward Island Historical and Antiquarian Society and prepared a number of the papers delivered at the meetings of that organization, the late Francis Bain, John Newson, and many other students of nature, being numbered amongst its notable contributors. The collection of material gathered together by the late Mr. Watson is naturally a most valuable one and when it shall have been catalogued and made available to the public, may well prove a great stimulus to a more intensive nature and history study as pertaining to this Province among the rising generations. Mrs. Watson and her family are to be most heartily thanked for turning over this collection for the use of the public.

showed 60,000,000 tons of high grade bituminous coal and the deposits in the Copper River area which were considerably developed by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway in 1907-09 had tremendous reserve exceeding 400,000,000 tons. Preliminary survey had been made for a railway which the English capitalists were to build between Telkwa and Vanarsdol, Mr. Taggart stated. Going from one point on the Canadian National line to another the railway would cut through the rich coal country. Mr. Taggart is now returning to London to complete plans for the construction and operation pending the building of the railroad. The colliers at Telkwa are being developed and an electrical plant is being installed to generate power for the Babine and Dutchie mines and to supply power to the towns of Telkwa and Smithers. Slack and waste from the mines will be used in the development of electrical energy.

Undertakings are also being entered into for the provision of bunkers and terminal facilities at Vancouver and Prince Rupert. Mr. Taggart got his vision of the west before the railways went west. As a boy he travelled from Toronto to the Pacific by horseback, foot and many other methods. The old Grand Trunk line to Prince Rupert, which he has since travelled scores of times, especially since it became part of the National system, traverses and opens up a country in British Columbia, the wealth of which is difficult to realize. He declared it is a country where the investment of capital brings returns he says, and he sees Vancouver as one day the greatest port on the Pacific with Prince Rupert as a short route to the Orient and a city of the first importance.

Colonel C. H. L. Jones, president of the company is a man of great energy, ability and experience, and he has under him an efficient and enthusiastic executive staff. The spectators of Saturday's event among whom were representative leaders in the industrial and business life of the Province, returned to Halifax by train on Saturday evening. They carried back with them an interesting souvenir in the form of "The Mersey Times," a complete newspaper printed on the grounds and distributed to the guests before their departure, containing a full record of the day's events. The paper used in this newspaper was first to be produced in the company's mill.

The Halifax newspapers also published special editions in honor of the event.

for the smaller children and infants over nine months. Today, forms will be distributed to the school children to take home. These are for the parents' written consent that they are anxious and desirous of having their children immunized against diphtheria. Every child who has not had diphtheria or who has not had toxoid treatment from the family physician should be immunized in the school clinic. Let one hundred per cent of the parents sign the forms and have the children return them to their teachers.

"There have been twenty-four cases of diphtheria reported in the city this year with four deaths. This is the greatest number of children attacked by this disease since 1914, when there were also twenty-four cases and four deaths. Such a recurrence as this will never occur in future if all the children from nine months to fourteen years of age are immunized with toxoid this winter. Parents should not take the risk of their children contracting diphtheria, which is often followed by disabling complications, but should take advantage of the Toxoid Immunizing Campaign to be conducted by the Red Cross early in January.

YE DID IT UNTO ME

years. This condition exists, not only in this Province, but throughout the land. Last night I was busily engaged in making out the usual Christmas budget, trying to see where it would be possible to cut down a little. Strange to say, a few minutes later I happened to pick up a paper, which was lying on the table in front of me, and in running through it, my eyes rested upon the following little verse, which I think gives about as true an expression of real Christmas Giving as anything I have ever seen.

"In little faces pinched with cold and hunger Look, lest ye miss Him! In the wistful eyes, And on the mouths unfeared by mother kisses, Marred, bruised and stained His precious image lies! And when ye find Him in the midnight wild Even in the likeness of an outcast child, O wise men, own your King! Before this cradle bring Your gold to raise and bless, Your myrrh of tenderness, For, 'As ye do it unto these,' saith He, 'Ye do it unto Me.'"

I feel that if we take to heart the lines contained in this message, there will be no cutting down so far as the support of the magnificent work being done by the Santa-Pal Club Charlottetown Dispensary, Crippled Children Activities, the two Orphanages, Salvation Army Relief Fund, etc. therefore, I have pleasure in enclosing herewith cheque for fifty dollars, which I trust will be of some assistance to you in carrying on the good work of the Santa Pal Club. With kind regards, SANTA PAL.

The letter needs no comment. The natural application of its precept is to join the list of Santa-Pals, before Dec. 20th, and send in some gifts of toys, fruit or candy or whatever it may be. Following are the names of needy children with those who have been already adopted omitted:

TO make a good cup of tea you must use a tea of assured quality such as MORSE'S. The water too in which you make it must be right. It must be fresh water just come to the boil. Follow this direction and you will always have a good cup of tea.
