SOURIS, MONTAGUE AND KING'S COUNTY

...It pays to buy in this Province. ...Schr. Companion, Capt. Young, has arrived in Souris from St. Pierre to load produce, cattle, poultry, etc. ...The sale of pure bred rams, conducted by the Provincial Department of Agriculture, took place Thursday at St. Peter's Bay. Prof. Theodore Ross being auctioneer. The animals sold represented the highest breeding. Following were the sales:—Shropshire Shearling to C. B. Clay, Dundas, for $16.00; Oxford Shearling to Harry Coffin, Montague, for $13.00; Leicester Shearling to Newton McEwen of Grenville, for $15.50; Oxford Lamb to D. J. Mullen, South Hampton, for $10.00. The sale at Souris was to be held yesterday afternoon.

...The Guardian's Eastern correspondent from Red Point writes—Potato digging is progressing rapidly in all this section. The crop, especially the white ones, is above the average. The starch factory at East Baltic is running to its full capacity, and the prospects are for a large output. The north side soil is especially adapted to potato growing, and generally an abundance of help on their shores, factors which enable the people of that section to contribute largely an excellent article to the factory. The hall on Baltic Road is nearing construction and John T. Whelan has completed his contract of the hall over the school-room at Red Point, giving the inhabitants of these two progressive localities suitable quarters to pleasantly spend some hours during the long winter evenings. Miss Mabel Sterns has resigned her position as teacher of Red Point School, and has entered on the study of nursing at Newport, Rhode Island. The school is now vacant.

...Everybody knows that Souris is located on Colville Bay, King's County, but so few know the multiple beauties of the situation of this picturesque little town. The bay is large like a huge bite taken from the land, at its entrance is a rugged cape bold and frowning surmounted by the break-water, while on the opposite side of the bay is Lobster Point not so stupendous as its sister, and with a leering look it thrusts its long nose out into the water. The shore inside slopes away till near Souris West it ends in a strand of silvery beach connecting the eastern town with the western village. The town (Souris East) begins on what is now known as Prospect Hill which commands a fine view of the town and where is located St. Mary's Church and Convent, seeming as it were to guard the little town snuggled away so comfortably at their feet. The principal street of the town is called Main with side streets shooting off. On this principal street are the stores and other places of business. Matthews & McLean's is the oldest business firm and has such a renowned reputation that it needs no further mention here. J. J. Hughes & Co's store is one of the finest in the Province. A comparatively new firm with a fine trade and fine means of carrying on its flourishing business. Sterns Bros., Colville Brick Block, is deserving and enterprising as also are Sterns, Son & Co., A. Currie & Co., C. C. Carlton and A. MacDonald.
