DETROIT DEADLOCKS STANLEY CUP SERIES

Marty Barry Shoots Only Goal In Third Period Of Hard Fought Contest

(Canadian Press by Guardian's Special Wire)
DETROIT, April 13—Marty Barry, big centre of the Champion Detroit hockey team, shot the Red Wings back into the Stanley Cup race with a third period goal tonight that spelled defeat for the New York Rangers, 1-0, and evened the series at two victories each.

Barry was not to be denied when he took the puck at his own blue line midway of the third period after passes from Howe and Sorrell. In a tremendous burst of speed, he split the defence between Ott Heller and Art Coulter. At the penalty circle he swerved to the left out of Coulter's reach and from an amazingly sharp angle, rifled a swift drive into the far side of the net.

Kerr never had a chance as the puck streaked past him to bite into the net just inside the post. The goal sent the Stanley Cup finals to the fifth game, which will be played here Thursday night.

Barry's shot turned 13,515 customers who had settled back in anticipation of an overtime game, into a madly cheering throng that tossed papers and programs onto the ice.

Barry was the only one of four Detroit members of the National League all-star team selected by sports writers, to be in condition to play.

Goodfellow as the third of the four to be injured, suffering a swollen knee. Normie Smith, Vezina Trophy goalie, is out with an arm injury, and Larry Aurie, suffered a broken leg before the regular season ended.

Only one penalty marked tonight's game, which reversed Sunday's 1-0 Ranger victory when 11 penalties were called. Ching Johnson went off the ice for tripping Modere Bruneteau just before the second period ended, but Kerr with able assistance from his mates stopped the Wings' power plays.

Syd Howe filled in for Goodfellow on defense and at times joined the forward lines with a brilliant exhibition.

Strike Looms In Glasgow Shipyards

(C.P. Cable, By Guardian's Special Wire)
GLASGOW, April 13—A one-day strike of more than 100,000 men next Friday in Clyde shipbuilding and engineering concerns became certain tonight, Union officials said, following a statement issued by employers.

The employers, through the engineering and shipbuilding employers' association, declared they refused to enter into negotiations with trade unions in regard to the current apprentices' strike until the apprentices return to work.

On Sunday the Clyde and district committee of the confederation of shipbuilding engineering unions decided to stage the one-day strike unless employers agreed to meet representatives of the 13,000 striking apprentices.

Adams Lauds Fine Work Of Earl Robertson

By ALLAN NICKELSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
DETROIT, April 13—(CP)—Flushed with excitement, hat, tie and other raiment awry, pudgy Jack Adams pulled goalie Earl Robertson from his dressing room seat tonight, yelled "Robbie, you're wonderful, you're going to play in there for the next game," and tugged him with gorilla-like arms.

The minor leaguer, rushed into the breach when the Wings' regular netminder, Normie Smith, was forced out with an arm injury during the N.H.L. championship series with Montreal Canadiens, said nothing. He gulped a few times, however, and a big smile broke over his perspiring features. He'd just scored the first shutout in eight games—or since the playoffs began—against New York's galloping Rangers.

"Nice going, I'm mighty proud of you," Adams shrieked at his warriors. "What a hockey club, with three all-stars out with injuries we beat those high-flying Rangers 1-0. The next win is Thursday, boys."

Little Larry Aurie hobbled up on his crutches to Robertson and shook his hand. They just looked at each other for several seconds and then—

"I can't think, Larry," handsome Earl said. "They could take me out and shoot me now. I'd die happy."

A few doors down the hall Coach Lester Patrick had nothing but praise for the Wings and Barry in particular.

"It was a beautiful goal and a beautiful play," he said, "and was scored from an almost impossible position. Too bad for us."

Turning to Dave Kerr, the "Silver Fox" grabbed his hand and said: "Think nothing of it, kid. You were marvelous."

Omaha To Get Another Chance To Win Ascot Cup

(By Gayle Talbot, Associated Press Sports Writer)
LONDON, April 13—Omaha, great American chestnut that failed to shake the British turf world last year, is being wound up for another effort.

If he fails to win the Ascot gold cup this time, back he goes to the United States and another discouraging chapter will have been written in the stubborn attempts of American owners to win in England.

Omaha has been put in training again after a pleasant winter at Newmarket, and Captain Boyd-Rochfort, his trainer, says he is coming along "very nicely, very nicely, indeed." He thinks Omaha will take the gold cup this time.

King of the North American turf in 1935, winner of the Kentucky Derby, Preakness, Belmont Stakes and Arlington classic, Omaha was heralded as a wonder horse when his owner, William Woodward, brought him over a year ago.

When he won a couple of minor races handily, it looked like he was going to be the horse to break the American hoodoo. He was an odds-on favorite on both occasions. But when the big test came at Ascot, Omaha couldn't shake off a little black filly named Quashed. They flashed past the pole practically together after the more than two-mile struggle. Quashed had her nose just in front.

The grass at Ascot, as at most English courses, is matted and thick, so soft that it feels spongy underfoot, and it had been raining almost to the time of the race. Omaha had done all of his running as a three-year-old on American dirt tracks. Another thing, the gold cup is run from left to right, or clock wise, the opposite to what

Canucks Win From Maritime All Stars 11-8

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
MONCTON, N. B., April 13—Playing before the largest crowd to pack into the stadium here this season, approximately 5,000 fans, Montreal Canadiens wound up their post-season Maritime hockey tour tonight with an 11-8 victory over Maritime All-Stars, comprising players from the International-American League, a Canadian spare goalie and the first line of Moncton Maroons, this year's Maritime senior champions.

All-Stars started off fast, slamming in two goals before Canadiens found their scoring eye. The National Hockey Leaguers, came back strongly to notch four in a row while the Stars added another before the first period ended.

The second stanza saw the two teams battle on even terms each adding three goals to their total, but in the final 20 minutes Canadiens put on the pressure, shooting four markers to 2 by the All-Stars.

Young Howie Morenz, son of the famous late Canadian player, again tonight shot one past McCormick, opposing goalie, to the great delight of the fans.

Canadiens played at Sydney and Charlottetown. They will leave for home tomorrow.

Navigation Opens On Great Lakes
CLEVELAND, O., April 13—(AP)—The Great Lakes navigation season formally opened today with the clearing of the first ship out of Duluth.

The opening was one of the earliest in history due to the few stocks of iron ore at Great Lakes furnaces, and the immediate necessity of replenishing them. With steel production still near capacity, the Lake Superior Iron Ore Association reported today that stocks of the red metal at lower lake docks were the smallest in the last 10 years.

Stocks on hand were reported at 2,851,951 against 4,668,581 a year ago.

Braddock's Attorneys Take Action For Dismissal Of Garden Order To Halt Fight

BY SCOTTY RESTON
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, April 13—Attorneys for heavyweight champion James J. Braddock will ask Federal Judge Guy Fike in Newark tomorrow to dismiss Madison Square Garden's action for an injunction against a Braddock-Joe Louis fight, slated for Chicago.

The Garden asked Braddock March 29 to "show cause" why he should not be restrained from boxing Louis or anybody else until he keeps his contract with the Garden to fight Max Schmeling in New York June 3.

Braddock's answering affidavits, some 74 pages of "cause" were disclosed today by the Garden's attorneys. The champion's counsel asked in these affidavits that the champion be released from the Schmeling obligation and permitted to fight Louis for the following reasons:

1. A boycott of the Schmeling-Braddock fight "over which the defendant has no control has destroyed the subject matter of the (Schmeling) contract or so reduced its value as to make it inequitable and unjust to force Braddock to meet Schmeling.

2. The Garden's bill of complaint "does not set forth sufficient facts from which the court can find that Braddock's match with Louis is in violation of any agreement between Braddock and the Garden."

3. The effect of an injunction against the Louis bout "would be to deprive Braddock of the opportunity to make a livelihood, without any corresponding gain to the complainant."

4. The contract upon which the Garden bases its suit "was not executed in accordance with the formalities of law in New York and is void."

5. The Garden's bill of complaint is defective because "it does not consider Joe Louis, whose rights would be materially affected by an injunction."

6. "The complainant has a full, complete, and adequate remedy at law" after the Louis bout if it cares to bring suit.

The Garden estimated the Schmeling-Braddock bout would draw "in excess of $450,000."

Joe Gould, Braddock's manager, denies the Schmeling-Braddock bout would draw anything like $450,000.

12 FAMOUS HOCKEY STARS GO FOR THE 1937 Studebaker IN A BIG WAY

ON March 31st, twelve top flight nationally known players of the National Hockey League bought and took delivery of twelve 1937 Studebakers.

They chose Studebaker in preference to any other 1937 car, just as you will if you make side by side comparisons.

Studebaker unreservedly asserts that the 1937 Dictator is Canada's finest 6-cylinder car . . . and all 9 other sixes, regardless of name, fame or price are invited to contest that statement.

World's only six with non-slam doors that close lightly, tightly and silently . . . world's first six to offer the triple safety of steel-reinforced-by-steel bodies, automatic hill holder and leather-touch hydraulic brakes . . . world's first six to offer the sensational dual economy of the Fram oil cleaner and the gas-saving automatic overdrive.

Follow the lead of these hockey stars—see and drive the Studebaker Dictator and see for yourself—as they did—that nothing less than the Dictator can seriously interest you.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD
DON'T FORGET YOUR PETS
Story telling snapshots of your pets breathe life into your snapshot album.

CAMERA owners who have taken pictures of their pets always find, on looking back over their snapshot albums, that the pictures recall events of bygone years which played an important part in their happiness, and they are mighty glad to have them. So, here are a few ideas for taking such pictures.

If your pet, for instance, has learned some tricks why not make a series of snaps—a "lay-out" or "strip" as a series of pictures is often referred to in the photographic or art departments of newspapers. Perhaps your dog has been taught to sit up, "roll over" or "speak" before receiving his daily bread or a choice morsel of candy. Snaps of "Snip" doing these tricks s and mounted in your album as a "strip" across the page will add to the interest and variety of your collection.

You can take such pictures with almost any camera. Of course, if "Snip" displays considerable speed when he "rolls over" you will probably have to shoot outdoors at a shutter speed of about 1/100 second. Where you set your diaphragm opening at this shutter speed depends much on your lighting. The brighter the day the more you can "stop down" to get greater depth of focus. When in doubt use the larger diaphragm opening for it is always better to overexpose a little than to underexpose. If the pet is your child's companion, be sure to snap an interesting story-telling picture of the two pals at play. Your five-year-old will probably not appreciate the value of such a picture now but in later years he will thank you for preserving for him those happy days of childhood.

Undoubtedly his favorite lounging spot in the house, or favorite "look-out" such as that of Mr. J. Thomas Cat, pictured above. Have you ever thought of taking such a picture? Believe it or not, it won't cost a substantial price in a national snapshot contest a few years ago. And don't overlook the canary, the parrot, love birds, Jimmie's pet rabbits and the many other animals and birds of various and sometimes strange types and breeds adopted by those who favor the unusual. It's perfectly all right to dress up the cat or dog in glasses, cap, pipe, or shove him unceremoniously into a boot or shoe, if the unfortunate animal is small enough to be shoved, but pictures of that type are not long lived as far as enduring interest is concerned. It's the snapshot that tells a story or has human interest appeal that really breathes life into an album.

JOHN VAN GUILDER.
