BEAVER FLOUR
Both Ways

Make up a batch of Bread and Rolls with it. Then bake a Pie and Cake.

Notice the fine, even texture—the absence of holes—the delicate, nutlike flavor, of the Bread. Then consider the lightness and flakiness of the Pastry. You'll never go back to the coarse, almost tasteless western wheat flours, after once enjoying the flavor of the good things made with Beaver Flour. Order a sack today.

The good work the Stanley has been doing in ice breaking at the Magdalen Islands, at the Sydney, around the Strait of Canso, has been mentioned from time to time. BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY.—A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Mathew, Covehead, on the evening of Feb. 14th, when a few invited guests assembled—the occasion being the birthday anniversary of Mr. Matthew. The usual hospitable courtesy was very much in evidence in the dining room. Gramophone selections, vocal and instrumental music, with cheerful conversation and the passing of home-made candy, brought the evening all too soon to a close. All wishing the host many happy returns of the day, and the singing of the National Anthem the friends departed with many kindly thoughts to host and hostess.

WEDDING BELLS AT HOPE RIVER.—On Tuesday morning, January 23rd, the marriage of Mr. Claren Reid and Miss Annie Bolger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Bolger took place at St. Ann's Church, Hope River. The impressive ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. Gaudet, and the wedding march was played by the groom's sister, Miss Florence Reid. The bride, wearing a navy blue tailored suit and a blue velvet picture hat, was attended by her niece Miss Clara Fitzsimon who also wore a navy blue suit, while the groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Wilbert Reid. A reception was held in the evening at the home of the bride, attended by about fifty of the near friends and relatives. The bride received many handsome and useful presents among the being a beautiful muskrat coat from her father, and a substantial cheque from her aunt Miss Katherine Bolger. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold watch and fob and to the bridesmaid a gold pendant on a chain. The young couple are very popular in the community and have the good wishes of a host of friends in which the Guardian joins.
