HOW HE LEFT HIS MONEY

A workman, having had a sum of money left him on the death of his father, went to see his solicitor, who had the matter in hand, for a final settlement. The bill of costs having been presented to him the man glanced over the figures, and thinking the charges were excessively heavy, turned to his legal adviser and exclaimed, in astonishment—"Oh, thought my father left his money to me—not to you. Let's have a peep at the will!"—Scottish-American.

TO DISTRIBUTE STOCK.

John Bright, Dominion Live Stock Commissioner, has made an important announcement in assisting the distribution of live stock.

It has been arranged that whenever a number of farmers from any part of Canada wish to co-operate for the purchase of breeding stock in England, the Department will pay the travelling expenses of their representative, and will also assist in the purchase and transportation of the stock. It is pointed out that there is at present an unequal distribution of live stock throughout Canada. During the past year hundreds of young cattle from the prairie Provinces have been sent to the United States as stockers and feeders, and the supply of female animals is consequently much below requirements. There is also a scarcity in sections of Ontario where there is an over-supply.

SOLDIERS AS COOKS.
(Springfield Republican.)
The British War Office has taken advantage of the vacation season in the city schools to turn several of the buildings into cooking schools, where 1,500 soldiers are learning elementary principles of the culinary art. There are 100 men billeted in each building, and they must provide their own food on the customary war office allowance of 40 cents a day. If they cannot eat the meals they prepare they must go without. "We are rapidly and well is an art which can easily be acquired," says the War Office Manual, "and it is an art that every soldier should learn. At least eight men in every company must be taught to cut up meat and operate field kitchens."

IN MEMORIAM
MISS MAGGIE E. MARTIN.

A telegram was received by Mr. K. I. Martin, Stipendiary Magistrate, announcing the death in Boston, yesterday morning of his sister, Miss Maggie E. Martin. This sad announcement was as unexpected as it was sudden, as Miss Martin had, only two weeks ago today left her home in her usual health for a short visit to Boston where she was taken suddenly ill, and death ensuing as above stated.

She was a frequent visitor at her father's home and many warm friends here as well as at her native place, New Town, will sincerely mourn her death. There are left to mourn three sisters, the Misses Mary and the homestead at New Town, Mr. Simon Martin, San Diego, Cal., and Mr. K. J. Martin, Stipendiary Magistrate, Charlottetown. The remains will be buried in Boston tonight and returned here by the Car Ferry steamer Thursday. The bereaved relatives will have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in which the Guardian joins.

MR. ANGUS McDUGALL.

The sad news has been received of the death of Mr. Angus McDougall of Argyllshire, which occurred on Saturday at the Copp Hospital, Cambridge, Mass., where he had been undergoing treatment for some time past. The deceased was a prominent and successful farmer, a man of more than ordinary intelligence and always taking a keen interest in public affairs. Some years ago he was one of the organizers of the First District of the Conservative party. In his native district he took an active part in church and school matters, and was always foremost with his aid, financially and otherwise, where the best interests of the country were at stake. He leaves to mourn his wife and a family of sons and daughters, two only, of whom Mrs. Campbell, the widow of John A., on the homestead, and Mrs. Campbell, Cornwall, are the only ones left. The body left Boston for home on Sunday night and will arrive in Charlottetown Tuesday afternoon. The funeral will take place Thursday at 2 p.m. Rev. James McDougall officiating. A Certified Cure of Bilious Headache

CHRONIC LIVER TROUBLE WAS ENTIRELY CURED BY THE USE OF DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS—ENDORSEMENT BY JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

Many people are habitually bilious. Mode of life tends to make chronic a torpid condition of the liver. The result is spells of biliousness with sick headache, stomach derangements and much irritability and depression of spirits.

Too many neglect to take active means of curing biliousness. The bad spell passes over and for a time they are all right. But an unusually hearty man upsets the liver and consequently the usual discomfort and suffering. The writer of this letter has broken up this habit of biliousness and is now enjoying the best of health. Her experience should prove of value to many who, like her, have suffered from bilious spells and sick headaches.

Mrs. Cora Cochran, Salisbury, N. B., writes:—"I was nearly always troubled with headaches, and every two or three weeks would have to take a course of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I was delighted to converse with the
