

"Now, Please Don't!"

There is one thing we ask you: one very particular and distinctive feature of this store which we wish you not to overlook.

This is not a ready-made clothing shop; it is not a $0.95 store, where a few good clothes are mixed up with a lot of yodelling clothes made in the sweatshop.

Every garment in this store is a genuine "Semi-ready," and it is real tailoring, specialized tailoring, as different from the others as dark from daylight.

The maker's price—the mark of actual and proven worth—is stamped on each garment, with the guarantee that it's worth it.

We want you to know that there is a difference and distinction in Semi-ready Tailoring. Everything is exclusive but the price.

KINAROS 38,860

The coming Nutwood of P. E. Island. He is a great-grand son of the world's champion brood mare, Miss Russell. Many horsemen are proud to boast of even one cross of this great mare's blood, but in Kinaros we can boast of 4 crosses, what no other Stallion on P. E. I can do. His sire was the fastest trotter of 90 of his sire's get. His grand sire was a world champion.

His dam is one of the very best brood mares on the world known. "Allen stock Farm." Her 3 yr old colt, Ballston (tr, 2 2/3), is the sire of the largest and best colt dropped this spring at the Allen Farm, weighing 130 pounds at birth.

That Kinaros will sire size is proven, that his colts will have speed, and extreme speed is certain, that they will be racy and game is sure, and that his blood will breed on for generations is an undisputed fact.

Kinaros will leave home Tuesday, May 23, to John M. Nicholson's Dundas, noon and over night, May 24 to Hugh MacMillan's Head St. Peters Bay, noon, John Phelan's, Montserrat, over night, May 25 to James Mooney's Penick's Station, noon. Home again that night.

Goldzilian by the mighty Brazilian, King of sires, the iron race horse. We never had his equal here before and when shall we see his like again? Goldzilian is undoubtedly his best son on P. E. I.

Pronounced by Judge Robertson of Ontario, last fall at the Summerside Exhibition as being the best colt he had seen in Canada. He is only a colt, and yet he is all horse every inch of him.

Goldzilian is ready to trot any stud colt of his age, size, and gait on P. E. Island. (Brazilian's excepted). Don't fail to see this colt at owner's stables, before breeding your mares if you want large classy colts. T. GORDON IVES, Montague. 5-11 tsdr1f

THE BANQUET OF THE INTERCOLONIAL CLUB

Intercolonial Banquet—Take One.

BOSTON, May 30—Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, but 60 hours a member of the President's cabinet, on the occasion of his first official visit to Boston and his first public address as a member of the cabinet was boomed for Republican candidate for Vice-President, with President Taft for President, at the annual Empire day banquet of the Intercolonial Club last night in Intercolonial Hall, Roxbury.

It was a former Democratic senator, Fred. J. Macleod, prominent in Democratic circles of Massachusetts and a former chairman of the Democratic state committee, who started the boom. As toastmaster Mr. Macleod surprised the gathering by praising the war secretary as vice-presidential tumbler. A storm of cheers and hand clapping greeted the words.

ACKNOWLEDGES FRIENDLINESS.

In his opening words Secretary Stimson spoke of the references made by Mr. Macleod and declared that the report of his possible choice should not be taken too seriously. Then in one brief sentence he acknowledged the warmth with which the mention of his name in that connection had been received.

"However," he said, "I am delighted at the seriousness with which this report has been taken here," and then passed on to enter upon his speech in favor of reciprocity.

While it was the Empire day banquet of the Intercolonial Club, it was planned in large measure as a "reciprocity night." Secretary Stimson, with the Canadian Minister of the Interior, Frank Oliver; Mayor Fitzgerald, Brig.-Gen. Gardner W. Pearson, George Lyman, president of the Canadian Club of Montreal; Dr. Joseph Armand Bedard, president of the Historico-Franco-American Society, and Sharon Graham, president of the Canadian Club of New York, were speakers who dwelt upon the keynote "Reciprocity," sounded by President Alexander C. Chisholm in the opening address.

CHIEF GUESTS AT BANQUET.

Prominent among the guests were: Frederick P. Leay, British consul-general.

George Lyman, president Canadian Club of Montreal.

Sharon Graham, president Canadian Club of New York.

Brig.-Gen. Gardner W. Pearson, adjutant-general Massachusetts.

Patrick O'Loughlin, President Charitable Irish Society.

George W. Bentley, vice-president British Charitable Society.

Dr. Wilfrid E. Harris, president Canadian Club of Boston.

Addison L. Winship, civic secretary Boston City Club.

Dr. Joseph Armand Bedard, president Societe Historique Franco-Americaine.

Alexander McGregor, Charles J. Martell, Clarence W. Barron, S. O. Bigney, John Douglas of Canadian Club of New York, Niel McNeil, A. F. Cromhardt of New York, Dudley M.

CLUB PROSPERING.

Alexander C. Chisholm, president of the Intercolonial Club, opened the speaking by telling of the growth and success of the club, numbering 600 members, aspiring to 1000 within a year. He declared that the club would devote attention to public questions and hoped to find itself as successful in other matters as it had been in its agitation in favor of Canadian reciprocity.

In response to the President, the King, the commonwealth, the city and the club were proposed by Stanley A. Starratt, vice-president of the club, who also read a "Reciprocity Poem."

In the absence of Gov. Foss, Adm.-Gen. Pearson spoke for the commonwealth. He expressed the hope of seeing a confederation of the United States, Canada, England and every other English-speaking country for the bettering of men.

Mayor Fitzgerald praised the Intercolonial Club for the practicality of its work, and aroused cheers when he announced that he had just appointed one of its members, Dr. Martin, to a position on the health board. He declared that Secretary Stimson was a valuable aid to President Taft on the cabinet, and also praised the President for his advocacy of better trade relations with Canada.

Secretary Stimson endorsed the arguments in favor of the reciprocity agreement made by President Taft as the arguments of "broad and lofty national interest," and as appropriate to the statesmanship "which, not content with mere lip service to party formulas, recognizes the economic and social facts and tendencies of today and makes wide provision in respect to them."

He reviewed in brief the provisions of the agreement, and urged its enactment into law on grounds of national and continental policy.

He deprecated the erection of an artificial barrier between the two countries, and declared that, while on the one hand freedom of trade and its consequent constant intercourse would promote good will and amity, on the other hand a purely artificial barrier of nearly 4000 miles extent was a provocative engine of prejudice and ill-will.

Mr. Stimson cited historical examples (Continued on page 14.)
