STYLE AND FINISH
 Without quality can't make permanent business. But quality without style and finish never gets any business.
 It's so the world over. So we crowd in our boots all that catches the eye—but we never forget to put into them that inherent wearing value which makes them "stand the racket."
 One of the correct things for men's wear is a patent leather with extension sole.

Mainly About People.
 In a case being tried before the United States Court at Topeka, one lawyer said to another, "You are a liar." "Do you mean that personally?" passionately demanded the other.
 Among the reminiscences of the class of '02 at Yale is the story of a stout and healthy-looking member, who was told by his tutor that "he was better fed than taught." "You teach me; I feed myself," was the retort.
 An Irishman was walking with a friend past a jewelry shop. The window was filled with precious stones. "Wouldn't you like to have your pick?" asked Larry. "Not me pick," said Mike, "but me shovel."
 A rug peddler called several times at a Wichita (Kan.) house and found the people away from home. At last he wrote and pinned this note on the door: "Madam: Kindly remain at home tomorrow forenoon. I want to sell you a rug."
 A witness called in a case in the King's Bench, says the London "Daily Mail," was asked his name. "John Awkins," was the prompt reply. "Do you spell your name with or without an 'h'?" queried counsel. "With—J-o-h-n," was the emphatic reply.
 A self-appointed instructor in civics, nine years of age, was rehearsing the greatness of Premier Laurier, when he was interrupted by one of his hearers, a little girl, who said gently, but with a certain air of reproof: "God made Canada; he only lets Sir Wilfrid run it."
 One of Lord Salisbury's pet anecdotes is the story of the barber of Portsmouth whom he had occasion to patronize some years ago. This tonsorial artist did not fail to recognize his distinguished patron, for the latter, on passing the shop a few days later, was gratified to observe a placard in the window bearing this inscription: "Hair cut, 3d. With the same scissors as I cut Lord Salisbury's hair, 6d."

A minister whose first parish was in the backwoods of the West was called upon to officiate at the wedding of a rather seedy-looking fellow and a blooming young woman. The ceremony was performed in the log-cabin home of the bride's parents. There were many guests present, and a pleasant informality prevailed. When the bridegroom repeated the words, "With all my worldly goods I thee endow," a tall and lank guest innocently observed: "Thar goes Hank's houn' dawg, by gum!"
 Some time ago a man got a curious present from a sea captain. It was a fine specimen of the bird which the sailors call the "laughing jackass," and he was not a little proud of it. As he was carrying it home he met a brawny Irish navy, who stopped him and asked: "Phwat kind of burrd is that, sorr?" "That's a laughing jackass," explained the owner, genially. The Irishman, thinking he was being made fun of, was equal to the occasion, and responded, with a twinkle of the eye: "It's not yer-sill, it's the burrd Oi mane, sorr!"
 Rev. Mr. Greene, a preacher at Findley's Lake, Pa., took his congregation to task a few Sundays ago because the members were not, in his opinion, giving suitable support to church work. The reverend gentleman mentioned by name several of those whom he regarded as at fault, but was injudicious enough to include Editor Boerman among the lot. "Why," said the preacher, "Mr. Boerman only paid a dollar toward my support." The editor retorted: "It was dear at the price," and Mr. Greene thereupon learned that it is dangerous to monkey with a buzz-saw.

When David Graham Phillips, author of "Her Serene Highness," was a very young man he applied for work on a Cincinnati paper. "What can you do?" said the editor. "I can try anything," said the young man. Thinking to rid himself of further importunities for an assignment, the editor said, "Well, write an article on bread." It was a trying moment for the ambitious youngster, but he never flinched. All that night he spent in collecting material, and the next day reported to the somewhat surprised editor with a bright and newsy article on "The Bakeries of Cincinnati." He was immediately engaged.
 Charles Wyndham, the actor, who has recently been knighted by King Edward, made his first appearance on any stage as an actor at Mrs. John Wood's Olympic Theater in New York. A story has been preserved showing that stage fright and inexperience combined to make his premiere a most discouraging occasion. In a certain love scene he was expected to say: "Dearest, I am drunk with that enthusiasm of love which but once in a lifetime fills the soul of man." But the young actor, overwhelmed with nervousness, could only exclaim: "Dearest, I am drunk" and there stuck fast, to the great amusement of the audience.
 Julian Ralph says that during the Diamond Jubilee, near the close of Queen Victoria's reign, a journalist of world-wide note was commissioned to seek an interview with the Marquis of Salisbury. He was promptly ushered into the great man's presence, and conducted his business without by word, hint, or tone, suggesting that he remembered having worked upon the same newspaper staff with the Premier when he was Lord Robert Cecil. At the close of the interview, the Premier called him by his surname, as in the old days, without the prefix "mister." "Cowper," said he (Mr. Ralph substitutes a false name for the true one), "I never paid that bet of sixpence which I lost to you one day in the office. Do you remember it?" "Yes, your Lordship." "Let me pay it now," said the Marquis, and handed over the small coin; "I have often thought of it."

 DEAR SIR,—
 Your circular letter of July 8th received, in reply would say that we heard of the Newspaper report last Friday, July 25th, a customer came in to buy some Kno Bug and he informed us he had seen the report in one of the Farmer's Papers but the same party has used Kno Bug and was back for more. We might say we have had to order three different lots of it, the last two lots we had to have to come by boat and rail as we could not wait for Schooner.
 We hope next year to handle much more of it than we have this. We have not had one complaint from it.
 Yours very truly,
