THE STRIKE SETTLEMENT

(Special to The Guardian.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Two present factors in the opinion of administration and labor leaders will soon determine when or how the railroad shoments' strike will end. First the extent to which the Daugherty injunction is to be applied. Second the settlement of the anthracite coal suspension. In case of the injunction administration leaders now believe it will either break the strike or produce widespread violence. The Department of Justice is prepared to take immediate action against all proven violators of the injunction and so far as a sympathetic strike is concerned every leader involved will be liable to prosecution.

WANT CASH SETTLEMENT

(Special to The Guardian.)
BERLIN, Sept. 4.—The Belgian delegates who will arrive today to receive and pass on the German proposal for payment of 28,000,000 gold marks in treasury bonds, which the Paris conference decided should be settled by direct negotiations between Brussels and Paris, will be refused, gold guarantee either from the government or private bankers. This at least was the tenor of the cabinet when in a three hour session with Dr. Schroeder, representative of the bankers, yesterday discussing the answer to be delivered to Paris gold guarantees are equivalent to cash payments and the bankers and cabinet officials are maintaining that if the government or banks had the necessary gold to deposit the full value of the payments in foreign banks, it might as well make cash payment.

Exhibition Site Offered to Canada

(Special to The Guardian.)
LONDON, Sept. 5.—An excellent site for over one hundred stands between the two main buildings at the British industrial exhibition next March has been offered to the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in London as an opportunity to advertise Canadian manufactures and exports. Many complaints are being made of high Atlantic freight rates and Britain is buying Rhodesian asbestos because transportation is cheaper from Capetown than Quebec.

British Labor Delegates To Come to U. S.

(Special to The Guardian.)
LONDON, Sept. 5.—British labor may send a delegation to the United States to consult with American labor leaders as to means of co-operation to insure world peace. Such a proposal may be submitted to the British trade union congress in a resolution on the international situation to be offered by J. P. Thomas, the British labor leader. A hard winter was forecast in gloomy picture drawn by R. B. Walker, President of the congress, in his opening address Monday. Denying there is any sign of a trade revival, Walker accused employers of forcing down wages and predicting that millions would face starvation this winter. "The eternal menace of unemployment hanging over us like a sword, suspended by a thread, gives the capitalists their advantage and they are straining every nerve to push it to its fullest limits, Walker said.

Former Khedive Declared Outlaw

CAIRO, Sept. 6.—Abbas Hilma Pasha, Jopson, ex-Khedive of Egypt who has been in exile ever since the beginning of the Great War is destined to spend the rest of his days outside the boundaries of his native land, if the decree depriving him of all rights in his native land is carried out. A law signed by King Fuad I, and countersigned by every member of the Egyptian Ministry has been promulgated, restricting in various respects the ex-Khedive's political, as well as social rights. The preamble of the law sets forth the necessity that the measures taken by the British military authorities under martial law be sanctioned. These measures included the deposition of the ex-Khedive and the sale of part of his property. Some of the provisions of the law are: (1) Abbas Hilmi is not either personally or by intermediary, to exercise in Egypt any political rights, to possess or acquire any title to any property, real or personal, to be designated as the beneficiary of any Kakk or to collect any sum of money for same. (2) All the remaining property of the ex-Khedive is to be sold by the public custodian and the net balance of the liquidation which would be left over after payment of, or provisions for outstanding liabilities, is to be placed at his disposal. (3) Egyptian territory is forbidden to the ex-Khedive. Should he contravene this law, he will be considered immediately to the frontier under the direction of the executive.

BRUIN ENDEAVORED TO GET INTO BOAT

PORT ARTHUR Ont., Sept. 5.—A fierce struggle between a man and a big black bear for the possession of a boat took place on Lake Minnetaki, near Sioux Lookout, a day or two ago, when Johnny Lyons, who fishes on the lake, ran out of a swimming bear while he was rowing to his fishing grounds. The bear, of colossal size was swimming across an arm of the lake when the boat came right across its trail. Evidently believing that it was easier to ride than swim, bruin headed for the boat, and before the occupants were aware of what was happening, had its front paws over the gunwale and threatened to upset the two occupants into the lake. Lyons and his companion had no weapons other than their oars and it was only after a fierce battle, in which the bear nearly came off victorious, that they managed to dislodge his hold on the boat, and were able to discourage him from making further attempts to come aboard.

Fresh Impetus To Women Politicians

(Special to The Guardian.)
GENEVA, Sept. 5.—In the appointment of Mrs. Coombe Tennant as substitute delegate to the third assembly of the League of Nations, the British Government has contributed the greatest impetus as yet given to the participation of women in international politics. The importance of this step could be recognized immediately by looking down on the world parliament from the press gallery this morning, whereas the four women members at the Washington conference sat apart with the advisory committee. Mrs. Coombe Tennant sits with the Earl of Balfour as a member of the British delegation of five.

Good Attendance At Opening Yesterday Of City Schools

The public schools of the city opened for the term yesterday, with a good general attendance. At Prince Street School the attendance was 428. This is a big record over the attendance for the past fifteen years. The Guardian was informed by Principal Seaman that the formal opening of the new wing of the school building will take place next Monday. The public are invited to visit the building in the morning and on Monday afternoon there will be a public meeting in the hall. Among the speakers will be Sir Louis Davies. A good attendance is also reported by Principal Johnson at West Kent School, there being about 420. No date has yet been fixed for the opening of the new wing as there is considerable work to be done yet.

DR. COAR SAYS WINTER WILL BRING FINANCIAL CRASH OF GERMANY

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Dr. J. F. Coar, professor of political economy at the University of Alberta, upon his return from Europe, predicted that winter would bring the utter financial crash of Germany. "Hugo Stinnes, Voegeler, Siemens, Deutsche, Desberg and other capitalists and manufacturers of Germany with whom I talked," said Professor Coar, "said that a year ago they were optimistic, today they were hopeless. The late foreign minister, Rathenau, was in a similar mood when with me a few days before his assassination. "Germany, with her factories humming and her products selling abroad at low prices, is slowly bleeding herself to death," Professor Coar said. "A moratorium would give no help, for it would mean, perhaps, the stabilization of the mark and when that goes back to its proper place sales abroad at bargain prices will be over. The 12,000,000 workmen in Germany would be unemployed."

U. S. And Allied Ships Leave For Smyrna

To Protect Christian Population From Extermination by Turks. Greeks Armies Completely Overwhelmed.

(Special to The Guardian.)
LONDON, Sept. 5.—The United States has joined the Allied governments, Great Britain, France and Italy in the dispatch of warships to Smyrna to protect the Christian population from the ravages of the victorious Turks in Asia Minor. Overwhelmingly defeated, the Greek troops are in danger of being driven into the sea and the Allies are alarmed lest the victors open a campaign of extermination against the helpless Christian minority peoples. Ships were sent on the urgent appeal of Great Britain. Simultaneously with the dispatch of the composite fleet of warships the Allies and particularly Great Britain, are doing their utmost to effect an armistice between the Greeks and the Turks before the Grecian army is wiped out. LONDON, Sept. 5.—General opinion in well informed quarters in London today was that the disaster to the Greek army in Asia Minor was complete and there seemed little prospect that anything could now save it from a total debacle. SMYRNA, Sept. 5.—Two British battleships, the dreadnoughts Iron Duke and King George Fifth have arrived here for the purpose of protecting British interests.

Morvich Suffers Another Defeat

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Benjamin Black's noted colt Morvich was beaten badly again today, finishing last in the fall highweight handicap at Belmont Park, a four-horse race at six furlongs, won by W. J. Salmon's Careful. Prodigious was second and Exodus third. Morvich fired in the last quarter and was more than nine lengths behind the winner. The Black colt, unbeaten as a two-year-old and winner of the Kentucky Derby this spring, has failed to show winning form since being beaten for the first time in the Carlton stakes at Aqueduct by Whiskaway, formerly of Harry Payne Whitney's stable and now owned by W. Clark.

VISITS TORONTO EXHIBITION

COUN. T. W. L. PROWSE OF PROWSE, LTD.

Judging the business outlook by verbal description. An amusing spectacle was the polo match did exhibits this year at the Toronto exhibition, there is every opponent in Ford cars, which reason for the prevailing general optimistic feeling that the "hard time period" is over. At the front of the grand stand clared Coun. T. W. L. Prowse, who returned Monday evening from Ontario, where Mrs. Prowse has been visiting and where Coun. Prowse on returning took occasion to visit the fair. Toronto this year is thronged with visitors and the attendance at the exhibition is estimated as being 35,000 over that of last year. A specially attractive feature noted by Coun. Prowse was the automobile show, which was by-

LONDON TIMES ONLY INTEREST

McCarron, from North Grant School House, was tried Wednesday before Judge McDonald. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to serve two years in Dorchester. ## London Times' Future

LONDON, Sept. 6.—J. St. Lo Strachey, in an article on the future of the London Times in this issue of the Times, recalls how in 1908 Lord Northcliffe asked him several times his views with regard to his intention to make arrangements in his will that the Times should become a "permanent national institution." It was in response to these requests that Strachey wrote to Lord Northcliffe suggesting that the control of the Times should be vested in a body of independent trustees, and submitting the following as names for this position: the Lord Chancellor, the Speaker of the House of Commons, the Archbishop of Canterbury, the vice-Chancellor of the University of Oxford, the vice-Chancellor of the University of Cambridge, the editor of the Times, and the manager of the Times for the time being. Whether Lord Northcliffe carried out his proposal to make provisions in his will for making the Times a permanent national institution, we shall soon know, says the writer. "He never told me whether he seemed to think my scheme was a workable one," says Strachey, and adds: "People will be surprised, perhaps, to know that he seemed to agree very readily with my proposal as to the position which the editor of the Times should occupy, and that he should be secure from any external interference. Probably an apparent divergence between theory and practice in this matter was due to his regarding himself as de facto editor of all of the papers which he owned and controlled."

Menace Is Overdone

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Is the fear of the Bolshevik and Communist menace being overdone in these islands? Is a certain variety of police proceedings lately in evidence is continued. A Birmingham man who criticized the refusal of the judge trying Sir Henry Wilson's assassins to allow them to make a statement before being sentenced, had been hailed before a magistrate as a "disturber of the peace." The prosecution was taken under a statute of Edward the Third's reign. When the magistrate suggested that it was legitimate for an ordinary citizen to comment on such a matter the prosecuting counsel agreed, but urged the necessity of "taking into consideration the times in which we live and the probable effect of such remarks on the people addressed."

A Dispute As To How Long Love Lasts

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The State-ment made by Jane Burr upon her arrival here that no love lasts longer than eight years, has been vigorously challenged in a flood of letters to the newspapers, in which the American author and feminist is called such names as "emptyhead," "foolish," "ignorant" of the subject and an unfortunate woman disguising her own failures. Her views on love and marriage are attracting greater attention than the recently introduced knickers, but one writer says that of the two treacherous notions, knickers are easily the most sensible. "The answer to such empty-headed suggestions is to be found in life itself," says one correspondent. "I have been happily married for fifty years."

The irregulars lost one man killed and two others wounded.

Board of Conciliation Reaches Conclusions

(Special to The Guardian.)
OTTAWA, Sept. 5.—The majority report of the Board of Conciliation, investigating the differences between the Canadian National, the Grand Trunk and other lines included in the Railway Association of Canada and their shop craft employees recommends: 1. The parties should confer as soon as conditions permit with regard to permanent rates of pay. 2. That the reduction of five and seven and nine cents an hour of which the railway gave notice be effective temporarily from August 15th, but when definite rates are agreed upon they be effective from July 15th.

Agreement Reached On Northcliffe Estate

(Special to The Guardian.)
LONDON, Sept. 5.—As far as can be learned Lady Northcliffe and the executors of Lord Northcliffe's first will have agreed to an amicable arrangement. The ownership of the controlling interest in "The Times" may remain with Lady Northcliffe, who will be the passive owner. The paper will be conducted by managers subject to an executive committee, whose intervention will only take place when invoked. Lord Northcliffe's intimacy with Sir Campbell Stuart and his reliance upon him would seem to point to his being chosen as the mediator and executive director of the present circumstances.

LEAGUE TO BE PUBLIC

(Special to The Guardian.)
GENEVA, Sept. 5.—The third assembly of the League of Nations met here yesterday. Lord Robert Cecil, Great Britain leader of the Liberal forces, launched a fight against secret diplomacy when the session opened. Although the United States is not a member of the League, America had the largest delegation on hand, over seventy Americans acting in semi-official and unofficial capacities were present. Lord Cecil in the annual report presented to the assembly recommended that the full report be given to all sessions of the League. His report stated that in conformity with the wishes expressed by the last assembly practically every session during the year has been open to the press. Four ordinary and two extraordinary sessions of the League were held during the last year according to the report.

British Immigrants

WINNIPEG, Sept. 6.—A recommendation as to British immigrants that Canada should seek in Great Britain, neither the best nor the worst, but the average settler, was the point of an address by Lord Shaw, of Dunfermline, today, to the Canadian Club at a luncheon. "The common sense of the matter is," said Lord Shaw, "that if Canada gets an average as good as Great Britain has, she will make men of them and they will all thrive." "In my travels through the Western part of the American Continent, what has impressed me is the great difference between the middle east of the Western States and the Middle West of Canada. In the United States that district seems to have been given over to the genius of desolation, in the middle of Canada," Lord Shaw said, "it seems to have been given over to the genius of fruitfulness."
