

FUNERAL OF MISS LINNELL YESTERDAY

The Vial Containing the Fatal Poison Was Produced at the Trial

BOSTON, Oct. 25—(By Wire)—Following the examination of the body of Miss Linnell the body was sent back to Hyannis on an early train and was interred in the little cemetery there.

A simple service was performed by a clergyman at the grave. The vial in which Miss Linnell received the cyanide of potassium which caused her death was not buried with her body.

This was shown at the examination this morning.

BOSTON, October, 24—Removed today from the grave in the cemetery at Hyannis, the body of Miss Linnell, the 19-year-old music student, for whose death by poisoning, Rev. C. V. T. Richeson, of Cambridge, is under arrest at the Charlestown street jail, was brought back to Boston tonight by order of District Attorney Joseph C. Peletier.

Some strength to the prosecution as to the exact manner in which the young girl met her death is reported unofficially to be the reason for the sudden move, and the announcement by the district attorney's office that the government had enlisted the service for professional advice of five medico-legal experts, some strength to this report.

Incidental to the examination of the body the officials will also make a careful search of Miss Linnell's bath robe, which was buried in the casket with the body, for anything which might have been used as a receptacle for the fatal powder. Such a container has not yet been found and the fact has bothered the investigation officers as it leaves a noticeable gap in their chain of evidence.

No definite statement as to just what is expected to be accomplished by the re-examination of the body came from the district attorney's office tonight beyond the declaration that the bath robe must be looked over again on the possibility that it might contain something overlooked in the first examination.

The district attorney scouted rumors to the effect that a question exists as to the nature of the poison. "We are certain that cyanide of potassium was the poison used," he said.

Notwithstanding this declaration by the district attorney the defense believed that the body was brought back to this city for some other purpose than the mere examination of a garment. Whatever the explanation of the move, it is understood the examination of the body will be made at six o'clock tomorrow morning at the city hospital morgue. It is probable that the defense will not be represented, those present including only the experts called in by District Attorney Peletier.

Attorney Philip R. Dunbar, of counsel for Mr. Richeson, petitioned the court this afternoon for permission to have experts for the defense present at the time. This move was opposed by the government and the court decided to delay a decision on the matter until tomorrow morning. Court will open too late to allow any representation by the defense at the examination planned for the early morning.

Without expressing a word as to his innocence or guilt, asking only that the question as to his resignation as pastor be held in abeyance until after the hearing in court, Mr. Richeson today addressed from his cell in Charles street jail a letter to his congregation of the Immanuel Baptist church in Cambridge.

The grand jury is expected to take up the case on Thursday, and the next meeting of the church board is fixed for Friday. The expectation of the accused clergyman that he would be visited by his father, Colonel Thomas V. Richeson, an Amherst, Va., was not realized today.

The aged father, declaring firm belief in the innocence of his son, arrived in Boston this morning from his Virginia home, Miss Russell Richeson, of Saranac Lake, N. Y., who has been here since Saturday night. Miss Richeson had a brief interview with her brother at the prison today and it is believed told him of the coming of their father. Colonel Richeson probably will visit his son tomorrow.

FANATIC LEADER UNDER ARREST IN MAINE

For Causing Death of Four Followers by Neglect While on Sea

DURHAM, Maine, Oct. 25—(By Wire)—Rev. Frank Sanford, leader of the Holy Ghost and Us Society here, was arrested today in connection with the death of four of his followers from scurvy, due to insufficient provisions on board the Society's ship.

The secretary reported that he had requested notified all city physicians to report all cases of typhoid under their treatment.

Dr. Johnson, made a general report of conditions in the city with regard to typhoid fever. He considered the unsanitary conditions of that part of the city where typhoid exists was the cause of the present epidemic, and further said that a good majority of cases occurred in that part of the city north of Euston street.

Dr. Johnson did not think that the present typhoid infection was due in any way to the milk supplied to the citizens.

The health officer made several recommendations for the proper cleaning up and keeping of premises. He made reference to a certain citizen who lives on the outskirts of the town and who keeps a great many pigs that are fed on butcher's offal and animal refuse and the meat from these animals is sold in the city, a condition which is very dangerous to the public health.

The sanitary officer reported about sixty-two tenements in the city that are in fit condition for sewerage and without it, and as a result these tenements are in a very unsanitary condition.

A resolution was passed recommending the city council to provide a place to be used as a public dump for refuse.

The board recommended the city council to make arrangements with persons who will agree to do away with garbage required by citizens and that a salary be paid to persons agreeing to do such work.

It was resolved that the report of the health officer be received and that the city council be recommended to make arrangements for carrying out as far as practical the provisions of the report.

A resolution was passed appointing a committee to confer with the recorder with reference to the power of the city to enforce sewerage connection in dwellings.

The meeting then adjourned.

ABANDONED BABY ON SCHOONER

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—When passengers left the vessel yesterday morning after her arrival here, attendants on board the Priscilla of the Fall River Line discovered in one of the staterooms a month-old girl baby dressed in expensive clothing. Pinned to the bed coverings was half of a page torn from a magazine, on which were scribbled the words "Helon Meredith." The records of the passengers who engaged staterooms for the trip here from Fall River Sunday on board the Priscilla show that the room had been occupied by a man, who gave his name as J. C. Bennett, and his residence as Brockton Mass.

The child was taken to Bellevue Hospital. Porters who were on duty in the night said the man who entered the room was accompanied by a fair young woman, apparently not more than seventeen years old.

ASSOCIATION AND MEMORY

Alison observes that an autumn comes dearer, sunset, with its crimson clouds, glimmering trunks of trees, and wavering tints upon the grass, seems scarcely capable of embellishment. But if in this calm and beautiful glow the chime of a distant bell steal over the fields, the bosom heaves with the sensation that Dante so tenderly describes.

CLARK IS COMING BACK TO ST. JOHN

ST. JOHN, Oct. 25—Detective Killen, accompanied by Chas. S. Sanford, Ewing & Sanford, left last evening by the Boston express for New York having in his possession a warrant for the arrest of Harry B. Clark, in which the former bank manager is charged with embezzlement of several amounts. Arriving in New York this evening, Detective Killen and Mr. Sanford, who is acting as counsel for the Bank of New Brunswick, will be on hand when Clark is arraigned on Thursday morning. It is understood that his examination in New York will be very brief and is only for the purpose of testing the validity of the warrant which Detective Killen has in his possession and identifying the prisoner as the person mentioned in the warrant.

Detective Killen is expected to return to the city with his prisoner within a few days. The fact that Clark is reported as having expressed his willingness to come back to St. John without extradition proceedings may make this possible. In addition to the losses sustained by the bank in which, it is said, Clark became the dupe of clever swindlers from the United States, there is said to be in addition a case of theft which is charged against him. R. B. Kessen, general manager of the Bank of New Brunswick, said yesterday that Clark would be brought back to St. John and charged with theft. He said further that the stories in circulation as to the amount he had taken were ridiculous exaggerations but there had been theft from the bank aside altogether from the financial transactions of outside parties and which were now the subject of litigation. The bank, he added, did not expect to lose the money involved in those cases, but the question was a legal one. Even if the bank lost, the sum involved was comparatively small and would not cause it any inconvenience. Clark himself, when brought to St. John, as he will immediately, will be placed on trial for theft.
