Personals

The many friends of Mrs. Lloyd MacPhail will be glad to learn that she has returned home after undergoing an operation at the P. E. I. Hospital.

A bragart, for instance, is an "October, Gailer." This nickname was given to the garrulous fisherman arriving home from Labrador in October, a month later than most of his neighbors. He could thus spin wild tales that no one could contradict.

"A grave is a 'long-home,' grumbling is 'mullygrubs,' and sick is 'mops and brooms.' Scared is 'pig before thunder' and flattery is 'plawmush.' Hesitancy is 'scrimshankin'." A good man is "a fine man as ever have a gallus over his shoulder" and a thief is "an honest man when there's only anchors on the shore."

Of Names, Slang
In Newfoundland

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Feb. 28 — (CP) — Newfoundland's entry into Canada will give the Dominion some of its most colorful names and picturesque speech.

It will probably take Canadians some time to get used to names like Horse Chops, Cape White Handkerchief, Ireland's Eye and Joe Batis Arm even though no eyebrows are raised now at Moose Jaw, Sask., Medicine Hat, Alta., or Skir Dhn, N. S.

Fishermen of Britain, France, Portugal and Spain, gave the coasts and points around Newfoundland's coast the names that now are addresses for the hardy people living in far-flung outposts.

Horse Chops gets its name from white waves that dash on shore during a storm and that are often called "white horses." It is only one step then, from choppy white horses to Horse Chops.

Washletoraw, a group of rocks on the south coast, seems to be a corruption of "la vache et le taureau." The outline of these rocks gives the impression of a cow and bull.

Isle aux Morts, Point Enragee, Cui de Sac and Cing Cerf come, of course, from the French. Mosquito is believed to come from the Spanish, caplin from the Portuguese. Tossolo probably got its name from its resemblance to a silver cup, tasse d'argent.

Sources of many names are lost in time; they are related to a person, happening or emotion that prompted a name that has stuck through the decades.

Some of these would be Breakheart Point, Exploits, Godfather Island, Happy Adventure, Seldom-Come-By, Come-By-Chance, Wreck Point and Heart's Delight. Near the last named are Heart's Desire, Heart's Content and Little Heart's Ease. All on Conception Bay, the hamlets are sheltered from the main brunt of the sea.

Who knows what might have happened to Joe Batt long ago for a fishing village on Fogo Island to be called Joe Batt's Arm? Did Joe lose an arm in an accident on a ship? Most likely not. He probably found or fished in an arm of sea and thus the name.

In the days of the "fishing admirals," Devon and Dorset fishermen escaped and many hid on a rocky hill near Conception Bay until their ships had sailed for home. Newfoundlanders still have the Runaway Rock.

There are at least 1,000 terms of speech peculiar to Newfoundland. Most of them had to do with the sea and ships originally and have been carried over into common usage.

A bragart, for instance, is an "October, Gailer." This nickname was given to the garrulous fisherman arriving home from Labrador in October, a month later than most of his neighbors. He could thus spin wild tales that no one could contradict.

Scout News and Notices

Bettering their September paper drive results by 20 tons, six Boy Scout Troops in Kitchener, Ont., in two week-ends recently collected 88 tons of waste paper.

Boy Scouts of the United Nations Troop at Parkway Village, Jamaica, New York, recently collected two tons of food, clothing and toys and presented them to the American Friends Service Committee for distribution to needy people, especially to Palestinian refugees.

Sponsored by the Dartmouth Kiwanis Club, a Boy Scout Troop has been formed at the Nova Scotia home for Coloured Children at Westport. A former Dartmouth Scout, Harold Fielding, is Scoutmaster and is being assisted by two King's Scouts of the 1st and 2nd Dartmouth Troops. A Kiwanian transports the three leaders to Westport (seven miles from Dartmouth) for the weekly meeting of the Scout Troop.

Boy Scouts attending the first Canadian Jamboree near Ottawa next July will take home, among their souvenirs, a colourful crest which has been specially designed for the event. Finished in the Scouting colours of red, green and yellow, the design features a silhouette of the Parliament Buildings' Peace Tower, over the word "Ottawa" and encircled by the inscription "First Canadian Boy Scout Jamboree, 1949."

The crests will be worn on boys' sweaters, blazers, ski jackets or other apparel, but not on the regular Scout uniform.

Boy Scouts of the Madison, Wisconsin, U.S.A. Troop who attended the World Scout Jamboree in France in 1947, have given 500 lbs. of clothing to a family in Denmark; donated $55 to help buy a printing press for a Troop of polio crippled Scouts in Paris, France; entertained a French Rover Scout in the U.S.A. last summer, sent camping equipment to a Troop of blind Scouts in France; sent a CARE package to Austria, and kept up correspondence with Scouts in 28 different countries.

IN MEMORIAM

JAMES FRANCIS CORR
One of the original members of the "fighting 25th Battalion" of the First World War, James Francis Corr died suddenly at his home. He was 74 years of age.

A native of Emerald Junction, P. E. I., Mr. Corr went to Amherst 38 years ago and for the past 18 years he has been chief steward in Amherst Branch No. 10 B.E.S.L. where he was known to practically every war veteran in town. He was almost a father to the younger war veterans.

During his earlier years, Mr. Corr was one of the finest horse trainers in the Maritime, and was a noted horseman himself. For many years he trained the horses of the late Clarence Purdy of Amherst for races on Maritime tracks. Mr. Corr is survived by three brothers, Peter, Roxbury, Mass., U.S.A.; Patrick, Saint John, N.B.; Ambrose, Emerald Junction.

Funeral services were held from Purdy's Funeral Home. Many friends and a large representation of members of the local branch of the Canadian Legion B.E.S.L. attended the funeral of the late James F. Corr, which was held Tuesday morning, February 15th at nine o'clock from St. Charles Roman Catholic Church, Amherst, N.S. Rev. Father Deveau sang the Requiem High Mass.

The remains were taken to the Roman Catholic Cemetery and placed in the vault for burial in the Legion plot, in the spring. The pallbearers were all members of the Legion, L. M. Hanway, M.C., Roy Hunter, Walter Hire, Thomas Crasshaw, Gordon Goodwin, and E. W. Corbett. The Last Post was sounded by Bugler James Smith.

There were many floral tributes and a large number of Mass Cards. Present at the funeral services from out of town was a brother of the deceased, Ambrose Corr, and two sons, of Emerald Junction, P. E. I.

IN MEMORIAM

FREDERICK W. MACDONALD

The death of Mr. Frederick W. MacDonald, of Hampton, occurred on Saturday, February 12th, 1949. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William MacDonald, of Craupad and was born in 1886.

Mr. MacDonald, a man of great strength and vitality, was apparently in excellent health and his passing which came with shocking suddenness, brought surprise and sorrow to a wide circle of friends and relatives. Seldom is a home so bereaved for only two weeks before his own death his wife was buried.

Mr. MacDonald was known far and wide as a friendly man with a cheerful word for all, and with children and young people he had a special companionship which endeared him to them.

Mr. MacDonald had many interests, chief among them his church which he served from his youth up with faithfulness and generosity, in many capacities.

In politics he was a Liberal, and acted as President of the First District of Queens Liberal Association for many years. He was apt with pen and speech, and his influence which was always felt in any worthy undertaking, will be greatly missed. Through industry and thrift, he acquired a fine farm home, from which he and his wife loved to dispense hospitality.

Mr. MacDonald married Mrs. Myra Rogerson Trowsdale, and four step children survive, who hold his memory in respect. Wilfred Trowsdale, Armprior, Ont.; Joe Trowsdale, Craupad; Amy, Mrs. Robt. Thompson, Manchester, N. H.; and Florence, Mrs. Wilmet MacDonald, Craupad.

Also left to mourn are a brother George of Craupad; three sisters, Lina, Mrs. Wilfred Ferguson, Hampton; Anna, Mrs. Myron Seaton and Oella, Mrs. George Carter, both of Bridgewater, Mass.

Rev. Ben. Fream of St. John's Anglican Church, Craupad, conducted a short service at the home, followed by service at the church. He spoke feelingly of the double bereavement and of the joy of reunion.

The same hymns were sung as at his wife's funeral, Abide With Me, The Hills and Jesus Lover of My Soul.

The same pall bearers were also chosen. John Rogerson, Warren Ferguson, Wilfred Ferguson, Edward Norton, Elmer MacDonald and Everett Rogerson.

The funeral was very largely attended which with the beautiful floral tributes, bore mute testimony of the respect in which the deceased was held.

SPRAYS

Brother George and Family, Florence and Wilmet MacDonald, Lina and Wilfred Ferguson, Joe and Bertha Trowsdale, Wilfred and Edith Trowsdale, Anne and Myron Seaton and Marion.
