THE GUARDIAN'S GREAT CONTEST INCREASES IN POPULARITY

A CH'TOWN BOY GETS A FORTUNE

In yesterday morning's issue there appeared an item which said:

Frank McDonald, City, returned last evening from Boston where he had been for the past ten days.

Hundreds of Mr. McDonald's friends who read the item attached no more importance to the item beyond the fact that he had been there on a visit with friends.

But there was a motive for the trip and in this lies a story of good fortune not often met with in everyday life but which is generally confined to the imaginations of story writers. Truth is ever stranger than fiction and always more convincing.

Mr. McDonald was in Boston at the request of a legal firm who are winding up the affairs of the estate of the late Dr. Fleming of Columbus, Ave., and to which estate he had fallen heir.

In explaining who Dr. Fleming is it is necessary to go back to the early part of the summer of 1909. At this time Dr. Fleming, a gentleman just past middle age who was suffering with the effects of a paralytic stroke which left his side partially numb, came to this city and stopped at the Victoria Hotel.

He found that bathing in salt water was beneficial and one day while spending his time around the boating club here, he met Mr. McDonald. He asked him if he would not object to rowing him across the river where he could take advantage of the good beach for bathing. His request was granted and there the Doctor formed an intimacy with his newly found acquaintance which ripened as the time passed into a warm friendship.

During the summer almost daily trips were made across the river, this continuing until the Doctor decided to return to his home. Before leaving he remembered him in a kind manner and secured his street address, at the same time assuring Mr. McDonald that his kindness was highly appreciated and would never be forgotten.

This remark, though significant to the Doctor, was passed without further thought on the part of Mr. McDonald.

At that time the subject of this story was living at his home on King Street opposite the P. E. I. R. Station, but since then his parents have removed to Pownal Street.

About two weeks ago a letter, sent to the old address, was received by Mr. McDonald from the lawyers referred to previously, in which it was stated that by Dr. Fleming's will he was the heir to the nice fortune of $18,000 in cash and a valuable residence on Columbus Ave., Boston. The letter also requested Mr. McDonald to proceed to Boston to take the proper steps toward securing the property bequeathed to him.

He did as requested and on arriving there was met by a member of the firm. During his stay in "The Hub" Mr. McDonald was courteously treated by the firm and every consideration was extended on his behalf.

The estate will be wound up in about a year when Mr. McDonald will become the possessor of the snug fortune referred to above.

"Sport" as Frank is more familiarly known by his companions and friends is a gentlemanly young man of good habits and unimpeachable character. He is more widely known as a member of the Abegweit Athletic Association for whom his work on the football gridiron has in the past shone out conspicuously and merited the highest praise.

"Sport's" hundreds of friends and relatives in this city and province will heartily congratulate him on his good fortune and at the same time will express the wish that he may long enjoy it.

ACCIDENT AT VERNON RIVER

The news of a serious accident which occurred on Vernon River last evening reached the city by telephone. From advices received it was ascertained that the accident occurred on the schooner Oressa Bell of Mahone Bay, N. S., which was been towed to Vernon River Bridge by the S. S. Harland. A very stiff breeze was blowing at the time and the vessels had some difficulty in navigating the narrow river. When about a half a mile from their destination the schooner went ashore. It was in trying to get the tow line clear that the accident happened. One of the sailors, James Brown, caught this line and in some way his leg became entangled in the line and caught in the windlass, resulting in his leg being broken below the knee. The sufferer was made as easy as possible under the circumstances and Dr. Rogerson, Vernon River, was immediately summoned. On his arrival the victim of the accident was removed to a house on shore where he received further treatment. In consultation with another doctor, Dr. Rogerson found it necessary to amputate the leg and this was successfully done last evening. Brown belongs to Chester, N. S. is fifty-one years of age and married. Last evening he was reported to be doing nicely.

PORK INSPECTOR IN S'SIDE.

Special from Guardian Branch.

SUMMERSIDE, October 21.—Dr. G. R. Bone, Toronto, was in Summerside on Wednesday last inspecting dressed pork, for export, for Edgett Grady Co. During an interview with The Guardian's representative, Dr Bone very kindly explained the proper way for pork to be dressed which was intended for export. In order that the inspection may be properly carried on, it is necessary that for several of the organs, the heart, liver and lungs, as well as the head must be left attached, while the bowels are removed. The organs named should be partly detached being supported on the neck by the windpipe only, but should these organs be in the way they may be tied to the forelegs but they must still be attached to the body by their natural holdings. Dr Bone exhibited to those present a couple of carcasses which had been found partly deseased in both of them traces being found in the head of tuberculosis. This disease is generally first found in the glands leading from the tongue and are distinguished by a small white spot in the gland, as the disease develops it gradually works into the rest of the body. In those discovered yesterday it was only necessary to destroy the head as no traces of the disease could be found in the other parts of the pork. Pork raisers who wish to secure the top price for their pork must when dressing their hogs, do as mentioned above in order that their pork can be properly inspected. It is the intention of Dr Bone to come to Summerside every Wednesday to inspect all pork which is to be exported and he will be pleased to give any and all information as to the proper way to dress pork and of the inspection to any pork raiser who is interested in this work.

S. D. C. WINS FROM VICTORIAS

The third game in the P. E. I. Football League took place yesterday afternoon on the A. A. A. A. grounds between the St. Dunstan's and the Victorias.

The result was a victory by a score of 9—3 for the Saints whose team had the advantage in weight and practice. As a matter of fact spectators who saw the line up before the game predicted a victory for the Saints and some suggested a larger score for the red and white than ehis story tells. The Vics played the first half two men short and had on their team five new men who had no previous practice with the team.

The game was started by Referee James McMillan's whistle at 4.14, a delay which was decidedly frowned on by the onlookers. The Vics kicked off with a strong west wind against them. Blake's kick was returned and this followed by D. Gillis who, on getting the ball, was downed by Rattenbury almost at the line. A number of scrims followed and matters looked dangerous. A minute after play started the Vics were forced to rouge. In another minute a second rouge was made and the Vics kick was returned to the touch line at 25 yards McNeill made a nice attempt to get away here, but Duffy's tackle prevented him. The S. D. C. got a free kick but the attempt on the goal failed. The Vics kick was caught by a Saint who made a nice run Duffy again brought his man down handily. Shortly after the Vics had to rouge again; the red and white aggregation playing a strong aggressive game in which open play and snappy scrim work predominated. Eight minutes after play began Rooney, S.D.C.'s most angerous man, crossed the line having received the ball from a pretty combination play.

The try was not converted.

S. D. C., 3; Vics, 0.

On play opening again the Saints forced matters, bringing the ball to the Vics line where a touch was made. Several minutes of scrim work in the five yard line preceded another rouge for the Vics. The Vics kick was followed beautifully, Blake, Gillis and Williams dribbling into the Saint's territory. The latter, who played a good game throughout for a new man, put the ball over the line and fell on it, making the Vics only score.

S. D. C., 3; Vics, 3.

Shortly after play was resumed Blake made a nice catch on a mark and his kick was returned by an S. D. C. man and this was followed up by the Saints in good style but the half ended, with no further score with the ball inside the Vics 25 yard line.

Four minutes after the second half was resumed the Saints scored again, McNeill doing the trick.

S. D. C., 6; Vics 3.

The entire half the ball remained in the Vics territory and very good football was played. Nine minutes later McNeill again scored from scrim work on the Vics five yard line.

S. D. C., 9; Vics 3.

Play continued with no further scoring.

The Saints had the advantage throughout, playing a good, clean, manly game They are now in the lead for the trophy and things must look good to the wearers of the red and white.

The following were the teams:

ST. DUNSTANS		VICTORIAS.
A. Reid	Fullback	A. Rattenbury
S. Doyle	Halves	H. Gillis
J. Keoughan		E. Blake

NOTES.

Next Monday the Abbies and Vics are scheduled to meet.

The Saints fullback yesterday had a snap—and he didn't complain.

Duffy and McMahon for the Vics were about as good as they could be.

Rooney and McNeill bothered the blue and white contingent quite a lot. Their style is good and their combination with other players was always effective.

A larger crowd than usual saw the game yesterday, the grand stand was about full and officers and men from H. M. S. Cornwall made up a large share of the attendance.

LONDON, Oct. 20—Hon. Mr. Balfour speaking at Glasgow dealt with imperial defence.

He said these Islands were strategetically the gate of the defences of the Empire.

He would resist the temptation to deal with the question of how far the responsibility for the protection of the Empire was to be shared by the self-governing colonies.

The initiative in this respect must come from them.

Mr. Balfour referred to the relative strength of Britain and other powers in 1905 and 1910 and said that never in any other period of Britain's naval history had there been such a change.

It was resolved at a meeting of the committee of the British and Foreign Bible Society held recently with Lord Northampton presiding to promote next year a general observance of the tercentenary of the publication in 1611 of the authorized version of the English Bible.

It was decided today to place Dr. Crippen on the witness stand and let him tell his own story of the disappearance of his wife, Belle Elmore, the actress with whose murder he is charged.

COUNTING OUR MERCIES

When we're counting up the mercies
That our Gracious Father sends,
Is there any other mercy
Quite so great as Faithful Friends?

Fame and station, wealth and power
May have been denied to you,
But you have a richer treasure,
When you have a friend that's true.

So I'm filled with glad Thanksgiving,
For of friends
I have the best,
And while they are not denied me,
Cheerfully I spare the rest.

M. E. S.

Friend come up, on the Highlands,
Why live down on the plain
Or worse still, deep in the valley
Of trouble and trial and pain.

There's plenty of room on the Hilltops
So restful, so calm and so still,
We make our own levels in living
Believe it, or not, as you will.

Forget all the past and its troubles
Forget every wrong, old or new—
Come up
On the bright breezy Highlands,
Where Joy will be waiting for you.
